AMERICAN COLONY ASKS FOR REMOVAL OF WILSON.

Ambassador Accused of Being Too Friendly With Gen. Huerta, Who Still Clings to Power Despite Report of His Resignation—Negotiations Pending that May Precipitate a Sudden Crisis.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another appeal was sent to President Wilson at Washington today by the American colony here for the removal of American Ambassador Wilson. The message to the President declared that Ambassador Wilson's usefulness in Mexico has been ruined by his open friendliness for the Huerta administration, and that they do not consider that Mr. Wilson represents the American nation as it should be represented in Mexico.

Ambassador Wilson stoutly denies the charges made against him, and declares that those who are demanding his removal form but a small part of the American colony, who, he believes, are disgruntled because certain demands made by them upon the Ambassador were not heeded.

ARMED TRUCE.

Conditions in Mexico City were unchanged today. President Huerta is strongly guarded day and night at the palace, while Gen. Felix Diaz, now considered an enemy of Huerta, is fortified in his castle-like home, with cannon on the roof and soldiers all around it. Those officials who yesterday were inclined to vent their opinions on Huerta and Diaz have evidently felt the pressure conveyed by official hints, and today not one would allow himself to be seen talking to a reporter. However, the undercurrent in the capital seems to be running toward another street battle between the palace and outside forces, which may break at any moment.

The revolution in the north spread today through the streets of Tepic and Durango, and while it was said the government was planning to send troops into these districts, none have left the city.

HUERTA STILL HOLDS ON.

Despite the report that he had resigned, Gen. Huerta continues to hold on to the reigns of government, although negotiations are pending that may bring a sudden change. Strong pressure is being brought upon him to step down for the sake of peace and to assure the election of Gen. Diaz to the Presidency. The report that Huerta resigned was branded as a canard today at the palace.

CRISIS AT HAND.

The revolutionary movement in the surrounding States is extending and the impression grows that another crisis in Mexico's affairs is at hand.

AMERICAN PLANT ATTACKED.

Gen. De la O tonight attacked the Sultepec Electric Company plant near Toluca, owned by Americans, who appealed to Ambassador Wilson for protection for American women menaced by the rebels.

Andrew Almazen, the Guefrrero rebel chief, invaded Morelos tonight to rescue Orozco.

After submitting to the government the Federal regiment at Husteca is again reported in mutiny.

Louis Rojas, Grand Master of the National Masonic Lodge, has filed sensational charges against Ambassador Wilson, with the State Department, in regard to the death of former President Madero. Wilson has entered a categorical denial.

Estimates.

FOR QUARANTINE STATION AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] If not at the extra session, then in December, Congressman Stephens hopes to get Congress to make provision for a Federal quarantine station at Los Angeles Harbor. The rapid rise in importance of the Port of Los Angeles and the prospective increase in immigration at that port when the canal is completed, makes it highly important in the eyes of the government authorities that provision should be made to take care of aliens who may seek admission to the country by way of Los Angeles. Congressman Stephens took this matter up a year and a half ago and he has but now reached a point where the Treasury Department is to get title to the site for the station. The location is adjoining the southern end of Deadman's Island on the east. This property now belongs to the War Department. It was proposed at first to get forty acres, but as the land had to be reclaimed this estimate was reduced to seventeen acres. It was found that to build a bulkhead and fill in the ground would cost $200,000.

Congressman Stephens expected that Congress would hesitate to allow so much merely for a site. The War Department consented to transfer six acres needed and provisions have been made for title for the Treasury Department.

Col. McIntiry, the district engineer at Los Angeles, is preparing estimates for the building which will probably cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Said Congressman Stephens tonight: "We have estimated that the buildings and equipment will cost about $100,000 more. If general legislation is taken up at the coming special session I shall introduce a bill. If this cannot be taken up at this special session, then I shall introduce the bill in December."

It's Easy.

GET YOURSELF "O.K." GET WHAT YOU WANT.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMBRIDGE, (Mass.) April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Do you want to make love better? Do you want to be a better salesman? Do you want to be a better captain on an ocean liner? Do you want to make better marriages? Do you want to raise more potatoes on your patch of ground that ever before? If so, then you must "get psychologically correct." At least that is what Prof. Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard states in his new book, "Psychology and Industrial Efficiency."

Psychology is going to work wonders in the industrial world, according to the professor. He advocates the establishment of a government bureau for applied psychology, with special reference to the psychology of commerce and industry.

FOR THE NAVAL CAREER.

Stephens Announces the Names of Young Men Who Will Undergo Examination in Los Angeles.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Congressman Stephens has nominated two principals and six alternates for the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He had trouble in finding qualified young men who wished for a naval career. He caused an examination for candidates to be held in Los Angeles last month, but there were not enough candidates to fill the places. Congressman Stephens announced the names of his candidates today. All of them are from Los Angeles save John William Fletcher of Gardena, who is named as a principal. The first, second and third alternates are Adolph P. Schneider, Carroll E. Patterson and Ward Winchell. The other principal is Miles E. Burns and the alternates Frederick E. Haeberle, Louis Charles Brooks and Paul B. Crook. They will have to take an examination April 15 in Los Angeles.

"THERE IS A REASON."

Never in the History of Journalism Has Any One Newspaper Printed in Any One Month So Great a Volume of Advertising as "The Times" Published in March.

The Times' advertising record for 1912, which attracted world-wide attention and was commented on wherever newspapers are published, is being slowly but surely relegated to second place by the record for 1913. The first quarter of the current year shows a gain of 447 columns, or 9578 inches, over the corresponding period of 1912.

In March, The Times printed the remarkable total of 6046 columns of paid advertising—an average of 196 columns, approximately 27 pages, for every day in the month. This is a gain of 235 columns, or 5033 inches over the same month of last year.

All advertising records of the past in Los Angeles and elsewhere fade into obscurity in the light of this unprecedented achievement.

No sane man or woman can read this record and reflect on The Times' year-in and year-out advertising supremacy without being irresistibly impelled to the conviction that Times' advertisements pay better than those of all other local newspapers combined.

It is self-evident that the merchants and business men of Los Angeles would not continue to show such an overwhelming preference for this paper as an advertising medium unless its advertising space was more profitable to them than that of any of its local contemporaries.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that publishes in every issue a sworn statement of its circulation day by day for the preceding month.

The reason for The Times' success is that it does not promise—it performs—and, therefore, enjoys the confidence and affection of both readers and advertisers.

New Jersey Pastor Informs Bishop of Unprecedented Attempt to Use Offices of Church to Send a Man to the Electric Chair—Accuses Detective and Assistant.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The Rev. Father Linnan, of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, of Toms River, N. J., who was summoned Friday last to the cell of William J. Lehane, the Turner murder suspect, tonight laid before his superiors the startling accusation that a dictoagraph had been placed in the cell of the accused man.

Father Linnan declared today that there was no precedent for the offices of the Roman Catholic Church being sought in an attempt to send a man to the electric chair.

The priest now knows that the messengers who requested him to visit the prisoner, misrepresented facts when stating that Lehane had requested him to call at the jail. He has evidence to warrant charges against a detective and an amateur assistant, which he says is sufficient to place them in jail.

Bishop McFaul of the Newark diocese, has taken steps to lay the matter before the authorities.

PASSENGERS DODGE BULLETS.

San Francisco Police Arrest Two Burglars on Street Car After a Pistol Duel.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Terrified street car passengers cringed under their seats when a policeman and two burglars began shooting on the car late today. Nobody was hit.

When reports of five burglaries came in quick succession this afternoon, a squad of patrolmen was ordered out. One of them, with the McDonough burglar car, saw two youths and recognized one as a boy lately released from a reformatory. The shooting started when he sought to arrest the pair. One fled and McDonough captured the other.

J. W. Carlon, a Police Court bailiff, saw the armed youth leap from the car. Carlon opened fire and a duel continued until the ammunition of the two was exhausted. Then Carlon captured his assailant.

The two boys are Ernest Johnson and George Miller. Loot worth $1000 was found in their pockets. Both are under 21 years of age.

FIRST COMMITTEES SELECTED.

Democratic Ways and Means Majority Dictates Nominations to Be Submitted to the Party Caucus.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The first committees of the Sixty-third Congress virtually were chosen today, so far as the Democratic members are concerned, by the majority of the House Committee on Ways and Means. These were selected and will be submitted to the caucus Tuesday:

Rules Committee—Henry of Texas (chairman,) Pou of North Carolina, Hardwick of Georgia, Garrett of Tennessee, Foster of Illinois, Cantrill of Kentucky and Conroy of New York.

Accounts Committee—Lloyd of Missouri (chairman,) Smith of Texas, Hamil of New Jersey, Underhill of New York, Kindell of Colorado, Howard of Georgia and Abercrombe of Alabama.

Committee on Enrolled Bills—Whitacre of Ohio (chairman.)

Mileage Committee — Bailey of Pennsylvania (chairman.)

1 cent a pound for three years to be followed by free trade.

Two schedules were drafted, the committee leaving it to Chairman Underwood to incorporate in the bill the schedule finally approved by the President. If no agreement could be reached by way of compromise, it was indicated that the tariff bill would be introduced anyway, probably with sugar on the free list.

On Monday, Chairman Underwood will introduce the bill and the House Democrats have been called to consider it in caucus on Tuesday morning.

Chairman Underwood said tonight he planned to have his report on the bill ready for the caucus. This report will contain a complete analysis of the bill and is to be accompanied by a handbook showing comparative rates with the Payne-Aldrich and other tariff laws.

HEAVY LOSS IN REVENUE.

The bill, it is estimated, will result in a loss in revenue of from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000, as compared with the Payne-Aldrich law. The saving to the people, it is estimated by the Democratic experts, will aggregate several times this loss.

INCOME TAX SHEET ANCHOR.

The income tax provision, from which the loss of tariff revenue is expected to be recovered, has been thoroughly planned. Though the exemption on this is placed at $4000, it was said tonight that should the compromise plan for a three years' reduced rate on raw sugar prevail, the personal income exemption might be raised to $5000.

UNPRECEDENTED PROCEDURE.

The action of Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee in turning the committee's bill over to the Senate for examination is almost unprecedented in tariff history, it is said. Senate leaders insisted they should be consulted in the preparation of the tariff revision. President Wilson has made efforts to bring the Senate, House and White House into accord on the bill before it is introduced. While the House tariff makers have exercised their constitutional right to prepare the tariff revision bill, it will be made satisfactory to the President and the Senate, it is believed, before being introduced.

COMPROMISE LEGISLATION.

"All tariff legislation is compromise legislation," said Mr. Underwood. "When our bill goes to the Congress it will have the unanimous indorsement of the committee."

The committee also considered today administrative features of the bill.

RECIPROCITY TREATIES.

The bill will eliminate the maximum and minimum tariff of the present law and authorize the President to negotiate reciprocity treaties with nations willing to make tariff concessions to the United States. Such treaties, however, must have the approval of both houses of Congress, it is said.

MINORITY REPORT.

Representative Payne of New York, as ranking Republican member of the committee, will file a brief minority report, attacking the Democratic measure and setting forth that the minority had had no opportunity to confer over the measure.

Hawaiian Social Favorite Hastens to New York to Seek Treatment of Knee Affection From Friedmann.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] While Dr. F. F. Friedmann's serum cure for tuberculosis has not yet been pronounced a success, the beautiful Hawaiian princess, Abbie Kawananakoa, driven to desperation by an affection of the knee, which the world's greatest specialists have failed to cure, is on her way to New York, where she hopes to undergo treatment by the famous Berlin physician.

It is expected that Princess Kawananakoa will be obliged to take her chances of treatment in a free clinic.

The princess is a great social favorite in San Francisco, but she lost no time hastening immediately upon stepping from the steamer.

The animals are brother and sister, and the cow holds the world's record for seven days in butter production and is practically sure of winning the world's record for thirty days. Her record production for seven days was 43.43 pounds and her record for thirty days will be about 167 pounds. Jones today refused an offer of $90,000 for the remainder of his herd.

PROGRESSIVES ARE LAGGING.

Republicans Likely to Carry Michigan Tomorrow.

Democrats Probably Will Be Second in Returns.

Indications Point to Victory for Equal Suffrage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT (Mich.) April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The efforts of the Progressive party to hold their own in Michigan, the State which gave Roosevelt his biggest plurality last fall, the resubmission of the equal suffrage amendment and the activity of the Anti-Saloon League in the local option campaign in various counties, has combined to make the spring campaign in this State almost as lively as a Presidential affair. The voting will take place Monday, April 7.

Indications are that the woman's suffrage amendment will carry by a good majority. The campaign on this issue this spring has been much broader than that of last fall.

Former Senator Beveridge appeared here tonight to answer former Gov. Hadley of Missouri, who spoke for the Republicans Thursday. Other prominent Progressives have been sent into the State, including Roosevelt himself, but the indications are that the Republican State ticket will win by 75,000 plurality. The Democrats are likely to run second. The Progressives were unable to arouse enough enthusiasm at the primaries to get their ticket on the ballot in many counties.

Most of Progressives Attend Straight Party Caucus—Kent Absents Himself, but Will Be Recognized in Committee Appointments. To Decide on Public Meetings.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Representative James R. Mann of Illinois was nominated tonight as Republican candidate for Speaker of the House at a caucus of the Republican Representatives in the House chamber. Harmony prevailed. Ninety-seven of 126 Republican members were present. Among them were such "Progressive Republicans" as Representatives Lenroot and Cooper of Wisconsin, Volkstead, Anderson, Steiner of Minnesota, Helgeson of North Dakota and others who had earlier participated in an informal conference on "Progressive Republicanism."

Representative Kent of California, though on the Republican caucus roll, was absent. He had already stayed away from the Progressive third party conference and from the Progressive Republican meeting. Republican Leader Mann regarded Mr. Kent as an independent, but expects to accord him recognition on committees as he did in the last Congress.

The caucus nominations include:

For Speaker, Representative Mann of Illinois.

Chaplain, Rev. Henry N. Couden, Washington, D. C. (incumbent.)

Clerk of House, former Representative Alexander McDowell, Pennsylvania.

Sergeant - at - Arms, Clarence M. Prince, Kansas.

Representative Charles H. Burke of South Dakota was chosen Republican whip. Representative Green of Massachusetts chairman of Republican caucus.

A caucus upon the tariff will be held next week. A proposition to have caucuses public was made and will be acted upon next week.

MILWAUKEE, April 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Because his wife refused to leave sunny California for bleak Wisconsin after hearing of the winter here and the blizzards, Edward Butler today sought a divorce, citing desertion.

He was married at Rockford, Ill., in 1907, and lived happily for five years. He is a chauffeur and his work attracted a Milwaukee traveling man, who persuaded the Californian to accept a position here. Mrs. Isabel Butler, however, according to the papers in the case, refused to accompany her husband, saying: "I hear there is more work in Wisconsin four months or more a year, but not for me." Butler, however, found life here profitable and had decided to remain.

Blames Their Lax Methods for Fact That Fifty Per Cent. of Fires in Chicago are Incendiary.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—A report bristling with censure of methods employed by fire insurance companies in the issuance of policies was made today by Judge Burke by the special grand jury which has been investigating the so-called arson trust.

Fifty-nine indictments charging thirty-one alleged incendiary fires and involving fifty-six members of the "trust" were returned. The report declares that 50 per cent. of the fires in Chicago are of incendiary origin. This condition of affairs, the report asserts, is due to laxity on the part of the fire insurance companies in examining the property insured and the relaxation of vigilance after policy has been granted.

UNCLE SAM AS FRUIT GROWER.

He May Can Product of His Colorado Orchard to Feed to Army and Navy.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The United States government is the owner of a peculiar fruit farm. It is fifteen miles long and only 150 feet wide. In it are 200 acres of the best fruit land in the famous Grand Valley. It is possible that the government will go into the fruit-raising business, or that the fruit from the 200 acres will be canned for the use of the army and navy of the United States.

The government acquired the land for its $5,000,000 high-line canal and is still smarting like $1000 an acre for it. Now, J. H. Miner, the project engineer in charge, acting for the United States Reclamation Service, has advertised for renters for the various sections of the long fruit farm until October, 1914, when the canal will be begun.

Miner says that if he does not get the renters he will either harvest and can the big crop, which was uninjured by recent frosts when nearly every farm in the valley was touched, because it skirts the hills, or will have the fruit canned for the army and navy.

WITH A SILVER SPADE.

Mayor Rolph Turns Earth for New San Francisco City Hall to Cost in the Millions.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—With a silver spade presented by the Board of Supervisors, Mayor Rolph turned today the first spade of earth for the foundation of what will be San Francisco's new $3,500,000 City Hall. Bonds to cover the cost were voted a year ago.

The City Hall will form part of the civic center, a collection of municipal buildings costing $8,000,000, not including the municipal operahouse, which will be paid for by the subscription of music-loving citizens.

Better Service

"Tell the Public about 'Owl' Service," she said. "Tell them again and again—keep everlastingly at it!"

She was a woman whose business it is to go from store to store, so she was informed.

"Your Service actually IS better. I notice a cheerfulness, a remarkable courtesy, and a nice way of imparting information about your goods.

"The more you tell the Public about this, the better they will realize it."

Hence this story this morning—and if you think our Service IS Better, please tell us about it—your words will stimulate and help us.

—and if you see ways in which it can be improved, please tell us about these, too.

—For you will note we merely say "better"—we know there is room for improvement—we know that no one should claim "best."

GREAT POWERS HARD TO ALIGN.

Disagree With Bryan on the Recognition of China.

Yuan Shi Kai Has Strong Rival for Presidency.

Europe Doubts Success of the American Proposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—At least one great power already has declined to join the United States in recognizing the new Chinese republic at this stage and there is reason to expect some of the other powers to take a similar attitude.

No protest has been lodged against the course to be taken by the United States, but there exists at some foreign capitals such doubt of the success of the attempt of the Constituent Assembly to organize a complete and stable government on April 8 that some of the powers deem it prudent to withhold formal recognition for the present, at least.

The appearance of at least one rival candidate for the Presidential office, when it was supposed that Yuan Shi Kai's selection virtually was assured, with reports of powerful support, for this new candidate from Southern China, is believed to be the basis for the hesitation shown by some of the powers with dealing with the question of recognition.

At any rate, it is certain that while Secretary Bryan's proposition will receive the cordial support of a number of governments addressed by him, there surely will be a certain number of the powers holding aloof though not in any sense protesting against the independent action of the United States.

Secretary Daniels Rules That Mare Island Shall Continue as a First-Class Navy Yard.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department decided today that the Mare Island, California, navy yard should be continued as a yard of the first class.

This decision was reached after a two hours' conference with the entire California Congressional delegation and a special committee from Vallejo. Capt. Henry T. Mayo, commandant of the yard, also was present and it was largely on his recommendations that Secretary Daniels ordered that the work of dredging should proceed and that no change should be made in the status of the yard.

CLOSE THE HYDE CASE.

Attorney-General Declines to Reopen the Matter of Conviction of Two Land Swindlers.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Atty.-Gen. McReynolds declined today to reopen the question of pardoning Frederick A. Hyde, and Joost H. Schneider, convicted in this city in 1909 of conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with California and Oregon lands. President Taft refused a pardon on February 21. It is understood that an appeal will be made to President Wilson to instruct the Attorney-General to reconsider the case. In the meantime their commitment to prison is being held up. Hyde was sentenced to two years and a fine of $10,000 and Schneider to fourteen months and a fine of $1000.

The Attorney-General said today his policy would be to reopen no pardon case unless new and material evidence was submitted.

WESTERN SENATOR'S CASE.

United States Attorney Says He Finds Nothing That Requires Attention of the Grand Jury.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 15.—United States Attorney Wilson, who has been investigating certain allegations of impropriety against a western Senator, made this statement today:

"I have heard the statement of the complaining witness and her friends, whom she brought to this office to support her accusations. I find no justification whatever for laying before the grand jury any complaint against any United States Senator."

The District Attorney's statement was made after a conference with Atty.-Gen. McReynolds.

Almost at the time that statement was being made, Jim R. Jacobs of Oklahoma City was presenting to the Secretary of the Senate a written statement addressed to the President of the Senate containing a set of allegations similar to those investigated by the United States Attorney. Vice-President Marshall upon receiving the communication, which covered three typewritten pages, said he would take no action nor make any decision as to his course until Monday.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN DIVIDED.

Mrs. Champ Clark Couldn't See Her Way Clear to Eat Breakfast With the President's Wife.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Society women of Washington to the number of 250 welcomed the wives of President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall and the members of the Wilson Cabinet at a formal breakfast today. The elimination of wine from the menu was the result of a campaign which caused much feeling. Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who occupied one of the tables at the affair, were active in the campaign.

While 250 women were satisfied because they were invited to the breakfast, at least that many more not invited, are today in a rather disturbed frame of mind. As originally planned, the breakfast was to have been exclusively for Democratic women. The plan was changed, however, and as a result scores of women whose husbands are in the councils of President Wilson's party were left off the list, as the accommodations were limited.

Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the Speaker of the House, who was invited, did not attend because of a previous engagement. Her non-appearance caused considerable comment. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Bryan and the other wives of Cabinet members were present.

DESPAIRS OVER FLOOD NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Despondency over reports of the recent flood disaster in Dayton, O., caused J. A. Taylor, assistant engineer of the Y.M.C.A. building, to attempt suicide yesterday. Taylor is a former resident of Dayton. He shot himself over the heart and recovery is unlikely.

Panicky.

BUSINESS MEN ALARMED BY REVISION OF TARIFF.

Workers, Fearing Cut in Salaries After Wilson Gets Done Dictating to Congress the Removal of Protective Duties, Join Hands With Employers in Opposition to the Whole Democratic Programme.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The capital is swarming with manufacturers who agree that the tariff revision bill, which is to be published early next week, will decide the business fate of the nation. Representatives of every industry in the country are bombarding for moderation. Hundreds of telegrams are pouring in from every State and signed by workingmen, urging the Democratic party to withhold the ax from industry.

PANIC-STRICKEN.

The publication of advance information as to the character of bill which is to be presented to the Democratic caucus has stirred business men and their employees as nothing has done in recent history. It is now realized that although President Wilson said in his campaign speeches that as the tariff was related to business no drastic action would be taken, the Democratic party is going ahead to cut into the very heart of nearly every industry. It is known that the bill which is being backed by President Wilson is more drastic than the Wilson-Gorman bill and will do even greater harm to the workingmen. While there is no disposition on the part of conservative Democrats and Republicans to indulge in calamity-howling, they admit it is inevitable that more than 1,000,000 men will be thrown out of work; that there will be a 20 per cent. reduction in wages in the industries which are most affected, and that many mills and factories will have to close down. If the bill goes through as it stands, a revival of the soup house is said to be inevitable.

There came to Washington today representatives of the steel industries of Pennsylvania who admitted that if their fears were realized there was strong probability that Charles M. Schwab would give up the making of steel entirely, thus taking employment from several thousand men.

The United States Steel Corporation has already established a plant in Canada and it was asserted today that if steel rails and other manufactured products are put upon the free list a gradual transfer of the steel company's plants to Canada will be made.

THE FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Representatives of the fruit growers of California and the wine interests are here pleading individually with members of the Ways and Means Committee, but are not making much headway. The duty of ½ of a cent on lemons is almost certain to stand. The citrus fruit growers say their crop this year has already been seriously damaged by frost and if low duties of the Wilson-Underwood bill are enacted, it will be the most serious blow ever struck at California. Even the Democratic Congressmen from California admit that if the present rates are enacted it will mean a solid Republican delegation from California at the next Congressional election. The Democrats of the South are not so fearful as the Democrats of the North, East and West. Where the Democratic party is not absolutely in control, the Democrats believe that the present tariff revision means their certain defeat two years from now.

HOTELS CROWDED.

By next Monday every hotel in the city will be crowded with manufacturers, storekeepers and working men who have become panic-stricken as a result of the preliminary outlines of the tariff bill. Already the managers of small and large business in the various States are here pleading with their Congressmen to intercede for the protection of their interests. There is not a single manufacturer in town who does not admit that the percentage in the reduction of wages will be almost exactly equivalent to that of the reduction of the tariff. The country has been going along on the theory of a duty equalling the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, but as the new Democratic bill wipes out this duty, the difference in cost production must likewise be eliminated. As the high rate of wages in the United States constitutes the principal difference in the cost of production, the only possible result of the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill will be a general reduction of wages.

With seven Senators making a last-ditch stand against the reduction of the duty on sugar, and ten Senators fighting against free wool, President Wilson clearly has the struggle of his life on his hands.

HE SEES ONLY A "MORAL."

The President is basing all his arguments on a moral. He says the Democratic party has made a promise to the people and that this promise must be kept as a moral obligation. The plea that certain industries will be completely wiped out and that wages everywhere will be reduced, is making not the slight impression on him. Mr. Wilson says if the sugar Senators refuse to accept his plan a duty of 1 cent a pound on sugar for three years, and the gradual reduction of the commodity thereafter on the free list he will urge free sugar immediately. The two Democratic Senators from Louisiana say this will mean the entire destruction of the Democratic party in Louisiana, and they, with a number of protection Democrats are threatening to go to the new-born Progressive party in the House. It was stated today that Senator La Follette of Wisconsin had agreed to lead the fight against free sugar and free wool and that some of the southern and western Democrats had promised to back him up even though President Wilson should read them out of the Democratic party.

Republicans in the Senate and House are gathering ammunition for the onslaught on President Wilson because of his dictation of tariff legislation. "What is the use of having a Congress?" asked one of the Republican Senators. "Why are we called together at all? Why not abolish Congress together and invest an autocrat with the President to write tariff and change laws along the lines that suit him?"

This is going to be a White House tariff bill and nobody else will have a hand in it.

They Hold Up and Rob Unsuspecting "Gents" Who Took Them Out for a Joy Ride.

CHICO (Cal.) April 5.—After striking an acquaintance with two pretty girls, taking them for a joy ride and treating them to a "good time," Jessie Chandler and Walter Lonsdale think gross ingratitude was shown when one of the young women at the point of a revolver, forced Lonsdale to turn over his pocketbook containing $14. The fair one obtained $7, returned the rest, ordered the automobile stopped, and with her mate left the machine and the two men "beat it."

Shame that they should thus be victimized by women kept Lonsdale and Chandler quiet for several days, but yesterday they reported the robbery to Marshal H. Coe.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Issuance of free transportation to approximately 3,500,000 persons throughout the United States may be eliminated by the roads as a result of the present agitation in favor of "full crew" bills in various parts of the country.

In commenting on the subject a president of one of the large roads entering Chicago, said today:

"The effect of full crew legislation is to make it necessary to employ more men and thereby to increase operating expenses. The net earnings of most railways are not large enough to justify increases in expenses in some directions which are not accompanied by reductions in others or in other directions. The elimination of the issuance of free transportation to employees and their families would be the most feasible and satisfactory method of meeting the situation."

LONGEST TUNNEL IN AMERICA

The Canadian Pacific Will Soon Be Ready to Tell All About It in Its Booklets to Tourists.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WINNIPEG (Man.) April 5.—The Canadian Pacific Railroad announced today that it would begin construction shortly of the longest tunnel in America. The tunnel will be at Kickinghorse Pass in the Rocky Mountains and will be sixteen miles long, costing $14,000,000. It will be taken seven years, it is estimated, to construct it. The great hole through the mountains will be four times longer than the famous Hoosac tunnel through the Alps.

Railroad officials assert that the construction of this tunnel will eliminate many miles of dangerous snowshed.

HELD AT BAY BY BANDITS.

Robbers Explode Seven Charges of Dynamite Against Bank Vault and Arouse Alvarado Folks.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, April 5.—Seven charges of dynamite were exploded against the vaults of the Bank of Alvarado at Alvarado, about seventeen miles south of here, at 3 o'clock this morning. A number of townspeople, aroused by the first explosion, rushed into the streets, but were held at bay by three armed bandits while the two safe-crackers set off more charges.

The inner doors of the vault, which contained $27,000 in gold and currency, resisted the efforts of the safe-crackers and they secured but little. After driving back the citizens with threats to kill, the bandits escaped in an automobile.

The robbers fled in the direction of Mt. Eden.

Sheriff Barnet and a number of deputies went to Alvarado this morning.

IN A STOLEN AUTO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, April 5.—Less than an hour after the automobile of Mrs. Lane had been stolen from the garage of her home in Santa Clara, and the machine of Mrs. Johnston's was stolen, it was found abandoned on the Bayshore highway near Santa Clara. It is believed that the Alvarado burglars used the machines, and, while in the automobile, returned to a point near Santa Clara and, then scattered. The police are searching the country for the thieves.

Anarchist Leaps to Death from Roof of Prison.

Jailers and Judge Witness a Drama by Lacombe.

Last Words Were a Farewell to Unhappy Mother.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 5.—Lacombe, a notorious anarchist bandit and murderer, committed suicide today by jumping from the roof the prison De la Sante. His leap to death was witnessed by the prison officials and guards, by Lacombe's lawyer, the prosecuting attorney, and the judge who had committed him to the prison.

All these spectators had been summoned by telephone during the two hours that Lacombe stood at the edge of the roof, arguing with the wardens who sought to persuade him to return to his cell. Lacombe was awaiting trial on the charge of assassination of H. Ducret, editor of the newspaper L'Idee Libre. He was charged also with the murder of several other persons.

He was arrested in Paris on March 11 after the police throughout France had sought him for several months.

A mob tried to lynch him while he was on the way to the police station.

Lacombe, during his incarceration, confessed to the murder of Ducret, admitted having killed a postmaster at Chinon, and a railroad cashier at Asbrais. A special guard was kept on him in jail, and even during his daily hour of exercise he was watched closely.

ESCAPES FROM GUARDS.

This morning while Lacombe was talking with his lawyer in an enclosed courtyard inside the prison, his guards stood a few yards off. Lacombe, who was a professional performer of feats of strength at county fairs, sprang forward and grasped the lower rungs of an iron ladder leading to the upper part of the building. He had clambered past tier after tier of cells and had mounted swiftly to the roof before the guards recovered from their astonishment.

As the wardens passed through the prison and onto the roof by trap doors, gradually surrounding him on the roof, he threatened to throw himself down and the guards hesitated at his approach.

A long conversation then took place between Lacombe, the examining judge and the prosecuting attorney, who were summoned.

Magistrate Drioux called on Lacombe to surrender.

"It is too late. I have finished," he replied.

Lacombe then complained of the food provided for him and of the lack of heat in his cell. The prison officials shouted to him that he himself could see that his desires were impossible.

"Too late," Lacombe replied. "It is finished."

He said he would like to talk to Georges Boucheron, his lawyer, who approached Lacombe, shook hands with him, and talked with for for half an hour.

Now and then wiping tears from his eyes, Lacombe begged Boucheron to look after his mother and grandmother. Trembling with excitement, he continued:

"I was thrown on the world when I was 7 years old. I tried to do honest work, but fate followed me."

Firemen and policemen meanwhile had gathered on the roof of the prison, preparing to capture Lacombe, who still stood poised on the edge of the roof. Two hours had passed since he clambered up.

During his talk with his lawyer, prisoners in adjacent cells overheard snatches of the conversation and shouted:

"Hurrah for anarchy!"

M. Boucheron urged Lacombe to be reasonable, but the anarchist, looking at a clock in a church steeple, which pointed to 11:28, said:

"At half past eleven all will be finished."

HIS LAST WORD.

At that hour, raising his hand to his forehead in salute, he shouted:

"It is the moment! Tell my mother that my last thought was of her! Farewell!"

He then jumped like a diver to the courtyard floor below and was dead to death.

Doomed to Death from Tuberculosis, as He Believes, President Davis of Jacksonville and Peoria Electric Line Returns to Alton to Face Embezzlement Charge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that he had been condemned to die of tuberculosis, Edgar M. Davis, St. Louis clubman and president of the Alton, Jacksonville and Peoria electric line, voluntarily returned from California to Alton, Ill., to give bond to appear for trial in September. He will answer an indictment charging him with embezzlement and larceny growing out of his management of the affairs of the road. His shortage is alleged to be about $5005.

Davis told a reporter today, a few minutes after he had signed his bond, that he expects to hurry back to San Diego for the benefit of his health, as physicians say he cannot live long in this climate, and he says he can die happy if he clears himself. His wife is in San Diego awaiting his return. He declared he was innocent of the charge, and said he had carried the entire financial load of the line without the aid of the directors of the company. He has been in San Diego since November, he stated, and left for Alton as soon as he received a message from his father telling him of his indictment. His mother-in-law, Mrs. A. W. Cross of Jerseyville, Ill, is one of the witnesses mentioned in the indictment.

Updyke killed the two men in his own home, Sunday afternoon when they attempted to interfere in a quarrel between him and his wife.

Are You Parting Your Hair Or is Your Hair Departing?

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves the Parting by Checking the Departing

Watch the part. It is there that approaching baldness is often first detected. The parting looks uneven, unhealthy. The white streak is gradually growing wider. You may not notice this from day to day, but watch the parting from month to month. As further evidence of what is happening, look at your brush or comb. It is clogged with dead hair and dandruff after every combing. The hair is gradually dying and coming out and the streak is becoming daily a little wider.

The dandruff germ is doing this and the work of destruction cannot be checked until the dandruff is eradicated and the germ destroyed. It is a condition requiring the prompt and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide, if total baldness is to be escaped. The invisible microbe growth never halts in the hair killing process. In a short time a bare spot is seen at the crown of the head. The hair bulbs are robbed of life and finally there is no help but a wig. Don't wait. Herpicide kills the germ, gives life and vigor to the hair and prevents it from departing.

EASTERN ROADS SUFFER HEAVILY.

Rail Lines in Ohio and Indiana Very Hard Hit.

Floods Wash Away Surpluses as Well as Bridges.

There'll Be No Dividends for Stockholders.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—"The entire railroad system of Ohio and Indiana virtually was put out of business for five days by the floods in the Middle West. To repair and replace the railway affected in this district, will about wipe out the surplus earnings of many railroads. In other cases dividends will be threatened. The reason is that all such damage must be retrieved out of current earnings and cannot be charged to capital."

This position of some of the eastern railroads was set forth today by Elisha Lee, chairman of the Conference Committee of Managers, in summing up before the arbitration board that is settling under the Erdman act, the demands of 34,000 firemen for better wages, and extra help on large locomotives. W. S. Carter for the firemen, concluded his summary shortly before Mr. Lee addressed the board.

The board's decision is to be announced April 22.

NEW STATE RAILWAY INSPECTOR.

HUGH WILSON IS APPOINTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Hugh Wilson, assistant superintendent of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, has been appointed railroad service inspector in the engineering department of the Railroad Commission. Mr. Wilson, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, formerly was with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Missouri Pacific and the Denver and the Rio Grande Railroads. He started railroading as a section foreman.

NEW HAVEN LOSES M'HENRY.

Vice-President of Railroad in Charge of Operations Resigns and Position May Be Abolished.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW HAVEN, April 5.—Vice-President E. H. McHenry, of the New Haven Railroad, who has been in charge of the operations of the system, voluntarily resigned today. It is understood that his position will not be filled.

McHenry began his railroad work on the Northern Pacific in 1883. He was receiver of the Northern Pacific through the two-year period of its reorganization and later was chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific.

THREE MILES OF AUTOS.

Formal Opening of the Oakland and Antioch Railway Brings out Thousands of Sightseers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND (Cal.) April 5.—Over three miles of automobiles in one of the largest auto parades ever seen on the Pacific Coast today celebrated the formal opening of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern Railway. One thousand passengers, guests of the city of Oakland, from Contra Costa county, came in over the new line. City officials and Chamber of Commerce leaders met this delegation at the new station on Fortieth street. A general holiday was proclaimed. The new road opens up a vast territory in the hills behind Oakland, finally reaching Stockton.

HARD TIMES FOR RAILWAYS.

LOWEST INCOME FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

Big Drop in Freight Receipts in a Period Memorable for High Tax Rates, With a Heavy Loss and Damage Claim Record, Gives Occasion for Worry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Railroads throughout the United States obtained in 1912 the lowest relative net income in twenty-five years, according to Slason Thompson, head of the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics, in his annual statistical review of American railways. The statistics of all rail carriers in the United States, for 1912, he says, also discloses the following facts:

Lowest average freight receipts since 1900.

Payment of highest wages in their history.

Multiplication of costly regulation.

Heaviest loss and damage claims on record.

Highest taxes yet levied.

Largest gross revenues received.

Largest expenses of operation.

In discussing the regulation of railroad rates, Mr. Thompson says: "Under regulation, as interpreted to mean only reduction in rates to meet the views of rival shippers and communities and suspending all advances except an insignificant few, the average receipts per freight ton mile has been reduced 7.41 miles from 7.57 miles, in 1911.

"This may not appear to be a back-breaking drop, but applied to a movement of over 267,000,000,000 tons of freight moved one mile, it mounts up to over $42,000,000, or enough to have removed the reproach of insufficient net income from year of unprecedented accomplishment."

WANT LEGISLATOR ARRESTED.

Offspring of the Late Editor of "Appeal to Reasons" Asks Damages of Oklahoman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charging that A. A. Veatch of Tishomingo, Okla., Democratic Representative in the Oklahoma Legislature, now in session, and publisher of the Remonstrator, had criminally libeled their father, children of Fred Wayland, late editor of the "Appeal to Reason," who committed suicide a short time ago, swore out a warrant in Superior Court here Saturday for the arrest of Veatch. They also filed civil suit for $10,000 damages against Veatch. The plaintiffs are John W. Wayland, Walter H. Wayland, Julia B. Wayland, Edith M. Wayland and Mrs. Olive B. Soundry, all children of Fred Wayland.

Under the laws of Oklahoma, Representative Veatch could ignore the warrant while the Legislature is in session, but the county attorney is of the opinion he will accept service at once.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

Till This Recipe Was Tried. Cure Followed in Five Hours.

A prominent medical man, who suffered with a severe cough and cold on the lungs, often being kept awake all night, and weakened by loss of sleep, finally discovered a simple formula which will cure any cough in five hours by the clock. It is a laxative tonic cough syrup which can be made at home by anyone, and the formula is here given for the benefit of those who pass sleepless nights in painful paroxysms. Those who have tried it say it is magical, and beats any high-priced, slow-acting cough medicine ever sold.

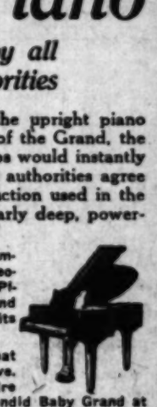

Mix in a bottle one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less, according to age. This will tone up and rid the system of deep-seated coughs every time.—[Advertisement.

The Superiority of the

is admitted by all musical authorities

There is no doubt that if the upright piano possessed the splendid tone of the Grand, the manufacturer of Grand Pianos would instantly cease. But all great musical authorities agree that it is the form of construction used in the Grand that gives it its peculiarly deep, powerful and rich tone.

Therefore it should be the ambition of all serious thinking people to eventually own a Grand Piano—because only in the Grand can you enjoy piano tone at its very best.

There is a wide impression that Grand Pianos are very expensive. Some of them are. But we desire to call your attention to the splendid Baby Grand at $750, which we now show. This instrument, while moderate in price, possesses the unequaled Grand tone and is small enough so that the average home can accommodate it.

Of course we have the higher-priced instruments. Every Grand Piano in our stock is by a great maker, affording a choice that is broad enough to meet the most exacting requirements.

We want you to see our display of beautiful Grands in standard finishes and in art styles. Let us quote you the prices and tell you about our plan whereby you may secure one of these noble instruments on partial payments.

Strike Problem in New South Wales Causes Concern.

Coal Miners Beginning to Show Great Discontent.

Transportation Ceases and One City Is Isolated.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

SYDNEY (Australia) April 5.—The industrial problem in New South Wales is causing grave concern, the strike of coal miners in the Illawarra and South Coast districts being unsettled. The situation is becoming seriously complicated moreover, since the New Castle miners are showing great discontent.

Should a strike be declared, commerce through the shipping will be considerably hampered, and perhaps demoralized owing to the fact that all big ocean liners plying between the east coast of Australia and other parts of the world depend upon New Castle for their coal supply. At Broken Hill, the great silver mining center, the strike declared a week ago, continues. Transportation has ceased and the city is isolated. Famine prices in food commodities now rule and a serious situation present itself.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 5.—The historic Chateau of Chenonceaux, belonging to Count Stanislas de Castellane, brother of Count Boni de Castellane, was purchased today for $354,000 by a Parisian lawyer who is said to be acting on behalf of an American whose name has not been made public.

According to the French law the name of the new possessor must be disclosed within three days after the change of property ownership.

Count Stanislas acquired the chateau through his wife, Nathalie Terry, who was the daughter of a Cuban millionaire. It was constructed in 1515 and has passed through the hands of several royal owners.

OLD FRANCE IS UNEASY.

Vast Aerial Preparations Making in Germany Cause the Gauls to Lose a Lot of Sleep.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 5.—The vast aerial preparations being made in Germany has caused widespread uneasiness in France and today the French Cabinet decided on a bill designed to maintain the country's boasted preeminence in aviation. Even the outlines of the new measure has been kept secret. It will be presented to Parliament when that body reassembles on May 7.

It is agreed, according to official announcement, that the conditions of war on land and sea have been so changed by the progress made in aviation that France must put forth fresh exertions in this direction.

France possesses 600 aeroplanes, but is deficient in dirigible balloons capable of dropping explosives on battlefields, arsenals, ship yards and other objective points.

GERMAN MILITARISTS FROWN.

Suggestion from Within the State for the Restriction of Armaments Viewed as a Political Plot.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, April 5.—Official circles in Germany scout the suggestion made yesterday by the Frankfurter Zeitung for the holding of an international conference to evolve a plan for the restriction of armaments. It was declared that Germany is utterly disinclined to consider proposals for disarmament. The German Foreign Office regards the proposal for an international conference as merely a political move in the campaign waged by the Frankfurter Zeitung against the new military bill and says that the suggestion is not entitled to any sympathy in Germany.

PARIS, April 5.—The wireless telegraph experiments which have proceeded for some time between the Eiffel tower station and Arlington, Va., ended today. BOMB SHATTERS WINE STORE.

Incidentally Damages Two New York Tenement-House and Rocks the Mulberry-Street Police Station.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Two stores, two tenement-houses, and a restaurant, were damaged today by Manhattan's fifty-sixth bomb explosion of the year, set off in Luigi Verzillo's wine store at Nos. 236-38 Mulberry street. The nearby Mulberry-street Police Station was rocked by the force of the explosion. In spite of the pouring rain, which quickly drenched the scantily-clad tenants, the police had a hard job to persuade them that it was quite safe to go back to bed.

The outer door in Verzillo's store was hurled from its hinges, the front windows were shattered, plaster torn from the walls, and many bottles of choice vintage broken. A barrel of Italian wine collapsed and its contents were emptied through a hole, a foot in diameter, blown in the floor.

About a month ago, Verzillo received a letter with a demand for $10,000.

SENATOR HELEN ROASTED.

Senator Frances Says She Knows Nothing About Children, Because She Never Had Any.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Senator Helen Ring Robinson came in for a grilling at the hands of Representative Frances S. Lee at the afternoon session of the House today, when the Representative declared that a measure relating to children introduced by Senator Robinson in the Senate was vicious and inhuman. Senator Robinson was in the building, anxious to hear the fate of her pet measure and there was a look that spoke volumes in her eyes as she passed without recognition, her former very good friend and fellow-suffragist, Representative Lee, after the House session. The bill had to do with changing the regulations for admitting children to the State home for dependent children.

"The lady that introduced this bill into the Senate," said Mrs. Lee, "is not a mother and cannot have the feeling that I, as a mother of five, have for children. The measure is vicious and inhuman."

"77" FOR GRIP & COLDS

A writer says, "When I feel a Cold or Sore Throat coming on I rub my throat and breast for several minutes, so as almost to produce pain. I get immediate and permanent relief. If this had occurred only once or twice, I might think it was simply a natural recovery on account of my otherwise good health, but after so many times I have come to the conclusion that the relief was the result of drawing fresh blood to those parts which were affected, by the friction."

To accelerate the circulation take "Seventy-seven" at the first feeling of a Cold, it will disappear quickly.

If you wait till the Cold gets deep seated it may take longer to break up. At your Druggist, 25c, or mailed.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CATHARTICS AREN'T FOR YOU

Harmless, Gentle "Syrup of Figs" is Best To Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Decaying Food, Gases and Clogged-up Waste.

You old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair. You, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercise would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle.

When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Costive, clogged-up bowels mean that decaying, fermenting food is clogged there and the pores or ducts in these thirty feet of bowels suck this decaying waste and poisons into the blood. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected—but do it gently. Don't have a bowel washday; don't use a bowel irritant. For your sake, please use only gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not drugging yourself, for Syrup of Figs is composed of only luscious figs, senna and aromatics which cannot injure.

A teaspoonful tonight will gently but thoroughly, move on and out of your system by morning all the sour bile, poisonous fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter without gripe, nausea or weakness.

But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company. Read the label.—[Advertisement.

PRISON MENU IS DEFENDED.

Food Riots Unjustifiable, Say Former Convicts.

Hoyle Declares Strait-Jacket Indispensable.

Dynamiter's Sneer Offends Legislative Committee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—That the so-called "food riots" at San Quentin Penitentiary last June, did not have a legitimate basis in bad food furnished the convicts, but were inspired by a group of chronic malcontents, was the statement of a recently-paroled convict who testified before the Assembly Prison Investigating Committee today. The former prisoner was questioned at length by Asst. Atty.-Gen. Ray Benjamin and committee members. Two other men who had been in San Quentin at that time, said that they never had found occasion to complain of the food, appearing before the committee as voluntary witnesses.

This point was the most thoroughly investigated feature of a four hours' sitting, several members of the State Board of Prison Directors being present.

WARDEN HOYLE ON STAND.

Warden Hoyle was questioned for an hour concerning the methods of handling prisoners in the "sash and blind" room—the incorrigible ward of San Quentin.

The first mentioned convict was subpoenaed from Los Angeles by the committee, and told them, in reply to questions, that for several months he had been in direct charge of the food furnished the prison kitchen, acting as book-keeper to the steward. The fresh meat used, he said, always was purchased the morning of the day it was to be consumed, or the evening of the day before, and was always inspected and found satisfactory before being brought inside the walls.

Many of the ringleaders of the June riot, he said, were men who previously had been employed in the kitchens, and had been sent back to the jute mill for having filched food and supplies.

Concerning the conduct of Guard Grubb, who had been charged by others testifying before the committee, with having shot into the crowd without warning, the witness said that Grubb and other guards had repeatedly called to the rioters to go to their cells.

HAD "HOME-MADE" KNIFE.

"I was standing within four feet of the man who was shot down," he testified. "The man had been one of the ringleaders in the rioting, in which everything breakable in the dining-room had been demolished. As the shot rang out, he was yelling and waving his hands. As he fell, face downward on the floor his coat flew up and disclosed a long 'home-made' knife in his hip pocket."

"Did one of the prisoners come to the steward in your presence, a short time before the riots, with a piece of spoiled meat?" he was asked.

"One came with a piece which he claimed was spoiled," was the answer. "I smelled of it, and ate some of it and it was all right. It was discolored slightly at one end, but that was the fault of the cooking."

Warden Hoyle furnished the committee with statistics concerning deaths in the prison and the number of men who had been put in the strait-jacket in the last few years.

"Do you think the strait-jacket is absolutely essential for the punishment of refractory prisoners?" he was asked.

STRAIT-JACKET NECESSARY.

"If we didn't have the strait-jacket we would have to have some other form of salutary punishment," he replied. "The mere knowledge that it is there ready to use is of more value than its use. During the last four years it has been applied to but two men for the full period of six hours. Each man put into it is now released immediately upon promising to be good. Prior to the time the present practice was put into effect a man was sentenced after a hearing to a certain number of hours in the jacket and was kept there regardless of promises or pleas."

Hoyle answered many questions regarding the operation of the parole system, telling of the increase of paroled prisoners from forty in 1902 to nearly 300 last year.

It is said by one of the committee members that officials of the State labor organizations will go before the committee with charges that the McNamara brothers have been the target for persecution because of their affiliations.

In this connection he explained that neither of the McNamaras had been summoned before the committee at San Quentin.

"We arrived at the prison at noon the first day," he said, "and two of us went into the dining-room at once and ask John McNamara to testify. Regarding outstretched hands, he said, meaningly: 'Well, have you brought your whitewash brush along?' That remark took us off our feet and when we recovered from our astonishment and thought about talking with him again we found him persistently at oiding us."

HOYLE HELPS WITH HIS CASH.

"Have you not assisted many discharged prisoners with your own money?" asked Assemblyman Johnson.

"Yes," said Hoyle. "Of the nearly 30 prisoners in which I have personally interested myself more than 10 per cent. have made good, and a dozen or more of these were third or fourth-term men. Much depends upon the old a man is given immediately upon leaving prison. Nearly all of parole violators go wrong within two or three months after they get out."

Each of the three convict witnesses said that he had never seen a guard or officer strike a prisoner, or heard of brutal usage used toward one.

The committee will go to Folsom next week.

Bills Affecting Women.

on the McDonald-Lyon measure. A number of lobbyists representing business women and professional nurses are working against the bill. They are doing effective work for their respective causes and are most active.

MOTHERS' PENSION BILL.

The mothers' pension bill drafted by the Board of Control was recommended for passage by the Assembly Committee on Charities and Corrections this afternoon. The favored bill provides that each full orphan in any institution where not fewer than twenty children are cared for shall receive $100 a year from the State, and half-orphans or abandoned children under the age of 14, $75 a year.

In addition the counties are to pay a similar amount for each half-orphan or abandoned child maintained at home by the mother. The money is to be paid under the direction of the Board of Control.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL.

With the addition of a few amendments the Brown minimum wage bill has been reported out from the Capital and Labor Committee and will come up for vote in the Senate the first of next week. Two of the most important amendments incorporated in the measure were that it should not go into effect until April 1, 1914, and that the commission had power to bring action in court to compel the payment of its schedule without waiting for action by a District Attorney.

The Governor strongly favors a minimum wage law, especially in reference to women. He is open in his declarations to that effect, but whether that means a minimum wage bill can be put down in the list of administration measures is doubtful.

Organized labor, as represented here, is determinedly opposed to minimum wage and such a bill, if passed at all, cannot be passed without a sharp struggle in the Senate. Senator Brown of Los Angeles will lead the fight in favor of minimum wage law and Senator Bryant of San Francisco will lead the opposition. Union labor agents say the unions are opposing minimum wage on the ground that a minimum wage would tend to become the maximum wage in any craft. The unionites may decide to offer a minimum wage bill of their own making this session.

TEACHERS' PENSIONS.

The rank and file of the teachers of California with a numerical strength of 5000 are backing the Tyrrell-Smith teachers' pension bill calling for a flat pension of $600 annually after retirement upon thirty years of teaching in the State. The bill makes no distinction between the high and low positions, but recognizes service and faithfulness alone. The Ryan bill is being supported by several university professors and a number of school superintendents. This bill proposes a graduated scale proportioned to the position occupied by the instructor at the time of retirement. Its opponents say that this measure recognizes station and not service, which is the underlying principle of pensions; that it would give least to those who had all their life received the smaller salaries and who had been least able to lay aside a competence for old age. The two bills will probably be acted upon early next week.

The Secret of It.

NELLES SLATED FOR JORDAN JOB.

SECRETARY OF STATE INSISTS ON FULL PUBLICITY.

Refuses to Appear at Star Chamber Session of the State Board of Control—Insurance and Automobile Agents Appear as Witnesses, but Testimony Is Kept Secret.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Hiram W. Johnson and the Board of Control, it is said, have selected a successor for Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, in the event that the petty charges on which an investigation of Jordan's office is now being conducted, prove sufficient for the Progressive administration to "Shannonize" the Secretary of State.

Supt. Fred C. Nelles of the Whittier State Reformatory, which the administration seem determined to abandon, is said to be slated for the job. Jordan learned this today, through several sources.

"Well, they will find it pretty hard to get this job for Mr. Nelles or anyone else," said Jordan. "The people will have something to say about it."

INSISTS ON PUBLICITY.

Jordan scored the first point in the battle today when he refused to attend the board's star chamber session unless the hearing be made public and carried his fight to the Legislature.

Chairman Neylan of the Board of Control asserted today that the proceedings of the star chamber session would eventually be made public and asked that the action of the board in forcing such a petty investigation be not misjudged because of "exaggerated stories that had been printed."

ADMINISTRATION SIDESTEPS.

Attaches of the Governor's office today declared that the Governor had nothing to do with the petty persecution of the Secretary of State.

The fact is, as Jordan had stated, that the same thing charged against Jordan's office, is being done in the Governor's own office and there is fear that the attack on Jordan will prove a boomerang. Jordan's charge that Franklin Griffin, the Governor's executive secretary, is drawing an extra salary from a commission that has virtually ceased to exist, and never meets, has not been denied nor answered.

Several legislators who voted with the administration leaders against the Jordan resolution, declare they will not vote to transfer the motor vehicle department from Jordan's office to the State Highway Commission.

Agents of several insurance and automobiles companies which are named by the board as being firms which paid Mrs. Anita A. Brewer for furnishing them with lists showing the registration of automobiles were before the board today. Their testimony was not made known. Jordan, however, says any evidence they might give the board will not reflect on his administration of the office.

JORDAN DEFIES STATE BOARD

Asks Lawmakers for Prompt Investigation of Charges.

Compensation Act Is on Rush Programme.

Water Commission Bill Gets Favorable Send-Off.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

SACRAMENTO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Defying the State Board of Control by refusing to appear before it today for further investigation of the charge that he had not properly handled certain funds under his care, Secretary of State Jordan has taken an appeal directly to the Legislature. He sent a communication to both houses of the Legislature today, asking that body to cause an investigation by the "supreme lawmaking body of the State" of the truth or falsity of the charge that he has not properly fulfilled the duties of his office. Jordan asked that a joint committee to investigate the charge be appointed without unnecessary delay and a report be made to the Legislature during the present session.

Senator Wright immediately introduced a resolution in the Senate requiring the appointment of a committee to consist of three members from each House of the Legislature for the purpose of investigating the actions of the Secretary of State in the conduct of his office, said committee to make any and all investigations which it deems advisable at the earliest possible moment and to report as soon thereafter as possible.

On motion of Senator Wright, his resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules, and sent to the printer with a "rush" order. The Assembly refused to consider a similar resolution which was introduced out of order in the lower House by Assemblyman Johnstone of Contra Costa. A two-thirds vote is required for such a procedure, and the Assembly refused to consider the resolution by a vote of twenty-nine ayes against thirty-two noes. The resolution will probably come up in its regular order Monday morning.

An effort on the part of Johnstone and Schmitt to have the petition of Jordan and also the resolution appear in the House Journal, was blocked by the Speaker ruling that the motion was out of order. The point of order was made by Assemblyman Bohnett. He objected to the introduction of the resolution and also to the filing of the petition out of order.

TO BRAND ROLLING STOCK.

The Senate today adopted and transmitted to the Assembly, Senator Cohn's bill, which provides that the rolling stock of railroads and street railway companies shall bear unmistakable marks of ownership and that a proper record of the same be kept with the Secretary of State.

Each car or locomotive engine sold under an agreement that the title of the property shall not vest in the purchaser until the purchase price shall be paid in full, or that the seller shall have and retain a lien thereon for the unpaid purchase money, shall have the name of the vendor, lessor or bailor plainly marked in letters not less than one inch in size on each side thereof, followed by the word "Owner," "Lessor," or "Bailor," as the case may be.

FIND BUG IN BILL.

There was intimation today that Senate Bill No. 1649, introduced by the Committee on Rules, has a "bug" in it. Senator Benson denounced it as "vicious" and agreed with Senators Butler, Kehoe and Finn that it is a good bill—for the railroad companies—designed to relieve the latter of all responsibility for accidents on their rights of way.

The measure makes it a misdemeanor for any person to trespass upon any railroad track or station grounds, other than a regular crossing and makes it unlawful also, for any person other than a passenger or employee, "but a trespasser" to get on or off, or to ride upon any railroad train, car or engine. After extended debate the bill was passed on file until Monday.

TO RECALL VOTING MACHINES.

Senator Grant has introduced a Senate constitutional amendment proposing to the voters of the State the repeal of the law which permitted the use of voting machines at elections. The law is virtually a "dead letter" and in the opinion of Grant should be wiped off the books.

BAY CITY ISN'T SATISFIED.

Senator Owens's bill, closing the saloons of California from 1 a.m., to 5 a.m., each day will bob up again next Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock as a special order, on the motion of Senator Finn of San Francisco for a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was adopted in the Senate ten days ago. San Francisco desires an opportunity to present her side of the question.

ON RUSH PROGRAMME.

At a joint meeting of the Labor and Capital committees of the Senate and Assembly, Boynton's workmen's compensation act was gone into carefully for the purpose of amendment. It was sent to the printer this afternoon with a rush order and will likely be one of the important matters before the Legislature next week, with a good chance for adoption in its new dress.

The chief amendment excludes employees on farms and dairies, such employees as follow agricultural and horticultural pursuits and poultry raising; also domestics and others with household duties.

Senator Juilliard of Sonoma county is endeavoring to have employes in viticultural pursuits excluded, at the request of the vineyardists of his section.

WATER COMMISSION ACT.

The biggest conservation measure of the 1913 session of the Legislature—the Johnstone Water Commission Bill—was passed out of the House conservation commitee with favorable recommendation. The bill creates a Water Commission of five and places in the hands of that commission complete power over the great water and power resources of the State of California, giving to it power to conserve to the people the benefits of this natural resource.

Under the bill the commission is empowered to pass upon all applications for water rights, to ascertain the rights of those who claim water privileges, and the commission may, in its discretion, allow the appropriation of water which may hereafter be declared to be unappropriated.

The rights of those already claiming water privileges may be ascertained by the commission under the bill.

The bill declares all running streams to be public and applicable for the purposes of irrigation, mining and domestic use; that the right to the use of such water shall rest in the person utimately putting it to beneficial use, and not in the corporation making the diversion or the appropriation.

The rate fixed for water power under lease from the State is 20 cents per year per horse power. An appropriation of $150,000 is made to carry on the business of the commission during the next two years.

PIPE LINES AS CARRIERS.

That oil pipe lines will be declared to be common carriers by the present legislature is now practically assured.

As a result of the frequent debates in committee between supporters and opponents of bills making oil pipe lines common carriers, a bill has been drafted which meets the arguments of the opposition and is satisfactory to the supporters, the most prominent of whom is Timothy Spellacy, of Los Angeles.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair — you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.—[Adv.

Tired, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Callouses and Bunions by TIZ.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callus, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this:

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. Today there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an up-to-date Godsend."—Sam. A. Hoover, Progress, N. C.

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There are a good many counterfeits of TIZ now being made by manufacturers who think they can make a little money by fooling people once. Don't fall a victim. You'll have to get TIZ afterwards and they know it, and you might as well get it the first time and save the money on counterfeits. TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores, at 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. CONSUMPTION CONQUERED

A Cure Achieved Unequaled in the Annals of Medicinal History with the Newly Discovered Antiseptic Treatment,

"SARTOLIN"

THESE ARE THE FACTS:

The patient, a Chicago boy, 14 years of age, was taken in hand in a deplorable state; the medical examination showed that the left lung was practically gone, the right one fiercely attacked with Tubercular Bacilli, the boy's physical condition so weak that a catastrophe was expected at any moment.

Under the Sartolin treatment in his own home the boy gradually became stronger, after 60 days he improved in weight by 15 pounds; he is now able to be at large, swim, play and run, his sleep and appetite is good—in short, he is enjoying excellent health.

The last bacteriological examination of the sputum showed no trace of Tuberculosis; the medical examination under the X rays proved that the huge cavity in the left lung is absolutely healed and scarred, and the right lung healed as well.

APRIL, MAY AND JUNE

A Tonic is Needed to Give the System a Renovating

MRS. A. E. STOUFFER.

Mr. Joe Leonard, No. 550 Front Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have found Peruna a good tonic, stimulating the system, sustaining it under great pressure, imparting unusual endurance, enabling me to work much longer and harder than the system could possibly do were it not for the great powers with which it endowed me. Peruna gives me nerves of iron. I can heartily recommend it to all athletes." Mr. Leonard speaks from the standpoint of an athlete, being one himself.

Yes, Peruna is a good tonic. It is very valuable to the average person during the spring months. There is hardly any household in the land that would not be more or less benefited by Peruna during the spring months, April, May and June especially. A bottle should be kept in the house. A dose taken as occasion requires. It is applicable to young and old. The grandmother can take it at the same time the baby is taking it. People who are all run down as the result of cold or grip, or close application to business, or confinement to the house during the winter months, any or all of these conditions yield quickly to Peruna.

Also as a general family medicine do not neglect to have a bottle of Peruna in the house. The children need it. The grandmother and grandfather need it. Even those in robust health and middle age need it occasionally in the house.

Get one of Dr. Hartman's free books, the Ills of Life, which tells you how to use Peruna under all circumstances. Read what Miss Alma Cox, Orum, S. C., says about it:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear any one around me. I had been given up to die.

A Friend Sent Me the Ills of Life.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any scarcely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy feeling. I am so thankful that I can say after using several bottles of the Peruna and Manalin I am restored to perfect health.

"Before using your remedies I could not eat anything. I lived on barley water and Panopeptin for two years. Now I can eat with pleasure. Everybody is so surprised at my improvement. Every one says I am looking like a rose. I would advise all suffering women to take your remedies. I know if it were not for Peruna and Manalin I would have been in my grave today. I cannot thank you enough for the kind advice you have given me."

Mrs. A. E. Stouffer, R. R. 1, Sabetha, Kansas, writes: "Peruna has given me health and strength; it is the best medicine that was ever made for women. My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman. I talk to every one about Peruna. I cannot say too much for it."

I CURE

PILES

FISTULA AND ALL RECTAL DISEASES WITHOUT OPERATION

BY MY PAINLESS DISSOLVENT METHOD

For twenty-five years I have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time my experience as hospital and railroad surgeon, as college lecturer and professor, has enabled me to develop a method that is superior to all others. I cure without surgery and my patients are never confined in bed and never lose a moment's time from their business.

With my method I absorb pile tumors by medication, applied (or driven in,) by a mild electric current. The piles are absorbed in a few treatments, leaving the rectum in a healthy, normal condition. There is no danger, no bad after effects and no pain or soreness.

My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatment administered by me in my office.

If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, I invite you to investigate my method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of my cured patients. If you will call at my office I will be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people I have cured, whom you may interview in regard to my treatment.

I TREAT NO DISEASES EXCEPT THOSE OF THE RECTUM AND BOWELS.

WELL KNOWN SANTA MONICA MINISTER CURED.

This is to certify that Dr. C. H. White has cured me of a distressing hemorrhoid ailment of 25 years' duration. His method of treatment is effective, but not severe. He has the appliances, the knowledge and the skill born of many years of specializing in this fruitful source of physical distress. He accomplishes all he claims in his advertising and at reasonable expense.

I take pleasure in heartily commending the Man and his methods.

WESLEY K. BEANS, Pastor First Methodist Episcopal Church, Santa Monica, Cal. March 18, 1913.

REV. EDWARD BROOKS CURED.

Mr. Dear Dr. White: I wish to express to you again my heartfelt appreciation for what you have done for me. After suffering for years with the worst form of hemorrhoids, YOU HAVE CURED ME COMPLETELY, and during the treatment I did not turn aside from my usual work. I therefore commend you and your method to all sufferers from rectal disorders. Very gratefully yours,

REV. EDWARD H. BROOKS (Baptist Minister,) 3819 Menlo Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

SAWTELLE DENTIST CURED.

For twenty years I suffered with a severe rectal trouble which was caused by being almost constantly on my feet. The pain from this affliction has at times incapacitated me from professional duties. Dr. C. H. White, with his dissolvent method, has entirely cured me and I am as well as I ever was in my life. I desire to say to all sufferers that Dr. White is a skillful physician and is doing grand good work for humanity in the curing of diseases of the lower bowel. DR. R. K. THREAT TO TAKE PLANT ABROAD.

Labor Trouble Must Cease or, Auburn Loses Mill.

Harvester Officials Issue Ultimatum to Rioters.

America May Lose Industry Because of Unionites.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUBURN (N. Y.) April 5.—Unless the strike riot ceases at once and a settlement between the strikers and their employers is reached, the International Harvester Company will remove its entire plant—one of the largest of the kind in the world—to Europe. Officials of the company made known their position today in the following statement:

"The mill has now been closed for two weeks and nothing seems to be decided with reference to the future. In view of this fact, we desire to point out that our plant at Auburn has been used to spin twine for the export trade. Unless we can, without delay, come to an understanding with our employees, by which we may be assured of some stability in this industry for the future we beg to inform you that we will begin at once to transfer the machinery to Europe.

"We will regret exceedingly if we are obliged to make this move, for heretofore, our manufacturing operations abroad have not lessened in any way the number of our employees in this country.

"Such action will entail loss not only to our employees but to the city of Auburn and to the country as a whole, because it will transfer to Europe what is now home manufacture. Therefore before your action forces us to start this work we respectfully invite you to consider carefully the consequences, and to let us have your answer not later than April 9."

MRS. HEATH ADVISES WOMEN TO CO-OPERATE IN BUYING.

Waste of Labor in Domestic Service Amounts to Forty Per Cent., Declares Another Speaker at Annual Meeting of American Academy of Political Science.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—The high cost of living is partly due to the failure of the American housewife to buy to the best advantage, according to Mrs. Julia Heath of New York, president of the Housewives' League, who spoke today before the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. She said:

"Marriage is a partnership in which the man is the producer and the woman the spender. It is the duty of the woman to spend what her husband produces in a way to obtain the greatest and most lasting benefit. American housewives have not been doing this. They found they could not do it singly and alone. By combining they already have accomplished wonders and will accomplish more."

Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman of New York said that the worst single waste in living expenses lies in our archaic system of domestic service.

She said that when industrial progress is following lines of specialization, organization and interchange, domestic service remains unorganized and unspecialized. She declared that the waste of labor amounts to over 40 per cent. of the world's full output.

SAN ANTONIO, April 5.—In a statement addressed "to the American people" and made public here today, Venustiano Carranza, Governor of the Mexican State of Coahuila and leader of the so-called constitutionalists, defending their position, says:

"I desire that the American people shall form their own judgment of the justice of the attitude of the government of these States and by a large part of the people of several others.

"After thirty-five years of the dictatorship of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, the Mexican people broke the power of Gen. Diaz and elevated to the Presidency, the chief of the Democratic effort against the Porfirian dictatorship.

"The elements of the old government not conforming to the new regime, attempted three times, by means of revolutions to destroy the power of Senor Madero, but the nation was with him and all the force of his enemies was futile.

"The discontented elements, in their impotence began to suborn the army, succeeding in forcing a part of the garrison of the city of Mexico to rise against the legally constituted government. The President confided the command of his forces to Gen. Victoriano Huerta. Gen. Huerta united himself with the revolting troops and Felix Diaz's nephew of the ex-dictator, taking prisoners the President, the Vice-President and the Cabinet.

SWORD MUST BE ARBITER.

"Such a proceeding brought as a consequence repudiation on the part of the Governors of Sonora and Coahuila of the so-called government of Huerta and from this republic originated the armed conflict which is destroying the nation anew but which has no other solution than that of force of arms, but we believe our right should triumph over force and we will not consent to the reinstation of a dictatorship which will be a thousand times worse than the last.

DRAWS A PARALLEL.

"I declare the above, and I ask the American people and the Governors of their States, if such acts had occurred in Washington as occurred in the City of Mexico, if a chief in the army had overpowered the President and Vice-President and assassinated them; if by force of arms he had assassinated the chief magistrate of the nation would they follow other lines of conduct than the Governors of Coahuila and Sonora have followed? I do not believe so. The usurping President had not been in power twenty-four hours before he took this step.

"I hope that the American people will find justification in the foregoing for the present effort against the so-called government of Gen. Huerta and that they will exonerate us of the injuries which may be occasioned to their interests against our will, in the contention in which we are involved.

THE LITTLE LANDERS OF LOS ANGELES

—BY WILLIAM E. SMYTHE—

WHEN I said at San Diego five years ago, in my first speech for the Little Landers: "On one single acre of irrigated land, working under right conditions, an industrious man may make a better living for his family than half the citizens of the United States are doing today," the statement aroused much criticism and some indignation.

A man living back in the mountains, wrote me: "Excuse me, but I think you ought to be hanged for saying such a thing," and he added the pathetic remark: "I am starving to death on 400 acres."

I replied by return mail: "Excuse me, but I think you are a fool, at least to the extent of 399 acres, since you could starve more comfortably on one acre, and save wear and tear on your legs."

Now, the whole philosophy of the old-fashioned life of the farm, on one hand, and, on the other, of the renewed and refined life which the Little Landers have created, is represented in this criticism and my reply.

My friend in the mountains thinks that a truly brilliant operation on the soil is to go to some remote place, where there is little society, save jackrabbits, wildcats and coyotes, get hold of the largest amount of the cheapest land he can find, use it wastefully (probably with the aid of incompetent help,) pay the longest prices for all he consumes by reason of his enforced tribute to middlemen, then to take the shortest price for whatever he sells, paying tribute to the same middlemen, and, finally—to starve to death on 400 acres!

The idea of the Little Lander is precisely the reverse of this.

He says the safe, sane and sensible thing to do is to keep as near as possible to the great city, with its wealth of social and commercial advantages; to select the very choicest place in which to live, a place so fine that the millionaire, with all his money, can buy nothing better, than to take a little land—"so much as one man may use to the best advantage without hiring help"—and use it so wisely, that it shall yield him more in comfort and satisfaction than he could hope to get out of the big holding in the wilderness. He proceeds to organize his life on its commercial side as shrewdly, as efficiently, as is done by any other captain of industry, while his social and intellectual life is such as to warm his heart and fill his mind to overflowing.

The Little Lander, to be plain about it, deliberately plans to have the cream of the town and the cream of the country, leaving the skim milk to less fortunate people in country and in town.

There are only two classes of men and women who can enjoy the cream of life. They are the millionaire and the Little Lander—the millionaire, because he has the dollars; the Little Lander, because he has the sense.

When we began our work at San Diego, five years ago, it was said that we were "visionary and impracticable"—and that is almost as bad as arson or murder to the ultra-conservative mind.

As to the "impracticable" part, we said the future would tell, and, when it came to pass, the event spoke with unanswerable eloquence.

As to the "visionary" part, we pleaded guilty, but quoted the Bible in justification: "Where there is no vision the people perish." We knew then, and today the whole world begins to see it, that unless somebody gets a vision of a life upon the soil that shall be attractive and satisfying to the masses of mankind, the people will perish, indeed.

Think of it! Tilling the ground is the only job in the world that is big enough to go around, yet the life of the land has progressively failed during the past generation.

Rich Iowa, though gaining in her town population, fails so rapidly on the land as to score a net decrease in the total population in the last decade.

Opulent Illinois, in spite of all her wide spaces, has 15 per cent. less people living on the land today than she had ten years ago, while 58 per cent. of her total is piled up in the one city of Chicago, where they bruise and trample upon each other like cattle in a night stampede.

We are urging all creation to come to Southern California.

Are we prepared to return an affirmative answer to the question: "Can I make a living?"

Is it true, or is it not, that we need more professional men, more merchants, clerks, skilled workmen? Is it true, or is it not, that all walks of urban life are overcrowded?

If it be true, then when we beseech every human being to come to Southern California on the next train, do we imagine that there are no human beings save tourists and retired capitalists? Is that what we mean when we exclaim: "California invites the world?" If so, why don't we say so? It might happen, by accident, that somebody would come who wanted to make a living.

But does anybody seriously think that Los Angeles and the region immediately surrounding it, the fairest part of God's earth, was made for the exclusive benefit of idlers and of men who have done their work and merely want to sit down in the shade of palm and pepper to rest?

Where in your Bible do you find this version: "In the sweat of thy face thou shalt eat bread, except in the vicinity of Los Angeles."

Why, it is perfectly plain to every man who thinks, that God must have intended this beautiful spot to be the paradise of the common man, and that if we are not making it such in a practical sense, as the days and months go by, for countless thousands of industrious men and women, it is because we lack the genius to take advantage of the opportunity which nature provided.

The Little Lander has the genius. He knows what this country was made for; he knows how to utilize its fund of waters and of soil, of climate and of scenery.

He begins with the fundamental proposition that "a little land and a living, surely, is better than desperate struggle and wealth, possibly."

He does not expect to be rich—in fact, has no use for riches. He wants a genteel sufficiency, and wants to know on January 1st that he is going to have it straight through the year to December 31st, then on and on, "whether school keeps or not."

Panics may disturb business, but they do not disturb our faithful hens. They keep on laying, and their eggs are perfectly fresh—which some eggs are not. Lockouts and strikes, and even wars, may scourge the land, yet the vegetables spring from their planting, while tree and vine yield their fruit.

"The profit of the earth is for all."

Oh, it is a miracle! The fidelity of the soil, the generosity of nature! And then, its infinite courtesy and politeness, for it makes its roses to cling as lovingly to the cabin as to the palace.

The Little Lander, like the millionaire, is absolutely secure against the haunting fear of want.

Like the millionaire, he goes in good society, has an estate in the country, and comes to town as often as he feels like it, and, with the high spirit and working capital, derived from real estate profits in his organized community, he has books and art and music, as much as the millionaire.

The only difference between the social life of the millionaire and the Little Lander is that the one is exclusive, while the other is inclusive. I think the latter is a little more civilized, a little more Christian, and at any rate this is certain: there can never be many millionaires, but there may be—and shall be—countless thousands of Little Landers.

There lies peace, security, happiness for California and the Republic.

After we had battered down the walls of prejudice at San Diego, we walked over the prostrate form of hostile criticism, and put to shame the death's head of the man who confronts every progressive movement by saying, "It can't be done," I responded to an urgent invitation to organize the Little Landers of Los Angeles.

We might have gone in almost any direction from the courthouse, and commanded all the necessary resources for the work.

But the question was: "Where does the man go, who goes where he wants to—the man with plenty of money to select the best?"

We found the millionaire went above the fog belt to the everlasting, glorified mountains, where the air is sweet and dry. We found a valley, a mile and a half wide and four miles long, which nature had obviously designed for a little kingdom. It is the Vale of Monte Vista, lying sixteen miles north of the city, at an altitude of 1900 to 2200 feet, between the Verdugo and the Sierra Madre Mountains.

Already we have enlisted 100 families, including those who were already on the ground, and who told us that all they needed to make the valley indeed the paradise of the common man was the co-operative machinery for purchasing supplies at wholesale rates, and then for selling their products direct to the consumer with efficiency and economy; and they needed the high social, intellectual and spiritual life, which lifts existence above the bread-and-butter line and gives to human experience a little of "the light that never was on sea or land."

Our beautiful club house is rising, and on Saturday, April 12th, we shall lay its corner stone, giving it the name of "Bolton Hall," in honor of the author of "A Little Land and a Living." Already the community is provisionally organized, and beginning to unfold the most delightful possibilities.

If you want to know more about it, write me for the illustrated "Story of the Little Landers of Los Angeles," or attend my illustrated lectures any week-day afternoon at 2:30 and on Tuesday and Friday evenings, at the House of the Little Landers, 929 So. Figueroa street, opposite the Woman's Club House.

"This Wonderful Life."

Mr. and Mrs. William Hevener have made a very comfortable living on one-third of an acre at San Ysidro for the past two years. This is the way they feel about it:

One of the Little Landers of Los Angeles.

Only 16 miles from the heart of the city—at the rim base of the high mountains—2000 feet above sea level—just such a spot as millionaires and Little Landers only can afford to occupy.

"A Foothold for Freedom."

Dr. H. H. Bawder's Acre at San Ysidro, near San Diego. Consider it well: A life-job, working for himself, with neighbors on every 116 feet of frontage; a market for surplus products direct to consumer; a short distance from Clubhouse, with constant round of social and intellectual diversions; and only 16 miles from the big town. The most enviable, the most genuinely profitable, life in the world.

"San Ysidro, Cal., April 3, '13.

"Dear Mr. Smythe—If we, in any way, have helped demonstrate this wonderful life, to the good of the cause you have undertaken, it is to our own benefit, and I assure you we wish to thank you, as well.

"Trusting you meet with success always, Sincerely,

"Mrs. William Hevener."

"Beats Anything I Have Seen."

The writer of the following rather wanted to be a Little Lander of San Diego five years ago, and is determined to be a Little Lander of Los Angeles, anyhow. We quote:

"Anaheim, Cal., March 17, '13.

"Dear Sir—As soon as I learned that you intended starting a colony at Los Angeles, I put my place on the market, and will do all I can to let go, and especially since you have made the start in the Vale of Monte Vista. I have been there, and, say—it beats anything I have ever seen. Yours truly, Former Goo-Goos Out as Independent Voters.

Municipal Conference Ticket Gains Strength.

The Municipal Conference took a day off yesterday while the candidates attended to the formality of filing petitions and the former members of the Good Government organization laid the remains of that concern peacefully and finally to rest, by resolving themselves into independent voters.

Police Judge Rose reiterated his intention to remain in the race, established headquarters on the sixth floor of the Chamber of Commerce building and named his Campaign Committee.

The most noticeable feature of the day was a tremendous accession of strength to the supporters of Albert Lee Stephens, the unanimous choice of the Municipal Conference for City Attorney. Pledges of support came to him by hundreds all day yesterday from all parts of the city and his friends are now certain that he will be nominated and elected by an overwhelming majority. Former Good Government adherents pledged their support to him in great numbers, at the same time renouncing and denouncing the would-be leadership of E. Tobias Earl.

Charles E. Warner, member of the Goo-Goo organization for four years, announced his candidacy for the Council on an independent platform.

Police Judge Rose last night announced the following Campaign Committee: John Luckenbach, chairman; T. J. K. MacGowan, secretary; F. R. Fraser, Lewis Schwaebe, W. Ona Morton, Robert A. Todd, William R. Dunn, A. Ortiz, Isadore B. Dockweiler, Frank W. Johnson, H. S. McCallum, Byron Erkenbrecher, Leo V. Youngworth, John P. Coyne, J. R. Haffer and Owen McAleer.

Councilman F. J. Whiffen yesterday declined the indorsement of the Municipal Conference and the pseudo People's Campaign Committee and announced that he will run as an independent.

FOR THREE BOND ISSUES.

Three of the eight bond issues to be voted on by the people are recommended for adoption by a committee of the City Club, consisting of Louis V. Myers, Meyer Lissner and George V. Bidwell, who have prepared a report to be considered in a special meeting Wednesday noon at the Angelus.

After naming the various proposed issues, the committee says:

"Your committee is of the opinion that the approval and adoption at the present time of at least three of these bond issues is a matter vitally essential to the continued welfare and prosperity of the city, and your committee therefore recommends that the City Club do approve and urgently recommend the citizens of Los Angeles to vote for the following bond issues in any event: The power to take the city trunk line water bonds, and the harbor bonds.

"Your committee hopes and trusts that it will not become necessary for the city to build an additional distributing system, paralleling those now in existence, and to enter into ruinous competition with the power companies."

Walk the Plank?

ALIEN UNIONISTS MAY GET BOUNCE.

HAVE TRANSGRESSED LAWS, SAY INSPECTORS.

Came to This Country Under Contract Labor Conditions, It Is Charged, and They May Be Deported—Washington Department Has Facts and Will Act Quickly.

Perry Hambrook and Seymour H. Crump, two union book-binders, former members of the Bath, Eng., bookbinders' union and since their arrival in this city, January 1, 1913, members of the local bookbinders' union, gave bond in $500 each yesterday awaiting the action of the Department of Labor on the charge of being contract labor aliens and unlawfully in the country.

The men were arrested by Inspector J. A. Conaty of the local immigration office, on a departmental warrant, involving the above charges, and after their examination the testimony taken in the case was sent to the authorities in Washington and upon the decision reached there the disposition of the case will depend.

In the opinion of the officials enough evidence was secured from the accused to warrant their deportation, but whether it is sufficient to cause further action involving the prosecution of the firm that gave them employment, is unknown.

The accused men arrived in New York on the Lusitania, December 21, last, and have been in Los Angeles since the first of the present year. Inspector Conaty is authority for the statement that they were employed by the Pacific Library Binding Company, an establishment on Boyd street, this city.

Under the provisions of the immigration law, quick action is secured in the deportation of undesirable aliens charged with violation of the law. The accused are summoned to appear before the immigration authorities to show cause why they should not be deported. The evidence then is transmitted to Washington. There is no appeal from that judgment. In ordinary arrests, there is opportunity for all manner of delay before the matter in hand is disposed of, but swift action is secured by the departmental warrant route.

Hambrook and Cramp, in the hearing before Inspector Conaty, made many damaging disclosures as to their work under an alleged contract to perform labor, and deportation is certain in the opinion of the inspector, the information upon which the warrant for their arrest was based, it understood, was furnished by immigration authorities in the East, who kept tab on the men, and Capt. Conaty states that no local source of knowledge was utilized.

"WE WERE going to tell Mr. Johnson about it, but I guess he went home early and we missed him and so were married without telling anyone," acknowledged the rather bashful Terence E. Ryan, Jr., when confronted with the evidence of an elopement last night and asked to confess and give some of the details.

With his bride, the former Miss Estelle Johnson, whose father is Benjamin Johnson of No. 2241 Hobart boulevard, President of the Los Angeles Market Company, young Ryan reached the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena last night, and they succeeded in giving the impression of being a married couple of several years. This was accomplished because the two young persons were seen a number of times in each other's company at the same hotel during the past month.

"You see we have known each other for a long time," explained the husband, while the little wife agreed between giggles. The long time resolved itself into less than a year, the elopers admitted, they having met at a society dance last fall. Young Ryan, just from Chicago, where he had been in the brokerage business with the R. W. Babson Company, a graduate of Oberlin and a clever chap, made a hit with Miss Johnson, also returned from the East, from Mt. Vernon School, a select girl's institution at Washington.

Ryan was resting and so had much time at his disposal. Miss Johnson was also burdened with time. This gave rise to many opportunities of meeting and the young folks became such fast friends that they decided on matrimony a month ago. They failed to notify even their relatives of this intention. Their plans called for a real society wedding. Like many plans, the shattering process came with the announcement on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson that Miss Estelle must return next Monday to school and finish a college curriculum.

That meant much too long to wait and the two yesterday afternoon hied themselves out to the Church of the Angels and there were married by Rev. Mr. Thompson. They were the last to obtain a license at the Court-house and requested secrecy. Ryan's age was given as 24 years, and the girl's as 19. Their plans for a future home are still rather vague. Ryan is undecided whether to return to Chicago, where his father is an attorney of some prominence, or to enter one of the wholesale commission houses of this city as he had planned.

Mrs. Terence E. Ryan,
Young society woman, who yesterday changed her name from Miss Estelle Johnson to the one she now carries by the elopement method.

Earl's Apostrophe to the Crow.

Oh, the crow, the beautiful crow!
You are so poor and tough, but I love you so.
I'll pluck your plumage, glossy and black,
And I'll singe the hair from your skinny old back;
I'll take out your entrails, empty and small,
And save your gizzard and liver and gall,
And I'll boil and stew your tough old frame,
Then, dang you, I'll eat you, just the same!

I'll gnaw your legs and your meatless wings,
I'll chaw your giblets and your other things,
Ah, I'll nibble your breast and your withered old back,
I'll gorge and feast, and your bones I'll crack.
Oh, you crow, you skinny black crow!
I'll eat you along with my cake that's dough,
I'll swallow you down while the enemy mocks,
I'll do it, dear crow, though I puke up my socks!

WANT BETTER ROADS.

Settlers Beyond the Mountain Range Will Hold Meeting and Discuss Method of Procedure.

SANTA MONICA, April 5.—Weary of packing over the rough mountain trails to their claims and patented lands, the settlers of the country immediately north and west of Santa Monica Canyon will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at Cornell, under the auspices of the Santa Monica Canyon Improvement Association, to talk over steps to build roads. A big barbecue will be held, a steer driven down to furnish the provender, and speeches by men prominent in the development of the mountain section will be made.

Although the litigation between the Federal government and May K. Rindge may provide a road for the settlers north of the Rindge ranch, those who have within the last few years taken up claims in the mountains south and east of the ranch will not be benefited. They have been experiencing considerable difficulty in freighting the necessities of life over the trails, some of the grades requiring repacking.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A local medical society may be formed at a called meeting of Santa Monica physicians which is to be held at Sunset Inn at 7:30 Monday evening. A number of prominent doctors from Los Angeles and Long Beach will be present and talk along lines of co-operation. A special invitation is extended to any physician now visiting these beaches.

Plans for an eight-room school building were accepted by the Board of Education last night. This structure is to be erected in the center of the city, at a cost of $27,000. It is to have four study and recitation rooms, one combined auditorium and gymnasium, a cooking-room, a sewing-room and a manual training shop. Plans for a five-room addition to the Roosevelt school were also accepted.

The body of G. J. Foley, Civil War veteran, who fell or jumped off the municipal pier Thursday, has not yet appeared. It may appear at a point further south, as the current is running strong in that direction.

BOWELS SLUGGISH, STOMACH SOUR, GASSY, UPSET? CASCARETS GREAT!

That awful sourness, belching acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means your stomach is full of sour bile—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation.

Try Cascarets; they immediately sweeten the breath, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

To Darken Gray Hair

An Excellent Recipe That Can Be Prepared in Your Own Home.

The problem of how to get rid of gray hair without resorting to the store preparations that leave the hair sticky and their use easily detected, can be very satisfactorily solved by using a simple preparation which you can make in the privacy of your own home. Get, at any drug store, one ounce of bay rum, ¼ ounce of glycerine and a a small box of Barbo Compound; then dissolve the Barbo Compound in seven ounces of water, add the bay rum and glycedine, and you have a superior mixture that will not only gradually darken your gray hair, but make it soft, glossy and beautiful, remove dandruff and other scalp disorders and defy the most critical observers. It need not be applied oftener than once a week, and after the hair is sufficiently darkened, every two weeks will be often enough to keep the hair and scalp in good condition. Be sure your druggist gives you Barbo Compound, for no other ingredient will do in this recipe. If he hasn't it in stock, he can get it from his wholesaler.—[Advertisement.

PORTER RANCH IS SOLD.

Syndicate Composed of Los Angeles Men Takes Over Fine Property. Other Sales Reported.

BEAUMONT, April 5.—The sale this week of the Porter ranch adjoining this city, consisting of 1466 acres, to a syndicate headed by George H. Royce, of Los Angeles, has stimulated the demand for local real estate and several transfers are now in process of being closed.

N. P. Mader has purchased of Paul Bachert a business lot on Egan avenue opposite the postoffice and will immediately begin the erection thereon of a brick and cement plastered business house.

Work was begun yesterday on the business block to be erected by the Beaumont Lumber Company at the corner of Fifth and California streets. Plans are being drawn for another business building of which definite announcement can be made in a few days. Mr. Royce and several of his associates in the Porter ranch purchase were in the city today. The syndicate plans to set 500 acres of the land in olives and later erect a factory here. The remainednr of the tract will be subdivided.

NEWS BRIEFS.

At the annual school election, held yesterday, J. O. Tillery was elected trustee to serve for a term of three years. Three candidates were in the field, the vote being as follows: J. O. Tillery, 81; F. C. Martin, 53; Mrs. Stella Dysart, 26.

Announcement has been made that the Democratic County Central Committe had indorsed the candidacy of the present incumbent, James A. Kelly, for re-appointment as postmaster at Beaumont. Postmaster Kelly has served in that capacity here for more than fourteen years.

A committee was appointed at a public mass meeting to receive subscriptions for the relief of the flood sufferers and more than $100 has been subscribed for that purpose here. A portion of this sum has already been forwarded to the Red Cross society by telegraph.

The evening of April 19, has been fixed as the time for the giving of the home talent minstrel show. Costumes have been ordered and the members of the company are now being drilled. The proceeds of the show will be used in advertising the resources of Beaumont.

The annual meeting of the United Presbyterian Church for the election of officers resulted in the following choice: Trustees, J. O. Tillery and Miss Annie I. Gillis; members of the session, F. V. Doughy, E. D. Reynolds and R. A. Goodale.

DIES SUDDENLY EN ROUTE.

Mrs. J. H. Sharp, wife of the well-known Indian painter, and a member of the California Art Club, died suddenly on Friday afternoon on her way to Taos, N. M., where she was going to do sketching and also for her health, which for several months had been poor. The body will be brought to Pasadena, where interment will probably be made. This will prove a shock to many friends in the art and social world of Southern California.

Flood Relief.

MEETING AN URGENT REQUEST FROM OHIO.

IN RESPONSE to an urgent appeal from James K. Cullen, chairman of the Citizens' Relief Committee of Hamilton, O., the Chamber of Commerce yesterday telegraphed $1000 to succor the sufferers from floods in that district. The Ohio society also sent $500 to Hamilton, and an additional $700 to Dayton.

Dr. H. W. Brodbeck received this telegram yesterday from A. E. Nowland, president of a bank in Lawrenceburg, Ind.:

"The whole town is flood-swept. Great is the destruction of property. We need money badly. Can't you send us some from your good city?"

The pledges to the chamber's relief fund amounted last evening to $18,023.97. These subscriptions were made yesterday:

Cash, $10; a friend, $5; Levin & Classman, $2; Record Employees (additional,) $1; Mrs. C. D. Cruyer, $5; Harry W. Watson, $10; William Stewardson, $5; L.A. Parlor No. 45, N.S.G.W., $10; cash, $1.50; Paul Kruger, $1; J. A. Hague, $1; cash, $1; Gregory Perkins, $20; a friend, $5; a friend, $1; Trinity M.E. Church, $55; a friend, $1.

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Druggist Says When Mixed With Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur"; it surely helps folks appear years younger. Agent, Sun Drug Company.—[Advertisement.

Deep-Seated Cough

CURED IN 5 HOURS.

New Home-Made Syrup.

(Cut this out.)

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula filled or mix it at home, and always keep it on hand: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and toned up. Give children less according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.—[Advertisement.

Perris Irrigated Farm

See the Green Alfalfa Fields of Perris Valley Now!

The alfalfa farmer on twenty acres here may kiss old Care good-by. Forty acres will make you rich.

The soil needs no argument. The growing crops tell the story. Sedimentary deposits have washed their germinating elements into Perris Valley for ages, forming a soil so fertile that farming is a pleasure and a constant profit.

Alfalfa cuts frequent and heavy crops. Fruit trees respond vigorously and bear bounteously. Cattle, hogs and poultry find a natural climate there, and absence of common diseases, rendering them more profitable on Perris Irrigated Farms.

Water is piped direct. The soil slopes right for irrigation purposes. Few lands present so many features that insure success with ordinary effort.

The market town of Perris is only 2½ miles distant. There is a railroad station on the lands. They are not far from Riverside, the capital of the fruit industry. There are good roads everywhere.

Perris Irrigated Farms constitute the largest body of good farm land with water within easy reach of Los Angeles. The prices of the present never will return. Compare the crop values, the market advantages, transportation features and the home and scenic beauties, with all other lands, and you will find Perris Irrigated Farms on their unquestioned merits.

Cities and Towns of Los Angeles County

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

NO OBJECTION TO THE MERGER.

Commissioner Thelan Gives Out that Impression.

Los Angeles Concern Would Make Bond Issue.

Board of Education Elects Macpherson President.

PASADENA, April 6.—The hearing before the State Railroad Commission of the application of the Valley Gas and Fuel Company of this city and Alhambra to sell its holdings to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation took place in the Council chamber yesterday forenoon. Commissioner Max Thelen of San Francisco was the only Commissioner present. He heard the testimony of several witnesses, and, while no decision will be made known until after he has conferred with the other commissioners, the impression was left that no objection will be made by those officials to the proposed merger. The amount involved is $175,000.

The application of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation to issue bonds to the amount of $900,000, out of which sum it is proposed to purchase the Lowe system, also was heard by Commissioner Thelen.

Thaddeus S. Lowe, president of the Valley Gas and Fuel Company, was the first witness examined. Among other things he testified that in 1912 the company lost $13,900, of which $2000 was due to the loss occasioned by a fire that partially destroyed its plant in Alhambra. He was asked by Commissioner Thelen whether the public would profit by the proposed consolidation and replied that it would as there would then be only half as much tearing up of the streets and that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation would then have an auxiliary plant here, which would enable it to give a very efficient service.

Other witnesses were William Baurhyte, vice-president of the Los Angeles company, and C. A. Lukenbach, construction manager. Both assured Commissioner Thelen that if the deal that is proposed is consummated four-inch mains will be laid in Oak Knoll, from which part of the city the City Council has recently received complaints.

PRESIDENT IS NAMED.

Despite the rumors that Dr. J. H. McBride, who was recently appointed by the Board of Education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. W. Ogier, would also be Ogier's successor as president of the board at a meeting held yesterday morning D. J. Macpherson was elected to that office. Dr. McBride was made vice-president.

An election will be held June 27 at which time successors to Macpherson, William H. Knight and Fred E. Wilcox will be chosen, as their terms of office then expire.

The board yesterday purchased an automobile by accepting the bid of Louis J. Hampton for a Ford car, at $600. The car will be used by the adminstration department.

SALES ARE MADE.

The consummation of three important real estate deals was announced yesterday. Through the agency of the David Blankenhorn Company, Charles B. Scoville sold a tract of sixty-five acres of land situated on the west bank of the Arroyo Seco, west of Arroyo drive, that he has held intact for over twenty-five years, to a number of wealthy Chicago men, headed by William S. Mason. The consideration is not given.

It is declared to be the intention of the purchasers to develop the property at once and erect a number of handsome residences on it.

Ernest H. Lockwood announced the purchase by the F. W. Thum Company, of which Mayor Thum is one of the members, of two choice pieces of business property. One is situated at the northeast corner of Colorado street and Lake avenue, with a frontage of 100 feet on Colorado street and a depth of 180 feet, and was purchased from George P. Carey for a consideration of $28,000. The other is a vacant lot near the same corner, 135x130 feet in dimensions, which was purchased from Mrs. E. P. Cadwalader for $62,000. Both were cash sales.

GOOD MUSIC PLANNED.

Much interest is now being taken in the preparation of the historical pageant that the Shakespeare Club is to give at Clune's Pasadena Theater the 17th and 18th inst., and which is to be the largest thing of its kind ever attempted in the city, the scenery alone being so extensive that a tent is to be pitched near the theater to keep it in until it is needed on the stage.

Several announcements were made yesterday concerning the musical programme, which will of itself be an attraction. The programme, which is to be distinctive of this State, will open with "Wake, California," and close with "California Hail." The choruses will be directed by Sydney F. Hoben. Miss Lena M. Woodruff will represent "The Spirit of Progress" in the first scene, singing "Scatter the Shadows of Despair." Dr. James M. Martin will sing the part of Father Salvierderra in the hymn, "Sanctissima." Mrs. Katheryn Barnard, who is to take the role of Ramona, will sing a vocal obligato that has been especially written for the occasion. F. R. Cole will sing "Rule Brittania" and Mrs. Walter Raymond will sing "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." Ettore Campana, who was baritone with the former Bevani Opera Company of Los Angeles, will be heard in the character of Don Gaspar de Portola, first Governor of California. He will sing the toreador's song.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley Credited With Unique Allusion to "Purifying" Water by Boiling.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the world-renowned Pure Food Expert, who visited Los Angeles recently, is credited with the assertion that boiling Drinking Water merely makes "a cemetery of a menagerie." His meaning, of course, is that boiled water contains the same objectionable Animal Life as unboiled—the form alone being changed.

This statement is characteristic of Dr. Wiley, in that it hits the nail squarely. It is something every careful Housewife knows and yet usually overlooks—that BOILED WATER is not necessarily PURE WATER. If you seek genuinely Pure Water—no doubt you do—BUY IT!

PURITAS Distilled Water is admittedly the purest, most palatable and most healthful Drinking Water obtainable in the Southwest. Its permanent Popularity in so many thousands of homes is due to its absolute Merit.

PURITAS is not only scientifically distilled — it is AERATED WITH PURE OZONE. And our precautionary measures do not stop here. WE SEAL EVERY DEMIJOHN WITH A DUST - PROOF MOISTURE-PROOF FOIL. Despite these several processes, PURITAS is inexpensive—40 cents for a five-gallon demijohn, delivered anywhere within the old city boundary lines.

Telephone for a trial demijohn of PURITAS. Call either Main 8191 or Home 10053. A slight charge is added for longer deliveries. If you live beyond the zone of all city deliveries, communicate with one of our Agents and he will see that you are supplied with PURITAS promptly.

Had Serious Lung Trouble—Now Well

It is surprising that there exists much skepticism as to the possibility of a person recovering from severe Lung Trouble when there are so many reports of complete recoveries brought about through the use of Eckman's Alterative. This is a remedy for the throat and lungs, which should be investigated by every sufferer. Read of this case:

1619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa.

"My Dear Sir: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and in February of 1902 I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia, and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a recovery. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Stores and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

PROPOSED PIER TO BE COSTLY

Four Hundred Thousand Dollars Is Estimated.

Long Beach Also Wants New Municipal Building.

Chamber of Commerce Raises Money to Pay Debt.

LONG BEACH, April 5.—For two hours last night the members of the Joint Councilmanic and advisory board on the merger bond issue looked over submitted plans for the proposed horseshoe pier and the City Hall, in addition to discussing the other different projects of the proposed bond issue.

The plan for the horseshoe pier was generally accepted as being the best of any yet submitted on the subject and the committee will probably recommend an issue for its construction of $400,000. The plans were drawn by the chief engineer of the Mercereau Construction Company and contemplates a fifty-foot municipal pier-end extension out from Atlantic and Pine avenues and joined together at the outer end by an extension in the form of a horseshoe, the crescent to be 350 feet long and 250 feet wide.

The plans for a new City Hall were also approved although the cost will be considerably greater than the $100,000 recommended by the Chamber of Commerce. The sewage problem was also discussed, the committee listening to short talks by Paul Olmstead, former City Engineer of Los Angeles, and Frank Gilleliel, city engineer of Los Angeles.

The joint advisory board is rapidly whipping its suggestions and recommendations in shape for presentation in the form of a complete report to the City Council within the next few days.

WOULD COMPROMISE.

The Chamber of Commerce has raised $900 of the $1100 required to satisfy the judgments secured against Dr. L. A. Perce by reason of the festival of the sea celebrations given here several years ago, and attorneys of the body will have an interview with the creditors this week, hoping to arrive at a compromise which will pay the creditors 85 per cent. of their claims. Dr. Perce was president of the committee and, being in semi-official control of the fiesta, the bills were made against him and suit filed the same way when the bills went by default because of the failure of the festival.

LITIGATION ENDS.

Some years ago George Ellis of Signal Hill on his deathbed signed deeds for all his property to his nephews in this city and Riverside. Eastern relatives contested the will, alleging that the property was devised to the nephews to settle the estate, pay debts and divide the remainder among the eastern heirs. The will was settled yesterday in the Superior Court, sustaining the ownership of the property involved as being that of the nephews.

STRANGE CASE.

The police are confronted with a mystery case in the detention cell. A man who walked into headquarters last night and demanded a bed. His face was haggard and his eyes were wild. Searching him the officers found a loaded revolver, and arrested him for carrying concealed weapons. He gave the name of J. L. Smith, but this morning acknowledged that his name was Allis. Shortly when confronted with letters written from him written by his wife he refused any information and will be held on the weapon charge until he can be investigated.

HAND CUT OFF.

William Stewart, aged 38, employed at a local planing mill, in attempting to remove a board from a planer had his hand caught in the machine and his right hand sliced off just above the wrist. He was started for the hospital, but was overtaken by a recalled physician who gave first aid and checked the blood temporarily. Stewart has a wife and young family.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold a two days' convention Monday and Tuesday at the Christian Church. Rev. E. J. Richards, home secretary of New York, Dr. R. E. Glover of Chinaz, Rev. E. W. Davis of Los Angeles, and Rev. G. N. Eldridge of Pasadena will be the principal speakers. The alliance is interdenominational and fraternal in all its workings.

Members of the Anti-capital Punishment League addressed a large meeting at the auditorium last night, but lack of advertising and publicity drew only a small crowd. The speakers were Dr. John M. Foresth, Lewis R. Works (president of the league), State Secretary J. H. Young, Rabbi Isadore Meyers, G. M. Ashby and Dr. Janice McMullen.

Fifteen Y.M.C.A. boys returned home last night from a weekly outing to San Diego, the trip both ways being made on bicycles. The boys were divided into three divisions, each taking care of some portion of the camp work. At San Diego they were given an open welcome and given the use of the Y.M.C.A. quarters there. The lads made the return trip in two days. Not an accident or mishap occurred during the entire week.

Vital statistics for March were compiled by Dr. W. H. Newman. There forty-four births equally divided as to sex. There were also forty-two deaths, twenty-five males and seventeen females. In 1912 the births numbered thirty-four and the deaths twenty-nine.

ONE MORE SPOTLESS TOWN.

Glendale Citizens Roll up Their Sleeves and Devote Day to Elimination of Tin Cans, etc.

GLENDALE, April 5.—Glendale is spick and span tonight as a result of a general cleaning up which the city received today at the hands of the residents. The 7000 citizens of this place worked in harmony during the day with the one thought of making the city appear even more beautiful than ordinary. Street Superintendent Tarr was in charge of the operations of the day and under his direction was quite a large corps of paid assistants, whose work it was to clean the streets and to carry away the rubbish from the different homes after it had been accumulated by the home owners.

The new forty-acre dumping ground recently acquired by the city in Verdugo canyon, was opened today for the first time. The work of cutting the road to this dump was done during the week and was rushed in order that it might be opened for this general cleanup day. Mayor Thomas W. Watson of this city, stated that today's cleaning was, without doubt the most general the city had ever known. During the day several tons of debris were hauled to the dump by the city's wagons.

The proposition of a clean-up day was suggested by the ladies of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club, who recommended to the board of trustees that this date be set aside and officially designated as clean-up day. The trustees immediately fell into line and a resolution passed to that effect.

NEWS BRIEFS.

An important meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the In-Third-street school was held at the Third street school yesterday afternoon. During the session plans for the future work of the organization were discussed and considerable final action taken. A pleasing programme was given by the pupils of the musical department under the direction of Miss Foster, musical director.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Roper will celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary with a basket picnic at Echo park, Los Angeles, on April 20. The affair will be given complimentary to the members of Lodge No. 288, I. O. O. F., of this city, the members and families of this order being invited. Mr. Roper has been an Odd Fellow for the past sixty years.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER'S TEST.

San Bernardino Official Is Skeptical, but Alert.

Noted Grand Opera Singer in Benefit Programme.

Councilman Irving May Resign and Leave State.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 5.—County Health Officer Dr. P. M. Savage is to make a most thorough test of Neffs serum for 10 sufferers of tuberculosis in the wards at the County Hospital. Sufficient serum for the purpose has been received by Dr. Savage from Dr. Piorkouski, a chemist of international repute at Berlin, who was associated with Dr. Friedmann in Germany. The serum is said to be the same as used by Dr. Friedmann. Although the first physician in San Bernardino to use the injection Dr. Savage is perhaps the most skeptical as to the cure and for this reason will give the matter the most thorough attention. He will treat, using the utmost care in the selection of his patients. "I want to make a test in the early stages of the disease," says Dr. Savage. "If the serum will prove good at all, it will in the first stages. I intend upon this test absolutely free from prejudice and as soon as I find its cure to be a success or fraud, I will say so."

Two days ago he gave the first injection of the serum to two patients and three days ago the second injection. He says that he will give out an opinion for 30 days.

MISS STRAUSS TO SING.

The Georgianna Strauss, noted grand opera soloist, will sing at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon in connection with the regular service at the building, when Dr. S. Parker, of Redlands, formerly of the Boston Universal School of Theology will talk on "The Use of Prayer." Miss Strauss will sing, "O, Divine Redeemer," (Gounod) and "There is a Land Mine Eye Hath Seen," (Cronin-Gould.)

IRVING MAY RESIGN.

Councilman W. E. Irving of the fifth ward may resign if a business proposition in the northern part of the State tempts him to leave the city. Irving has intimated that he may give up his seat in the city council, although he has not definitely arranged to leave.

KAB CHECK ARTIST.

Wanted for passing checks in at least four cities a man who is said to have signed checks with the names of C. E. Martin, C. E. Martin, and E. L. Martin, is now in the County Jail. He was captured at Redlands Saturday and it is believed that there are counts against him at Los Angeles, Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino.

VENTURA MAN IS LUCKY.

Justice Throws Case Out of Court Though Victim Is Paralyzed from Bullet Wound.

VENTURA, April 5.—Dan Fitzpatrick, charged with an assault with intent to commit murder, has been discharged from custody by Justice Hunt of Oxnard, after an investigation of the case yesterday.

Fitzpatrick is the man who shot "Bud" Elwell in Oxnard a few weeks ago in a livery stable there. The shooting created a sensation because both parties were so well known in the community and strong friends were soon aroused on both sides. Elwell was shot through the body, the ball entering the front near the back and coming out in the back. It struck the spinal cord. Elwell is completely paralyzed from the nipple down and is in a bad way, even if he should recover. Fitzpatrick claimed the shooting was done in self-defense, but the testimony of Elwell was that he had no intention of doing him harm and made no threats. Fitzpatrick was put on a light bond in the beginning, but when it was reported that Elwell was likely to die his bond was increased to $10,000. The doctors now say Elwell may live for years and that he may die at any time. The wiping the case off the dockets has created considerable surprise among Elwell's friends, but Justice Elliott says that the whole question was whether a reasonable man would have done as Fitzpatrick did under the circumstances and that he believed that he himself would have acted in the same way.

The Chamber of Commerce has received a circular from eastern fruit buyers asking that influence be used to have fruit in sacks shipped at the same rate as fruit in boxes and packages. The chamber regards it as a move to allow buyers east to do their own packing, which would deprive many people in this State of work in packing-houses and will turn down the request.

The Board of Supervisors have accepted the concrete bridge built over the Ventura River here by the Portland Concrete Pile Company. The structure is considered in every way satisfactory. Work on the bridge approaches is going on rapidly and will probably be completed by the middle of May.

Judge Saunders of Texas is again in this city, having arrived yesterday from the North. He is the father of the children whom, it is alleged, were kidnaped from Galveston by their mother, now Mrs. Mottino of this county. He had a siege in court here a few weeks ago to protest against the mother keeping the children and the court turned them over to Mrs. Haydon to be kept at his expense. The children are still with Mrs. Haydon. Meantime it was expected a Texas official would arrive here to take back Mrs. Mottino, who has been indicted for kidnaping by the Galveston county grand jury, but nothing has ever been heard from such officer further than that one had been appointed.

CALL MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Honors Will Be Paid to Memory of Deceased Corona Man at Meeting Monday.

CORONA, April 5.—The memorial services for the late Asa Frank Call, who was killed the first of the week, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence, No. 177 Southeast boulevard. The change was made from Sunday to Monday in order that his brother, George Call of Cedar Falls, Iowa, might be present.

At this memorial service fruit men from all over the State are expected, and many of them will give brief talks. Among those who are now here and who are expected to be present are: H. B. Hutchens of Los Angeles, a warm personal friend of the deceased, and who has taken charge of Mr. Call's affairs since his death; C. C. Teague, C. C. Chapman, George H. Charters of New York City; O. A. Trippet of Los Angeles, Mrs. M. E. Tolerton, daughter; Miss May, and son, Wilbur, the former a sister of Mrs. A. F. Call, Hon. Joseph H. Call.

The body was taken to Los Angeles yesterday morning and will be cremated the latter part of the week. The pallbearers were six young men who were in the employ of Mr. Call.

Mrs. J. T. Hamner, wife of Supervisor Hamner, who was thrown out of her buggy while returning to her home on Magnolia yesterday afternoon, is reported in a very precarious condition. One of the shafts broke as she was coming up out of the wash just east of town and her horse, becoming frightened, turned around and ran, throwing Mrs. Hamner out on her head.

NEW DISCOVERY QUICKLY CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses are Taken

If you are bothered with backache or rheumatism, have disagreeable, burning bladder or urinary disorders connected with—or suffer with any one of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most powerful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid, removing the cause and curing the troubles. It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped-up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder; and puts the kidneys and urinary organs in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate long standing cases, while it cures the most severe forms of kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism in a surprisingly short time.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.—[Advertisement.

The Largest and Most Beautiful Natural Sunken Garden In the World

According to a legend of San Jacinto, its valley was once upon a time the bed of a big lake of laughing water, where lived the Great God of the Redmen. Time went well for many, many years. Seasons came and seasons went. His tribe multiplied, but the land grew not. This great and good spirit with eyes and ears open looked and listened. The continuous taunt of the laughing waters made him angry. He knew why they laughed, and with one mighty swoop made a stroke which broke his tail, but drained the lake, exposing the cause of all the mirth — FOR THIS LAKE'S BOTTOM WAS CERTAINLY PRETTY TO LOOK UPON. FERTILE AND PRODUCTIVE, BECAUSE IT IS, WHAT IT WAS, AND EVERYBODY IS NOW LAUGHING FOR THE SAME REASON THE WATER DID.

SOME PROOF.

Mr. W. S. Wood, of Glendale, says, it's the best buy in the country, and nips a dandy 160 acres, which he has under extensive development, and is going to make it one of the show places of the valley.

Mr. C. W. Sears, an experienced alfalfa grower, says he has spent $2000 investigating lands from Oregon clear down the line, and that San Jacinto lands are the best to be found anywhere at anythink like the price. His purchase consists of a beautiful tract in the Willow Plume District. He is already at work converting his place into a beauty spot as well as a money-getter.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A CLASSY RANCH, YOU SHOULD BY ALL MEANS SEE THIS FERTILE LITTLE VALLEY. THERE IS NO GUESS WORK ABOUT MAKING MONEY HERE AND LOTS OF IT.

This is a rare opportunity for the sick and afflicted to get an expert opinion on their case free. Difficult and obscure cases especially invited. Come this week and find out the cause of your trouble. Absolutely FREE. Make no mistake.

DRS. SHORES, Specialists

Dr. A. J. Shores.

Drs. Shores & Shores have spent many years in the study and treatment of Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past twenty years—an experience rarely ever granted any specialists—and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. They would not attempt to treat Scarlet Fever or Diphtheria at any price, not because they don't know how, but because they have not given it the thought and constant study that other doctors have, and, in short, it is not in their line of specialties. Every moment is given to the treatment of CATARRH, DEAFNESS, CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES EXCLUSIVELY. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most any one else. Don't be a permanent invalid.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles. Get cured now.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well-known and reliable people, who have been cured of Catarrh, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments come and see the Doctors that cure.

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you because you have an offensive breath? Certain forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

PROMINENT SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

THE HEAD AND THROAT.

This form of catarrh is most common, resulting from neglected colds. Quickly cured with little cost by Drs. Shores' famous treatment. Is your head stopped up?
Does your nose discharge?
Is your nose sore and tender?
Is there pain front of the head?
Do you hawk and clear the throat?
Is your throat dry in the mornings?
Do you sleep with your mouth open?
You can be easily cured now. Don't let it run into complications.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES.

When catarrh of the head or throat is neglected or wrongfully treated it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes, and after a while attacks the lungs.
Have you a cough?
Do you take cold easily?
Have you a pain in the side?
Do you raise frothy materials?
Do you spit up little cheesy lumps?
Do you feel like you were growing weaker?
Don't risk neglecting these warnings—stop the disease before it reaches the lungs.

OF THE EARS.

Catarrh extends from the throat, along the eustachian tubes into the ears, causing partial or complete deafness.
Is your hearing failing?
Are your ears discharging? Do they ring?
Is the wax drying in your ears?
Do you hear better on some days?
Does a cold make your hearing worse?
Don't neglect this until your hearing is irreparably destroyed.

OF THE STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually caused by swallowing poisonous mucus which drops down from the head and throat at night.
Are you constipated?
Is there nausea?
Do you belch up gas?
Do you bloat up after eating?
Is there constant bad taste?
Now is the time to be permanently cured. Drs. Shores are curing hundreds every year.

Local Stock Market Activities

By Jno. O. Knight.

Union Oil again sold down to $90.00 during the week and Union Provident went under par for the first time since announcement of the deal of the General Petroleum Company for purchase of control of the companies. Under the terms of the original agreement the General Petroleum Company paid down $500,000 in cash for their option with a provision that $100,000 monthly was to be paid beginning April 1st of this year until payment of another half million dollars is made. It is now understood that this payment of $100,000 was promptly made on the first of this month. Under the circumstances it is puzzling a good many interested stockholders to understand why the market should decline as it has done. In view also of the light transactions that have been made, and the apparent unanimity with which all large offerings disappear the moment a buying order of any consequence comes into the market, has suggested to some students of local conditions the possibility that there may be certain strong interests to whom it would be entirely agreeable for the market to reach even lower levels. However that may be, there is no gainsaying the fact that offerings of both Union and Union Provident have shown a tendency to appear in large volume only at such times as there is a dearth of buying orders. And the tendency of these large offerings to disappear the moment actual buying orders of any consequence show up has been no less marked.

General Petroleum showed a little improvement during the week with sales at from $27.50 to $28.00. Amalgamated Oil was heavily traded in at from $88.00 to $90.00. In the bank list Farmers' and Merchants' National advanced to sales at $402 and $450 was bid for Security Savings. Merchants' Bank and Trust Co. brought $200. First National was a trifle easier with offerings at $742.50.

The market on Tom Reed Gold Mining has shown considerable improvement the last few days due to reports of the discovery of a new large body of ore.

There was some trading during the week in Cawston Ostrich Farm at from $28.00 to $30.00. Stockholders of this Company are basing hopes for better prices on development of the business of their New York and Chicago stores.

A report by the stockholders' committee that has been looking into the affairs of the Funding Company of California was returned during the week. At the same time the resignation of Manager Gunsul was accepted. Immediately following these developments the market, which had dropped as low as 52 cents, assumed a better tone and transactions around 60 cents were reported yesterday.

Considerable improvement was noted during the week in several of the local home building stocks. Mason Opera House Home Builders rose to $2.10 bid. Western Building and Investment Co. sold as high as $1.08 and Los Angeles Investment Co. reached sales at from $4.00 to $4.16. Standard Building and Investment Company also showed improvement at prices around 25 several reservations which particularly repudiated the suggested terms, was taken as an indication that the settlement of difficulties in Europe might be prolonged indefinitely. It also produced fears of complications because of a consequent apparent necessity of the large powers taking drastic action in order to hold in check the demands o fthe allies. The week closes with sentiment somewhat improved. There is rather more cheerfulness than has been in evidence for a long time, but it seems more than probable that the tariff programme will command close attention from now on and exert a marked influence, not only on stock market, but also on general business. The pronounced contraction in the short interest has of course weakened the technical position of the market and recent advancing tendencies have fostered a scattered long interest, so that from now on the market is likely to be more of a two-sided affair than recently.

STOCK LETTER.

(Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.)

NEW YORK, April 5.—Prices today reflected the usual week-end realizing and evening-up of accounts and recessions were general. The selling was not of particularly large volume, but there appeared to be a greater disposition on the part of the element inclined toward the selling side to unload than recently. The news from abroad that the allies in their reply to the powers while accepting conditions of mediation as proposed made several reservations which particularly repudiated the suggested terms, was taken as an indication that the settlement of difficulties in Europe might be prolonged indefinitely. It also produced fears of complications because of a consequent apparent necessity of the large powers taking drastic action in order to hold in check the demands o fthe allies. The week closes with sentiment somewhat improved. There is rather more cheerfulness than has been in evidence for a long time, but it seems more than probable that the tariff programme will command close attention from now on and exert a marked influence, not only on stock market, but also on general business. The pronounced contraction in the short interest has of course weakened the technical position of the market and recent advancing tendencies have fostered a scattered long interest, so that from now on the market is likely to be more of a two-sided affair than recently.

There was no afternoon call yesterday.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Butter dropped 1½ cents again yesterday. Improved receipts and lower prices in the North are apparently causing the decline. San Francisco butter was quoted at 29 cents. Cheese was at 13½ cents in the North and the market continues weak here, with the probability of a falling off in a day or two if the same trend of prices keeps on in San Francisco. Eggs remain about the same, and will very likely show only nominal changes for some time.

Beans were received from the South and were quoted at 3¾ cents a pound owing to the scarcity. Peas were cheaper, as low as 5 cents a pound being asked in some instances. The supply from Imperial Valley and the North is steadily improving, and there was an unusual abundance of the vegetable yesterday. Asparagus remained about the same. It was very plentiful. Bell peppers are rather scarce and were quoted at 40 cents a pound. The tomatoes remaining from the Florida shipments have been selling as low as $2.25 a crate lately.

Loquats were somewhat cheaper, although there was considerable poor quality stock. Choice fruit was quoted as low as 5 or 6 cents a pound in some cases, while the fancy stock was about 8 to 12 cents. Apple receipts were good. The fruit continues abundant. Citrus fruits are about the same as usual, with the demand for oranges rather dull.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 394 cases; butter, 36,617 pounds; cheese, 240 pounds; potatoes, 2993 sacks; apples, 1129 boxes.

General Eastern.

WHEAT SHOWS A SLIGHT GAIN.

BUT LIBERAL OFFERINGS GIVE CORN AN EASY TONE.

General Liquidation Made a Lower Market for Provisions—May Pork Suffered the Greatest Decline. Oats Are Dull Throughout the Day in the Chicago Grain Pit.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Strength was imparted to wheat today by a bullish foreign situation and by the issuance of a summary showing a prospective small export surplus. The day ended with a net gain of a shade to ½ of a cent. Corn was a shade of ¼@½ net lower, oats at ⅛ to ¼ net decline and provisions were down 2½@5 to 12½. Continued strength at Liverpool was reflected here by a net advance of ¼@½ at the opening. Primary receipts of wheat were 664,000 bushels against 566,000 a year ago. Clearances of wheat and flour equaled 181,000 bushels. Liberal offerings and a small restricted demand for corn, especially from the East, caused an easy tone most of the session. An improved inquiry caused a trifle firmer feeling toward the close. Oats were easy and dull throughout the day. General liquidation made a lower market for provisions. May pork showed a greater decline than any other item, finishing the day at a net loss of 32½.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Today's curb was quiet, but steady. Jim Butler was a feature, continuing its advance. About 15,000 shares changed hands with a good demand at the close. Braden eased fractionally, but the rest of the coppers were about unchanged. The Boston coppers opened nominally at quarter prices with a slow and featureless market. As the day progressed trading diminished, but prices held. Sales of metal at 19 were reported. The market closed dull and unchanged. It seems to have been thoroughly liquidated for the past few months.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

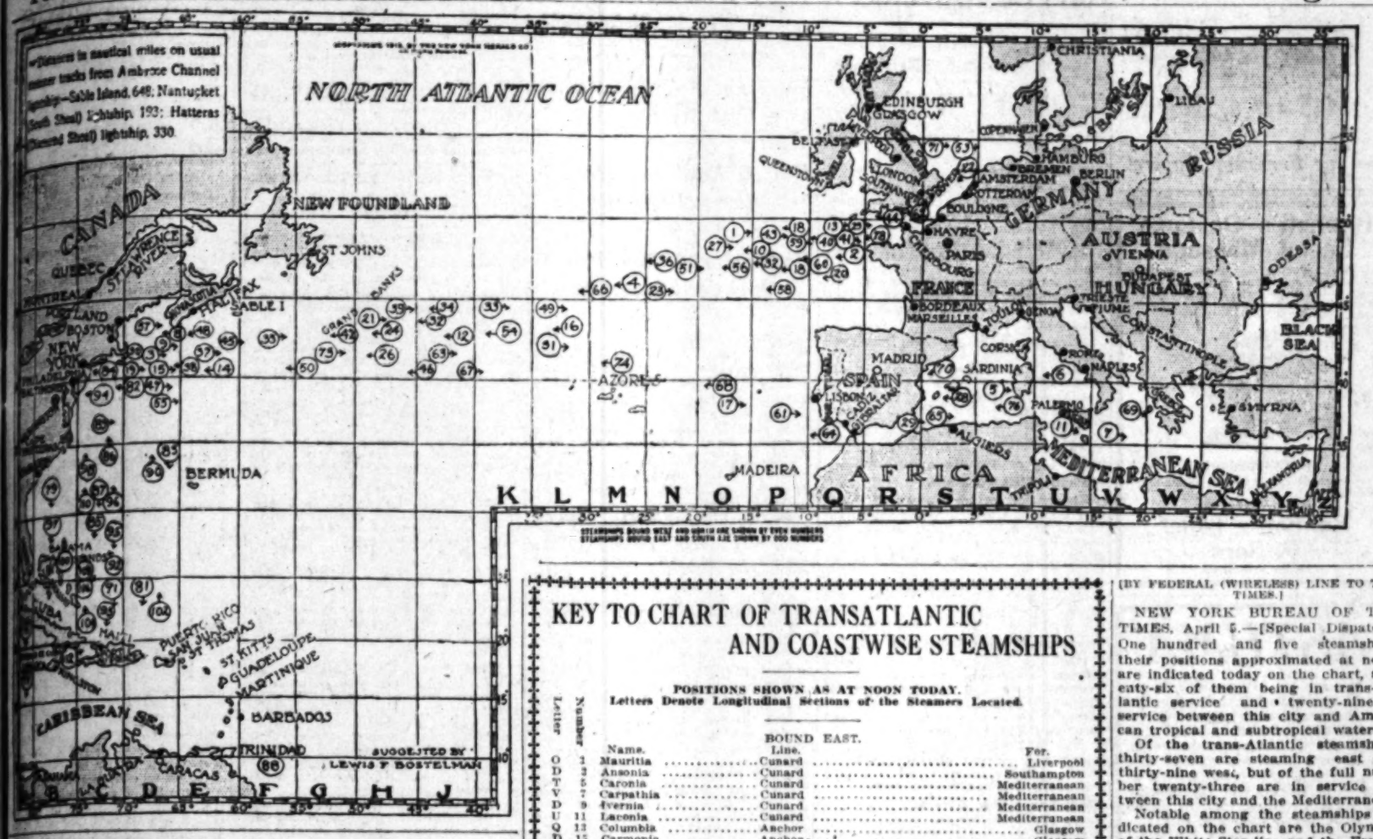

NEW YORK, April 5.—The market for cotton has been more active than for some time, but there is but little change in the situation from last week. Crop preparations have been good on the whole, although some delay is noted in the central and eastern belt as a result of too much rain. A better weather report has been apparent during the week, but it is suggested that this reflects a better export business, owing to better monetary conditions abroad, and a feeling that the foreign situation will shortly pass into history. Cash demand has fluctuated somewhat, but at present seems to lean toward the bear side. It is hard to figure just what a bear exposure is by starting a campaign at this time of the year, but it is regarded that the present rate of consumption will pretty nearly use up the remainder of this crop and that requirements for the next crop will be a question of the future. It is not so much a question of the present as a realization of the fact that every crop as a season of scarcity and that for everything there is a reason. For example, the season for higher prices was selling at 9¾c one year ago in October was a gradual advance from that point there was a fraction of 22 points in less than four months. Our power could have read the crop for 1913 after a year ago and one-fourth without it would be fourteen and one-fourth without. There would not have been a demand for buy cotton with counterfeit money. The big last year, with its flood in the Mississippi Valley, and conditions prevailed in March, 1911, left conditions that a record crop of which State came forward with a full crop and pulled the market out of the rut. Conditions are retarded in the central and eastern belt. The Mississippi Valley flood is also a thing of the past. Nothing worse than a year ago and promises to be a thorn in the side of cotton bears for a month to come. The crop in Southern Texas is where enough early cotton is planted to assure more than 200,000 bales from that section. Figured out the August delivery has been based on conditions in general throughout the belt and conditions in the principal cotton States do not promise the production of October of last season. The purchases of October cotton now or on any setback seems advisable.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] One hundred and five steamships, their positions approximated at noon, are indicated today on the chart, seventy-six of them being in trans-Atlantic service and twenty-nine in service between this city and American tropical and subtropical waters.

Of the trans-Atlantic steamships, thirty-seven are steaming east and thirty-nine west, but of the full number twenty-three are in service between this city and the Mediterranean.

Notable among the steamships indicated on the chart are the Olympic of the White Star line and the France of the French line. The Olympic appears at J34 and the France, P18. The Olympic has been fitted with increased bulkheads and a strong inner shell of steel and has resumed her place in the trans-Atlantic service after six months in dry dock. She left Southampton last Wednesday for this city with more than 1700 passengers on board.

The France, which left Havre yesterday, has on board the body of J. P. Morgan, who died in Rome last Monday. The France is expected to reach this city next Friday.

Notice was sent out by wireless to steamship commanders last Thursday that the United States revenue cutter Seneca has left this city for ice patro lduty in the region of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. She, with the revenue cutter Miami, will remain on duty until all ice has disappeared from the trans-Atlantic steamship tracks.

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

BOSTON, April 5.—Although the market for copper was very dull today there was almost no attempt at liquidation and prices were about maintained. The Copper Producers' report will be issued next week and should be bullish. Predictions are for a 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 pounds decrease.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, April 5.—[Reported by Alexander G. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock p.m. the barometer registered 30.03; at 5 a.m. 30.08. Temperature for the corresponding hours showed 53 deg. and 42 deg. Relative humidity, 5 p.m., 67 per cent.; 5 p.m., 70 per cent. Total 5 a.m., west, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., northwest, velocity 7 miles. Highest temperature, 0 deg.; lowest, 41 deg. Rainfall during 24 hours .24 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—The western storm has moved slowly eastward and forms a cold and south barrier from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico. East and west of this line of pressure the barometer is low. The temperature was moderate in amount, the rain (.24 of an inch) falling at Montreal. The effect of the increase in pressure was to check the temperature down to freezing over the Rocky mountains. The area of low pressure over the Northwest moved southeastward, although the center is still far north, Alberta. The wind was general, though light, except Washington, Oregon and Idaho, where it was from the south to San Francisco. The probability of this depression may give us a little cloudy weather to Los Angeles and more rain today.

Figures of production follow: Tons of rock hoisted, 184,627 tons; tons of rock discarded, 7385 tons; percentage of discard, 4.1 per cent; tons of rock stamped, 176,462 tons; refined copper produced, 1,700,651 pounds; refined copper per ton, 9.80 pounds. The production in 1911 was 830,203 pounds. President R. M. Edwards says: By the failure of Stephen R. Dow, a loss of $81,292 was sustained. Labor troubles and several reorganizations of the working force at the mine greatly interfered with production, which showed a loss for the year. Instead of treating 1200 tons per day, as plans required, the best average for any month has been only about two-thirds of that amount. With 1200 tons per day going to the mill, operations should show a profit, particularly in view of the fact that the two bottom levels opened show decided improvement in copper contents over those above. An exploratory crosscut has been started to the east or into the foot wall from the thirty-second level, and will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible. It will cut all the important lodes of the district and furnish a means of testing them by drifting at that depth. The progress of this crosscut will be a matter of great interest, as very important discoveries may result. There were 5130 feet of development work done last year.

The balance sheet as of December 31, compares as follows:

IN MEMORIAM.

William Arthur Hunter, who passed away April 3, 1913, was born in Springfield, Ill., February 22, 1869. When 15 years of age his parents came to California, and for the past twenty-eight years he has resided in Los Angeles. June 22, 1905, he was united in marriage to Miss Fannie Griffith of Springfield, Ill. Mr. Hunter was a man of many sterling qualities. He had absolute faith and confidence in humanity, and was very just in all his dealings. His generous disposition and extreme sympathetic nature endeared him to all who knew him. His father and widow now feel isolated in the loneliness of sorrow, but they are enfolded by a sympathy which is worldwide and universal.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Auto Stolen.

Mrs. C. E. Fredericks's automobile, No. 62278, was stolen about 9:40 o'clock last night from in front of the residence of C. B. Van Vorst, No. 615 Western avenue. It is believed a joy rider picked it up. The police are after him.

Engineer to Lecture.

The Los Angeles branch of the National Association of Stationary Engineers will hold a meeting in Music Hall, Blanchard building, on Tuesday evening, at which Will M. Glass, one of the operating engineers at the Hotel Alexandria, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Steam Engine Indicator." The meeting will be open to all interested persons.

Japanese Girl to Speak.

Fuga Umezaki, a young Japanese girl who is being educated in this country, will sing and speak at the Wednesday morning section of the Los Angeles Graded Union this week. Rev. H. K. Booth's class in teacher training is beginning a new eight weeks' course in "Sabbath-school Methods." The union meets in Berean Hall of Temple Auditorium.

Students Visit Torrance.

The social service classes of U.S.C. and Pomona College, under the direction of Dana W. Bartlett, visited Torrance yesterday in pursuance of their study of the housing problem. They made an inspection of the new industrial city under the guidance of Ralph Bennett, chief engineer, and gave particular attention to the model homes for workmen and their sanitation.

Mortuary Chapel Dedication.

The new mortuary chapel in the Jewish Cemetery Beth Israel on Downey road will be dedicated today at 2 p.m. and an invitation is extended to every Jew in Los Angeles to attend and take part in the ceremony. A Jewish sexton has been engaged and special attention will be given to charity cases to see that they are given a strict Jewish funeral.

Plans Large Auto Garage.

W. H. McMaster, an auto man of this city, announced last night that he had obtained a ninety-nine-year lease on a lot near the west end of the Third-street tunnel and proposes to erect thereon a five to seven-story garage and warehouse to be used exclusively for the storage and handling of automobiles. The rental is $500 a month, or a total of $594,000, one of the biggest deals in the auto industry recorded in the city.

From Bench to Stream.

The open season for trout resulted in an exodus from the Courthouse yesterday to the nearby fishing resorts. Several judges left their benches to don wading-boots and assemble the paraphernalia dear to an angler's heart. Some clerks and bailiffs were not at their accustomed posts when court opened. Substitutes were provided by the Sheriff and County Clerk on the promise they will share in the feast when the anglers return laden with fish.

Speaker at Call Memorial.

E. A. Chase of Riverside, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, P. J. Dreher of Pomona and General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and manager Hutchens of the Fruit Growers' Supply Company will be the speakers at the memorial services in honor of A. F. Call at the Call home in Corona at 2 p.m. tomorrow. All these are men with whom Call was closely associated in a business way.

Funny Forgetfulness.

A case of extreme absent-mindedness came to the attention of the men in a barber shop in the basement of the Lankershim Hotel yesterday afternoon. A customer left the shop and forgot his collar and necktie. It was ten minutes before he returned for them. He reported, in confusion, that he reached his desk in his office before he discovered his oversight. "They leave bundles and forget their canes and overcoats," the head barber said, "but that is the first time anyone has left his collar and tie. He was one of the big men of the city, too. Just thinking about a pending deal, I suppose."

Field Training.

Saturday evening, the 26th inst., officers of Co. F, Seventh Regiment, will go to the vicinity of Big Sespe Canyon, above Fillmore. They will take their shelter tents and study the conduct of patrols, outpost duty, machine-gun action, marches and camps. In addition Capt. McReynolds, company commander; Capt. Peckham, Lieuts. Kunkel, Crum and Sidener of Co. F, will talk on various phases of soldier life. This company makes a specialty of field training. Those who will make the trip are Capt. F. R. McReynolds, Capt. E. W. Peckham, First Lieuts. James K. Crum, Harry E. Kunkel, Second Lieut. George P. Sidener, First Sergt. Osgood Davis, Sergts. P. M. Couturier, H. S. Tracey, Dee S. Essley, Leland S. Swindler, Chester Seay, Q. M. Sergt. R. A. Roth, Corps. Berte R. Haigh, J. H. Reasoner, S. T. Stagg, Jr., E. E. Livermore and George Bauer.

Cawston Celebration.

Last night at the Union League banquet-room the directors and employees of the Cawstoyn Ostrich Farm sat down to a banquet and were refreshed while disposing of it by the inspiring strains of a fine orchestra. Jonathan S. Dodge after the dinner introduced the speakers, mainly the heads of departments, who described the difficulties contended with, the advantages of harmony and the best hopes for the still greater success of the company. One of the employees, who has been with the business for eighteen years, described the early stages of the now large establishment and of the hopes and fears of Cawston and his coadjutors in those days. Congratulations were received from the managers of the San Francisco, Chicago and New York stores, while Mrs. Whiting of the Los Angeles store spoke cheerfully on the prospects in the new retail establishment. H. J. Vatcher, the manager, promised the hearty co-operation and attention of the company to the efforts of the employees during the year.

Many Use Typewriters.

Business correspondence by hand is rapidly growing obsolete. Typewritten letters carry added weight by reason of their neatness and businesslike appearance. If your business warrants the purchase of one, you will readily appreciate the great values offered in the "Typewriters" columns of The Times "Liner" section.—[Advertisement.

San Fernando Mission Lands Open for Homes.

Electric Road and Hotel in Line to Prosperity.

Barbecue and Ball Provide Fun for Thousands.

Fifteen thousand acres of as fertile and sightly land as God's sun shines on was thrown open to the public in the San Fernando Valley mission section yesterday and to celebrate the event 5000 persons were present and partook of a barbecue and entertainment provided by the citizens of San Fernando and the managers of Angeles Mesa Land Company which is subdividing the tract.

Sharing with the Mission lands the honors of the day were the inauguration of the railway service to San Fernando via Van Nuys and the opening of the Porter Hotel. Celebrating the latter event a grand ball was held last night and hundreds of the barbecue guests remained to participate.

The railway was inspected by a carload of the Pacific Electrics highest officials who made the first trip over the line which is an arm of the line that runs to Van Nuys, the other branching to Owensmouth.

The town of San Fernando did itself proud in entertaining. Streets, business houses and residences were gaily decorated. A hustling committee took charge of the guests and all manner of courtesies were provided. A hundred boxes of oranges were opened in the center of activities and the visitors told to help themselves.

A hundred autos were on hand and took guests on trips to the aqueduct and to the other points of interest. Scores of other machines carried the visitors over the Mission lands and showed them the beauty spots.

The new electric railway line runs for five miles through the great tract of Mission lands.

Automobiles, the electric line, and the steam cars carried the thousands to the hustling town of the great valley. At noon Chef Romero served the barbecued bulls to the sharpened appetites of the guests and all the usual Spanish delicacies were served in Romero's inimitable manner.

Citizens of San Fernando by the hundreds helped entertain the visitors and made them at home. A decorated stand was provided for the Catalina band and the speakers. The splendid new Porter Hotel was thrown such of them as they cared to inspect.

The ball at the Porter last night was a fine affair. Under the guidance of Manager Holborrow and wife, the guests were shown through the sixty-five splendidly-furnished rooms, or cared to inspect.

The committee of San Fernando citizens most active in the entertainment included the following: John T. Wilson, ex-Sheriff John Burr, Col. Hubbard, F. D. Parker, Fred L. Boruff, F. A. Powell, J. L. Hickson, John T. Wilson, Jr., F. P. Grant, Fred Prince, Thomas Walker and S. C. Caldwell.

The Mission lands are of the finest in the valley, which means the best in the country. Adjacent to the aqueduct and near its great reservoir and power facilities they are in line for close association with its activities.

The Angeles Mesa Land Company yesterday disposed of a large area which is cut into ranchos of five acres and upwards. There are 5000 acres of the land valued at $300 an acre and some goes as high as $500. With 15,000 acres to chose from those Two thousand five hundred acres of fine young lemon trees located west of the old Mission, and showing not the slightest sign of having been frosted, were the admiration and wonder of all.

PERSONALS.

D. P. Harris of New York is registered at the Westminster. Harris is at the head of the Warren Hardware Manufacturing Company and is here on one of his pleasure trips to the Coast. He always has a little business also, that of picking out two or three young men to go into the hardware business with his concern in the East. "Strange as it may seem, I find the western young man much more progressive, more alert, eager to learn and pushing than the ordinary young man we can find in New York," he said, in explaining his reason for this course.

Dore de Lange and wife are occupying a suite at the Alexandria. De Lange is a member of the old Dutch nobility and his present home is in Amsterdam. He is in the banking business and his tour of America has to do with studying financial conditions, investments and other phases of the money situation. According to De Lange considerable Dutch money is being spent in California developments.

Lydia Crandall arrived at the Hayward from London, where she is following a literary career. As correspondent for several weekly publications, she is giving her ideas of American life to the English people. "Militant suffrage, such as that which the daily papers chronicle at this time, is all wrong," she declared. "I believe in suffrage, but I don't believe that the present methods should be used in obtaining it. California women set an example of how women can secure the privilege without stirring up serious animosities," she stated.

David Whitley and A. L. Archer registered at the Van Nuys from Melbourne, Australia. They have come to California to study methods of irrigation and dry farming. "Several very large irrigation projects have recently been completed by the Australian government opening up many miles of fertile land to colonization," said Archer. "Used conjunctively with dry farming in the arid season, the crops that can be raised are similar to those found in Southern California, the climate being practically the same. Incidentally, the government having prepared the land is now going after the immigrants and settlers and expects to benefit greatly by the opening of the Panama Canal along this line."

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Carrigan are passing a few days at the Lankershim where they are registered from Grand Rapids, Mich. Carrigan is a lumber and timber contractor and has been touring the northwest, where he has timber holdings. While in Southern California he is investigating the merits of the eucalyptus tree for use in the manufacture of furniture wood.

Robert E. Anderson is a guest at the Alexandria where he is registered from Palo Alto. He is a member of the Stanford University staff and is here on business connected with the institution of learning.

PUBLIC PAYS FOR EVERY WAGE ADVANCE.

Lee Insists Railway Employees Are Already Receiving More Compensation for Their Labor Than Men in Other Walks of Life and Declares Burden Is Unjust.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Elisha Lee, chairman of the eastern railroads committee, at present arbitrating a wage controversy with their firemen, in summing up the case of the companies, delivered a stirring indictment of what he styled "labor's unjust taxation of the public."

LEE'S STATEMENT.

After a passing reference to the great damage done by the Ohio and Indiana floods and the millions which would be required to replace railroad property destroyed, he summed up the general question as follows:

"We respectfully urge that the real basic fact of present conditions is that wages paid in train service are entirely out of line with wages in other lines of employment. Railway men should be and are well paid. But there is a great difference between being well paid and exacting through organization, through threats of interference with the proper transportation of the people's products, through legislation, through other various means, a scale of wages which is disproportionate to that in other lines of employment calling for similar energy. It is a violation of economic law which sooner or later is certain to bring its own punishment.

"This board represents the public—that public which pays the bill when this board may impose the railroads. A railway company does not manufacture money. It collects money and distributes it, with a very small margin remaining for those who supply the original investment.

"When the public, through commissions, through mandatory legislation, or through laws, assess additional payments to be made out of railway revenues, that same public, in effect, levies an additional tax upon itself, unseen and intangible for the moment, perhaps, but inevitable in its effect.

"This public realizes how agents acting presumably in its behalf are piling up the burdens on the railroads. That public dimly imagines that it is the capitalists of Wall street who are being injured. But it is not so. The railway managers of the country are fighting the battles of the public—that public which is entitled to have efficient transportation facilities at reasonable rates. It is entitled to enjoy rates based upon real capital invested. It should pay rates which will yield proper wages to railway labor and a sufficient return upon the capital to provide proper facilities.

"But this is the fundamental question this board has to answer—it is, indeed, the problem which the public itself must solve.

"Shall we, in our desire to escape the rocks of both Scylla and Charybdis steer so far away from the possible payment of undue returns upon railway capital that we may be wrecked?"

Call of the Ballot.

NEARLY EIGHTEEN MILLIONS THE QUESTION NEXT WEEK.

Voting of Issues to Bring Owens River Water in and to Develop Harbor Necessary, Other Propositions Are Debatable—"High Line" Scheme Extravagant.

THE call of the ballot is again heard throughout the city and on the 15th inst.—one week from Tuesday—the voters of Los Angeles will decide for or against the most important series of proposed bond issues in the history of the municipality, the aggregate of $17,600,000 being exceeded only by the Los Angeles aqueduct bonds for $23,000,000 voted six years ago.

On the result of the bond election next week hinges important development work, the most pressing of which is the bringing of the Owens River water to the city from the end of the aqueduct proper as it comes through its granite tunnel to a point overlooking the San Fernando Valley. There is little or no division of opinion as to the necessity of this work, for without it the entire aqueduct expenditure is worthless and the water will remain just out of reach. This missing link in the great system will cost, according to the estimates, $1,500,000.

Another of the eight bond propositions over which their is practical unanimity of opinion is that calling for $2,500,000 with which to improve the harbor. Under the new business administration which will come into office in July, there will be a new Harbor Commission, and the incoming Council will in all probability provide a suitable salary for the commissioners, so that their full time may be devoted to harbor affairs, as advocated by The Times prior to the recent charter election.

The other propositions are debatable, and will be discussed pro and con during the next ten days. City Attorney Shenk, who will undoubtedly succeed to the office of Mayor, favors the distribution of aqueduct power and water and strongly urges the development of the harbor. The San Dimas high line issue, he says, is one which must be decided by the people themselves. "If the people now decide the city is not in a position to finance this bond issue, their judgment is supreme," said Shenk yesterday.

The first issue designated upon the ballot to be voted at the bond election is the incurring by the city of a bonded indebtedness of $6,500,000 to construct generating and distributing works for the purpose of supplying light, heat and power, developed from the flow of aqueduct water, and for the acquisition of lands, water rights, rights of way, machinery, and all appurtenances necessary to the harnessing and distributing of this power.

It was within the purview of the aqueduct plan to thus utilize its surplus water for the benefit of the people of the city, but under the proffer of the light and power companies to purchase this embryo "juice" without entailing upon the taxpayers the burden of a great bond issue, many persons are of the opinion that it will be money in the municipality's treasury to accept a proposition for the outright sale of the power provided the consumers are perfectly protected from exploitation.

A NECESSITY.

The second proposed bond issue is for $1,500,000 to build a trunk line to convey the Owens River waters from the end of the aqueduct to the city for the purpose of supplying its citizens with water for irrigating, domestic and other uses.

This is a self-evident necessity. The water must be made available. Otherwise the aqueduct is valueless, and it can only be made available by the construction of a trunk line to the city.

The third question to be determined is the authorization of a bond issue of $2,000,000 to convey the surplus aqueduct water to consumers in the San Fernando Valley; the construction of pipe lines, water mains, reservoirs, etc., to be known as the Chatsworth, Mission, Fernando and Glendale lines.

Residents of the San Fernando Valley, through which the trunk line would naturally go, have expressed an ability to utilize the surplus water at a price to be fixed by the city. These lands are adjacent to the corporate limits of Los Angeles and will in due course of time become a part of the municipality. The distribution of the water to them will be less expensive, and the revenue proportionately greater than if diverted elsewhere, in the opinion of those who favor this particular issue.

"HIGH LINE" SCHEME.

Opposed to this proposition and alternative thereto, is the next one to appear upon the ballot, which provides for a bond issue of $2,500,000 with which to begin the so-called Graham "high line," taking its name from the originator of the plan, S. C. Graham. Under the high-line scheme the water would be diverted as it comes from the aqueduct and sent through a "high-line" conduit to "a point at or near the city of Pasadena, and thence to the vicinity of Glendora and San Dimas," and to be known as the "Pasadena-Glendora and San Dimas high line."

It is admitted by the advocates of the high line that the $2,500,000 will only start this work, and that at least $7,000,000 will be required to finish it. The opponents of the plan suggest that the water thus alienated, will be taken far from the city, to which it belongs; that, as a matter of law, it will be impossible to ever reclaim this water; that the expense is prohibitive, and that it is improbable that the districts to be served will ever become a part and parcel of the city of Los Angeles. They say that, the water being municipal property, it should remain within the control and under the jurisdiction of this city.

William Mulholland, chief engineer of the aqueduct, is strongly opposed to this "high line" scheme and has given to the press a letter showing how impractical and outrageous it is. Mulholland denounces the scheme as one of "audacious rapacity," and plainly intimates that there is a "nigger in the woodpile." The citizens of Los Angeles would be placing a burden of $6,000,000 on themselves for the benefit of outlying communities if they should be so foolish as to vote for this proposition. The overwhelming opinion among those who have considered the matter is that if these distant cities and communities want the water they should finance their own conduit and pay all the bills, and not ask the taxpayers of Los Angeles to do it.

HARBOR WORK IMPERATIVE.

No. 5 on the ballot is for a bond issue of $2,500,000, to be expended in harbor development—the contruction of docks, wharves, and warehouses; the opening of improved streets to the navigable waters; the construction of necessary canals and waterways, and the acquisition of the land necessary for such improvements.

Harbor development is imperative if Los Angeles is to take and maintain her proper place in the commerce of the Coast when the Panama Canal is opened. Three million dollars has already been spent, or is being expended on harbor work. The manner of its spending and the many delays incident thereto, has been seriously criticised and is one of the prime factors in the overthrow of the present administration, but that does not alter the fact that the harbor is there and that Los Angeles must realize upon it. Under a new administration and a revised Harbor Commission, it may reasonably be anticipated that the work will go forward without delay or scandal.

The sixth bond proposition is for Ready to bring the Owens River to the head of the San Fernando Valley, from which point delivery to the city depends upon the voting of the bonds next week. The great steel siphon at the top is three-quarters of a mile long, ten feet in diameter, and the inlet is eight hundred and fifty feet higher than its lowest point in Jawbone Canyon, so the water is forced up on the other side. The maximum pressure is three hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch and the steel is one and an eighth inch thick.

Slam! Bang!

HOLDING LIFE ABOVE NOISE.

Campaign Open to Silence Terrible Racket.

Close Mufflers on Autos and Motorcycles.

District Attorney and Police Co-operating.

Nerve-wrecking, sleep-destroying noise caused by open automobile and motorcycle mufflers is to be stopped in Los Angeles. A campaign in which the police will co-operate with the county authorities was opened yesterday to suppress this unnecessary racket. Curiously enough the anti-noise movement did not originate with some pettish invalid, but with Chief of Police Sebastian and Dist.-Atty. Fredericks, both robust men, who take the initiative.

Experienced automobilists declare that opening the muffler is entirely unnecessary except possibly in going up steep grades where every pound of reserve power is needed. Thousands of considerate drivers of machines are behind Chief Sebastian and Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad in their efforts to minimize the terrific whirring rattle that sounds like a discharge of musketry during the silent watches of the night, when hundreds of men and women are tossing on beds of pain in hospitals and homes keenly sensitive to every jarring discordant note.

FORD TAKES HOLD.

"I have taken steps to co-operate with the Chief in his automobile campaign against unnecessary engine noise," said Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford yesterday. "I am sure that Capt. Fredericks feels the same, though he is fond of a car and enjoys riding. I know he would never think of opening up the engines just to get a few more ounces of power.

"I drive a car myself and know that the hideous noises which are particularly disagreeable at night are uncalled for. There is a county ordinance against opening the muffler on motor-propelled vehicles and I have asked Herbert Drew, in charge of our motorcycle squad, to watch for violations outside the city."

Ford went to see Chief Sebastian yesterday afternoon to talk over the plan of campaign. The Assistant District Attorney told of having visited a friend in one of the local hospitals. He said he heard dozens of automobiles go dashing by with the muffler open and the engine making cracking reports that made the sick man wince with the pain from his keenly attuned nerves. Ford called the attention of a nurse to the noise outside.

HASTENS DEATH.

"We nurses know that many deaths are hastened by the noise in the streets, but how can we prevent it?" said she. "The motorcycles are the worst. I have seen patients in deep sleep half spring from bed when the deafening series of explosions started, seemingly right under the window."

Motorcycle Chief Drew of the District Attorney's office watched for an hour at the Angelus Hospital night before last. During that space of time he counted thirty machines and motorcycles that went crashing by the place where lay sick and dying patients.

"Now that I have been instructed to see the ordinance is not violated in the county every officer will be on the lookout," said he. "The noise is unnecessary. With the high-power cars in use these days the machines are built to speed noiselessly over the smooth system of good roads. Some persons seem to think when they buy an automobile that they can violate every ordinance and rush madly through the roads and lanes regardless of the rights of others."

ENDING THE DIN.

Lieut. Butler, working under the special orders of Chief Sebastian, is doing effective work in the downtown district. His men warn the motorists to be more careful with horns, exhausts and all sorts of nameless contraptions which can be used to create a din similar to the former Fourth of July celebration which counted its yearly toll of dead in the thousands.

Many arrests have been made for violation of the city ordinance governing "cutting out" the muffler and many more are due to be made when the campaign is fully in force. It is believed that police judges and justices of the peace will co-operate with the traffic officers and county motorcycle squad in abating the noise nuisance and making nights more endurable to the sick, the nervous and dying.

Ford suggested yesterday that perhaps a fitting punishment would be to confine noise maniacs in small rooms provided with every known appliance for creating a din.

METHODISTS SHUT OUT.

Granted Privilege of Holding Religious Services in Wilmington City Hall, Donors of Property Object.

The Methodists of Wilmington counted upon holding their first church service in the assembly room of the Wilmington City Hall today, in accordance with the privilege granted them by the Board of Public Works. Yesterday Gilbert F. Stevenson and E. W. Sandison, the two men who deeded the property to the city of Wilmington, prior to annextion, appeared before the Board of Public Works and protested against their action, saying that the deed permits the property to be used only for City Hall, Public Library and park purposes. The privilege granted the Methodists was then rescinded. It had previously been proposed to use the hall for a public forum, but in view of the protest of the donors the plan will probably be abandoned.

Holding 'Em Down.

SPEED CRANKS PAY FOR FUN.

County Coffers Enriched by Automobilists.

Joy Riders and Fast Joggers Caught by Hundreds.

Motorcycle Squad Also Helps to Get Criminals.

The quarterly report of Herbert Drew, in charge of the District Attorney's motorcycle squad, shows that the last quarter netted the county nearly $3000 after paying officers' salaries and other necessary expenses. During January the fines amounted to $2320; arrests, 267; salaries, $1150; expenses for caring for motorcycles, $15, making a net profit for that month of $1045.

In February the officers arrested 245 speeders on the highways who paid $1933 in fines. Salaries amounted to $1150 and expenses $125. Net profits, $658.

March was a better month, there being 289 arrests. The speeders paid $2325 to the county treasury. Deducting salaries and repairs the county netted about $1080.

The system was devised by Capt. Fredericks, who had for months been receiving complaints about reckless speeders and careless joy riders. The District Attorney studied each detail, finally deciding what highways should be patroled and how arrests should be made. He selected Herbert Drew as central office man. Drew is in constant touch with his men at every hour of the day. He receives reports, checks their work, looks after the fines an dkeeps a complete record.

REAL PROTECTION.

He said yesterday that the maintenance at no expense to the county of a corps of able officers equipped with fast motorcycles gives the isolated districts good protection. All the riders are instructed to watch for suspicious characters, to report all crimes and to aid the Sheriff in tracking criminals. The motorcycle officers have done effective work in this line, according to Drew.

As a rule motorists are not cautioned unless they drive faster than thirty miles an hour. If joy riders are seen they are arrested, as they are considered a menace to other persons on a highway.

During the first three months the officers ran down speeders, thus consuming much time. Now an elaborate network of traps covers each county road. Where an officer sees a speeder approaching he gets the time and telephones to the next officer some distance away. Electric signals are used at night.

SOME WANT TRIALS.

In a few instances the arrested persons have asked for jury trials. There is a case pending in Justice Forbes' court where the speeder raised the point he is a deputy Sheriff and was going to his ranch in response to a hurry call. He maintained he was justified in exceeding the speed limit. The court has not rendered a decision as yet.

The fines collected last year totaled $15,863; arrests, 3271; salaries of officers, $9680.22; expense of keeping motorcycles, $2133.93; net balance, $4048.85.

The income for this year is expected to exceed last as the officers are making more arrests and the fines total more even during unfavorable months. It is estimated that the county will be ahead from $6000 to $8000 this year after expenses shall have been paid.

POLITICAL TIPS.

The Democratic victory in Missouri last November was evidently too much for the victorious party, and the Legislature has broken all previous records in the creation of new jobs for the faithful. These new jobs will add about sixty persons to the population of Jefferson City and will cost the State $542,400 in salaries. The total appropriations made by the Legislature were $13,272,497, while the State Auditor cannot figure out a revenue of more than $10,300,000. It is just another instance where Democratic success means a treasury deficit.

Ex-Senator Gardner of Maine is hard to satisfy, and evidently will continue to wear his grouch against the Wilson administration unless the President sends him a a besplendid invitation to become Ambassador to England or some other first-class country. He has already refused the secretaryship of the Senate and also of pension commissioner, saying he thought he "deserved something better." Mr. Gardner apparently fails to realise that he was a political accident.

Senator Bristow of Kansas has been at home during the Congressional recess, and has already announced that he will be a candidate for re-election next year. He refuses, however, to tell on what ticket he will run, whether he will continue to be a Progressive or will have his name put on the Republican ticket. He is listening hard to determine which way the wind will blow.

Secretary McAdoo went home to New York to spend Easter with his family, and escape for a few days the importunate demands of the men who can prove that it was their vote which elected the present administration. In the latter desire he was disappointed as his time was well occupied by visitors who wanted to talk politics.

Gov. Sulzer of New York has spoken. He is a Governor, not a rubber stamp. "I have never been an agent, and I never will be," said the Governor. "No man, no party, and no organization can make me a rubber stamp. I am the Governor. Let no man doubt that." If the proposed investigation he made of his pre-election promises, there may be something in the Governor's platform he will want to change.

President Wilson's attempts to provide some satisfactory governmental birth for William F. McCombs, his political manager, causes the New York Journal of Commerce to remark that he "has gone far enough." His relations with his campaign manager have been of a decidedly special and peculiar nature, and there is warrant for the effort he has made to exhibit appreciation for past services. The offer of the French Ambassadorship to a man who had no particular qualifications for the post was in itself something of a concession, especially as it came from one who has laid stress on the idea of efficiency and fitness. Now the time has come to have done with the attempt to placate McCombs. As may be surmised, the Journal of Commerce is a business paper.

When Congress meets this week the members of the House will have to learn how to use the new seats. There will be no desks on which they may put their feet, nor swivel chairs in which they may turn and converse with neighboring members. The seats are practically rows of benches, spaced at regular distances with arm rests. Not every man can have the luxury of two arm rests at one time. Nor will there be any reserved seats. The first men in the chamber at each session will get the best seats, a fact that should encourage a greater attendance at the opening exercises.

Mayor Rushlight of Portland, who will be a candidate for re-election, has filed with the City Auditor a request to have the words, "My efforts will continue to be for the people and the home," placed opposite his name on the ballot. His inactivity during the labor disturbances that have afflicted Portland the past year, makes it doubtful whether the Mayor has lived up to the political creed he has announced.

[Topeka State Journal:] It has been settled definitely that Balie Waggener of Atchison will be a candidate for United States Senator next year—surgeons permitting. He is not a whirlwind campaigner. In fact, he is about the poorest hand to ask for personal favors that ever faced a collection of voters. But they couldn't beat him while he was flat on his back with eminent surgeons taking his temperature—and a major portion of his income. Last year, Balie Waggener returned from a third or fourth visit to a hospital where surgeons whiled away the time by looking over his diverticulus, and opening him without prayer. He landed in Atchison a sick man, accompanied by nurses, and was presented with a seven-pound document, which looked like a role of carpet and which asked him to become a candidate for State Senator, stating that if he would run "we will pledge you our votes and our support, regardless of the ticket on which you run. You need not make a campaign. We will make it for you." Balie Waggener came back to the Kansas State Senate without a campaign, and with a majority of 2440. He was opposed by a good man who is highly respected in that district.

Mrs. May Taylor is a candidate for Mayor of Topeka, and has announced her platform as follows: Uniform wages and minimum hours for all city employees; abolition of city contracts for public construction works; a public loan fund to lend money to the poor at 5 per cent. interest; free public night schools.

Dr. Edward H. Hartwell, secretary of the statistical department of the city of Boston, has evidently embarked on the broad road that leadeth to destruction, says the Argonaut. Apparently he does not know enough to suppress uppopular statistics, for he tells us that the woman's vote for the school committee has fallen off in proportion to the demand for the more important vote. The Massachusetts returns for 1910 show that in 29.7 per cent. of the municipalities of the State not a woman voted, and that there were sixty-nine towns in which no women either registered or voted. An analysis of the Boston returns shows that in every one of the twenty-six wards fewer women registered and fewer voted than in the year previous.

Indian Brought Here for Killing Says He Wouldn't Have Come If He Had Not Wished.

Peter Cooper, Yuma Indian, charged with the murder of Joseph Gray, was brought from the Ft. Yuma reservation by Deputy United States Marshal Durlin yesterday and lodged in the County Jail.

Cooper had his preliminary examination before a justice of the peace, and was ordered to the custody of the officers in charge of the Indian reservation as it was thought the jail would hold him about as long as a hen coop. Durlin found Cooper at his home and not under arrest. It was said that Cooper had boasted there are not enough Indians on the reservation to take him if he didn't want to go.

Gray was a young Indian policeman at Ft. Yuma and had been there only a few months. He attracted attention in Los Angeles while going to Ft. Yuma, his long hair trailing down his back, festooned with red ribbons.

Cooper declares Gray assaulted him first, and a broken baseball bat in the District Attorney's office, alleged to have been used by Gray, is among the exhibits in the case. The Federal grand jury will investigate.

Had Stopped Payment.

[Philadelphia Telegraph:] In a suit lately tried the plaintiff testified that his financial position had always been a good one. The opposing counsel took him in hand for cross-examination and undertook to break down his testimony upon this point.

"Have you ever been bankrupt?" asked the counsel.

"I have not."

"Now, be careful," admonished the lawyer, with a raised finger. "Did you ever stop payment?"

"Yes."

"Ah! I thought we should get at the truth," observed the counsel, with an unpleasant smile. "When did this occur?"

"When I paid all I owed."

New-Old History.

SAN FRANCISCO PADRE-FOUNDED.

Interesting Account Gleaned from Old Diary.

Time-Stained Manuscript Is Deciphered by Scholar.

Hardships, Long Marches, Indian Adventures.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BERKELEY, April 4.— The story now can be told of how San Francisco was founded. It is an eyewitness who speaks. From the time-stained pages of an old Spanish manuscript, deciphered by Prof. Frederick J. Taggart, the University of California has printed Father Pedro Font's own diary. It tells how Font came in 176 from Sonora, as chaplain with the Enza expedition, across more than 1000 miles of desert and mountain, and how the cross was raised on the white cliffs high above the Golden Gate.

"A little after," says Father Font, in the entry in his diary for March 27, 1776, "we halted beside a pond or spring of fine water near the mouth of the Port of San Francisco, having traveled some six leagues.

"The Port of San Francisco is a wonder of nature, and may be called the port of ports, on account of its great capacity and the various bights included in its litoral or shore and in its islands. Closed in, and surrounded by mountains, it is as quiet as in a cup.

"The commander decided to erect the holy cross on the extremity of the white cliff at the inner point of the entrance to the port. At 8 o'clock in the morning we ascended a small low hill, and then entered a tableland, entirely clear, of considerable extent and flat, with a slight slope toward the port. It must be about half a league in width and a little more in length, and keeps narrowing until it ends in the white cliff. This tableland commands a most wonderful view, as from it a great part of the port is visible, with its islands, the entrance and the ocean as far as the eye can reach—even farther than the Farallones.

"The commander marked this tableland as the site of the new settlement, and the fort which is to be established at this port, for from its being on a height, it is so commanding that the entrance of the mouth of the port can be defended by musket fire, and at the distance of a musket shot there is water for the people, that is, the spring or pond where we halted."

PLEASANT PROSPECTS.

All that day the commander and his lieutenant roamed over "the low hills leading toward the inner part of the port," and at evening they returned, "very much pleased," as they had found more than they had hoped for—much brush and firewood, plenty of water in various springs or ponds, much tillable ground and also plenty of pasture everywhere, so that the new settlement can obtain much wood, water and grass or pasturage for their horses, all close at hand—there is lacking only timber for large edifices, although for huts and barracks and for the stockade of the Presidio there is sufficient material in the woods."

The Indians they encountered were "gentle, good-natured and very poor, and as they presented themselves unarmed they gave no sign of being warlike or ill-intentioned. Those who live near the port are pretty well bearded."

Thus San Francisco had its rude beginnings in the same year Boston witnessed the signing of the Declaration of Independence. But in Sonora, where Don Juan Bautista de Anza organized his expedition, there had been missions for a century and a half, and towns that antedated by many years the first settlements in Massachusetts Bay.

The first day's journey of the Anza expedition was a scant three miles, out from the presido of San Miguel de Horcasitas, in Sonora, Mexico. Most of the day was taken up with singing a mass to the Most Blessed Virgin of Guadalupe and getting the pack train ready. That September day of 1775 marked the beginning of a three-months' march over a stretch of wild country as vast as from San Francisco to Denver or El Paso, or from Washington to New Orleans.

FRIENDLY INDIANS.

The last Christian settlement was passed near the mission of San Xavier del Bac, in Southern Arizona. But the Indian "nations" through which they passed were kindly and hospitable, once the country of the fierce Apaches was left behind. The "governors and alcaldes" of the Papago villages came bearing Apache scalps and asking baptism. Elated at the arrival of the Spaniards, they welcomed the white men and proudly exhibited the "Casa Grande de Moctezuma."

"This palace," says Father Font, "may have been built some 500 years ago. It seems that this place was founded by the Mexicans when, during their migration, the devil led them through various countries until they arrived at the promised land of Mexico."

Timbers brought from mountains seventy-five miles distant, a large conduit to carry water from the river, and round apertures in the walls through which "the prince" had "saluted the rising and setting sun"—these were part of Font's observations.

At Yuma the Spaniards left two priests to minister to the 3000 Indians, and after much trafficking of beads and tobacco for watermelons, pumpkins and other provisions, the expedition started across what is now Imperial county. Once their cattle stampeded to return to the last water holes; again, they were snowed on, and on Christmas they stopped their march for one day, "for the reason that on this holy night of the Nativity the wife of a soldier happily gave birth to a son, and because the day was very raw and feggy." A day later, when they had halted near the rocks of San Carlos Pass, almost at the summit of the Sierra Madre, they were shaken by an earthquake, "accompanied by an instantaneous and loud noise."

NEWS OF TROUBLE.

Soon they reached the Mission of San Gabriel, "in a most beautiful and ample place, with plenty of water and very good soil." News had come of a rising of the Mission Indians at San Diego. They had burned and plundered and murdered the minister, Father Luis Jaume. Commander Anza, Chaplain Font and twenty soldiers set off posthaste to bring aid. The blabbing of an old woman gave evidence as to the guilty. Thirteen prisoners were taken, and the recalcitrants fled to the mountains.

Six soldiers were dispatched on the return journey to Sonora, bearing letters. Scarcely had Anza and Font returned to San Gabriel, when a soldier from Monterey deserted, and, accompanied by four servants and muleteers, with thirty animals and much loot, fled across the mountains into the desert, only to be brought back prisoners.

From San Gabriel the 200 members of the "Senor Commandante's" expedition proceeded northward along the coast, across the Santa Clara Valley, by the village of Carpinteria, past the Mission of San Luis Obispo, "in a beautiful spot on a little rise beside a stream, near the Sierra de Santa Lucia, with very fertile lands. The Indians of this nation are much better looking and seemly than those of any other nation I have seen."

At Monterey they were welcomed by Junipero Serra, father-president of the missions, and at Carmel Mission the seven resident padres sang a te deum, with peals of bells and great rejoicing. "The site is splendid and the land very fertile," says Father Font.

They set out once more from Monterey, March 23, traveled by the Valle de Santa Delfina, the Monterey River, the Arroyo de las Llagas, the Arroyo de San Benito, the Pajaro River, the Valle de San Bernardino, the Arroyo de San Joseph Cupertino, the Arroyo de San Mateo, the Arroyo de San Francisco, and on the fifth day, March 27, 1776, halted by the Golden Gate.

After passing one day at the new townsite, Commander Anza and his immediate party left the settlers to begin the creation of the future city of San Francisco, and set out to explore the neighboring region. They killed a "huge bear" in the Arroyo de San Mateo. They then circled about the lower end of the bay and followed its shore past villages, whose Indians were fishing from tule rafts for salmon with nets. Deer tracks were as numerous as if an immense herd of cattle was near. At last they could look out across "an immense treeless plain" to "a great snow-covered mountain range." They concluded that the river was not the Sacramento, but a great "fresh-water sea," as they imagined it to extend on to the east as far as San Luis Obispo.

DESERT MYSTERY.

Despairing of getting around the tule swamps, they turned back through the coast range, finding their way back to Monterey, San Gabriel and across the desert to the Colorado River. Father Font, whom they had left there the year before, was not to be found. His companion, Father Tomas, had no news of him "since he crossed the river to the Jalchedunes," the thought of penetrating the interior and discovering a way of getting into New Mexico.

"I infer," says Father Font, "that Father Garces has found a way and means of getting to Mexico as he desired, or that he has come great reverses in his missionations; indeed, as he was old he may have died, or the Indians have killed him."

But Font himself suffered no reverses. Eleven of the party, the hundred-yard-old Father Garces, turbulent and swollen rivers, deep snows, on a single pack mule to sink, but forty Indians and surrounding the pack, and the party across with no harm befalling. They bade farewell to Christmas, "with much tenderness on account of their fidelity and affection and passing unharmed through the dangerous country of the Apaches and the "gente verde" and Pimas, returned safely to Mexico two months after leaving San Francisco.

And there in Mexico, at the College of Uros, Father Font "wrote out his diary," the original of which the University of California possesses, through the gift of the Robert E. Cowan collection by Collis P. Huntington. The diary has been edited by Professor J. Taggart, associate professor of Pacific Coast history in the University of California and curator of the Academy of Pacific Coast History. In addition, in English and Spanish, as part of the great work that has been done at the University of California through the famous Bancroft collection and the Academy of Pacific Coast History, of giving to the world authentic memorials of the exploration, the settlement and the development of California.

The Cousins Shoe

for Discriminating Women

$4.00, $5.00, $6.00 and to $8.50

FOOTWEAR made by "Cousins," in New York, in point of beauty and quality, is the equal of any to be found in America. The present exhibit of Cousins Spring and Summer Styles (at both "Gude" Stores) embraces the most exquisite modes of the bootmakers' creative art. Discriminating women readily discern the charm and individual distinction of Cousins Shoes; and this charm and distinction is as noticeable in Cousins Street Boots as it is in the daintier Low Cuts. The enormous modern equipment of the Cousins Factories, and the unprecedented sales of Cousins Shoes, have made their moderate prices possible. The integrity of construction, and the carefully selected materials that go into them, make it real economy to wear Cousins Shoes—and the broad variety of late styles afford almost limitless scope for the exercise of individual taste in the selection of one's footwear.

Cut Steel Buckles at $1, $2, $3 and to $15
Gordon Silk Hosiery at $1.00 and $1.50

Cousins Pumps

The dominant style note in this season's Footwear is patent leather Colonial Pumps, as exemplified in Cousins "Hello" and "Court Tie" models, with cut steel or leather covered buckles.

Colonial Pumps of black calfskin, white and the colors in light turn and welt extension soles; are much sought on account of their charming simplicity and airiness, which add the final touch to smart attire.

CIVIC WORKERS PLANNING PARK.

Virgo Seco Destined to Be Wonderland, Say They.

City Chiefs Jointly Picnic in Project's Interest.

Council to Be Urged to Buy Available Property.

By their attendance at Sycamores park yesterday where the joint city staffs of Los Angeles, Pasadena and South Pasadena enjoyed a picnic together, more than 600 prominent city workers personally identified themselves with the project for the Arroyo Seco parkway and the proposed boulevard from the mountains to the sea. Enthusiasm was unbounded and the happy plan was never before given such a boost.

Music was provided by the Letter Carriers' Band. Luncheon was followed by a brief programme of speaking presided over by T. E. Gibbon. Afterwards most of those present strolled through the arroyo as far as Avenue 57, and were then the guests of the Highland Park Ebell club, which kept open house and entertained during the afternoon. Miss Sara Packard, the president, and Mrs. C. E. Gordon, chairman of civics, were assisted by a large number of other hostesses.

A few of the better walkers persevered as far as Mineral Park, which is a little paradise in the Arroyo and which emphasizes the possibilities of the district.

WELL REPRESENTED.

Pasadena was represented handsomely, among its delegates being Mr. and Mrs. Torey, Everett, Frank Wood and Mrs. C. P. Allen, the latter being president of the Woman's Civic League of the Crown City. They report that Pasadenans have already purchased the Arroyo property within the city limits, and will sell it to the city at the cost price, plus 5 per cent. interest for the time between the purchase and the taking over by the city.

The syndicate of twenty citizens advanced $1000 each for this purchase, and additional purchases have been made for the city by Mayor Lippincott and his brother. The bond issue for this purpose has never come before the people of Pasadena squarely on its merits, but no difficulty is likely to be experienced when the matter comes to a vote.

Among the South Pasadenans at the picnic yesterday were the members of the Arroyo Seco Park Commission consisting of G. E. List, Don Lee, Jonathan Dodge, Mrs. Mumford, Mrs. Rust, Mrs. Simonds and Miss Raymond. They stated that they have investigated the Arroyo property within the jurisdiction of South Pasadena, have interviewed the owners, assessed the valuation, and are ready to move for a bond issue to cover this expense of purchase whenever Pasadena and Los Angeles are ready to proceed.

MANY WOMEN PRESENT.

Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. A. S. Lobingier, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. O. C. Bryant and more than a hundred other ladies were present in behalf of the Woman's City Club. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Howard, Mrs. Cora Lewis and a large number of the members of the Evening City Club attended. More than fifty members of the Men's City Club were on hand and many of them took a prominent part in the meeting.

While it was perhaps somewhat beside the subject under discussion the society passed a timely resolution offered by F. W. Blanchard requesting the city to purchase the lot at Fifth and Olive streets in behalf of the Civic Arts Center Commission, composed of thirty allied civic associations. The preamble of these resolutions explains that this should be done in order to provide the necessary park vista and entrance to the grounds of the convention hall, which is proposed for the old Normal site. The point is also made that this is the only available site, since the sale of individuals of the Huntington tract between Fourth and Main street.

Many speeches were made in behalf of the Arroyo Park, by J. B. Lippincott of the Park Commission and Mrs. Lobingier. Lippincott declared that the Arroyo is to be either a glory or the shame of this city. He pointed about 300 loads of trash are dumped into the Los Angeles river bed for every twelve loads of sand removed from it, and if the river is not to become an unsightly waste ground, it must be improved. Delay only increases the cost of the work and multiplies the necessary improvements.

READY FOR PURCHASE.

Within the city limits there are 230 acres of arroyo property and this will be the expense to property owners within the proposed park district will be, an average of $26 to the lot. This is a small sum, Lippincott said, compared with the improvement which the park will make to the property it borders, and which it is proposed to tax for the consummation of the project.

There remains less than three weeks before the City Council must act on the resolution of intention, and Mrs. Rust urged all who are interested in the city's growth to use their influence with the Council to vote favorably on this proposition at its meeting on April 22.

Mrs. Lobingier made the point that rents are high because so much money must go for brick and stone to wall children up, but no money is available to give the little people the grass, the trees and the sky. She wishes that the question could be settled by a vote of the children, whose pure hearts and wisdom above dollars and cents Nature, she declared, is the best school to teach sincerity and truth, and a nation is only great when it comes near to nature's heart. Several petitions of candidates were received during the day, and Mrs. Lobingier Williams, Myers, of the local Ebell Society, worked hard for the good measures now pending before the present Legislature.

GLIMPSES OF SAN FRANCISCO.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The baseball season is on and the office is in his glory. Mayor Rolph threw the first ball and the newspapers editorially advise people to attend the games. Many of us would go anyway, but a few need urging.

The water problem is in fair way of settlement. The Spring Valley and the city have agreed to arbitrate and that means half the battle won. It matters not how the arbitration is effected if it only becomes an accomplished fact. If a fair price is agreed on, there is no doubt but that the people will ratify the bonds at the polls.

Certain officials are in a heated controversy with Charles Wesley Reed over the charter requirements for firemen who seek promotion. Those who know Lawyer Reed feel sorry for the officials. He is tenacious of argument and fond of dispute. In this matter, too, he happens to be right, so his opponents might just as well yield now and make the fire-fighters meet the physical tests.

Society is surprised that Mrs. Walter Hobart should get a divorce from her husband. She charged cruelty and the wealthy Walter did not take the trouble to deny it. She had the requisite number of witnesses to prove her allegations, so Judge Cabaniss had no hesitancy in granting the decree. Hobart was too courteous to defend himself so hereafter he must live down the reputation of being a cruel man.

The community was startled to read that nine realty men were arrested at the ferry for soliciting business. It came out that they were trying to sell lots outside of this city to strangers. Of course, it was a grievous offense, but the police judge mercifully condoned it and freed the prisoners. Even San Franciscans will have to admit that there is some property outside of the city that is worth buying.

The Chinese are practicing marksmanship in Chinatown. The Bing Kongs and the Suey Sings are fighting out a feud. Lee Quong Sing, aged 70, a Suey Sing, was shot to death, and Frank Ghiatto, a window washer, stopped a stray bullet with his thigh. Most things have an ending, but a highbinder war seems to be an exception.

The all-Hawaiian polo team might have known that they would get the worst of it in a match game with the San Mateo Slashers. The score was 10½ goals for the locals, to 5½ for the visitors. Incidentally, about $20,000 is reported to have changed hands on the result. It was a great contest sportively as well as financially.

There is strong talk of admitting the "Nationals" to the State militia. They are a crack military organization and never should have been out of the National Guard. It was a feud of long standing and the public is inclined to believe that the State authorities were to blame in mustering out the local soldiers.

Grosvenor P. Ayers, a prominent business man of this city, is back from Australia with the story that it is a slow country. He says that the people there do a great volume of business, but in an old-fashioned way. It is only right that we should hear from the Australians as to how fast they think Mr. Ayers is.

OFFICERS FIND EVIDENCE.

Detectives Tour Northern Part of State and Bring Back Information Concerning Bunco Game.

Detectives Boden and King returned yesterday from an extensive tour of investigation through northern cities with much new evidence in connection with swindling operations throughout the State. The purpose of the officers in gathering this additional evidence is to use it in connection with the prosecution of Lee Rial, Dr. L. O. Wilcoxon and other alleged heads of the so-called bunco trust.

San Francisco, Oakland, Richmond, Berkeley, Alameda and other cities yielded each their full quota of victims who have paid toll to the ingenuity of the race-track swindlers. In virtually every instance, according to the detectives, the fake pool-room scheme was used to defraud the victims.

The officers decline to reveal the exact nature of their information but Superior Court prosecution.

NEWEST SOFT DRINKS.

Annual Opening of Ice Cream Soda Season Brings Forth Novel Concoctions—The Offerings.

The annual opening of the soft drink season, which officially extends from April 1 to October 1 but lasts all the year unofficially, has as usual brought forth a number of new concoctions at the soda fountains. The cerise punch, nectar freeze, milk chocolate sundae and butterscotch sundae are some of the latest offerings at the marble counters. The two former are especially popular with the matinee girls. The other two are having a strong run with the general trade.

The automobile sundae, originated some time ago, continues as a general favorite, especially with those who ride in gasoline drives cars. This is the formula: One No. 20 scoop of vanilla ice cream, one No. 20 scoop of orange ice, a dash of crushed pineapple, two cherries and one nabisco wafer. The cherries are served on the ends of a toothpick and placed so as to suggest the lights on a motor car. A favor of some sort usually accompanies this sundae.

One of the large confectionery companies is offering at its soda fountain a line of twenty-four different kinds of sundaes; fifty phosphates, egg drinks and freezes, and twenty-five flavors in ice cream sodas. This company places three new soft drinks on its menu every three days.

Dainty Shaiki Rugs for Summer Service

The "California" shows in one of its windows this week an interesting exhibit of these beautiful "Shaiki" rugs in the newest color effect—"Shaiki Noir."

THE "Shaiki" rug is the newest and most strikingly beautiful modern adaptation of the old Colonial rag rug—combining with its distinctive beauty a touch of sentiment that makes it deservedly popular.

For summer service in the home or at the beach—or for imparting an air of daintiness to the bedroom or guest chamber—the "Shaiki" rug meets a specific need in a novel and distinctive manner.

The "California" shows the most exclusive effects in "Shaiki" rugs—with plain or two-tone fields and exquisite hand-woven decorative border designs—in all the newest colorings, including soft blues, grays, old rose and lavender, and the exquisite new "Havan" effect.

These "Shaiki" rugs while new, distinctive and artistic in design—are not expensive—the prices ranging from $3.75 for the smaller size, up to $37.50 for the largest room size rug.

As a background for "hand wrought" reed furniture in conjunction with the new summer cretonnes for cushions and hangings—the "Shaiki" rugs are particularly effective.

The KNABE for 75 years the "World's Best Piano"

The KNABE is noted for its big, free, sympathetic tone quality, a characteristic rarely found in equal excellence in any other instrument. Although possessing great volume and brilliancy, yet its tone betrays not the slightest trace of harshness. The thought and care spent in building up this pre-eminent feature of the is one of the factors which have secured its place for all time as the "World's Best Piano." In the KNABE organization are experts whose entire time for many years and whose best thought and mechanical ingenuity have been expended in bringing the tone of the KNABE to its present artistic perfection.

The superb qualities of the KNABE do not necessarily imply high prices —KNABE UPRIGHTS $500 and up—KNABE GRANDS $775 and up.

In purchasing new KNABES we will accept other makes of pianos in exchange as part payment.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Frederick Freeman Wheeler of the Board of Public Utilities charges that the State Railroad Commission has ignored the Utilities Board and protestants in investigating a proposal to move a spur track on the Sixteenth-street line, and which the State Commission declares must not be moved. Property owners may seek a reopening of the case.

The Allied Arts Center Commission appealed to the Council yesterday to secure the water department lot at Fifth and Olive streets as the beginning of a project to make a wide vista and passage to the State Normal School grounds which the city is to acquire.

City Attorney Shenk advised the building department yesterday that permits must be secured for public school buildings, either in new structures or alterations. This ruling would also apply to the new State Normal School buildings and the armory.

Objection has arisen at Wilmington over the Board of Public Works granting Methodists permission to use the assembly-room of the City Hall, and the board revoked this permit yesterday and will abandon the plan of using the room as a public forum.

At the City Hall.

EDICT OF BOARD NOT FINALITY?

CITY UTILITIES REGULATORS ARE IGNORED.

State Railroad Commission Makes Decision that Spur Track on Sixteenth-Street Line Cannot Be Moved, but Fails to Consult With Protestants or Local Officials.

Notwithstanding the fact that the State Railroad Commission has notified the Board of Public Utilities of this city that it will not consent to the removal of the spur track of the Pacific Electric Company in the vicinity of Arlington street and Sixth-avenue station, it is probable that the opposition to this spur will continue and that efforts will be made at once by property owners to reopen the case.

The charge is made by Frederick Freeman Wheeler, president of the Public Utilities Board, that the State Railroad Commission has ignored that body and the protestants, in so far as personal conferences are concerned, in connection with this subject, although in its letter to the board the State Railroad Commission declares that a member of the State Commission made a personal investigation of the situation.

Wheeler says that the members of the State Commission have not visited the Utilities Board's office, nor consulted with its members on this subject, and that the protestants were also ignored, the investigation apparently being only a conference with the owners of a brick yard at the spur mentioned and with the street contractors who use the spur for hauling sand and gravel for street work.

Invitations have been extended to the State Railroad Commission to visit the Utilities Board of the city to discuss subjects of interest to both boards, but, although the State Board meets in Los Angeles frequently, it has ignored the local board in so far as any such discussions or conferences are concerned.

The Utilities Board, after considering the subject for several months, prevailed upon the Pacific Electric to agree to move the spur track in question one mile further west, in order that a good residence district might not be invonvenienced with the industrial operations at the present spur. The Railroad Commission takes the stand that the spur cannot be removed, but that if the industries are in fact, a nuisance, then the subject should be handled by the City Council, regardless of the existence of the spur track and the industries should, in that case, be ordered to remove to another district.

Will Investigate Contract.

The owners of Washington Park, in the northwestern part of the city, have presented to the Board of Public Works their plans for the improvement of that tract, with a request for approval.

The Board of Public Works has generally taken the attitude that any contracts covering street work in annexed territory, which had been entered into prior to annexation, should be allowed to proceed without interruption, although they might not strictly accord with the city's specifications. But in this case, protest has been raised before the board that the character of the work proposed is not in keeping with that of adjoining tracts and should not be permitted, and the validity of the contract is questioned. The board has taken the subject under advisement and will investigate the contract.

Want City to Purchase.

The Allied Arts Center Commission yesterday filed with the City Clerk resolutions addressed to the City Council, asking the Council to take steps to secure the water department lot at the southwest corner of Fifth and Olive streets, as the beginning of a project for creating a broad vista or entrance for the Normal School grounds, which the city has obligated itself to purchase for a municipal auditorium site. The petitioners ask that "the City Council take immediate steps to secure this ground and not let it pass into private hands, as such would prove a calamity and a short-sighted policy toward the civic improvement of Los Angeles."

Must Secure Permits.

City Attorney Shenk has advised Building Superintendent Backus that permits for public school buildings, either in construction or alteration projects, and for State buildings, such as the new Normal School buildings and the Armory, must be secured from the city's building department.

This would mean a considerable increase in the total valuation of building permits issued by the city, as heretofore such structures have not been required to secure a permit.

In fact, a former opinion of the City Attorney was contrary to the present one, but the new decision is based on a recent determination of the court, in the case wherein the city of Pasadena as the defendant in an action brought by the Pasadena City School District, through the Board of Education of that city, and which was for the purpose of having declared unconstitutional Pasadena's ordinance requiring the issuance of permits for erection of school buildings. The court held that the Pasadena ordinance applies properly to all buildings within the city limits.

Must Clear the Way.

Plans for the construction of the Hill-street tunnel provide for a five-foot cement walk on the westerly side of Hill street, from Court street, northerly. It is found by the City Engineer's corps that a brick retaining wall and a frame building encroach upon the sidewalk line, and the Board of Public Works has ordered their immediate removal by the property owners.

Renews Recommendation.

The Board of Public Utilities has renewed its recommendation to the City Council that it grant the application of the Southern Pacific for spur tracks on Alameda street between Macy and Apablasa streets, notwithstanding the fact that the Council's committee presented a substitute plan.

Three spur tracks are involved in this procedure, the intent of the applications being simply to legalize existing tracks now used by business concerns for loading and unloading cars.

The tracts are wholly upon the property of the Southern Pacific, except the necessary turn-offs or connections with the main line track in Alameda street, and the substitute plan proposed by the Council committee would reduce the amount of trackage to be used for loading or unloading cars nearly 15 per cent., and would require the purchase of additional land. The Utilities Board holds that the latter plan would not secure for the city or its business men benefits commensurate with the cost thereof. The subject goes to the Legislation Committee for reconsideration.

City Hall Brevities.

The Board of Public Works has approved the plan of the City Engineer to provide a roadway forty feet in width on Verdugo road from the north city boundary to San Fernando road, which will be a connection with the county's good roads system.

Extensive repairs of paving along the Los Angeles Railway tracks in San Pedro street, between Fifth and Jefferson streets, are to be postponed, decided the Board of Public Works, until the city's suit involving the right of the corporation to maintain its tracks in this street is decided, which is expected within a comparatively short time. Temporary repairs will be made to keep the street in reasonably good condition for the present.

The owners of Country Club Park petitioned the Board of Public Works yesterday to place bridges across the the Arroyo de la Brea at Wilton place and Arlington street, similar to bridges that have been provided for at other street crossings of this arroyo. The City Engineer was instructed to furnish estimates of the cost and the City Council will be asked to pass upon the request.

The Board of Public Works issued instructions to the street railway companies yesterday to discontinue the practice of allowing bundles of newspapers to be thrown from cars at points along the routes, as these frequently fall into the streets and there have been narrow escapes from auto accidents, because of them. Trainmen have handled these papers in four instances.

TANGLED SKEIN STUMPS JURORS.

CAN'T UNRAVEL MYSTERY OF PROMISSORY NOTE.

All-Night Session Results in Failure to Agree and Case Will Be Retried—Man Apparently Loses Interest in Woman's Boy When She Refuses to Marry Him.

A promissory note suit for $1250 and $500 attorney's fees proved more than a jury in Judge Craig's court could unravel. When court was opened yesterday morning, the foreman reported a disagreement, stating that the jurors had not slept all night. The court discharged them, and the case will be retried.

F. W. Postker, the plaintiff, lived with Mrs. Rosa B. Lowry and her husband for years. Nine years ago, a son was born to Mrs. Lowry. When the boy was three months old, John Leggett, a relative, arrived from the East, admired the little chap and desired to take him to his home and raise him.

Postker is alleged to have told Mrs. Lowry if she would not give the boy up he would pay his expenses. Leggett went away without the child. Mrs. Lowry placed a market value on the keep of her son of $25 a month. Two years ago she gave Postker her note for $2500. Meantime there was a divorce action. Postker sued for the money on the note, Mrs. Lowry alleging that she gave the instrument as evidence of the money he had been paying her for the keep of the lad.

Letters were produced at the trial which had passed between Postker and Mrs. Lowry after the divorce. They were of an endearing nature, but in some, Postker made reference to Mrs. Lowry's refusal to marry him. Later he married and this appeared to have strained the entente cordiale which had hitherto existed.

LOSES HIS WEAPONS.

CONSTABLE IN QUANDARY.

A billy, revolver and a pair of handcuffs, a constable and William Carney formed a triangle yesterday. Carney was washing his hands on the third floor of the Hall of Records when, glancing up, he saw the gun and the cuffs and then the billy. No one was in sight, and believing he was dreaming, he rubbed his eyes. But the weapons were tangible. Morever, the gun was suspended from the belt, holding the billy, and Carney ducked.

Carney appropriated the hardware and deposited it with Custodian Davis. An hour later a perturbed constable hunted up Davis and claimed the weapons. He said he had not missed them for some time and could not remember where he had left them.

LIKE A PHOTOGRAPH.

JUDGE'S ACCURATE MEMORY.

Judge Monroe's long memory spelled trouble yesterday for Attorney S. O. D. Gray. The court declared Gray had acted for both parties in a divorce suit. The facts in the case which will lead to the District Attorney acting, appear to be that some time ago Henry Passow brought divorce proceedings, charging Mrs. May K. Passow with cruelty. The decree was denied, and Passow was ordered to pay maintenance. Judge Monroe remarked that there was probably cause for desertion, if Mrs. Passow brought an action against her husband. She did not ask for a divorce in her cross-complaint.

Later, the same attorney appeared for Mrs. Passow in a suit for desertion and non-support. Judge Monroe remembered, and he wanted to know why the lawyer represented the wife when he had appeared for the husband. It developed that the lawyer had sent for Mrs. Passow and advised her to file suit.

The court referred to these facts yesterday in denying Mrs. Passow a decree, because, he said, there had been collusion. He suggested to Dennison & Towner, counsel for Mrs. Passow, that they ask the District Attorney for a complaint, charging Passow with non-support.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

LIFE SENTENCE. C. P. Smith was sent to San Quentin for life by Judge Finlayson yesterday. Smith pleaded guilty to a statutory offense, the complaining witness being his 14-year-old stepdaughter. In passing sentence the court intimated that while he gave him the full penalty under the law, the offense merits even greater punishment.

DAMAGE SUIT. Mrs. Alice Mortell filed suit for $50,000 against the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy yesteray, alleging that as the result of an operation she suffers from serious internal trouble. She alleges the operation was not skillfully performed.

RYAN ESTATE. James A. Ryan filed a petition for letters of administration on the estate of his fatrer, the late Martic J. Ryan, who died last Wednesday. The value of the estate is placed in excess of $10,000. It consists of real estate, cash and personal property not specified. The heirs are the children, George E. Ryan of New York, Martin J., Angeline V., Thomas F., James A., Ryan and the latter's son, and Katherine R. Dooidge of Porto Rico.

INCORPORATIONS. Los Angeles Tuna Canning Company, incorporators, Henry Grimm, Hugh Ceright, Fred Grimm; capital stock, $100,000; subscribed, $3. MORE COMPLAINTS FILED.

Many Witnesses to Testify in Allegation of Criminal Conspiracy Against Benefit Officers.

As the result of the publicity given to the arrest of John F. Ford and Leon T. Cory, president and secretary respectively of the Mutual Benefit and Loan Company, having an office in the Security Building, a number of women called upon Deputy District Attorney Veitch yesterday to lodge similar complaints of alleged misrepresentation. Ford and Cory are charged with criminal conspiracy. Their preliminary examination will be held this week before Justice Dunham in Pasadena.

Ford and Cory, according to Detective Zeigler and other officers, have operated a fraudulent scheme for selling worthless lots located on a rocky hill a mile or so from Lake Elsinore. Affidavits from real estate men of that vicinity set forth that the lots are far from water, transportation and are useless for any purpose.

The plan as outlined in the attractive literature issued by the Mutual Benefit and Loan Society is to give away the lots provided the "investors" pay $12.50 for a deed and other expenses. The recipients of the "generous" offer are also asked to join the society.

Cory says the lots are given away in order to attract interest in the concern, which furnishes free legal advice, gives sick benefits and provides a host of other things for its members. Both Cory and Ford profess to be indignant at their arrest and declare they will be easily able to prove their plan is legitimate.

"As far as I can learn, scores of poor women have been induced to accept lots," said Deputy District Attorney Veitch. "I believe the evidence will show the plan is a swindle and that by means of false and fraudulent representations these women are induced to part with their money.

"The small price charged by the defendants does not enter into the case. If the State can prove criminal conspiracy it will make no difference if the lots were sold for $1 or given away."

HOUSE ON WRONG LOT.

Man Who Built It Loses It and Must Moreover Pay for Lot on Which He Didn't Build.

Samuel E. Scott believes that fate dealt him a raw deal. He owned a lot, desired to build a house on it, borrowed $1500 from the Provident Mutual Building Loan Association and built the house on the lot adjoining his. He gave a note secured by a trust deed, and failed to continue payments.

The trustee bought the lot on which the house was built from the owner for $650 and applied this sum to the balance of the debt owed by Scott. Then suit was brought on the note and Judge Craig gave judgment yesterday against Scott. It was held that the trust deed became inoperative as soon as the lot on which the house stood was sold.

The house Scott built on his neighbor's lot became a fixture and a part of the lot. The owner of that lot could have claimed it. The building was discovered one day and the lot holder moved into it, wondering what fairy had provided the home. Scott not only loses the house but must pay the balance of the money borrowed from the building association.

RIBS UP NEW SCHEME.

Rabid Unionite and Friends Apparently Intend to Evade Police Dance-hall Ordinance.

W. A. Engle, rabid labor-union walking delegate who was fired from a fat job in the Labor Temple a short time ago, blossomed out yesterday as a director in a society which is apparently designed to give public dances in a way to evade the police ordinance covering dance halls, according to a careful investigation made by the city and county officials.

The name of the corporation is the Young People's Pastime and Aid Society. The place of business is 120 South Grand avenue, the purpose of the society is to give and entertainments. The directors are Ida Bemis, Joe Mayer and F. E. Judy. It is believed Engle intends to give dances under the auspices of the society in order to evade, with other labor-union leaders, the police ordinance.

Despite Engle's new venture, Secretary Butler and others in the Labor Temple, he has a host of friends among many of the unionists, and is the one responsible for the initiative dance-hall ordinance which was wiped out at the election on charter amendments.

An informal opinion by one of the deputies in the District Attorney's office is that a corporation organized to get around a city ordinance will be amenable to the police supervision that is now exercised over public dance halls. The fact that membership in such a corporation will not entitle the members to any more privileges than accorded to couples going to any public dance.

The City Prosecutor will withhold passing judgment until the Young People's Pastime and Aid Society does give dances. The Secretary of State must first approve the articles of incorporation and give it legal standing.

PLAN TO MERGE TWO BANKS

WILL UNITE MERCHANTS' AND NIGHT AND DAY.

New Institution Controls Three-Quarters of a Million in Deposits of Six Millions Will Be Known as Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

Plans for the proposed consolidation of the Merchants' Bank and Trust company and the All Night and Day Bank is to be known as the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank and will have for its president I. W. Hellman, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank, and a director of its board of directors; Robert Holliday, president of the Security Savings Bank and National Bank, while Irving M. Scott, president of the Union Iron Works, will be vice-president. Marco H. Hellman, according to the plans outlined yesterday by Marco H. Hellman.

"When the consolidation is effected," he said, "the new institution will have a paid in capital of $750,000, a surplus of $365,000, and deposits of about $6,000,000. There will be about 10,000 depositors in the new bank. The Merchants' Bank and Trust Company has a paid-in capital of $500,000, and the All Night and Day Bank a paid-in capital of about $250,000. Since the latter part of last year the deposits in the All Night and Day Bank have increased from $311,000 to $400,000 at the present time.

"The Merchants' Bank and Trust Company maintains a branch institution at Union Square, and this will be kept up after the consolidation. It is our plan to establish a branch office at Tenth and Hill streets.

"The All Night and Day Bank will be known as the All Night and Day branch of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank and the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company branch."

It is presumed that the entire force of the All Night and Day Bank and the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company will continue in the employ of the directors of the new institution.

The control of the two banks is vested in the heirs of the late I. W. Hellman, deceased, and in Robert Holliday. It is considered that the combining of the two institutions will make a very strong bank.

The move of the Hellman interests in taking over the two institutions was regarded as the first notification of the policy being followed by the national banks of this city in establishing subsidiary banks for the purpose of carrying on a savings bank business. The control to the All Night and Day Bank was acquired several years ago, and the control to the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company the latter part of last year. Both have been maintained separately.

It is regarded as probable that the new institution will be strengthened by the taking over of other banks later, and it is expected that provisions are to be made for such an event.

DEATH ENDS GOOD WORK.

Head of Church of Christ in Tokio Passes Away Suddenly This Afternoon.

Funeral services over the remains of Rev. William J. Bishop, for many years head of the mission of the Church of Christ in Tokio, Japan, will be conducted in Monrovia this afternoon at 2 p.m. Rev. C. C. Klingensmith of Monrovia and Rev. Clark Morey of Monrovia will officiate at the services, the undertaking parlors.

Continuous and arduous labors in the missionary field, which he thought for his own personal welfare, brought upon Rev. Bishop the dread tubercular disease. His friends in the Orient insisted that he take a rest and time for recuperation, and on February 1 he left Tokio with his wife and three children, arriving at Tokio and sailed for Los Angeles.

He came directly to Los Angeles and then went to Monrovia, where he entered a sanatorium, but his means were expended and he succumbed to the white plague on Friday last. The family was notified by wire and Rev. Bishop and the children arrived here as soon as it is possible to do so. In addition to his work in the affairs of the Japan mission, he also published the Japan Evangelist.

J. D. Elliott, father-in-law of the minister, arrived yesterday morning from Dallas, where he is the manager of a music company and has charge of the arrangements for the funeral. Rev. Mr. Bishop was a pioneer in Los Angeles and obtained his first newspaper experience on the Herald under Harry Chandler, turning from newspaper work to the ministry.

CHECK FORGERY.

Deputy District Attorney Veitch issued a complaint against Ed Hall yesterday upon a charge of forging a fictitious check. The check, which is for $35, drawn on the Home Savings and Savings Bank. The warrant was given to a constable and it is expected the defendant will probably be arraigned in the Justice Court today.

PLAN TO MERGE TWO BANKS SOON.

WILL UNITE MERCHANTS' TRUST AND NIGHT AND DAY.

New Institution Capitalized at Three-Quarters of a Million With Deposits of Six Millions Will Be Known as Heilman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

Plans for the proposed combining of the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company and the All Night and Day Bank, the control in both of which has been acquired by the Holliday-Heilman interests, are practically perfected, and it is expected that the planned amalgamation will be accomplished shortly.

The new institution growing out of the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company and the All Night and Day Bank is to be known as the Heilman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, and will have for its president, Marco H. Heilman, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank, and as chairman of its board of directors, W. H. Holliday, president of the Merchants' National Bank, while Irving H. Heilman will be vice-president, according to the plans outlined yesterday by Marco H. Heilman.

"When the consolidation is effected," he said, "the new institution will have a paid in capital of $750,000, a surplus of $365,000, and deposits of about $6,000,000. There will be some $4,000,000 deposits in the aggregate. The Merchants' Bank and Trust Company has a paid-in capital of about $150,000, and the All Night and Day Bank paid-in capital of about $400,000. Since the latter part of 1910, the deposits in the All Night and Day Bank have increased from $322,000 to $4,400,000 at the present time.

"The Merchants' Bank and Trust Company maintains a branch institution at Union Square, and this will be kept up after the consolidation. It is our plan to establish another branch at Tenth and Hill streets.

"The All Night and Day Bank will be known as the All Night and Day branch of the Heilman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank and the Merchants' Bank and Trust as the Broadway branch."

It is presumed that the directorates of the All Night and Day Bank and the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company will continue in the same capacity as directors of the new institution.

The control of the two banks is vested in the heirs of Herman W. Heilman, deceased, and in W. H. Holliday. It is considered that the combining of the two institutions will make a very strong bank.

The move of the Holliday-Heilman interests in taking over the two institutions was regarded as an example of the policy lately pursued by the national banks of this city in establishing subsidiary banks for the purpose of carrying on a savings and trust business. The control in the All Night and Day Bank was acquired about two years ago, and the control in the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company was better part of last year. AN ENTIRE SUCCESS.

A man who wrote bad checks at Santa Ana was given a sentence of ten years. His venture was a staggering financial coup. Had he got away with the goods he could have paid his board bill for about ten days. Now he will live ten whole years without any additional effort.

ANOTHER FREAK.

The constitutional amendment, as a means of reversing the natural order of things, has at last met its Waterloo. The State Senate is attempting, by the use of this weapon, to make San Francisco grow as fast as Los Angeles is doing. It is useless for man to thus set himself against his Creator.

SLAMMED AGAIN.

California certainly takes care of her own. Regardless of what honor its prophets may have abroad, they certainly stand well at home. Wednesday night a Los Angeles woman went to a party given by Mrs. W. J. Bryan. Thursday night she attended a dance at the Congressional Club and was happy in the possession of an invitation for Mrs. Wilson's breakfast. Nevertheless her neighbors at Annandale put her up Friday for school trustee of the Nithsdale district and she won without opposition.

EQUINES AHEAD.

Observations taken from a trolley car yesterday, about the noon hour, between the corner of Stephenson and Spence, and the corner of First and Spring streets, show that there passed 122 vehicles drawn by horses, 84 autos and 13 motorcycles.

Let not the honking autos flatter themselves that they have driven the equines from the field. The horses, it may be observed, were mostly beasts of burden pulling loaded vehicles, and the autos beasts of prey pulling at the pocket-books of their occupants.

WELL FILLED.

Ex-President Taft not only filled the new chair of law professor in Yale University—he went one better; he overfilled it. It is hard to fit a great man into a chair built for a smaller one, mentally or physically. It is easier to turn a college professor into a President than to convert a President into a college professor.

Yet we venture to say in the sweet, sunny courting days of William, before he had grown so great, he would have found plenty of room for two in any chair he now finds too small for one.

TAKING IT EASY.

Pasadena did not put up much of a fight when it came to the election of five commissioners who will have charge of that city's affairs. Not half of the qualified voters went to the polls. Evidently the election of five Mayors is much easier than the selection of one. We trust that the quintette will make a grand symphony of public affairs over there, but we have our doubts. It will be too much like the disagreeing juryman who reported to the judge that the case would be all right and the verdict forthcoming if it wasn't for the eleven stubborn blockheads with whom he was associated.

NOT OUR QUARREL.

A lady from Michigan went to London. While there she engaged in the fight for woman's suffrage and fell into the cheerful habit of breaking windows and thrusting hatpins under the ribs of policemen. They put her in jail and she joined the hunger strike. A few Americans now want the United States to intervene. We do not know whether the desire is to have Uncle Sam force the lady to eat a civil breakfast or whether the hope is that this country will free English women as the North once declared for the abolition of slaves in the South. Under any circumstances we imagine that this is not an American quarrel, and if one of our charming women is led to forget herself by doing in London as London does, she can only take the London punishment.

SUBURBAN NOISES.

Worse than firecrackers on the morning of the Fourth of July, more unendurable than the yowl of the Socialist orator from his soap-box rostrum, a greater infliction than the appeals of the agent of one of our steamed Progressive contemporaries who rings the front door bell and solicits you to become a subscriber to his one-cent newspaper, is the daylight salutation of your neighbor's rooster, followed as it is by the exultations of the bird during the day whenever one of the hens of his harem clucks over the exodus of an egg, with the creation of which he had nothing whatever to do.

Then there is the neighbor who is trying to become a cornet player—trying, but not succeeding. He has some other occupation—probably that of assistant pie-biter in the office of Clarence Darrow—in the daytime. But when dewy eve sinks into the arms of dusky night, as Champ Clark might say, he seats himself on his back porch with his brass instrument of sonorous torture in his hand and toots, and toots, and toots until the tympanums of your ears shrink with agony. He starts to play the "Star Spangled Banner" and gets as far as "the dawn's early light." Then he stops and starts over again. It is not given to him to play more than two bars of the tune, though he has probably played every bar in the downtown district before he started for home. Between the rooster in the morning and the musician in the evening suburban life has its disadvantages.

THE ASSASSINATING AMAZONS.

The female dynamiters of England and their apologists are making the same argument in defense of their shameful acts that was made by the McNamaras and their counsel, Clarence Darrow, in justification of their action in blowing up The Times and murdering its innocent workmen, and as was made by Socialist journals in excuse for the scoundrels who were convicted at Indianapolis. The action of England's assassinating Amazons is even less logical than that of their American male prototypes. Ryan and Tveitmoe and the McNamaras destroyed the property of individuals who had incurred their hostility by refusing to submit to the exactions of the labor unions. Mrs. Pankhurst and her allies do not discriminate between friends and foes, but involve both in common ruin.

The apologists for the murder and dynamiting done by these monstrous women anarchists urge that by these means only can they get a hearing; that all other methods have failed; that they are "good girls," but forced to take extreme measures in a great cause; that the members of Parliament did not treat them fairly; that it is all the ruling classes' fault; that the suffragettes are engaged in war and are therefore permitted to resort to war measures; that those who do not approve of their acts are ignorant of existing conditions in England. These are precisely the arguments set forth by Darrow in his eulogy of the "poor boys" who dynamited the Times Building and murdered twenty of The Times men. They are the same old specious pleas for anarchy, for massacre, for well-poisoning, for "direct action."

The basic principle of both the American male destructionists and the English women who are following and exceeding their evil example is that the way to obtain a change in the law is not to appeal to the reason of lawmakers, but to violate all law. Their doctrine is that anarchy is the necessary preliminary to readjustment, that a cause not in itself wrong or evil can best be promoted by an orgie of criminality. They would wrest from Parliament a right that is denied them by a carnival of destruction that includes the property and which threatens to include the lives of those who have denied them nothing.

The press cablegrams yesterday stated that "at Llantarnam, Newport and other points in Monmouthshire women cut telephone and telegraph wires, isolating whole districts. In Glasgow suffragettes smashed windows on the Labor Exchange and caused other damage in their rioting. No foreign foe in the history of England has tied up the resources and paralyzed the industries of Great Britain as have the militant suffragists in their reign of terror. London, the greatest and biggest city of all Europe, virtually is an armed camp today, shop windows are boarded up and retail business is almost entirely suspended. The telegraph, the nerve system of the country, is hopelessly paralyzed, depots have been blown up, trains burned and art galleries wrecked."

The relation between the end sought by the militant suffragettes and the means adopted to secure that end is so grotesquely illogical, so ridiculously absurd that it is difficult to seriously discuss it.

These militant suffragette fools—for they are fools as well as criminals—do not seek from Parliament laws to prohibit child labor, or to establish a minimum wage for women, or to limit their hours of toil, or to provide compulsory compensation for injuries, or to establish houses of shelter for the unfortunate, or to regulate court procedure, or to ameliorate, alter or affect the industrial status of women. They propose a wholesale destruction of property that will entail suspension of labor, and suffering and desolation to tens of thousands of homes with the apparent expectation that in order to avert such destruction Parliament will give them the ballot.

It is inconceivable that a Parliament of Englishmen will be thus moved to do anything of the kind. But suppose it should, and then suppose a band of militant anti-woman suffragists should inaugurate a similar campaign of violence to continue until Parliament should repeal the woman suffrage law—what then?

Once establish the precedent that violence can be successfully used to procure the enactment of a law, and all laws and all government would be engulfed in a vortex of disaster.

Do these women consider the ruin they are bringing to their own lives and the lives of their children by their crimes? What man in his senses would marry a female dynamiter or employ her, or admit a jailbird to his household? If a woman dynamites a house in order to obtain a vote, how can she find fault with a highwayman who proposes to submit her home to similar treatment unless she gives him her money and jewelry. If she tears the coat from a man's back because he is opposed to woman suffrage can she logically object to having her gown stripped from her shoulders because she favors it?

If the criminal lunacy of the militant suffragettes of London is anything more than a passing craze of a small number of women—if it has really infected a majority or any large number of the females of England, God help our mother country!

THE FALLACIES OF SOCIALISM.

Socialism proposes to substitute collective ownership of property for private ownership. It does not propose any more than capitalism to give to the worker the full result of his labor. It would deduct from such results the use of the machinery for production, and the cost of distribution. The man who made four pair of shoes with machinery furnished by the co-operative commonwealth, and who sold them through the agency of the co-operative commonwealth, would not receive the sums paid by the consumers for the four pair of shoes. He might receive half the proceeds in trades, the other half going into the treasury of the Socialist corporation.

If the capitalist who employs the laborer is, as is claimed by Socialists, his master, would the worker be any better off by having a co-operative commonwealth for his master? The common experience of mankind has demonstrated that corporations, whether public or private, whether organized for profit or for benevolence, are no more generous or just than the individuals who compose them. As John Randolph once said: "Corporations have neither noses to pull, breeches to kick nor souls to be damned." It is not clear that a Socialist industrial corporation would give the worker who joined it any more of the comforts or necessaries of life for his labor than he now earns, and he would lose the right which he now enjoys to select his own vocation and field of effort, and expend his earnings without dictation or supervision. Union labor has already found that the tyranny of a walking delegate or labor leader may be more drastic and more unreasoning than that of the most exacting employer.

Socialism demands collective ownership of land, mines, forests, oil fields, coal beds, factories, furnaces, railroads and steamers. It demands that in the use of natural resources and machinery profit be altogether eliminated from both producer and middlemen, and that the profit should go to the Socialists' Co-operative Commonwealth. What benefit this would be to the worker is not made clear.

Socialism would dispense with "wholesale establishments, retail concerns, banks, newspapers, lawyers, courts, brokers, agents, superfluous offices and business headquarters, interest, dividends and rent."

"Socialism," says Mr. Richardson, "has for its final purpose the organization of industry and society generally on such a basis as will eliminate the non-essential. It would so organize society that each member thereof must, in order to exist, perform some sort of useful, needful function. It does not propose to compel any person to do any certain thing or particular sort of work. But it does propose that each shall enjoy the social product of labor in proportion to his contribution to that labor."

Socialism says: "You shall not live upon the wealth you have inherited from your father. You shall not live upon the wealth dug by other hands out of the mine you located or purchased from the locator. You shall not live upon the wealth derived from the patented labor-saving device that your mind devised. You shall not live by brain toil. Work with your hands or starve." That is the socialism of Marx, and Prudhomme, and Richardson, and other honest but impractical dreamers whose heads are in the clouds while their feet wander into the quicksands.

But such is not the socialism of Darrow, and Harriman, and Tveitmoe, and McCarthy, and Gompers and Earl. Their socialism is not in the least dream-like. It is entirely practical. It is nothing but practical. They are not after the "fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man." They are after the offices. They are after an opportunity to handle the millions of public money that will be disbursed in Los Angeles in the next few years. Each one of these Socialist leaders says to himself, though not to his followers, I do not seek to be a general or a colonel or a captain in this army, but—

"I will sutler be unto the camp
And profits shall accrue."

A MINIMUM WAGE LAW.

It is by no means clear that the passage of the minimum wage law, now under consideration at Sacramento, would prove of any substantial advantage to those whom it is intended to benefit. There is as much difference in the value of labor, skilled or unskilled, as there is in the value of any other commodity. One cabbage, or one bushel of potatoes, or one box of strawberries may be of greater intrinsic or market value than another cabbage, or another bushel of potatoes, or another box of berries. One woman may be able to sew more yards of cloth in an hour or put up more jars of fruit in a day than another woman; one man can excavate more cubic yards of earth in a day than another man; one shingler can cover more square feet of roof in a day than another shingler. The value of labor depends as much upon the industry and skill of the worker as the value of potatoes or pickles depends upon their excellence.

Again, fixing a minimum wage for one worker may tend to diminish the maximum wage of another worker. There is nothing in the law to compel the employer to give work to anybody if it will not pay him to do so. The conditions in one locality, such as the cost of rent, fuel and food, may differ from those in another locality, so that a minimum wage in one State may not be equal to a minimum wage in another State. If the wages of a wool spinner or a carpet weaver in California are made by law very much higher than those of a similar worker in Massachusetts or New Jersey, the inevitable result would be that the California manufacturer would be compelled to go out of business.

No law that man can enact will equalize the inequalities either of nature or of man. You cannot fit a number five hat upon a number seven head or make a grown man's coat other than a misfit upon the shoulders of a 10-year-old boy.

A minimum wage law would work an injury to those who from any cause are unable to do a full day's work, for it would prevent them from obtaining employment.

"The world is governed too much."

Would Crush Her.

NO INDEMNITY.

Turkey is willing as a condition of peace to cede to Bulgaria all of Turkey in Europe east and north of a certain line. Bulgaria demands a little more territory, but will probably be willing to accept the country that Turkey offers.

Bulgaria demands in addition a war indemnity in cash, which Turkey is not presently able to pay. And now "the powers," the meddlesome powers, declare not only against the receipt by Bulgaria of a war indemnity, but insist that Bulgaria shall assume the payment of such portion of the Turkish debt as would be represented by the taxable value of the territory that Turkey shall cede to Bulgaria. The bonds of Turkey are held by London, Paris and Berlin bankers, which will account for this strange demand of "the powers."

One of the Southern States many years ago enacted a law that if one man killed another in a duel the survivor should be liable for the debts of the man he had killed. This is the first time in the history of nations that the victors have been expected to assume payment of the debts of the vanquished. It is not likely that victorious Bulgaria will consent to the terms proposed by the powers.

LOSING HIS WARTS.

Our New York steamed contemporary, the Wart Hog, who abides in Barnum and Bailey's circus in Madison Square Garden, has lost his warts. His keeper has proclaimed the sad tidings.

First, the wart of hostility to Big Business, which was on his larboard ear, dropped off. Then the wart of antagonism to Predatory Wealth, which adorned his starboard eye, disappeared. Next the wart of hatred of Loathsome Capitalism, which made prominent his unattractive snout, was eliminated. Lastly the great wart on his throat, which helped him to chortle and grunt and swear that he would never, never, hardly ever support any ticket for city offices that should be nominated by those who had suddenly ceased to listen to his counsel and follow his grunts was snatched into the void. There he was, no longer a unique hog admired by his fellow-men, but just an unattractive, waddling bundle of porcine flesh.

He will probably be turned out of the circus. A leopard who changes his spots, or a hyena with his stripes painted out, or a camel without a hump to his name, or a lion with his mane shaved, or a trunkless elephant, or a tailless tiger may be tolerated, but not a wartless hog.

The warts have been picked up and pickled as souvenirs, and the hog—denuded of his attractions—muses in front of them and sighs:

"Fare thee well, and if forever, Still forever fare thee well."

WHAT IS FAILURE?

BY HARRY BOWLING.

Our working hours, and very often our social hours also, are spent among people who reckon up success and failure only in the terms of dollars and cents. So we are apt to consider this the one criterion. According to the rating of Dunn and Bradstreet, it is comparatively easy to answer the question, "Who are the successes?" Yet if we adopted this single standard we might find that, but for its failures, the world would be as cold and desolate as the moon.

I have in mind the story of a poor musician who lived some time ago in the city of London. His name I have forgotten—it doesn't matter; he was never heard of by the great world; probably he belonged to the endless family of Smiths.

Day after day, and far into the night, he spent his whole time covering reams of blank manuscript music with bars and notes, crochets, quavers and minims. With plodding persistency he submitted the fruit of his labors to the various music publishing houses. He met everywhere with a generally courteous, but always firm, refusal. There was no money in publishing the doubtful fancies of an unknown musician. The givers of concerts declined his arias and his songs; they might not "draw;" why should they take the risk? The Sullivans and Tostis had already covered the field.

Having a near starvation income to rely on—about $5 a week—he did not join some obscure orchestra and so earn enough to eke out his small pittance. This, while it would have brought him some few comforts, would have interfered with his fruitless labors. His ambition was as large as his means were scanty. So he went on writing his bars and notes, spending half his income on blank music sheets; most of these afterwards served as fuel for heating his morning coffee. It was his one small economy.

As he grew older and grayer and apparently more useless and of less account in a practical world, his few acquaintances always spoke of him as "the failure." Indeed, while still nourishing his ambition, he admitted the justice of the title.

One day he took his old violin with him into the poorest quarters of the city; the slums that cling like barnacles to the broad highway of Whitechapel. Amid the squalor and destitution of endless courts and alleys he gave to the people for the first time the results of his life of failure, the compositions written at the expense of all the world holds profitable. After a while he heard a shuffle of feet. Unkempt, ragged, mirthless children were being drawn from cellars and garrets and dark corners by the magical squeak of the fiddle. Before nightime he was surrounded by a medley of urchins, dirty of face, neglected, stunted, born of poverty and disease, but for the time boisterously happy, curtseying, bobbing, rollicking, leaping, dancing to the music begotten of his own heart-breaking solitude.

After that the old composer got into the habit of sallying forth every fine afternoon with his fiddle and bow to play his unpublished and unsalable tunes for the benefit of the city waifs and Arabs. The pennies sometimes flung down to him from tenement windows (for generous impulses among the very poor are foolishly sublime) he stacked up on the curbstone and awarded at sunset to the boy or girl whose dancing he deemed most worthy of his themes. No theatrical manager picking out the leaders in a corps de ballet, on whose judgment thousands of dollars depended, was more discriminating in his taste.

The director of a famous orchestra, who in youth had been a fellow-student of the old musician, came across him one spring afternoon playing his fiddle to the squalid children, a pitiful handful of half-pence lying on an old piece of greasy newspaper between him and his ragged audience. The tunes he played were as out of rhythm as the fiddle was out of tune.

"Ah!" said the great director sadly, "has it come to this? Another promising student turned out a miserable failure! Playing bad music in the slums for tenement pennies."

"A failure!" The old musician straightened his stooped shoulders; and Rouget de Lisle, when he heard his "Marseillaise" had been adopted as the French national hymn, or Gounod, when he heard his "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust whistled in the streets of Paris, never exhibited a finer sense of triumph. "A failure indeed—look!" and he nodded toward a score of children with happy faces, tripping fantastically to the scraping of his old fiddle—jigging to tunes as mirthless as his starved existence.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

How blessed is the man who asks no office, low or high, who rustles at his useful tasks, nor yearns to bleed and die! No spoiled ambitions make him sore or cause him to repine; and every day, at every door, he gets the "Welcome" sign. He is no politician's pup, to follow him through town; no whippersnapper higher up can ever call him down. He does not need to whine and sob in some cheap statesman's ears, that he may hold his dinky job another term of years. It isn't needful to pretend he loves the unwashed jay; he needn't call his bosom friend each rube who comes his way. He cares not for the smiles or frowns of people in high place, but, in his old blue hand-me-downs, he toils with skill and grace. From all official fetters free, he herds his lowing kine, and prunes the spreading pumpkin tree, and trains the cabbage vine. Administrations oft may change, and patriots may weep; such things do not his plans derange, or make him lose his sleep. Let others break their hearts to nab those prizes dear to men; all quietly he keepeth tab upon his setting hen. How blessed is the man who'd take no office, small or big! Who'd rather stay at home and make a boudoir for his pig!

A Ready Student.

[Tit-Bits:] Rev. Dr. Ritchie of Edinburgh, though a very clever man, once met his match. When examining a student as to the classes he attended, he said: "I understand you attend the class for mathematics?" "Yes." "How many sides has a circle?" "Two," said the student. "Indeed! What are they?" What a laugh in the court the student's answer produced when he promptly said: "An inside and an outside"! The doctor next inquired: "And you attend the moral philosophy class, also?" "Yes." "Well, you doubtless heard lectures on various subjects. Did you ever hear one on cause and effect?" "Yes." "Does an effect ever go before a cause?" "Yes." "Give me an instance." "A barrow wheeled by a man." The doctor hastily sat down, and proposed no more questions.

MAIDENHOOD.

You have raised the cup to your lips to drink,
You have opened your eyes to new Fearless you stand upon the brink,
Where many have stood, to plunge or sink,
Through the wash of the waves to the unknown graves
In the depths of an angry sea.

Ah, child, girl child, is it well you know
You are pure and young, and the world is hard;
You stand on the threshold now and glow
To pass the gates; but the world is slow,
There are thorns to reap, there are tears to weep,
And many feet are scarred.

We must walk the road till the close of day
But you—why grieve before you must?
'Twere better far your feet should stray
Through fields than tread life's dreary way
Better you sing and the young voice ring
Than that your heart should bleed.

Ah, tarry awhile and stay your hand
Nor open the gate to sorrow and fear.
Tarry awhile in the golden land,
There is time and to spare in fairyland
Stay your feet where the streams run sweet Tarry a little yet.

...Murphy toward his nephew.

GOES INTO DETAILS.

...The startling story was related
...Bohanon yesterday on the witness
...and he went into details describ...ing his relations with the slain
...man and the alleged efforts of his ...uncle to win her away from him.
..."I will make a queen of you and ...give you the best there is to be had ...anywhere in the world if you will ...leave him and come with me," it ...is said he urged to have been used
...by Murphy, himself a married man
...and father of five children in Minne...sota.

...In order further to discredit his ...uncle it is said to have written ...Bohanon's parents urging them to ...break off his relations with Mrs. Mat-
...tocks. Learning of these efforts,
...according to Bohanon, Mrs. Mattis
...Smith and her lover wrote to the par...ents of the young man telling of their ...intention to marry and advising them
...of the alleged pernicious activity of ...Mrs. Moore in seeking to cause trouble.
...It was upon receipt of these letters,
...according to the witness, that Bo-
...hanon's mother wrote to her brother,
...Murphy, telling him not to visit her
...at her Kansas home as he had in...tended and saying that because of his ...treatment of her son she wanted never
...to see him again. About the same ...time Murphy got a letter from Mrs.
...Smith spurning his offers and ...refusing to have anything to do with ...him.

...Murphy, according to Bohanon's
...story, had been drinking hard for ...several days and the theory of the ...District Attorney's office is that it was ...during a state that he went to the Eby
...home the afternoon of the shooting.
...Attorney Howard E. Reach advised
...Bohanon to conceal nothing, but to ...tell the whole truth.

THE WOMAN'S PART?

...That Mrs. Moore plays in the ...affair has not yet been clearly es...tablished. Bohanon said in his testi...mony that he had on four separate
...occasions distinctly requested that Mr.
...Moore not let Murphy know that he ...was living at the Eby home. The ...last time, on April 1 came about
...during the activity of Mrs. Moore
...in arranging a conference. She ...met with her brother and his ...nephew and that she would meet them at ...the Eby home at 2:30 o'clock. This ...it is said was consented to with the ...understanding, according to ...Bohanon, that Murphy was not to ...know anything of it.
...As an indication that Mrs. Moore
...knew something of Murphy's inten...tions concerning her brother and his ...family Bohanon said yesterday that
...Murphy had asked him to meet the uncle
...and that he had refused, whereupon
...Murphy is said to have made the ...remark statement: "But perhaps ...it would better not meet him, I think ...it would be for the best."
...Bohanon will arrive in Los ...Angeles this morning with the avowed ...purpose of assisting the authorities
...in the prosecution of her daughter,
...Mattis, and her brother, Murphy.
...Smith, Kan., upon learning of ...Murphy's death and says she will tell of ...events in the past life of both her ...daughter and her brother, which will ...not at all redound to their credit on either.
...Mattis, according to his sister's ...story, attempted at one time to ...shoot his own father and on another ...occasion struck a son-in-law in the ...face with brass knuckles. His own ...wife, so Mrs. Bohanon says,
...refused to stay at their home because ...of the violence to which he forced them
...to submit.

...Mrs. Moore refused to attend the ...Coroner's inquest yesterday and be...came hysterical when urged to go.
...She was, upon advice of her law...yers, induced to make a statement fol...lowing the Coroner's jury verdict, but ...it is thought she will make a state...ment of her connection with the case
...later.

Too Many Elections.

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] You published today a letter from George Krown and now I want you to give me space enough to answer him. He winds up by saying "A man who shirks his duty as a voter is a coward and a traitor"—then I am one and not ashamed of it. The papers tell us we have 185,000 registered voters in this city. At the last election only about 30,000 voted, so according to Mr. Krown, there are 155,000 "cowards and traitors" in this town. I believe in the majority ruling and am proud to be one of that great majority who showed their contempt for what one man told Mr. Krown these elections were "d—d fool elections!" So they are, as one costs the county at least $20,000. They are criminal and are sure one cause of "high cost of living" in Los Angeles.

I am not a Socialist—but I would rather see the whole Socialist ticket elected than to see one of the present administration again in office, particularly the Board of Education that raised the school tax from 42 to 85 cents, all on account of their extravagance in their new school houses, with their marble toilets for a lot of boisterous kids to mutilate.

Our credit is gone; great enterprises stand still because there are no brains to finish them; and the people are sick and tired of voting, voting all the time every Tuesday and Friday on childish questions. One election a year is sufficient just as one Christmas and one Fourth of July is sufficient.

New Menace.

ORANGE ENEMY IS DISCOVERED.

CHEMIST ISOLATES NEMATODE, SEEKS COUSIN.

Parasite Which Causes Peculiar Sickness to Trees May Be Eradicated by Counter Pest—Female of Species" Deadlier Than Male. Hard Problem to Solve.

With the isolation by E. E. Thomas, assistant chemist of the Whittier plant disease laboratory, of a nematode, probably new to science and certainly new in its relation to the orange tree, citrus fruit authorities believe the hitherto obscure reason for the diminished production of many citrus groves has been uncovered and that in this cousin of the threadworm an enemy has been found that will call for their best combative efforts in the years to come.

In many parts of the State an unhealthy condition of orange groves has been reported the past few years, but always of so indefinite a nature as to hardly be called definite disease. One of the obvious symptoms of this disorder has been a light mottling of the tree leaves, the veins remaining green while the portion between becomes yellow. Following this primary sympton the trees develop other abnormal tendencies, such as a disposition to grow tall and slender, with either profuse bloom or none at all, and fruit, where it is forthcoming, that is small and sickly yellow in color.

Thomas' discovery was made in connection with studies of soil texture and soil moisture in relation to mottled leaf, and data was accumulated at Whittier which suggested that these two factors had something to do with the trouble. But the fact that like soil texture and moisture conditions acted as both abettor and deterrent to the disorder, bred the suspicion that the true cause was more obscure.

As a result, Thomas cast overboard all other findings and began search which finally revealed a microscopic creature with the primal organs, a mouth and an intestinal canal, as the probable cause. The fact that millions of these creatures are to be found in the soil around diseased trees was suggestive. But more suggestive was the fact that these creatures resemble in many particulars the destructive nematode of the beet.

As twice previously nematodes had been reported in connection with citrus trees and the finding in each case disproved, Thomas was reluctant to go on record as the finder of a new nematode. William T. Horne, acting chief, division of plant pathology of the College of Agriculture, University of California, however, in a bulletin recently issued, states that the nematode discovered by Thomas is possibly not new to science but is certainly new in its relation to the orange tree.

"It is probable that we have before us a very difficult problem," states Horne, "one which will take a long time and much original work to solve. The first step will be to demonstrate the precise relation between the nematodes and the unhealthy condition of orange trees. This in itself will require several years in my judgment. The next problem will be to study the life history and habits of these nematodes and their resistance to the various agencies which can be brought against them."

Horne further states that this nematode presents probably the most important of all citrus problems.

Equipped with a spear-like projection above its mouth, the new nematode is cunningly constructed for its work of burrowing into the feeding roots and sucking therefrom the life-blood of the tree. So far as Thomas has been able to observe, the female, as usual, is the chief offender, the males usually being found in gelatinous masses in the soil near the tree. Egg laying, so far, has not been observed. In common with most nematodes, galls and swellings are often found on citrus roots where the creature has penetrated in greedy eagerness for food and has found himself imprisoned. Such knots were reported from Florida in 1889 by J. C. Neal of the Department of Agriculture and also reported in 1901 from Chile, but with only hints as to the possible cause.

Though in many cases infected groves are found side by side with groves in which the pest is not found, it has been demonstrated by Thomas that the nematodes are easily spread by irrigating water, rains and the cultivator.

Herman Jacoby,

Passing On.

REAPER TAKES AGED MERCHANT.

HERMAN JACOBY DIES AT HIS HOME IN THIS CITY.

One of the First Merchants at Wilmington and Identified With Other Pioneers in Promoting Great Enterprises of the Early Days in Southern California.

In the death yesterday of Herman Jacoby, the surviving head of the firm of Jacoby Brothers of this city, another of the pioneers of Southern California has passed away, after a residence here close upon a half century.

The deceased was a native of Loeban, Germany, and came to this country when but a youth, shortly before the Civil War. He at once enlisted in the Union army and served until the close of the war, and then came to Southern California, locating at Wilmington, where he and his brother Nathan entered general merchandising and contracting.

He was a friend and associate of the late Gen. Phineas Banning, and together they were instrumental in having a government barracks established at Wilmington, he becoming paymaster and fiscal agent of the government. He was also one of the prominent promoters of the first railway built in Southern California, linking Los Angeles with the port at Wilmington. Prior to that time the only communication between the northern part of the State and Los Angeles was by steamer to Wilmington, thence to this city by the Banning stage line.

During all the intervening years Mr. Jacoby has been recognised as a man of probity, courtesy and broad hospitality. His large home at Wilmington was the mecca of the elite of the surrounding country. He was married in 1870 to Miss Matilda Edelman, daughter of the late Rabbi A. W. Edelman, the pioneer Jewish minister of Los Angeles. He leaves a widow and two children, N. H. Jacoby of Seattle and Mrs. Morse Silver of New York.

The deceased was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and several fraternal organizations, being one of the charter members of Wilmington Masonic Lodge. The funeral will be held at the residence of W. T. Barnett, No. 1013 Elden avenue, on Tuesday morning, conducted by the officers of Wilmington lodge.

BLACKMAIL LEGALIZED.

Angeleno Returned from Sacramento Says That Will Result If Proposed Bloodgood Bill Is Enacted.

Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company, who returned from Sacramento yesterday, where he went to appear before the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature, declares the committee is apparently partial to the Bloodgood bill, and that this bill "is nothing less than legalized blackmail on legitimate corporations, and especially on manufacturing industries."

"This bill evidently was prepared with the idea of incorporating every undesirable feature of every other proposed bill, inclusive of the Thelen act. If it becomes a law it will work untold hardship on corporations and manufacturers and will not accomplish the one purpose which we so much desire, that of placing a check on fake companies.

"I regard the Russ Avery bill as the fairest before the Legislature. It would surely bring about the desired check on illegitimate concerns.

"In the Thelen bill is the provision that every corporation, firm, partnership or individual must submit all of its advertising copy to a commissioner to be read, approved and returned before it can be published or circulated. Hundreds of deputies would be needed at $15 a day and expenses to check advertising copy. This bill also would prevent a factory company from increasing its capital or borrowing money for legitimate growth."

THE TIMES is pleased to announce the distribution of a very handsome Scrap Book to its patrons, at a nominal cost. With this book it is possible to make a very valuable work of reference by clipping daily articles from THE TIMES on subjects that may interest you personally; articles of historical or statistical value, or articles from your favorite contributor. The Sunday Times especially contains much information along these lines, which may be preserved effectively by the use of this Scrap Book. The recipes published in The Times Cooking School columns may be kept in this manner for future use.

The price of the Scrap Book is 25 cents. It may be procured at The Times main office, Broadway at First, or at the Branch Office, 619 South Spring street, or from any regular Times agent. If you order by mail, enclose postage at the following rates for parcel post zones: Within Los Angeles postoffice district, 6c; outside of postoffice district and within 50 miles radius of Los Angeles, 8c; 51 to 150 miles, 10c; 151 to 300 miles, 12c; 301 to 600 miles, 14c; 601 to 1000 miles, 16c; 1001 to 1400 miles, 19c; 1401 to 1800 miles, 21c; beyond 1800 miles, 24c.

Cooking as a Fine Art.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor New "Times" Building.

Who ever ate a genuine Southern chicken pie, such as they make down South, and forgot the sensation thereof? The years may come and the years may go but the taste of that chicken pie lingers in one's memory forever—till the hair silvers with age, the hand forgets its cunning and the tongue cleaves to the roof of the mouth. It's just that kind of chicken pie Mrs. Haffner-Ginger is going to make for tomorrow's luncheon for the benefit of the flood sufferers. Nothing's too good for a cause like this. The Times reporter, unable to keep away, sneaked around The Times kitchen yesterday just to see if any sort of preparations were going on for that Monday luncheon.

Preparations? Well, rather. One woman—Mrs. Stewart by name—and a southerner by birth and bringing up—had sent in six fine, fat chickens and tomorrow will bring a batch of beaten biscuits—just like they make 'em down South—a salad and a cake—and besides all this she contributed a big, round dollar to be expended in other supplies. That woman has a heart as big as the nation.

Come Eat With Us.

The benefit promises to be a great success. Anyone who has an appetite for chicken pie—the kind the cook lady makes—potato salad, prize cake and coffee, and who has two bits in his or her pocket to pay for a plate of the same will be welcome—man or woman—without regard to nationality, previous condition, present appetite or future contingencies. Every one who comes to partake of this luncheon will be serving a double purpose, helping the flood sufferers and giving oneself a treat besides.

The salad will be made before the audience and the luncheon will begin to be served about 3 o'clock—the demonstration commencing half an hour before that time. Come one, come all.

Butcher Man'll Be There.

Another attraction at tomorrow's demonstration—for the demonstration will precede the luncheon—will be that obliging butcher, Mr. Hall, from Young's Market, who came the other day and told the women how to select cuts of meat. He'll be there in his spick and span white suit to tell you some more tricks about the proper selection of choice and cheap cuts.

What a Flood Means.

By the way, have you stopped to consider just what a flood means—even supposing you escaped with your life? As you sit in your comfortable home just imagine for a moment what would happen if a tide of muddy, swirling water came sweeping into your house and kept rising, rising, rising—creeping up the walls to the very ceiling—and covering your rugs, floating your furniture, soaking your curtains and draperies, your pictures on the walls, your books in their cases, your beds and bureaus, your clothing in the closet—everything in the house. And then, after the waters have finally receded, think of the ruin wrought—everything hopelessly spoiled. In such a case, wouldn't you be grateful if the fortunate people to whom this catastrophe did not come should remember you in your want and trouble?

Just put that idea in your head and keep it there while you make ready to come and give your mite toward helping the unfortunate sufferers in the Ohio Valley.

Prize for Best Cake.

The Globe Mill people, to help along the project and put ginger into the affair, have offered a prize of $5 for the best cake brought tomorrow to the benefit. It must be made from Globe Mill A1 pastry flour and contestants must bring along the empty flour bag as an evidence of good faith. Here's a chance for crack cake makers to win laurels. Come on with the cakes.

Just imagine, if you can, what this cake contest means for the luncheon tomorrow. Every one of 'em will be served for the benefit of the flood sufferers and the prize insures the best cakes ever.

A Cooking Club Woman.

A woman who is a regular attendant at the cooking school told an amusing story the other day during an interim. She is a southern woman and clips her "r's" in that delightful fashion characteristic of the genuine southerner.

"I have a dressmaker sewing for me," she said, "and when she arrived at my house the other day she said: 'You've no idea how glad I am to get here, for I know you are a regular home body. I've been sewing for club women for weeks back and I am so tired of it I don't know what to do; they're forever running to club meetings and I can hardly get a fitting they are so busy and they talk nothing but club, club, club—till I'm just about clubbed to death.'"

"Well," went on the southern woman. "I said not a word till the next morning and then I had to tell my sewing woman that I had a club, too—and I went three times a week instead of just once. I broke it to her gently; I said, 'Well, honey, I'm a club woman, too—I belong to The Times cooking school and if you'll let me go this afternoon—I want to get off early—I'll fix you up the nicest lunch you ever tasted—things I've learned to make since I began going to The Times school of domestic science,' and ladies, when I got that lunch ready and she sampled it, she just said, 'You go right along to your club—that's a sensible sort of club—and now she can hardly wait when I get home at night for me to tell her what we did at The Times school."

Taking Them to China.

"We certainly have some baggage—in the way of cooking utensils," remarked the woman from [illegible] she bade farewell to friends at close of the cooking demonstration Friday afternoon. "For, my husband law and myself leave on [illegible] the North," she went on, "we have been packing our things for departure and really it looks like baggage of a department store. have bought all these kitchen utensils that Mrs. Haffner-Ginger in her cooking demonstrations the private course of lessons am going to carry them all to China with me—won't the stare when I fit up my kitchen all these modern, American [illegible] —the pastry knives and cutters flour sifters and egg-beaters whips?"

BOOKS ADDED TO PUBLIC LIBRARY.

A number of important works have this week been added to the Los Angeles Public Library. The two-volume work just published which describes Capt. Amundsen's voyage to the South Pole is now in circulation. Those interested in social and economic questions will be glad to know that the new book by John Graham Brooks on "American Syndicalism" which has just come from the press has been placed in the library. This is a fair discussion of the dangers and possibilities which lie behind the syndicalist movement. A complete set of the works of Oscar Wilde has also been added. There are many readers in the city who enjoy Wilde's books and it is in response to their requests that this new edition has been purchased. Any of the following books may be borrowed free by any resident of Los Angeles from the Public Library:

"Where Socialism Failed," an actual experiment (Grahame;) "Happy England," as painted by Helen Allingham (Huish;) "Gold and Silver," comprising an economic history of mining in the United States (Crane;) "Torrens System, Its Cost and Complexity" (Niblack;) "Early Naturalists; Their Lives and Work" (Miall;) "Tragedy of Man," dramatic poem (Madach;) "Concrete Inspection" (Hill;) "Management of Rabbits" (Rayson;) "British Museum; Its History and Treasures" (Shelley;) "Terry's Mexico," handbook for travelers (Terry;) "Art of Curative Gymnastics" (Berggren;) "Smaller Tuscan Towns" (Cruickshank;) "Three Weeks in Europe" (Higinbotham;) "Riding and Driving for Women" (Beach;) the writings of Oscar Wilde (Wilde;) "American Syndicalism" (Brooks;) "Engraved Gems," signets, talismans and ornamental intaglios, ancient and modern (Osborne;) "South Pole" (Amundsen;) Treatise on the design and construction of mill buildings and other industrial plants (Tyrrell;) international library of technology, printing methods; international library of technology, graphic statics, bridge trusses, bridge tables.

BUTTER NOW CHEAP.

Falling Off of Nearly Ten Cents Last Week, and Still Lower Prices Are Predicted.

Although considerably delayed, mainly on account of the lateness of the rains this year, the decline in butter has occurred at last. The falling off last week in the wholesale price aggregated nearly 10 cents, and butter yesterday reached practically the same level as at this time last year. Supplies have been increasing, owing to an extent to recent rains in the San Joaquin Valley, which have benefited the production. Some dealers predict that in a day or so the wholesale price will fall off about 2 cents more, as a result of the increase in receipts which is expected.

There is very little storage butter on the market, and the recent shortage has been to a degree responsible for the maintenance of the high prices. The good weather conditions and the bumper crops of hay and grain which have been predicted make the outlook very favorable for a large supply of butter this season, and some dealers think that prices will be quite low later on.

The greater part of the butter comes to this city from the Tulare section at present, although a considerable supply is also secured from Imperial Valley. The price here follows that in the north pretty steadily, which seems to be declining. Comparatively, butter is quoted at a moderate rate locally, as the eastern prices are still rather high.

OVER HALF A HUNDRED CHILDREN HER ADOPT

Dr. D. B. Howard, with Velma and Thelma.

Two of fifty Howard children, all of whom she has adopted and is [illegible] along scientific lines. Her motto is manual development first and cultivation of the mind. She is visiting friends in Los Angeles.

"TEACH children to work with their hands, to earn money when they are young, and their minds will take care of themselves as they grow and are gradually directed by higher education," said Dr. D. B. Howard at the Hollenbeck yesterday while sturdy, red-haired twins, so nearly alike that even friends fail to tell them apart, played around her.

She is the mother of fifty children, a startling statement that must be tempered by the revelation that all of them have been adopted and that she really has never had any of her own. "That doesn't prevent my knowing anything about them or taking care of them," she laughed as she snuggled to her the two youngsters, Thelma and Velma Howard, 4 years old, who are never taken for girls because of their exceptionally strong, vigorous build.

The picture of health and vitality, their deep red cheeks and their brilliant red hair set them forth as marvels of what may be done by proper care. They are never overfed or overclothed. In the cool spring weather of the present time they rush around with a strong linen suit of bloomer style as their principal and practically only clothing. Hats and stockings they know nothing of. "All of the children I have ever started to raise have been brought to the same standard of health and then educated to a proficiency in [illegible]," said Dr. Howard.

"They must all learn to work out in the open, be it potatoes, milking cows, making marbles, carpentering, [illegible] many like things. They [illegible] the rule of efficiency [illegible] beginning. SCOURS ORIENT ON FLY QUEST.

Scientist's Search for an Enemy of Pest.

His Hazardous Trip Through Unknown Lands.

Finds Parasites but Die on Way to New York.

A moving tale of adventure by foot and field, of hardships braved and difficulties conquered, is artfully revealed by Russell S. Woglum, now at Riverside making investigations in citrus fumigation for the United States Department of Agriculture, in his report, just issued, of a trip to India and the Orient in search of the natural enemies of the citrus white fly.

Some years ago the department alarmed at the reported discovery of the citrus white fly in this State, coupled with the increasing damage reported from the Gulf States, asked and received from Congress a special appropriation to make a world-wide search for the native home of that pest. The idea was that, as in the case of cottony cushion scale, whose natural enemy, the Novius cardinalis, was discovered in the scale's own habitat in Australia, the natural enemy of the white fly would be found in the original home of the fly itself. Woglum, who had been conducting investigations in the use of hydrocyanic acid in the destruction of scale-insect pests in Southern California, was asked to undertake the quest. Thanks to the discovery about this pest of the white fly in oranges from the northwestern Himalayas of India Woglum was immediately directed to that district in which Woglum was especially to find the creatures that, it is hoped, keep in check the white fly, and possibly under new climatic conditions even effect its extinction.

Going first, however, to Ceylon, Woglum convinced himself that the fly was not to be found there. Entering India at its southernmost seaport, Tuticorin, he proceeded to Calcutta, whose Indian Museum is especially rich in all that appertains to the natural history of the peninsula.

INTO THE HILLS.

Here again his attention was directed to the northwestern Himalayas, and cutting loose from white civilization, he swung northward into the hill country, where travel is usually either by boat, litter or foot, where the temperature alternates from zero to the top of the thermometer.

At Saharunpur he found the citrus white fly, also an enemy, the larvae of a lady-bug. On north, at Lahor in the Punjab, the find of finds was made in the form of an internal parasite, which was given the name of Prospaltella Lahorensis.

Not content with the results of his search, Woglum swung on north to Peshawur, near the entrance to the Khyber Pass, on the dread frontier of Afganistan, then back through Lahore to Simla, on the frontier of Thibet, then on into the Khasia Hills of Assam. All this is a little-known country to the whites—a country where the natives look askance at the white-faced intruder, where the coolie and enemy may be friends or enemies. Here is also the country where the yellow stream of today may be the raging torrent of the morrow.

PENETRATES JUNGLE.

But Woglum, adventuring for science's sake, was not done. Leaving India, he penetrated the tropical jungles of Burma, then on to Southern China, swinging back toward Thibet and India in his search for further enemies of the white fly. But no others were found.

Then came what Woglum says in his report was the hardest task of all, that of transporting his findings in the best state to Florida. The larvae of the lady-bugs all died in transit; the entire life cycle of the internal parasite from the egg to maturity of the moth was completed long before Southern ports. America-bound, reached New York. Attempts were made to transport the creatures on infected nursery stock, but without success.

Woglum did bring back some results. He found that the white fly has enemies that will keep it in check. He demonstrated that the white fly on the Jasminum, from which perfumes of India make a fragrant oil, is the citrus trees. This discovery may prove the more important in two and it is possible that in the future day the Jasminum will be planted alongside citrus groves for purposes analogous to that which melon growers in certain sections surround their plantings with

NDS OF STEEL TO BIND OCEANS.

OUGH TRAIN SERVICE FROM ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC.

Lines to Operate Palaces on to Prepare for Exposition Pacific Limited Carries Number of Passengers. Railroad News.

-ocean service, with one of palatial trains ever operated railroad, is planned by the ies, according to eastern rumor. This train will be operated by the West Shore, Wabash, Missouri Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande and Western Pacific railroads, with the Los Angeles connections at Salt Lake City.

Two years ago, before the Gould lines got into financial difficulties, a transcontinental service was planned in connection with the Western Maryland and the Wabash receivership, with other difficulties, knocked the plan astray. Now that there is a prospect of the lifting of the Wabash from receivership, but more particularly because of the freshened Pacific competition, the Gould lines have improved service.

This new service when established will furnish Los Angeles considerably, or at least that is the sentiment, born of the recent dissolving of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific will make the roads anxious to get any little windfalls in the way of increased business that is offered. It is further pointed out that the rush to Southern California during exposition year will make increased service imperative to this city.

Pacific Limited Held Up.

With double the number of passengers brought in Friday from the East, the Pacific Limited left here yesterday on its first eastbound trip. General Passenger Agent Peck and Industrial Agent White of the Salt Lake rode the train out of here to Ontario, where it was held up for thirty minutes while a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce presented passengers with poppies and oranges and an invitation to return to "The Best Town on Earth."

The second train westbound arrived yesterday and made a "stunning" appearance with its new equipment, particularly noticeable being the far-famed yellow cars of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. These cars, which are the product of the company's own shops, embody some features of interest. Chief among these are the berths, which are both wider and higher than the berths of the standard Pullman sleepers. Shock-resisting concrete floors are another feature of interest. The tourist cars are also equipped with ranges for cooking purposes.

Censored Railway News.

Few and far between are the items of interest percolating into the Tucson office of the Southern Pacific of Mexico these days from its "insurrectionary" or "secessionist" railroad across the border, for a rigid censorship has been established by the Sonora operators as further proof of their high-handed methods in dealing with American property.

Up to the time the Southern Pacific of Mexico was metamorphosed into the Farrocarril de Sud-Pacifico de Mexico, with F. H. Krohn, a former Southern Pacific conductor, as superintendent, daily reports of conditions across the border were received at the Tucson office. Now there is absolutely "nothing doing" in the information line; also nothing doing for the bunch of officials that the road must perforce carry on its pay roll until it shall please the military operators to return the road to its rightful owners.

Increased Shipments.

North-bound shipments from this port showed a 50 per cent. increase during the first quarter of the year compared with the same quarter of last year, according to General Freight Agent Kreider of the Independent Steamship Company.

"Few persons realize," stated Kreider yesterday, "the extent to which this city is becoming an exporter of manufactured articles, particularly machinery and soap. We are rapidly developing a large trade in oil machinery with Japan, Australia and China, while other made-in-Los Angeles machinery is going to India and Alaska, in addition to the above countries. This city is also becoming an important exporter of soap to the Orient and to Hawaii. We have always been exporters of canned goods, olives and cement and plaster, but all these classes of exports are showing an increase."

Rates to Imperial.

In order to catch the colonist rush at its height, the Southern Pacific is to offer special rates from this city to the Imperial Valley the 12th inst. Tickets are good returning up to the 22nd inst., and provide for liberal stop-overs at all points on the Southern Pacific's line both in the upper and lower valley.

With special colonist train service promised by the railroads from Omaha and Kansas City, the rush of colonists is expected to reach its height this week. It is to catch them, as it were, on the wing that the Southern Pacific is to offer special rates to the Imperial Valley.

Nearly 1000 persons took advantage of the low rates offered north out of here Friday. Rates were offered south-bound out of San Francisco yesterday.

New Oregon Railroad.

Contracts have been let by the Southern Pacific for the building of a line from Eugene, Or., west to a point on the Pacific Coast near the Suislaw River, thence south to Marshfield about 123 miles. Twohy Bros. and McArthur, Perks & Co., Ltd., are the contractors. This is the most important improvement that the Southern Pacific will probably make this year on the Pacific Coast. All contracts for work are made in the name of the Williametta-Pacific Railroad.

Pineapple Shipment.

Negotiations are being conducted by the Independent Steamship Company for the chartering of a ship to bring a cargo of pineapples direct to this port from Monolulu in July. Last year this same company brought 500 tons of pineapples into this port in a specially-chartered vessel.

Tour of Inspection.

Passenger Traffic Manager Fee of the Southern Pacific is due here Tuesday on a tour of inspection.

BOY FROM ALL ANGLES.

Young America Will Be Discussed by District Congress of Mothers in Convention—Several Speakers.

"The Boy Problem" will be given the serious attention of the mothers of California at the annual convention of the First District Congress of Mothers in Symphony Hall next Thursday, when they will assemble for an all-day session.

The morning will be devoted to business, and the boy symposium will be the feature of the afternoon, presented from three different angles: First, from the superintendent of the George Junior Republic at Chino, G. C. Waterhouse; the second from Mrs. L. M. Vance, who has for several years conducted a home for working boys in Los Angeles on entirely different principles from those in vogue at the George Junior Republic or other institutions for the handling of juvenile wrongdoers. The third speaker will be Dr. Jessie A. Russell of Glendale, who is trying the experiment of conducting boys' clubs at her own home—the members of her clubs being boys who have given no trouble.

Mrs. Harry Huston, ex-president of the Los Angeles Federation Parent-Teacher Association, will speak on the "National Congress of Mothers;" Mrs. Charles F. Schwan, member of the Pomona Board of Education, will speak on the relation of the Mothers' Congress to boards of education; Mrs. E. H. Noe will tell how best to reach indifferent parents; I. D. Jaynes will discuss the practicability of motion pictures for educational purposes; and C. D. Chamberlain will tell what he thinks about children's rights.

NO GUILTY KNOWLEDGE?

Young Woman Charged with Complicity in Alleged Fraud Makes Statement—May Be Dismissed.

Miss Helen Myers, professionally known as Helen Carew, charged jointly with George P. and Clarence P. Bowers with having used the mails to defraud, left last evening for Sacramento to fill a theatrical engagement, and the charge so far as the young actress is concerned is expected to come to nothing.

Miss Myers made a sworn statement to Assistant United States District Attorney Robinson yesterday in which she said she was employed as a stenographer by the brothers and had no knowledge of any wrongdoing. The Bowers sold banana lands in Mexico which, according to the government, they did not own.

Goldfield.

HELMSMEN FOR YEAR CHOSEN.

Consolidated's Directors Elect Officers.

Old Miners Flock to See Wingfield.

Rumors of Big Merger Are in the Air.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) March 28.—A meeting of the directors of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company was held at the offices of the company here the first of the week for the election of officers, with the following result: President, George Wingfield; vice-president, J. D. Hubbard of Chicago; secretary and treasurer, Albert H. Howe; general manager, Albert Burch; assistant general manager and mill superintendent, Joseph W. Hutchinson. If any other business was transacted it was not announced.

George Wingfield came to Goldfield the middle of last week on one of his periodical visits and incidentally to attend the meeting of directors. As usual, the old miners and prospectors flocked in from the highways and byways of the desert to greet him. There have been rumors lately that the Consolidated was about ready to take over the Merger Mines Company, the Goldfield Florence, the Atlanta and several other properties in this district, but the management denies that there is any truth in the reports.

Reports received here today from Millers indicate that there is a considerable amount of excitement over the new discoveries in the Orizaba district, thirty miles north of Millers. It is said there are about 100 men in the camp at present, with the prospect that a number of others from Millers, Tonopah and Goldfield will go to the scene of the strike within the next week or two. A townsite has been laid out at the Rosa Lee mine where the most promising discoveries have been made. Two assay offices have been opened, as well as a store, a hotel and, of course, a saloon. It is reported that Recorder Grimes of Nye county will place a deputy Recorder in the new camp at once.

The reports brought to Goldfield by mining men who went there from this camp state that some strong ledges of excellent appearance are found over an area fifteen miles long by ten miles wide, but the best finds are over an area about five miles square. Among the first to reach the scene of discovery was Mrs. Wigstead of Millers and she has some claims in the district upon which ore has been found that assays $840 per ton in gold. The Dale brothers of Millers have claims upon which they have found ore running over $100 per ton, and it is also reported that Superintendent Jones of the Belmont mill at Millers, with Royston and Overman, have found values of $141 per ton in gold.

On five claims of a group of twelve, owned by A. L. Gross and J. L. Park, ore is said to have been found that assays up to $200 per ton, the best showing on a ledge six feet wide that crops at the surface. At the Orizaba mine, about five miles from the new strike, there is a shaft down 135 feet and at this depth the drift is said to be in ore averaging $40 per ton in gold across its full width. Among the more prominent Goldfield mining men who have visited the district and think well of it are Tom D. Murphy and L. K. Koontz.

Considerable substantial mining development is in progress in the Luning district, according to Louis Smith, who has been operating there for some time and who is in Goldfield to purchase supplies for his camp. Luning is a high-grade copper district and several Goldfield men operate there, including L. L. Patrick, president of the First National Bank; H. B. Lind, a broker, and Dr. E. A. Wheeler. High-grade silver-lead ore is exposed in quantity on the Red Butte Mining Company's ground, twelve miles from Luning. This company also has a large deposit of iron ore near the Red Butte and within five miles of a railroad. The work of getting it to market will begin in a short time.

From present indications the portion of the C.O.D. Consolidated in this district that is now worked under lease by the Goldfield Mines Operating Company, will produce a large tonnage of milling ore and will justify the early construction of a plant. It is also believed that some shipping ore may be produced if the best is sorted.

The work of sampling all the workings of the Florence Goldfield mine, which has been in progress for about three weeks, under the personal direction of Walter H. Wiley, the Los Angeles mining engineer, has been completed and Wiley has returned to his home. The result of his work on the Florence will be incorporated in a report that will be submitted to the officials of the company before long. Manager Dewey states that he is performing some development work in the mine that is thought advisable as a result of the sampling just completed, but the future policy of the company will be determined by the directors after they have thoroughly digested the Wiley report.

CARTAGENA'S CITY WALLS

Are Twenty Feet Thick and [illegible] to Withstand a Heavy Siege at a Million Dollars Expense.

[Pittsburgh Gazette Times:] [illegible] people from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the like, sailing into the beautiful and [illegible] harbor of Cartagena, (Republic of Colombia,) they are surprised to see rising up to their view a stately city with walls and battlements and [illegible] lying medieval fortresses [illegible] that it had a history before the landing of the pilgrims or the settlement of Jamestown.

Even its name is unknown to the majority of the people of the United States, and those travelers who are informed that it is included in the itinerary expect to find some picturesque, a formless, straggling village of particular interest and are, in consequence, agreeably surprised. For some fifteen to twenty feet thick, still intact and the old city, which is substantially built to last for centuries to come, is entered through the ancient gates. Nor are the walls the only relics of olden times, but they have often been manned within the memory of men still living and have served as a protection to the city against the raids of revolutionists.

The story is told of a heroic effort to take the city in a revolution not so long ago in which there was a figured. The city had been besieged by the insurgents for a long time when a band of 100 men, composed entirely of young officers, volunteered to make an attempt to scale the walls in the night and open the gates to their forces. Their attempt was at first successful, but when a portion of them had entered the city, instead of keeping quiet until they could form and act in concert, they began to cheer prematurely, attracting the attention of the garrison, which was able to resist them. A bloody conflict ensued lasting nearly all night, the revolutionists fighting and [illegible] quarter until the last man was killed.

The history of the city [illegible] many heroic tales of this kind. For it has been the theater of many [illegible] in many revolutions, and before that time, with buccaneers and pirates, the various marauders of the period were tempted by its riches and loomed up large in the skies. It was on account of these raids that it was so strongly fortified, at an expense, it is said, of $[illegible], that one can believe it, looking at the strong walls and the remains of forts around the harbor and upon the adjoining eminences.

At the entrance of the harbor, which is narrow, there is a fine fort on either side. It is said that during one of the numerous revolutions, which have afflicted the country ever since it achieved its independence 102 years ago, one of these forts was occupied by the revolutionists and the other by the government forces. Both forts were armed with old-fashioned smoothbore cannon, but there were very few cannon balls. One party would fire at the other until the supply was exhausted. The enemy on the other side would then be perfectly safe to venture forth and would do so, gathering up all the projectiles, dragging them to the fort, when they would proceed to fire them back again. As the result either side did little harm, the proceedings were kept up until the cannon balls were practically worn out.

It may be mentioned that the country has now been at peace for years and that in consequence they are looking up and their guns at what they consider a proper period.

Remunerative Employment can be obtained by a [illegible] after day reading of the [illegible] Wanted" columns of the [illegible] "Liner" section.—[Advertisement.]

Pioneer Consolidated Mining Company, which is operating near Beatty, has arrived in Goldfield and announces that the work of grading for the company's mill is in progress. The work of preparation is under the supervision of J. K. Turner, a Goldfield mining engineer. It is predicted that before the end of the present year the Pioneer Consolidated will take its place as one of Nevada's important producers of gold.

T. A. Mills of No. 361 Bellevue street, Goldfield, has a hen which early this week laid an egg, the shell of which was inlaid with a small particle of placer gold. The piece of gold is plainly discernible and all doubting Thomases who have seen it are convinced.

Mrs. Ruth G. Nash of Los Angeles, who killed her husband here two or three weeks ago because he had sold after their little boy, is out on $10,000 bonds. She will, however, soon be tried for the murder of her husband, Herbert Nash, a Los Angeles butcher.

W. J. Bradley died here the other day at the age of 82. He was a California "forty-niner" and was one of the oldest Masons in the country, having joined the lodge in Missouri in 1852. In the early days he was in Placerville, Cal., and later at the Comstock.

James F. Ford, for four years freight and passenger agent of the Tonopah and Goldfield road at this camp, was sent to the Los Angeles office of the company the other day, having been promoted.

That the Indian maiden of [illegible] still harbors a speck of romance under her blanket was demonstrated here yesterday, when Orna Jean, a squaw, attempted to commit suicide. She had eloped from the neighborhood of Millers with Johnny Charley, an Indian, deserting a husband and seven little papooses in making her getaway. When her lover was arrested here she took the poison, but the stomach-pump brought her back to the land of the living Lochinvar.

It was on account of these raids that it was so strongly fortified, at an expense, it is said, of $50,000,000; and one can believe it, looking at the strong walls and the remains of the forts around the harbor and upon the adjoining eminences.

At the entrance of the harbor, which is narrow, there is an ancient fort on either side. It is said that during one of the numerous revolutions, which have afflicted the country ever since it achieved its independence 102 years ago, one of these forts was occupied by the revolutionists and the other by the government forces. Both forts were armed with old-fashioned smoothbore cannon, but there were very few cannon balls. One fort would fire at the other until the supply was exhausted. The combatants on the other side would then be perfectly safe to venture forth, and they would do so, gathering up all the projectiles, dragging them into the fort, when they would proceed to fire them back again. As the firing on either side did little harm. The proceedings were kept up until the cannon balls were practically worked out.

It may be mentioned that the country has now been at peace for many years and that in consequence things are looking up and they are having what they consider a prosperous period.

Proving a Man's Skull.

[London Times:] Dr. Paul Richer, professor of anatomy at the School of Fine Arts, a sculptor and gifted engraver of medals, together with Dr. Gaston Darboux, has finished the task intrusted to him by the Academy of Fine Arts of comparing the reputed skull of Descartes with the well-known portraits of the great philosopher. The authenticity of the skull has often been questioned, and many efforts have been made in the past to establish its right to a place in the museum of the Academy of Fine Arts. For the purposes of comparison a cast of the skull of the portrait of Descartes by Frans Hals. At the same time, by other hands, the reputed skull in the museum was sketched at the same angle and to the same scale as that of Hals's portrait. When the drawings were placed one upon the other the similarity was almost complete. The same process was adopted in comparing the skull with portraits of Descartes by Bourdon and Boullongne. In these cases the resemblance, though striking, were not so conclusive as those between the skull and the portrait by Frans Hals, which, according to the report of Prof. Richer, establish the authenticity of the skull in the museum.

Alfalfa Land

The above scene is not on our property. However, it is an actual photograph of a large alfalfa ranch in Tulare county in the same fertile district in which we are offering choice alfalfa and deciduous fruit land.

If you are seeking land of this character let us show you our tract in Tulare county in San Joaquin Valley—right between the main lines of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads. It adjoins the town of Earlimart, being a part of the well-known Deer Creek delta lands. Every acre is virgin soil, level as a table and ready for the plow. Minute examination by a government expert shows it to be absolutely free from hardpan.

Water is secured at a depth of only 20 to 25 feet—and 100-foot wells will supply an abundance of water for irrigation purposes. This section of the valley is famous for its great underground reservoirs.

Two electric power companies are ready to supply electricity for power and lighting purposes at exceptionally low cost.

Excellent transportation facilities to Los Angeles and San Francisco are afforded by the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads.

This land is now being offered in parcels of 20 acres or more at $125 and upwards, according to location. Terms are one-fourth cash, the balance in easy installments.

Tulare county is famous for its alfalfa and dairying ranches.

Dependable information about San Joaquin Valley can be secured at our offices. Call or write for a beautiful new folder giving facts and figures about the entire valley—issued by the Santa Fe Ry. Co.

For information relative to our responsibility and integrity refer to any bank, newspaper, abstract or railroad company in Los Angeles.

PERSONALITY AWES BEASTS.

[illegible] AHMAD TRAINER HAS TREMENDOUS POWER.

[illegible] Lions of Sells-Floto Have Great Respect for Margaret Recardo, a Frail Bit of Femininity—Aggregation Coming Today.

[illegible] beasts affected by the power of human personality? Does the personal equation that makes individuals stand out distinctly against the background of life exert an influence over the denizens of the forest?

Those who have seen Margaret Recardo, the fearless young woman of tigers answer these questions in the affirmative. She exercises a mastery over animals that fills upon and rend persons who possess her mysterious power. The little slip of a woman has but to speak and are obeyed by the ferocious brutes of beasts, will be seen with the Sells-Floto circus which comes here Thursday for three days.

The Sells-Floto tigers and lions have both affection for and confidence in Miss Recardo. She explains that it is necessary for a successful trainer to have the affection of her charges, that she must begin by inspiring them a wholesome respect for her.

"It is a dangerous thing to begin training animals by depending on force," says Miss Recardo. "Subduing them with the whip or the power of your personality will cultivate in them a liking for you. One of the secrets of managing animals successfully is to be kind. There is a great show of self-confidence from understanding of the nature of the human eye and the influence of a self-asserting personality."

The circus will reach the city early Thursday morning and give a popular parade, starting about 10 o'clock.

It is hard to think of it, but there is music in the world like the band," said Manager Lewis of Sells-Floto yesterday. "Everybody knows the circus and as everybody knows the circus authority with Col. Bill Henry Herald and Col. (now Judge) of the Houston Post. The challenged masters agree that the best parade ever sent out.

"If the parade doesn't convince you have cultivated your usefulness so pessimistic that you may say more that men get their rain falls downward, or by eggs. When you are bored—recollect there are gaudy and distinct bands of paint stick your head out, wait and watch and see a boy again and you are lot in being the boy you are.

"We will give two performances at 2:15 in the afternoon and in the evening, at 8:15 Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

LEGISLATURE.

[illegible:] The comments upon the proceedings would have an end if the situation were serious. Probably the best salve for the feelings of the public at large if there were any way to ascertain those feelings, which there is not. But so far as the newspapers are concerned they speak as though the legislature were acting in a wholly unexpected way, and they even adopt a tone of indignation that would be suitable enough in a despotically governed country, but that seems incongruous under a democracy. For the Legislature was elected by the people themselves, who were presumably aware of the mental incapacities of the men they chose. It is a peculiarity of our system that no man can successfully seek a popular suffrage unless he is on handshaking terms with every man, woman and child of his constituency. There is not a single hysteriac at Sacramento who was not known by the people who voted for him to be what he is, and who presumably voted for him because they knew it. Nor do we remember that the newspapers placed their records or their experience at the service of the electorate. They made no appeals for the choice of broad-gauge men with a knowledge of what laws can and can not do. They issued no plea for intelligence or for character. If they spoke at all it was to recommend particular political labels without reference to the capacity of the man wearing the label. Small wonder that with all the emphasis upon the label and none upon the man the electorate should favor the orator of the corner grocery or whatever other local figure happened to be most impudent in his righteousness and noisy in his self-assertion. The Legislature at Sacramento faithfully represents the mood of the moment, the mood that allows itself to be governed by the women's clubs and by the dancing dervishes of Roosevelteism and Johnsonism.

The mood, let us hope, is passing away, but the ill effects of folly are apt to linger uncomfortably. It was a mood induced by a frantic progressivism that had persuaded the public that it was in a perilous condition and that nothing could save it except restrictive legislation. It need hardly be said that when we ask for restrictive legislation we always mean that it shall be restrictive as far as other people are concerned, but never so far as we ourselves are concerned. But with a general and incoherent mandate to restrict and to persecute placed in the hands of feeble-minded men it is mall wonder that the Legislature should proceed to restrict and to prosecute every one. The average elector was willing enough in his ignorance that the Legislature should "get" a railroad company or a telephone corporation, but now he finds to his bewilderment that it is likely to "get" him too. Without even being aware that such schemes were in contemplation he finds that he may presently be committing an offense if he plays a game of whist, smokes a cigarette, or drinks a glass of beer. He finds himself likely to be saddled with extraordinary responsibilities for every one whom he employs, and that his own activities, even the most personal and the most innocent, are to be limited, regulated, and licensed. In short he finds that every department of his private and public life is to be invaded by a pestilent officialism that makes a mock of liberty, initiative, enterprise, and free will. That is the price that he must pay for the luxury of electing to the Legislature men with all the ferocious zeal of fanatics and converts and with the minds of tadpoles. But it is hard to see that the elector has a grievance. It is true that it was the other fellow who was to be reformed, and not himself, but he should have weighed the possibilities before voting for penitent prize-fighters and the strutting pietists of the village.

This young woman of the Sells-Floto shows has remarkable success in handling fierce and powerful jungle beasts.

The Influence of Personality.

[Engineering Magazine:] Personality is one of the greatest forces in the world. There were thousands of Israelites in Egypt, but only one Moses; millions of Hindus, but only one Buddha; millions of Mongolian boys, but only one Jenghis Khan, whose triumphant advance 700 years ago drove the Turks westward into Europe, when they are now being expelled; there were millions of Japanese, but only one Hideyoshi; there were millions of Frenchman, but only one Napoleon.

But all these were greater because they trusted not to their own powers, but to that wonderful device called organization. Hercules was more picturesque than Moses; Peter the Hermit, preaching the futile crusades, more startling than Jenghis Khan, who created the greatest empire the world has ever seen; Jeane d'Arc, the Maid of Orleans, a wonderfully beautiful, tragic and inspiring child, but Queen Elizabeth inaugurated the greatness of England; Paul Jones was a hero of the sea, but Thomas Jefferson, not as an individual, but as President, made possible the future greatness of the United States.

Nearly Eighteen Millions.

$1,000,000, with which to acquire land and build a City Hall.

The seventh is for a $1,000,000 issue to build a municipal railroad extending from the business section of Los Angeles to and around the harbor, together with such terminal facilities as may be required.

CITY NEED A RAILROAD?

The need for such a railroad is a moot question at this time, and one upon which there appears to be wide difference of opinion. The harbor is not yet completed, and $1,000,000 will by no means build and equip a municipal railroad. "Build now and be ready," argue the proponents of the measure. "Wait a bit, until we need and road and our credit is not so strained," urge the opponents.

The last item is for a bond issue of $400,000 for acquiring the present site of the State Normal School at Fifth street and Grand avenue for a municipal auditorium, art gallery, library, recreation, educational, amusement and other municipal purposes.

The city is already morally bound by action of Council to take over this property from those who purchased it from the State. This may be done immediately under the proposed bond issue, or it may be carried and finally financed from the regular tax budget without recourse to bonds.

HOW CITY STANDS.

The present bonded indebtedness of the city is $33,027,600. The limit of bonded indebtedness under the present valuation of $366,351,415, is $55,000,000, for all purposes. This will be increased about 10 per cent. under the new assessment. If all of the proposed bonds are voted, it will increase the city's bonded indebtedness to $49,627,000, or within about $5,000,000 of the dead line. The present city tax rate is $1.54, of which 64 cents is charged to bonds and only 90 cents for municipal purposes.

FIGHT OVER AUTOMOBILE.

Young Attorney Attempts to Seize Car Alleged to Be Pledged on Note. Owner to Rescue.

A dispute over ownership of an automobile stopped traffic on Broadway near Fifth street yesterday afternoon and subsequently developed into a near-riot in front of Central Police Station, ending with the machine being held in escrow by the police and the combatants being released on bail.

It appears that O. W. Fort gave a chattle mortgage on his machine, wherein was inserted a clause providing that failure to pay at the stipulated time should authorize the mortgagee in taking possession of the automobile. Yesterday Fort left his daughter in the machine on Broadway while he went into a store. During his absence Earl and Morris Neumeir, attorneys representing the mortgagee, sprang into the automobile in an attempt to hold possession.

When Fort appeared a fight started which resulted in stopping traffic on the street and which finally brought about the arrest of all parties concerned except the young girl, who sat in the machine and held possession for her father during the whole trouble.

Upon being taken to the Central Police Station the men gave bail and immediately started a fight for possession of the machine. Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad attempted the role of peacemaker, but for a long time his efforts were unsuccessful. It finally was determined to send for a Superior Court judge, but before his arrival the claimants agreed to a stipulation, leaving the automobile in possession of the police until Tuesday morning.

Nearly 4000 in use in Southern California. If you enjoy music you would enjoy the Autopiano. Let us demonstrate it to you today.

LETTER FROM INTERNATIONAL JURY OF AWARDS
ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 27, 1909.

Sir: The Autopiano Co. deserves a great credit for solving the difficult problem of securing a perfectly human touch in a player piano.

This feature is of inestimable value, for it places this make on an artistic plane not reached by other manufacturers.

Special mention should also be made of the automatic tracker device, and the highest excellence of workmanship throughout. It is entitled to the high honor of being designated the one perfect Player Piano.

Respectfully submitted,

DR. EMIL ENNA,
Chairman International Jury of Awards.

We will accept your old piano as part payment. You can pay the balance in small monthly payments.

The Oil Industry.

ROAD OIL BOOM IS PREDICTED.

Facilities Improved for Handling Product.

Standard of Canada Increases Capital.

French Syndicate Starts Work in Simi.

Reports from Maricopa and Sunset indicate that a boom is expected soon in road oil, which is produced to a considerable extent in that vicinity. The reason given is the improvement of the facilities for handling the product for market, among which is mentioned the installing of a department for handling heavy road oil by the General Petroleum Company on its property on the Maricopa Flat. It is stated that the big company has arranged for the storage of 100,000 barrels of road oil and has built loading racks to accommodate oil cars for loading, and that in a short time it is expected that it will begin taking the heavy oil from the producers.

As a result of this many companies are said to be about to resume the production of the heavy road oil on a large scale. Among those handling the product around Maricopa are mentioned the Fulton, Adeline, Good Roads Oil Company, Monarch, Ruby, New Center, Midway View, August, Section 12 and McCutcheon Brothers Oil Companies.

Increases Capital.

A member of the Standard Oil group, the Imperial Oil Company, which has its headquarters at Sarnia, Ont., Can., is increasing its capital from £1,200,000 (about $6,000,000) to £2,000,000 (about $10,000,000,) with the object of developing a larger business in the Dominion, according to the London Financier. The publication further states: "Some particulars of its enlarged refinery at Sarnia were recently given, and it may be added that the programme of extension is two-fold—the further testing of Ontario fields for oil, the production of Canada being a declining quantity, and the building up of a marketing organization in Western Canada, where little oil has been found up to the present, but where there is abundance of natural gas.

"The natural gas pipe line from the Bow Island fields to Calgary, a distance of some 174 miles, the completion of which a few months ago was noted in these columns, has now branch lines to half a dozen other towns, with the result that many industries are attracted to this part of Canada. The Athabasca Natural Gas Company has gas in two wells at that place, and has begun to drill the third. Indeed, in the western provinces natural gas is so abundant that in several places it has been allowed to run waste, a procedure which is checked in Ontario, a more developed province, by the imposition of a tax of 20 cents per 10,000 feet of gas obtained, qualified by the return of 18 cents if the gas is put to any useful purpose. So the owner of a gas well pays the provincial government 20 cents per 10,000 feet if he lets gas flow wild, and 2 cents per 10,000 feet if it is used for light, heat or power, whether by himself or other parties."

Field Notes.

The Birch Oil Company has wells Nos. 6 and 8 in the famous light oil sand, from which No. 5 has been producing 2000 to 2500 barrels of 28-gravity oil for more than two years.

The Columbia Oil Producing Company gets a production of about 1250 barrels of 26-gravity oil from its Orange well No. 2, which came in last fall, near the Birch gusher.

The Standard Oil Company has started drilling wells Nos. 3 and 4 on the Emory lease. Nos. 1 and 2 are producing, the former about 700 to 800 barrels of 23-gravity oil, and the latter about 1000 barrels of 30-gravity oil.

The Union Oil Company has wells Nos. 6 and 7, on the Graham & Loftus lease, in the oil sand. They are expected to come in at any time now.

In the Simi Valley district the French Syndicate, which recently took over the properties of the Pasadena, the Simi Crude and the Simi Oil Companies, is grading and has material on the ground for the building of a rig. Attracted by the strike made by the Petrol Oil Company, the Syndicate is understood to have recently completed the purchase of the above-mentioned properties for a consideration of $125 an acre, 2375 acres being involved.

The Petrol Oil Company's two wells are still doing about twenty-five barrels of 38-gravity oil together. This product sells at $1.90 a barrel, according to well-informed oil men.

The United Oil Company in the Midway field expected to have the well which recently drilled itself into the oil sand on the pump yesterday. Before being cleaned out the well did about 1500 barrels a day.

The Panama Oil Company was bailing its No. 4 well in Midway yesterday, and if the water was found to be shut off it was expected to drill into the oil sand.

Despite rumors and reports to the contrary it is officially stated that the deal for the United Oil Company is still in progress, and that the purchasers have taken tentative possession of the properties, by paying operating expenses and deriving the profits from the production.

The Combined Oil Company, on section 14, 31-22, has contracted its production to the Independent Producers' Agency. Preparations are made to start operations at once with two wells in the sand.

FOR CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL.

Annual Benefit to be Given Next Friday Afternoon and Interesting Programme is Promised.

Delta Delta Chapter of the Alph Chi Omega will entertain next Friday Afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 with its annual musicale and reception for the benefit of the Children's Hospital. They hope through this means to raise $250 to endow a bed in the new fire proof hospital which is being constructed on Vermont avenue, in the name of the Chapter.

This is the third musicale given by this sorority. The first was in the "log cabin" on West Adams street, through the courtesy of the owner, Mrs. L. R. Garrett, a member of the chapter. Ninety-three dollars was raised and with this amount they screened a large sleeping porch for the children. Last year as well as this year the Ebell Club allowed the young women the use of their clubhouse. One hundred and fifty-six dollars was raised last year, with which they purchased an X-ray machine for the hospital.

Mmes Charles Brown, Earl J. Fellows, H. W. Cushman, L. R. Garrett, Ray G. Van Cleave, W. H. Pinkham, John C. Percival, and the Misses Delight Stevens, Marion Moses, Carrie Trowbridge, Jessie Cushman and Olive Berryman are on the reception committee.

On the programme are the U. S. C. Glee Club; Miss Madeline Bridges, darky monologue, Miss Bessie Chapin and Miss Elanor Clemens, violin solos; and Miss Carrie Trowbridge, pianiste.

Patronesses for the affair are Mmes. Allen Beach Yaw Goldthwaite, George Bovard, Thomas B. Stowell, Walter B. Skeele, H. Trowbridge, Lucy Best, Albert Crutcher, R. T. McJohnston, Morgan Jones, John R. Berryman, J. G. Hallheld, Roberts, Metcalf Jones, Victor Hall, and Odell Shepard and Miss Elizabeth Yoder.

NEGRO FAMILIES ARRIVE.

Seventy-five Come from Oklahoma in One Party and Will Locate in Los Angeles.

During the past week a party of seventy-five negro families has arrived in Los Angeles from Muskogee, Okla., and its immediate vicinity. They expect to permanently locate in this city and to become property owners here. The party is composed of the best class of negroes in Oklahoma, and has decided that the opportunities for material advancement are greater in California than those offered in Oklahoma.

This party is said to be the forerunner of other similar ones to come within the next few months, and who desire to get out onto agricultural lands. An advance agent, who was formerly at the head of a government school in Oklahoma, has been sent on to look over various land propositions in the vicinity, of this city and of San Diego. They will bring several thousand dollars to invest in Southern California farm lands. It is possible that they may decide to go in a body to the Imperial Valley and secure lands for cotton growing, with which they are familiar.

Goldfield.

NET PROFITS TO BE GRATIFYING.

Report of Consolidated Shows Prosperity.

Officials Tell of Progress at Atlanta.

Oro Mines Attract Attention in the East.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) April 4.—The final report of production and earnings of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company for the month of February, just issued by General Manager Albert Burch, shows a highly prosperous condition of the properties and net profits that will no doubt be gratifying to the stockholders. As usual, the final figures of net production slightly exceeded the preliminary estimates, reaching a total for the short month of February of $243,853.55. Shipments of ore to the smelters aggregated 1871 tons, this ore coming from the deep levels of the Clermont and Grizzly Bear mines, which are connected on the lower levels.

There was the usual amount of development work during the month, and the report shows that this was attended with excellent results, particularly in the Laguna, Combination and Grizzly Bear mines. The Clermont and Grizzly Bear mines are included together in the general manager's report on the Jumbo, both being part of the original Jumbo group. A new hoist of large capacity has been installed at the Grizzly Bear shaft, permitting of extending the scope of operations there. The hoisting engine of sixty-horse-power capacity, that was used to open the mine to the 1400-foot level, has been purchased by the Goldfield Oro Mines Company and is installed at the main shaft of that company's property.

In detail the Consolidated report for February shows a total production of 26,711 tons, containing ore worth $567,356.70, or an average of $21.24 per ton. The net realization per ton was $13.06. During the month 2757 feet of development work was done.

One of the most interesting mining properties in the Goldfield district is the Atlanta, of which George Wingfield is president. The Atlanta estate adjoins the Consolidated and the Merger and has always been regarded as a property of promise. It was just a year ago that the Atlanta was reorganized with the Wingfield interests at the helm and $100,000 cash was placed in the treasury for development work. Wednesday of this week a meeting of the directors was held here and the following statement, of interest to the thousands of stockholders, was issued by Secretary and Treasurer A. H. Howe:

"At the time the present management assumed control of the company's affairs the belief prevailed that ore existed at depth in the property of the Atlanta. This belief became a conviction as development work progressed in neighboring properties Our manager, K. M. Simpson, after a careful examination, reached the conclusion that these ore bodies known to exist in neighboring properties would not be encountered in Atlanta territory at a depth less than 1750 feet. A mining policy involving exploration from the surface to this depth was obviously far beyond the means of the Atlanta, notwithstanding the fact that the company had $100,000 in its treasury.

"At first it was thought feasible to work through the Grizzly Bear shaft of the Consolidated, but a subsequent examination of all conditions justified the belief that a less expensive campaign of operations could be conducted from the shaft of the Merger Mines Company on its St. Ives claim, contiguous to the property of the Atlanta on the north and east.

NEW BROOM SWEEPS CLEAN.

Latest Management of Mine With Bad History Says Little But Seems to Be Sawing Wood.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 4.—The new management at the Vulture mine says mighty little, but appears to be sawing a considerable amount of wood. The history of the mine for the past twenty years is so rotten that there seems to be believed that no good ore is left in it and that it cannot be exploited as a stock proposition if handled at all.

Among mining men, however, that the Vulture worked was simply the top of an immense ore-body with well-defined pinnacles. One expert who has examined the mine has recommended that a deep shaft off at the caved-in workings, where that the main ore-body will be found on the dip beneath the bottom of the 500 incline. The work of this sort has been done by a new concern, under the direction of Angus R. Mackenzie, who has picked up the old workings wide and absolutely safe, finding that the ore continues for 300 feet and probably more.

Just what the ore reserves are has not been told, but the engineers are going through the old stamp mill equipped for milling ore and cyanide treatment.

While the smelter is being built down at Swansea, the company is proceeding in the development of the Swansea Consolidated Company, with sixty-five men employed, and it is told that the old smelter will be started again with the addition of reverberatory furnaces to be installed. Report has it that the finding of a new body of ore on the 300 level, in which 100-foot workings are in rock which assays 27 per cent.

The old Raymert group, seven miles east of Superior, is bonded by the Cross-Thompson interests and sinking operations started under the terms of the bond. The Raymert has ore in sight of ore carrying small values in silver, with occasional rich pockets of white metal. But like the Vulture and Magma, it is proven that with depth the property will develop great copper mine.

At Superior the Calumet and Arizona Company is driving steadily on the work incident to the development of claims bonded by the company. On the Daggs-Thompson property a shaft is about 200 feet deep and will be continued to the 700 level. On the J. C. Goodwin group the main shaft is now down about 1000 feet. It is stated that ore has been struck in both. Power for the work of the Calumet and Arizona will soon be furnished by a line

Fatigue is the natural result of hard work, but exhaustion results from organic weakness.

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble, would you put it aside and accept something of doubtful efficiency?

If you saw before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and try some insecure and tottering structure? You would, of course, choose without hesitation that which all evidence showed to be the safest and best for you. Why, then, do some women risk their most precious possession—their health—because of some unwarranted prejudice against an advertised medicine?

You know, or should know, that for nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for woman's special ills. No medicine without great merit could have stood the test all these years and attained the largest sale and greatest success of any medicine in the world for this particular purpose.

Therefore, is it fair for you or anyone to say, without giving this great medicine a trial, "I don't believe it will help me."

Read the following genuine and truthful letters—only two of many thousands from grateful women:—

Letter from Miss Grace Dodds, Bethlehem, N.H.—"By working very hard, sweeping carpets, washing, ironing, lifting heavy baskets of clothes, etc., I got all run down. I was sick in bed every month. This last Spring my mother got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and already I feel like another girl. I am regular and do not have the pains that I did, and do not have to go to bed. I will tell all my friends what the Compound is doing for me."—Miss GRACIE B. DODDS, Box 133, Bethlehem, N.H.

Letter from Mrs. Etta Donovan, Willimantic, Conn.—" For five years I suffered untold agony, backache, irregularities, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk up stairs without stopping on the way. I was all run down in every way. I tried three doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said it was no use for me to take anything as nothing would restore me to health again. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and by taking seven bottles of the Compound and other treatment you advised, I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, 762 Main Street, Willimantic, Conn.

A HANDSOME REWARD WILL BE GIVEN to any person who will prove that any of our testimonial letters constantly being published in the daily newspapers are not genuine and truthful, or that any of these women were paid in any way to give their testimonials or that the letters were published without their permission or that all the original letters did not come to us entirely unsolicited. Fremont avenue, Santa Monica, looking from the beach to ward Los Angeles, ...may now be made the shortest boulevard between this city and the sea, after a long series of mysterious obstructions. ...HERE ARE SOME of the reasons for believing that a magnificent ...ew avenue from this city, through the heart of Santa Monica to ...he sea, short and direct, may be built:

FRANCHISE IN THE WAY.

With this part of the work out of the way a new petition seemed necessary and was secured. Then the Board of Education requested that the grade in front of the schoolhouse be changed from 8 per cent. to 7 per cent. This is the deepest cut along the avenue and the request possessed such merit that the Council spent several hours adjusting the matter.

Then, with the petition and ordinance properly prepared and all objections apparently removed the whole matter was thrown in the air again when the Council granted a franchise for an aerial railway. Fremont avenue residents protested violently, asserting that the franchise virtually meant the confiscation of the entire street.

The advertisement of the franchise was ordered printed in a Santa Monica newspaper and had been published several times before the property owners made their protest stick. One City Council meeting lasted into the small hours of the morning and after weeks of discussion a compromise was effected. A franchise, with new conditions imposed, was offered to the aerial railway promoters, but was not accepted.

The next obstruction to the improvement came in the form of a queer typographical error which invalidated the ordinance. The blame for the next delay was charged against the City Engineer's office because of alleged failure to fix the proper grades according to the specifications. This resulted in a lack of harmony between the Mayor, the City Attorney and the City Engineer. When these troubles had been adjusted and a new ordinance ready to go to print, proceedings were temporarily blocked by an effort to have the specifications regarding trees changed.

About a month ago, when everybody thought nothing more could possibly be brought up, a proposed specification for a lamp post compelled the Council to hold the matter up again because there were no architects present to adjust it that night.

The ordinance passed last Monday and was signed yesterday by the Mayor, and has behind it the backing and support of a united administration. Every Santa Monica city official who has anything to do with the matter has placed himself squarely on record in favor of putting the improvement through and against any further effort to obstruct.

It is believed that at least some of the delay could have been avoided if the Mayor and Councilmen had worked in harmony, but for a time, this seemed out of the question, with four Councilmen representing the Municipal League and Mayor Dow aligned with a quite different faction. Now the Mayor and entire Council are working together effectively.

City Attorney Taft said yesterday that some of the errors of the past three years could have been avoided if his legal investigation had been more thorough. He takes the position, that, as attorney for Santa Monica, he performed his full duty when he examined and passed on the validity of an ordinance of intention and that a complete research into all the proceedings was beyond his province.

In the case of the latest ordinance and attendant proceedings, Taft, at the earnest request of the Mayor, has undertaken to investigate every legal phase, thus for the first time assuming full responsibility.

Santa Monica city officials say the records of the case cover so long a period and are so voluminous, that it would require at least a week's work to unearth and classify them. There have been dozens of ordinances relating to trees and minor matters in addition to the long series of actions intended to make the actual work of opening the thoroughfare possible. The following is a record of the principal ordinances, passed by the Council over and over again, only to be made invalid by errors:

FROM THE CITY RECORDS.

September 10, 1907—Ordinance changing the name of Front street to Fremont avenue.

September 30, 1907—Ordinance of intention to improve Fremont avenue.

December 30, 1907—Ordinance ordering the improvement of Fremont avenue.

May 18, 1908—Ordinance of intention to widen Fremont avenue. No order followed this ordinance, according to the records.

September 27, 1909—Ordinance of intention to widen Fremont avenue. The time for about a year following this action was consumed in securing deeds.

November 11, 1909—Ordinance ordering the opening and widening of Fremont avenue.

November 25, 1910—Ordinance of intention to change the grade of Fremont avenue.

January 3, 1911—Ordinance ordering the change of grade of Fremont avenue.

October 18, 1911—Ordinance establishing the grade of Fremont avenue.

January 29, 1912—Ordinance of intention to improve Fremont avenue.

March 11, 1912—Ordinance ordering the improvement of Fremont avenue.

April 22, 1912—Ordinance of intention to change the grade of Fremont avenue.

June 17, 1912—Ordinance fixing the width of sidewalk space on Fremont avenue.

July 29, 1912—Ordinance of intention to improve Fremont avenue.

September 16, 1912—Ordinance ordering the improvement of Fremont avenue.

November 18, 1912—Ordinance of intention to change the grade of Fremont avenue.

December 30, 1912—Ordinance ordering the change of grade of Fremont avenue.

April 1, 1913—Ordinance of intention to improve Fremont avenue.

The total expenses to April 1, for opening and widening, with the land taken, aggregate $23,189.47. The expense connected with the improvement has been $1056.85.

If the proceedings go through without a hitch, it will be possible to receive bids by May 19, but the city officials believe it will be a week or two later. The work, which will cost about $100,000, will require four to five months.

Santa Monica property owners are much elated over the favorable prospect, not only for their own thoroughfare, but of a splendid short-cut boulevard extending from Pico street in Los Angeles, through the heart of Santa Monica, to the sea. Supervisors Butler and Hinshaw are favorably disposed toward the project and may decide to take advantage of a previous action of the Supervisors when the Fremont-avenue improvement has been accomplished.

Three years ago a committee, composed of Carl Schader, Alf Morris, J. B. Proctor and C. B. Griffin, went before the Board of Supervisors and at that time it was conditionally agreed that Pico street would be opened, eighty feet wide from Pruess road to connect with Fremont avenue. The committee reported that deeds had been secured by a compromise with the owners of the Wolfskill ranch to make First avenue through the ranch eighty feet wide, Second avenue to revert back to the ranch in compensation.

WOMEN TAKE TO CANES.

The "Swagger Stick" from London Now Seen in Los Angeles—Nobby and Expensive.

The "swagger stick" from London, is the very latest thing in feminine adornment seen in Los Angeles. It is an abbreviation of the walking-stick used by men, and it is carried by women in tailored or other street costume. The manager of a Broadway store which introduced the novelty here said yesterday that the demand is rapidly developing into a fad.

A number of women with "swagger sticks" were seen on Broadway yesterday. The women's canes are made principally from black ebony, turtle ebony and snake wood. Many of the sticks offered on the local market are mounted with gold or silver and set with jewels. The prices vary from $5 up, according to the value of the "trimmings." The most expensive "swagger sticks" known to be in use in Los Angeles cost $200. The jewelers say that in London and New York that women frequently pay $1000 or more for them.

Charles B. McNiff, manager of the gold department in a local jewelry store, told yesterday of the origin of the "swagger stick" fad:

"It happened that there were no pockets in the uniforms of English cadets. Without pockets, the cadets were at a loss to know what to do with their hands. They were supplied with a short stick, or half-cane. The cadets began giving the sticks to young women for souvenirs. Then a young woman or two in London began carrying the sticks on the streets. That's how it started. It didn't take the fad long to get across to New York and then to Los Angeles."

The Week.

JOHN DREW IS STILL AT IT.

STAR FOR TWO DECADES NOW DALLIES WITH SUFFRAGE.

"Tik-Tok Man" Crystallizes Into Big Success and Begins Prosperous Second Week—Rock and Fulton at the Orpheum—Stock and Vaudeville Programmes.

Charles Frohman will present John Drew, the leading modern exponent of light comedy, at the Mason Opera-house for one week commencing tomorrow evening, in "The Perplexed Husband," by Alfred Sutro.

"The Perplexed Husband" is doubtless of more general interest than any of the comedies in which John Drew has appeared recently, touching as it does in a satirical vein on the suffrage question and "the new woman"—who is looming so large at present in the public eye. It hits close to conditions prevalent throughout the country.

While Thomas Pelling is away from home on a business trip his home is invaded and his wife, Sophie—a simple-minded, impressionable creature—is captured by a pair of energetic and uncompromising votaries of the equal rights of the sexes.

They pay her a prolonged visit and thoroughly saturate her mind with the idea that she is a social parasite and a petted plaything; she should revolt and prove that she can "live her own life."

The bewildered husband, at first dismayed, fights fire with fire and proceeds to cure his wife by arousing her jealousy. He pretends to fall in with her notions and invites into the household a beautiful girl with a Greek soul. On this foundation a succession of amusing situations is constructed.

The supporting cast of distinguished players includes Mary Boland, Hubert Druce, Nina Sevening, Margaret Watson, Alice John, Walter Soldering and others.

Majestic.

The second week of Oliver Morosco's massive production of "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" will commence tomorrow night at the Hamburger Majestic Theater, and from the box-office assertions the second week of the big Baum-Gottschalk musical play is sure to attract a series of crowded houses.

That "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" is a real substantial success cannot be questioned. The changes Manager Morosco made immediately after the first performance have served to quicken the action, provide more comedy and otherwise vastly improve the piece.

Mr. Baum's delightful story of the search of Betsy and her mule Hank, the Tik-Tok Man, Princess Ozma, the Shaggy Man and all the others for the Ugly Man who has been imprisoned in the metal forest by the Metal Monarch, supplemented by Mr. Gottschalk's tuneful and catchy melodies and the extravagant series of stage pictures provided by Mr. Morosco—not forgetting for a moment that chorus of young, handsome and clever girls with their gorgeous costuming—is the most diverting, whimsical, quaint conceit imaginable, and the presentation is one of the year's rare treats.

Morton and Moore, the comedians; Eugene Cowles, still the possessor of that great basso which he first made known when with the Bostonians; Dolly Castles, dainty, clever and charming; Vera Doris, the prima donna, with her glorious soprano; Burns and Fulton in their whirlwind dance, Fred Woodward as the faithful mule; Lenora Novasio, the lively little girl from Oklahoma; Charles Ruggles as Private Flies of the Army of Oogaboo, and Josie Intropidi as the Queen of Oogaboo, all score individual successes of no small proportions.

Orpheum.

William Rock and Maude Fulton, alone in the world of Terpsichorean achievement, will top the new Orpheum bill opening Monday matinee. Rock and Fulton stand quite apart in their line of work—creative and descriptive dances and songs. Mr. Rock has brains back of his endeavors and every one of his productions show it. Miss Fulton is his complement in every way. It is with deep regret that the announcement is made that this is their last season together. Miss Fulton hereafter going out alone and Mr. Rock devoting himself to producing exclusively.

For this farewell tour they have originated several new numbers, and in every way their act will be found up to its past highest standard. Being so well and favorably known the mere announcement of their coming is felt to be quite sufficient to center interest on the Orpheum this week as pre-eminently attractive.

A return engagement is that of Jean Bedini and Roy Arthur, the "jovial jugglers." Mr. Bedini attained undying fame here on his last trip by catching a turnip thrown from the Story building, on a fork held in his teeth. But he also is a stage juggler of unusual gifts, and his assistant is a black-face comedian of unusual parts.

H. K. Guerro and Mlle. Carmen will furnish some delightful music on violin and harp. "The Girl from Milwaukee" may be a society girl, a grand-opera singer in disguise or merely seeking notice by the nonuse of her name, but the fact that she can sing is admitted everywhere. She has a rich and velvety contralto, despite the absence of a cognomen.

Master David Schooler, "the boy Paderewski," and Miss Louise Dickinson, the little prima donna, have been here before, and it is not necessary to dwell upon their accomplishments, which are of the highest.

The Reed Brothers, presenting "The Eccentric Waiter," are clever gymnasts, who adopt this title to their odd and funny act.

The hold-overs include Howard and Rare Indeed.

OF A VINTAGE IS JOHN DREW.

ACTOR NOW IN SUFFRAGETTE PLAY AND LIKES IT.

Keep Your Hair on and Your Stomach Off Is His Recipe for Keeping Young—Has Been Slave of Call Boy for Thirty Years, He Declares.

A comfortable, well-ordered dressroom, done in white (not green,) with rows of nail files, brushes and make-up materials arranged neatly on the table before the mirror; a small clock ticking relentlessly into the hush of "behind the scenes," and seated on a chair beside the table, his legs crossed and a cigar in his fingers—Mr. John Drew. There you have the center of the small world, which is spinning nightly on the road.

This is the way the writer found Mr. Drew in San Francisco, and this is how you will find him at the Mason this week.

The stage name of the little universe is "The Perplexed Husband," invented by Alfred Sutro, and the man in the white dressing-room, the affable, polished, ever-charming Mr. Drew, is the personal axis about which it revolves.

THE REAL DREW.

Almost every person who has seen John Drew from "out front," has had a hankering to "go behind" just for a moment or two. During the first two acts, Mr. Drew is so busy being perplexed over the situation provided by Mr. Sutro that he has no time to chat with anybody. But in the third act comes a respite, and if you are very quiet about it you may steal down the side aisle into the mysterious regions of "behind."

As you pass the lower left-hand box you notice a gentleman in evening dress clothes bending forward, his eyes shifting from stage to audience, from audience to stage, with tense interest. A particularly good line comes bubbling over the footlights. The faces in the audience tilt back as though set on one hinge, and out of them comes a roar of laughter. The gentleman in evening clothes leans back with a little sigh. The gentleman is Mr. Sutro.

Through a fireproof door and another door you go and then—stageland.

Mr. Drew is "on;" you can hear his cool, clean-cut sentences ringing against the back drop.

Instead of the hurly-burly of excitement about you that you half expected, there is the most astonishing calm. Everything is working on greased wheels. A stage hand lolls against the wall; a yawning policeman sits sleepily on a pile of stray "properties;" nothing is hurried or excited.

Suddenly you find the whole atmosphere of the place tighten like a fiddle string and you know that the apparent calm is only on the surface and that underneath it runs the current of strained anxiety that marks the introduction of every new play. One of the woman characters tip-toes by and stands waiting for her cue. It comes. She takes a swift breath and steps into the glare of the footlights. And at almost the same moment from another exit, Mr. John Drew tip-toes on.

AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

He shakes hands with a firm grip and motions you toward the white dressing-room. Immediately the stage becomes a drawing-room and Mr. Drew a polite host, without the slightest worry apparent. He beckons his dresser.

"Call me when M—is through," he directs, and then picks up the half-smoked cigar left over from the last act. There is a slight tremor of his fingers as he tosses away the match. It is the only visible sign on him of the strain in the air.

"Fire away," remarks your host, smiling pleasantly. Many's the time Mr. Drew has had to answer questions. When you begin to think how many times and how long John Drew has been a name quite "well known," and how unpatriarchal he looks, you blurt the question that has been asked him many a time and is always interesting. "How do you keep young, Mr. Drew?"

HOW HE KEEPS YOUNG.

He smiles through the cigar smoke. "The answer is in Shakespeare. Remember Adam's speech in 'As You Like It?' 'For in my youth I never did apply hot and rebellious liquors in my blood.' That's my secret, despite the cynics.

"Also," he continues, "I have a habit of exercise. A man is all right as long as he can keep his hair on and put his stomach off."

"What are your views about suffrage?"

"The Perplexed Husband" is a suffrage play.

"My views on that subject are very liberal," answers Mr. Drew seriously. "I believe there should be some representation for the woman property owner and the woman wage earner. I am in sympathy with the Music.

COAST TO GET BEST MUSIC.

CURRENT AND COMING ATTRACTIONS BRILLIANT ARRAY.

Noted Singers and Instrumentalists Booked for May—Philharmonic Course for Next Year Will Bring Almost Every Artist of Note to Los Angeles.

Julia Culp, who, although making her debut in America rather late in the recital season, has met with tremendous success, increasing in fervor with each appearance, is not what the Germans call merely a cerebral singer, nor is she merely a vocal instrumentalist. But one recital will be given in this city, that at the Auditorium the evening of May 8.

Her programmes are replete with the finest "lied" compositions written, Schubert, Schumann, Brahms all represented. The "lied" in music is like the Meissonier painting in art: it may be ever so small, it is still complete and well rounded. Every emotion is represented in these lieder, from grave to gay, from lively to severe, permitting, therefore, only the very greatest artists to include the same on their programme, as they must of necessity expect the most severe criticism when they are included.

Lester Donahue, Pianist.

It will be very gratifying to the many friends of Lester Donahue to learn of his recent success in his first recital in Berlin. The boy left here about a year ago, going direct from the tutelage of Thilo Becker, who has had such real success with any number of pianists, to Berlin. In the interim he has studied and increased his repertoire until at his recital, where all the prominent Americans living in Berlin, and also the most important critics, assembled, he presented a programme including the MacDowell and Beethoven sonatas and a number of Chopin numbers, receiving most flattering reviews, particularly from The Tageblatt, from which paper it is not easy to gain attention. For the coming season he will have appearances in Munich, Dresden, Leipzig and again in Berlin.

Symphony.

To those who have watched the Symphony work for the past fifteen years, to many it has been an inspiration, to others an education, and to those who simply go to be entertained it has had many attractive features and given enjoyment which could not have been secured in any other way.

Next Friday afternoon, April 11, will see the closing concert of this season. It will also see the farewell of Mr. Hamilton, who for sixteen years has guided the work of his men and raised the standard of symphonic music to a high pinnacle in Southern California. He leaves shortly for Europe for a deserved rest and an opportunity to study the symphony work of the old world.

Josef Lhevinne, the greatest of all the Russian pianists, the Rubinstein the second, will present, as soloist, Liszt's concerto No. 1 in E Flat, which the master himself considered was his greatest triumph as a composer.

The symphony is Dvorak's No. 5 in E Minor, better known as "The New World Symphony," a composition written by the composer while living in New York City, and rewritten with additional chamber music while sojourning in a small village in Iowa which contained a large Bohemian population.

An additional number is Hugo Kaun's "Festival March and Hymn to Liberty," which he dedicated to Theodore Thomas.

The opening number is a symphonic poem by C. E. Pemberton, written about Kipling's story of "The Light That Failed," describing the struggles of an artist to win success in his profession and also to gain the love of an ambitious woman. The music is intended to portray the hero's emotions during the struggles, successes and failures of his art. It is gratifying to know that Mr. Pemberton is and has been for twenty years a member of the local musical fraternity.

Two distinguished pianistes.

Olga Steeb.

Olga Steeb's programme at the Auditorium April 16 will consist of the Bach-Busoni Chaconne; Paradies Toccata in A Major; the famous andante con variazioni of Haydn; a wonderful little composition of Raff the "Maerchen" from Opus 162; the famous Waldstein sonata, Beethoven's musical painting of the Aurora Borealis, a delicate reference to the belief of the famous Gen. Wallenstein in the obsolete science of astrology, the sonata being dedicated to a descendant of the general; the lovely D flat nocturne of Chopin, improvised by the master in response to the remark of a society belle in Paris that the piano was incapable of certain effects in double stopping; a composition by her husband, Charles Keefer, "Meereisleuchten," which is an attempt to suggest in tones the phosphorescent lights seen in the ocean; the delightful Spozalizio of Liszt after Raphael's painting, and the brilliant Faust Waltz by the same composer.

Eugene Ysaye Coming.

Eugene Ysaye, what magic that name spells; what visions of success arise before the eyes of the student, what enchanting memories hold the attention of those who have enjoyed a recital given by this great master of the violin.

A man of large and powerful physique, he plays with a bold and manly vigor, and yet with exquisite delicacy, and owing to his wonderfully perfect technique he disarms criticism. Not a month had passed on his first American tour before he was an established favorite.

His second American tour was made in 1898. The following year—1899—he visited Berlin the mecca for all musicians, but which city had not heard him in a number of seasons; here as soloist at the tenth Nikisch Philharmonic Concert he played the E Major concerto by Bach, scoring an overwhelming success.

Not for five years did he return to America—this being his last visit before the present transcontinental tour—playing during this tour of 1904-5 one hundred and four concerts, taking away as his season's earnngs over $90,000 a sum that has not been equalled at the same number of concerts by even the popular Kubelik. Already this season Ysaye's receipts have been immense, and when he finishes his tour on the coast—appearing in Los Angeles May 6 and 10—he will probably have netted the same sum if not a trifle more.

Next Season's Philharmonic.

Already the possibilities for the Philharmonic series of the season of 1913-14 are being discussed, and in addition to the regular Philharmonic courses to be given evenings there is being planned a matinee series to accomodate the many who are unable to attend the evening events.

The vocalists are the first to be considered with Geraldine Farrar opening the series on October 9, closely followed by Frances Alda, both of the Metropolitan. Mme. Nellie Melba, the world's greatest coloratura soprano, comes early in December but not alone—a new combination of musical stars is herein arranged by a co-star tour of Mme. Melba and Jan Kubelik, the violinist.

The contraltos are represented by Mme. Schumann-Heink early in November, and Mme. Clara Butt, co-artist with Kennerley Rumford, early in February. The first of the male vocalists will be Putnam Griswold, the basso, followed later by John McCormack, the Irish tenor.

The violin field is well filled with Jan Kubelik, Fritz Kreisler, in February, Kathleen Parlow, now considered the greatest violinist of her sex, and Mischa Elman about the twentieth of April.

For the pianists it seems as though all the best known in this or any other country are planning to congregate on the Pacific coast. Harold Bauer opens the season the middle of November, closely followed by Wilhelm Bachaus, the celebrated English pianist; Josef Hofmann in January, and Ignace Paderewski, the master of masters, at practically the same time. In November Mme. Teresa Carreno plays her farewell tour of the coast.

Casini, the Russian cellist, who was with Mme. Melba last season, together with Frank La Forge, will constitute the support of Mme. Alda in her tour. The only cellist to be heard as a solo artist throughout the entire programme will be Jean Girardy. For chamber music the Flonzaley quartet has already arranged its tour and will close the season on the Pacific coast the latter part of April.

Of course the Chicago Grand Opera will take its quota of attention during the week of March 9, while Anna Pavlowa with the greatest coterie of Russian dancers ever assembled, a large ballet and supporting orchestra of sixty pieces, will present the new dramatic Russian ballets in a modern manner, with [illegible] ment.

The Symphony situation will be in the efficient hands of Victor Harris who has arranged six weeks for its coast late in season.

Clifford Lott in Boston.

Our popular baritone, Clifford Lott, will be the leading soloist at the concert of Cecilia Society, the leading chorus of mixed voices in Boston, at its next recital, April 17.

This society, which was founded in 1877 is considered the best of its kind in America.

Mr. Lott, after appearing in Chicago and New York, will return home about May 1.

Von Stein Academy.

Three hundred [illegible] concerts will have been given under the auspices of Von Stein Academy of Music on Tuesday April 8, at Gamut Auditorium. This is a [illegible] which both teaching staff and student body of the Von Stein Academy is duly proud and [illegible] scheduled to be fittingly [illegible] a programme of particularly fine selection.

Peoples' Orchestra.

At the Peoples' Orchestra [illegible] this afternoon, Mrs. [illegible] Makinson, dramatic soprano, will make her formal debut with the orchestra in the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" and "Oh, Golden Sun," a new composition by Miss Grace Adele Maybey of Los Angeles.

Another artist of sterling [illegible] and wide repute is W. S. Bl[illegible] of the University of Southern California music department. Mr. [illegible] will play this afternoon with the orchestra using the three movements allegro moderato, allegretto, allegro moderato, of Horatio Parker's concerto for orchestra and [illegible] This number is one of the most ambitious works of this sort and has brilliance for the solo instrument which is effectively supported by the orchestra.

One interesting feature of the programme will be the rendition for the first time on the coast, and for the second time in the country of Summer Wilson's charming suite "Memories From My Childhood." This is divided into four movements [illegible] the Teddy Bears Lullaby, [illegible] the Negro Dolls, Around the [illegible] and Tiny Spinners.

Brahm's Quintette Concert.

As a fitting finale to their season the Brahm's Quintette will give on Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening their last chamber music concerts at Blanchard Hall.

Grieg's quartette for strings and Brahm's quintette will be the principal musical numbers. Mrs. Winslow-Vaughn, soprano, will be soloist, assisted by Miss [illegible] Plumstead at the piano in one of Brahm's selections and by Die Mainacht of the same [illegible] with quintette accompaniment.

It will be the last opportunity of season, to hear that remarkable tette of distinguished musicians.

Dr. Baumfeld's Death.

Following an attack of [illegible] tis, Dr. Baumfeld died last [illegible] at the Astor Sanitarium in Rockland City.

ening the new seven-act Sullivan Considine bill opening at the Theater with the usual matinee tomorrow, will be Alexander Bevani's "Romany Opera Company," an organization of operatic singers well known to vaudeville audiences, which has appeared here on several previous occasions with great success at both the Auditorium and Empress Theater.

The big fun hit should be Halliday and Carlin in their famous nautical travesty, "The Battle of Bay Run," generally recognized as one of the funniest acts that has come to the vaudeville stage in recent years.

Third in the matter of interest on the new bill will be Alberta Moore and Myrtle Young, two beautiful young women, who, with their unique songs and dances and winning personalities have been most successful in the variety world.

Fourth on the bill is the team of Stone and Wander, who will be seen in their new and original musical comedy skit, "The Beauty Shop." Both are graduates of the musical comedy stage and their present vehicle gives them every opportunity in the matter of bright songs, clever patter and light, graceful dancing.

Rita Redfield, one of the cleverest child impersonators on the stage today, should charm the Empress patrons with her character studies, while McConnel and Austin, the cycling comedians, promise to make things lively and entertaining every minute they are before the footlights. Exclusive of these new acts will be the new comedy motion pictures.

—o—

Pantages.

Verna Mersereau's picturesque oriental dancing production, "In Pharoah's Temple," will probably be the most talked-of number on the new Pantages programme starting Monday afternoon. Mlle. Mersereau is no stranger to Pantages audiences, having been featured here in "Cleopatra," the tragic dance picture of the death of the Egyptian Queen. In her present act Mlle. Mersereau offers a picture entirely different, one replete with the joy of living, from the religious revels of old Egypt. Mlle. Mersereau, as the high priestess of some Egyptian Venus, is surrounded by a bevy of lovely young girls as neophytes of the temple.

Dixie Harris and Menlo Moore's Eight Lads and Lasses come with a vaudeville-size music-comedy which has been popularly christened "Childhood Days." Miss Harris has not been seen in her home town since she became a vaudeville star, and hundreds of friends and acquaintances who know what to expect of her ability as singer and dancer will welcome her in her new stellar glory. This is the second Menlo Moore act to be seen on the Pantages stage within recent months, and if it shows the quality of the former offering Pantages patrons will be amply satisfied.

Karl, the "wizard of the single string," plays an oddly contrived instrument of the violin species. Karl is more than a musical oddity, his music possessing a quality, and his playing a technic all his own.

The Three Navarros, acrobatic gymnasts, have something new to offer. Magee and Kerry, as "The Department Store Duo," have opened up a new vein of vaudeville comedy. Ollie Eaton and her company appear in "Man Proposes—Woman Disposes," a reductio ad absurdum of the time-worn proverb.

—o—

Mission Play.

"I saw John S. McGroarty's 'Mission Play,'" said Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University, "with great delight."

"It is a wonderful and imposing pageant. He has shown great wisdom and skill in keeping the movement of the pageant simple and not complicated with sensational and melodramatic details. In this way he has brought out clearly the great romance of the missionary idea and the tragic fate of the Indians. Only a man with a poetic heart could have done such a thing in this way.

"I sent my children to see the play after I had been there and they came back full of enthusiasm."

—o—

Century.

Girls! Girls! Girls! And then some more girls will be the main feature of next week's bill at the Century Theater, commencing with Monday evening's performance.

Jules Mendel, of course, will head the list of funmakers and will be ably assisted by Walter Spencer, Earl Hall, Al Franks, Vera Ransdale, Gale Henry and Rose Mendel. The latter has been absent from the cast during the past week, and will make her appearance with the Century company Monday evening, playing one of the leading feminine roles. Miss Mendel is a comedienne of marked ability and since her connection with the Century company she has met with tremendous success and is claimed quite a favorite.

—o—

Arrow Theater.

Hamburger's Arrow Theater has the best programme for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday it has shown in months. The headliner is a Thanhouser two-reel feature, "Cymbeline," from the play by William Shakespeare, with a noble cast, including Flo La Badie, James Crus and William Garwood.

The Thanhouser director has turned to the greatest of playwrights for this feature and through his superb company has produced one of the finest subjects ever thrown on a screen. Two other films are shown, "Cupid Never Ages," American, and "Napoleon," Solax.

—o—

Clunes'.

The exhibition of the famous William J. Burns picture, "The Exposure of the Land Swindlers," in which the famous detective takes the leading roles, will conclude Sunday night at Clunes' Fifth-street Theater, and commencing Monday for three days only, "The Golden Hoard," a story of the days of piratical marauders, will be featured.

At Clune's Broadway Theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only will be shown the first authentic pictures of the great Ohio floods. By special arrangement, W. H. Clune secured them for his house first.

—o—

Tally's Broadway.

"The Queen of Spades," a remarkable production replete with gorgeous scenes and intensely dramatic situations, heads the new programme tomorrow at Tally's Broadway Theater. It was produced in two reels by the Italian firm of Cines, who are particularly good at heavy emotional photodrama, and this story, dealing with a daughter who discovers that her mother has been conducting a fashionable gambling establishment, while she was away at school, and its effect on her love affair, furnishes a theme for some powerful acting. The critical spectator will especially enjoy the fine character parts taken by the Italian actors.

A biograph drama, "Mary's Perfidy;" a new Bunny comedy showing Bunny's Honeymoon, and the latest Pathe Weekly, complete the picture programme. The Royal Hawaiian Serenaders, an unusually good musical attraction, will be an added entertainment throughout the week.

"The Rest Is Silence."

Horatio speaks:

Beyond these ancient walls of Elsinore
A shrouding mist is folded on the snow.
(Here by the battlements he leans no more, Watching the guard below.)
League after league along the cliff the gray
Wide water darkens with the darkening West.
(O troubled soul by what uncharted way Hast thou gone forth to rest?)
Within, the shadows creep across the walls,
Through the long corridors as dusk grows dim.
(The echoing vastness of the vaulted halls Tonight is full of him.)
A gust of wind steals shuddering from the floor
Where once he paced his hours of heart-wrung watch.
(It may be that his foot is at the door,
His hand upon the latch.)
"The rest is silence"—Ah, my liege, my prince!
Though storm winds sweep the seas, and cannon roar,
Silence is on thy lips, and ever since Silence in Elsinore!

It is estimated that he is personally responsible for 7000 families which have moved to the Canadian West.

Chinfu Wang-Shai, who recently matriculated at Columbia University for the degree of doctor of philosophy in the faculty of political science, is a war veteran, and a full-fledged general, though only 28 years old. He supported himself by writing revolutionary articles for the Chinese vernacular press.

Francis Hopkinson Smith, author-painter-contractor, launched himself on the world when a mere boy as clerk in an iron works in Baltimore, hoping to earn money enough to clear the mortgage on his mother's southern home. The pay was small and the work repugnant to him and he soon quit, going to New York, where he secured employment, after many rejections, as a shipping clerk, largely through his ability to letter boxes. His pay was $3 a week. His spare time he devoted to the study of engineering, and in time became a contractor, paying off the mortgage. Successful at construction work, he gave way to his early longing and began painting. He has built the sea walls at Rock Island, the Race Rock lighthouse off New London, Ct., and the foundation of the Bartholdi statue. In addition to gaining fame as an artist, he has written several successful novels and volumes of stories.

ACTIVE WOMEN.

Dr. Yamei Kin, a woman physician of China, has arrived in this country to deliver a course of lectures.

Mrs. Jane Palmer, a Philadelphia artist, with the aid of several women and men, plans a "Utopia" for artists, magazine writers and others interested in such work. The most picturesque spot in Montgomery county, Pennsylvania, will be selected for the site, it is said, and the enterprise is neither philanthropic nor co-operative.

Miss Hare, who is spending the winter in Bucksport, Me., found on the snow last month a full-grown butterfly with wings outspread. The wings were as perfect and finely colored as the most beautiful ones in June. It was brought into the house, and at present the butterfly is alive and feeding on primrose and lily-of-the-valley blossoms.

Mrs. Lydia Clark of Hanover, Mass., cuts and saws wood every day for part of her living expenses, and, besides, does all kinds of work on the farm. When her husband was taken sick, and it seemed that he would have to be taken care of by one institution, and she and the children by another, she said: "We will stay together if I have to saw wood for it."

Miss Florence Markham of Interlaken, Mass., who began carrying the mails at Stockbridge when she was 17 years old, in 1889, and has covered 86,400 miles since, has been awarded a contract for four years more. Miss Markham figures that she will have rounded out 100,000 miles by 1917. Since she has been carrying the mails the postoffice at Interlaken has been changed five times and has had five different postmasters.

Mrs. Frederick Schoff, president of the National Mothers' Congress, thinks that parents should be educated to the responsibilities of parenthood. She thinks the responsibility of this work in the home should be thrown upon the church, which could see that parents are properly educated in the line of their duties through pamphlets, and by training courses in reading and other instruction.

THE UNCHLOROFORMED.

George Pople, 92 years old, has been re-elected warden of St. George's Episcopal Church in Flushing, L. I., and his friends say he is probably the oldest active church official in continuous service in the United States. Before being elected a warden he had served the church as vestryman from 1864 to 1884.

Benjamin F. Freeman, 97 years old, of Schnectady, N. Y., says his one regret is that he has not seen New York, his native city, since it grew up. He left New York sixty years ago, before the era of subways, elevated trains and skyscrapers.

A cedar tree, felled 58 years ago, was made into fence posts a few days ago by O. P. Adams, who is nearly 85 years of age, is a pioneer of the Grove county, Ore., and remembers when the tree was felled by James Shields, another pioneer, who has passed away.

William L. Miller gave a sassafras tea party to the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Joplin, Mo., on the ninety-ninth anniversary of his birth, Miller's wife, 90, received the guests with him, and together they praised sassafras as the real elixir of life. Sassafras means much to Miller, for he not only believes that it is "great stuff" for perfect health, but from the profit derived from the sale of roots he digs he provides bread and meat for the table.

Mrs. J. R. McCave, who says she is 103 years old, her son, aged 72, and her daughter, 68, of Olean, N. Y., are the oldest group of tourists that ever visited the Panama Canal. Mrs. McCave walked through the cut and saw the entire work.

STATESMEN, POLITICIANS.

Herman A. Miller of Essex Falls, N. J., is the champion job-holder of that State, if not of the country, so his fellow townsmen say. Miller fills eight positions and fills them well. He is the borough clerk, recorder, clerk of the Board of Education, clerk of the Board of Health, ticket agent, freight agent, telegraph operator and express agent.

Gov. Sulzer talked of "real greatness" to a delegation of students from the Walton High School, who visited him. "Real greatness," he said, "consists in the possession and development of three faculties—observation, by which you acquire knowledge; concentration, by which you store it away, and analyzation, by which you utilize it. Any individual who possesses well developed these three great faculties is a genius."

In recognition of his administration of the office of Collector of the Port of New York, a dinner will be given to William Loeb, Jr., at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on the evening of April 10. Mr. Loeb will become a vice-president and a director in various companies controlled by the Guggenheim interests as soon as his successor is appointed by President Wilson.

"Sam" Gordon will continue to be the ornament of the post he has so long graced as doorkeeper for Governors of New Jersey. He will reluctantly decline the tender made by the President of the United States of a job at the White House. He is fond of the President, whose hair he can cut to a nicety, and the President is fond of him. Mrs. Wilson and her daughters also hold him in high regard. It was with great reluctance that he made up his mind to turn a deaf ear to the call to Washington.

CRANKS.

To illustrate his contention that inducement and not nerve is the propelling force that pushes men to perform unusual feats, Henry Rautenbusch, 50 years old, of St. Louis, jumped into the icy waters of the Mississippi, swam out fifteen feet from shore and back again and then refused to don his clothes until the frigid winds had dried his hide. He won $5 by thus proving his contention and spent the reward for liquid refreshments for a crowd that heard him tell about it.

Dr. Thomas J. Allen, formerly president of Aurora College, who lived sixty days on peanuts, and Miss Lillian Suehr of Ottawa, Ill., who is said to have existed ninety-two days on apples, were married recently in Eureka Springs, Mo. Their gastronomic feats brought about their meeting. Dr. Allen now is proprietor of a sanatorium. The bridegroom is 50 years old and his bride is twenty years his junior.

At Warren, N. H., Stephen Lund, 19 years, has undergone the ordeal of his first hair cut, and rumor has it that this modern Sampson sacrifices $20,000, which was left him by the will of an uncle if he reached the age of 21 without ever having his locks sheared. Lund was in the habit of wearing his hair in two braids, which hung down his back and flapped in the breezes. When it was loosened, however, it came down below his waist.

Jilted because an attack of asthma made her too skinny to suit the plump tastes of her former admirer, Miss Bessie Knapp of Milwaukee, Wis., received $2500 in a suit against Dr. James Jensen, dentist, for breach of promise. The suit was for $5000. Miss Knapp, who is a school teacher at Black Wolf, testified that she first met Jensen when she came to Milwaukee on a visit to a girl friend. After her return to her home letters began to accumulate at the postoffice at Black Wolf, written by Dr. Jensen. Shortly afterward they became engaged.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY SYDNEY FORD.

THE Ebell and Friday Morning clubs have struck a happy idea in combining their forces to bring to Los Angeles a famous artist—Ralph Heim Johonnot—who will deliver two lectures here this week and next under the combined auspices of these two great clubs, the lectures to be given in the auditorium of the Polytechnic High School—one on next Friday morning and the other on Monday afternoon, April 14.

An important feature of the affair will be the exhibit of modern and antique hand work from this and many other countries brought by Mr. Johonnot, whose lectures will be illustrated with slides and museum pieces. The first address, on "Art Appreciation" will deal with a system of instruction which has as its aim the production of original work based on principles used by masters of painting and the crafts. The second lecture, on "Abstractions of Nature Forms" will treat of the restraint and dignity which it is necessary to give interpretations of those forms to make them harmonious with, and a part of the space, which is to receive them. For the past ten years Mr. Johonnot has been connected with the art department of Pratt Institute, he is a pupil of Arthur W. Dow of Columbia University and of the late E. F. Fenollosa, Imperial Art Commissioner to Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Johonnot, who have just come down from San Francisco where he has been giving lectures under the auspices of the San Francisco Art Association, were the guests of Mrs. Randall Hutchinson at luncheon at the Friday Morning Club last Friday. A reception is being planned to take place probably on Thursday evening to give the visitors an opportunity to meet Los Angeles art lovers informally before the series of lectures opens.

Mrs. May Wright Sewall, for years a prominent figure on the lecture platform, addressed the Friday Morning Club last week on "Internationalism." As she is chairman of the International Council of Women and of the Committee of Peace and Arbitration, she is competent to speak on this big, broad subject. She called attention to the fact that, during last year there were over 300 international conventions, running the gauntlet from an International Convention of Wool Growers and an International Hog Cure Convention, up to the climax which was reached in the International Races Congress when official representatives from fifty-eight organized governments met in London.

"The first step toward internationalism," declared Mrs. Sewall, "is nationalism—to feel yourself one with every section of the people everywhere—the same in the Spanish market of New Orleans as when standing under the shadow of the monument in Washington—to think when standing under the shadow of the monument in Washington—to think when you see a son of Italy—not 'dago,' but 'Michael Angelo,' and when you see a Russian whose name ends in 'ski' to think 'Sobieski.' As Americans, we are a money-loving, money-grabbing people."

Just previous to Mrs. Sewall's address the president of the club, Mrs. McCan, read a letter of thanks signed by the pupils of the Macy, Amelia and Hewitt-street schools expressing their gratitude for the guest programme given by the club last Saturday afternoon which they so greatly enjoyed in company with other children and the number of nationalities included in this representation gave Mrs. Sewall an admirable illustration for her theme as showing the democratic and international spirit that is growing among Americans.

Women to Go to Council.

Members of the City Council will have the pleasure of entertaining a large company of women at their meeting next Tuesday morning if the Friday Morning Club women heed the admonition of their president to be on hand to protest against the sale by the Water Board of that lot at Olive and Fifth streets. That particular spot of ground, gentlemen, is required, so the women say, to complete and make whole the scheme of Normal Hill site for a group of buildings devoted to the educational uplift of the people at large.

Being that it is so near election time and in consideration of the fact that the women in California are voters, the Councilmen seem to be on the point of a dilemma—or the horns—which is it?

For Paycopathic Hospital.

The charming entertainment "Daughters of Dawn" given a few weeks ago by the art department of the Friday Morning Club, is to be repeated on the evening of April 16 for the benefit of the Paycopathic Hospital—a philanthropy fostered by that club and one of the most beneficent and important institutions ever opened for suffering humanity. Both the entertainment and the cause demand a large attendance.

Nominating Committee Named.

The season of club elections is upon us and nominating committees are being named. At the last meeting of Eschscholtzia Chapter, D.A.R., Mrs. S. A. Rendall, Mrs. Grant C. Goucher and Mrs. Mary H. Banning were appointed a Nominating Committee and at the next meeting officers for the coming year will be elected. Up to date but two candidates have appeared for the presidency, I believe—Mrs. Dillon, the incumbent, and Mrs. Phillip Young, the first vice-president, who is being urged to consider the matter.

At the meeting last Tuesday Mrs. Rendall gave an address on her favorite topic—the George Junior Republic—for which she has been an active worker ever since its beginning here. Mmes. S. G. Goucher, Harry Underwood and W. A. Freeman furnished delightful music.

Sierra Madrean's Flower Show.

The Sierra Madre Club is occupied now with preparations for the annual flower show, which will take place the third week in April this year. This function is of sufficient civic interest to enlist the active co-operation of the men's organizations of that hustling foothill town whose representatives are active workers on the Executive Committee. The festival will continue three days and some especial features of it will be a cafeteria in charge of Mrs. G. H. Johnson, an exhibit of fly traps, of domestic science labor-saving devices, and a model for a fertilizer bin, under the auspices of the Civics Committee.

The exhibit of flowers promises to be unusually attractive, the display of California wild flowers, judging by the wealth of bloom now coloring the fields and hills, should surpass in lavish abundance any former exhibit.

Highland Park Ebell.

The Highland Park Ebell kept open house yesterday from 3 to 5 o'clock and members of the rambler section escorted guests from the Arroyo Seco Park picnic to the new clubhouse on Avenue 57 after the speechmaking. The executive board served tea to their downtown visitors who greatly enjoyed this opportunity of seeing the clubhouse, which is such an acquisition to that part of town.

Mrs. Sarah F. Judson was appointed chairman of the Nominating Committee for the election of officers for the ensuing year, at the regular meeting of the club last week. Her assistants are Mmes. A. E. Lindsay and E. O. Faulkner. The programme of the morning was current events conducted by Mrs. Jane M. Beatty, who was greeted with the Chautauqua salute on account of her election to the vice-presidency of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs at the recent annual meeting of the body at Monrovia. Her witty current events was devoted to the situation in the United States English suffrage problems and questions, including home rule old age pensions.

Mrs. Lillian T. Dudley,
Treasurer of Eschscholtzia Chapter, D.A.R.

A civics programme will be next Tuesday, when C. M. Harbor Commissioner, will the club on the harbor and bonds.

Club Women Going Abroad.

As usual, Los Angeles is out a large delegation of tourists this spring. Many prominent club women are planning to spend summer abroad. Mrs. Miss Wilkes, accompanied by her ter, Miss Willamette Wilkes niece, Miss Hazel Galpin, two little grandchildren will from New York May 2 to spend definite time abroad with headquarters in London. Miss Wilkes Miss Galpin will study, the former going into the Repertoire Theatre Liverpool for practice and study also taking up voice culture in don.

Miss A. E. Wadleigh, for director and prominent member the Ruskin Art Club, will the summer abroad, making her periodic tours of the of Europe.

Miss Laura Grover Smith, the directors of the Friday Club and sister of its president, D. C. McCan, sails next month Europe for an indefinite stay. mediate objective point being pest, where she will attend the national Woman's Suffrage tion.

A delightful family party will that of Mrs. M. Burton Wood the well-known conchologist and woman, who expects to sail June accompanied by her entire ily. The Misses Estelle and Williamson will study music in Germany and Mrs. Burton elder daughter, will be joined by her husband, Dr. S. B. and little daughter Gertrude will travel en famille, being and leisurely and will be absent ably six months and possibly

Club Women Going Abroad.

As usual, Los Angeles is sending out a large delegation of foreign travelers this spring. Many prominent club women are planning to spend the summer abroad. Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Willamene Wilkes, her niece, Miss Hazel Galpin, and her two little grandchildren will sail from New York May 2 to spend an indefinite time abroad with headquarters in London. Miss Wilkes and Miss Galpin will study, the former going into the Repertoire Theater in Liverpool for practice and study and also taking up voice culture in London.

Miss A. E. Wadleigh, for years a director and prominent member of the Ruskin Art Club, will also spend the summer abroad, making one of her periodic tours of the art galleries of Europe.

Miss Laura Grover Smith, one of the directors of the Friday Morning Club and sister of its president, Mrs. D. C. McCan, sails next month for Europe for an indefinite stay, her immediate objective point being Budapest, where she will attend the International Woman's Suffrage convention.

A delightful family party will be that of Mrs. M. Burton Williamson, the well-known conchologist and club woman, who expects to sail in early June accompanied by her entire family. The Misses Estelle and Lilian Williamson will study music and art in Germany and Mrs. Bradley, the elder daughter, will be accompanied by her husband, Dr. E. R. Bradley, and little daughter Gertrude. They will travel en famille, independently and leisurely and will be absent probably six months and possibly a year.

Mrs. Margaret Frick and Mrs. Fred Woods have already gone on a trip of the Orient and will spend several months in Japan and China. During the absence of Mrs. Frick, Mrs. W. F. Thurston will act as chairman of literature of the Friday Morning Club.

A Beneficent Woman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson, who, with her brother, has given over $3,000,000 to Barnard College, has recently made a gift of $650,000 to the New York Association for the Improvement of the Poor, to be used in the department of social welfare for the prevention, rather than the alleviation of the evils of poverty. In her letter to the President of the Society she describes the methods in which she desires the money to be used—in the promotion of cleanliness and sanitation and the securing of proper food supply and such other activities as are calculated to prevent sickness and thus diminish poverty.

Cheap and Wholesome Meals.

Chicago cooks declare that the cost of a wholesome meal need not be more than 7 cents per capita. Women of the Chicago School of Domestic Arts and Sciences plan a body blow for the high cost of living in an exhibit to be given by them. They say they will prepare and serve a whole some meal at a cost of 7 cents per plate, the meal planned for a family of six and costing exactly 42 cents. The following is the bill of fare: One loaf of home-made bread, 2 cents; mutton and vegetables en casserole, 25 cents; steamed rice, 5 cents; bread pudding custard, 10 cents. The casserole dish, it is claimed, contains as much nutriment as a 50-cent steak and makes side dishes unnecessary since it includes vegetables. The rice is included for good measure. It is richer in food value than potatoes. The Chicago women say they can prove that 285 loaves of bread may be made from one sack of good flour.

Ruskin Art Club.

The Wednesday meeting of the Ruskin Art Club was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Young. Mrs. J. W. Hendrick described the disturbed state of France during the middle fifteenth century under the regency of the unruly uncles of Charles VI., and told of the long, disastrous rule of the mad King and his frivolous Queen.

Miss Florence Judd gave an account of Henry V of England and his campaign in France, describing the fateful battle of Agincourt and the tragedy of Montereau. Mrs. Ada Walker pictured the early life of Jeanne d'Arc on the peaceful valley which lay outside the path of great events, telling of her childhood, her dreams and visions. Mrs. E. S. Hoffgin then took up the ever-fascinating story, carrying a spell-bound audience through the public career of the Maid of Orleans to the accession

IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Distinguished Visitors.

Dr. Arthur Cowper, Superintendent of Schools in Winnipeg, and Mr. J. Smith, Inspector of Schools of Sydney, Australia, have been in the city during the past week, visiting our schools. Both have expressed themselves as delighted at what they have seen. Said Mr. Dennis:

"I was very much interested in your Polytechnic High School. In Sydney we have a technical college, fed from the technical high school, doing work is university standard. Here are kinds of vocational trade work carried. There is also an evening school in connection with the college, where nearly the same course is given as that taught in the day school. I was particularly interested in your social center work. We have nothing of that sort in Australia.

"I was also delighted with the work you are doing in Castelar-street and the adapting of the work to the needs of the people in that locality particularly impressed me. The kindergarteries, as a feature, with their cribs and cots and hammocks are interesting.

"We have just arranged in Sydney, Australia, for a school of the type corresponding to your intermediate schools. We call these continuation schools, but have nothing corresponding to what you call continuation schools.

"The most significant thing I have noted about the tendency of your education is the effort to adapt the work of the school to the life and activities of the people of any given community. The most luminous manifestation of patriotism struck me forcibly."

Mr. Dennis is here on vacation, and will visit the United States looking into educational work in all the larger cities.

Girls' Field Day.

An innovation in school athletics will be the girls' field day for elementary schools, which will be held at Manual Arts High School, at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, April 26. Dr. Everett C. Hosmer, head of physical training department, will be in charge.

Only girls are to be allowed to enter the events, upon the approval of the principal, and may not enter more than three events.

The events will be as follows: Junior girls—Forty-yard dash; running broad jump; relay around post, forty yards each way. Intermediate girls—Fifty-yard dash; running broad jump, and twenty-five-yard relay. Senior girls—Sixty-yard dash; running broad jump, and shuttle relay, forty yards. Seventh and eighth grade division: Juniors—Six-yard dash; running broad jump; relay race. Seniors—Seventy-five-yard dash; basketball distance throw; relay race, each girl to run once. No school may enter more than three competitors in each event, eight in the relay, except in the basketball and couple relays.

Appropriate certificates of physical efficiency will be awarded winners in each event.

The annual track meet for elementary schools will also be held. . . will be held in three divisions. The meet will be under the supervision of Miss Hosmer and Mr. McMillian will assist. Occidental College athletic field, Saturday, April 5, at 1 o'clock; the meet will be under the supervision of Mr. Hawthorn and Mr. Hunt will assist. The Manual Arts High School meet, Saturday, April 12, at 1 p.m., the meet for schools under Mrs. Hutchinson and Dr. Osterheld will meet on the Y.M.C.A. athletic field Saturday, April 19, at 1 p.m. The events will include high-jump, running broad jump, relay race, bar chinning, etc.

Schools to Make Supplies.

The school woodworking department will hereafter make many of the articles needed in grammar schools. Following are some of the articles requisitioned for by the principals: Bookcases of all sorts, boxes of apparatus for playgrounds, desks, etc.; bulletin boards, kitchen cupboards, dollhouses for kindergartens, easels, picture frames, magazine frames, file cases, tool handles, pigeon-hole sections, chalk trays, hat and coat racks, kindergarten tables, drawing and typewriting tables and taborets.

Relief Fund.

Several thousand dollars and over was raised by school children on last Friday to the fund being raised for the relief of flood sufferers. Mrs. W. E. Dorsey, assistant superintendent of schools, had charge of the work and her desk was piled high with rolls of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters, with a few lonely half-dollars and dollars. The envelope contained a good many Chinese pennies, which were all unworthy of being accurately counted and Mrs. Dorsey averred she thought a worn-out bank clerk when the task was completed.

The Castelar-street school a contributed vaudeville performance was given Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 2, to raise money for the fund. The children being mostly Italians and Mexicans, the programme was unusual. There was also a boxing match and there were some fancy dances, done by clever little tots.

Agricultural Department.

The agricultural department has gone out into the orchard business in new planting, at schools where is available space, grape vines, peach, fig and walnut trees were started in the Manual Arts and Agricultural High School grounds. Plants and vines are also being planted for ornamental purposes on school porches and fences. Many of these are from the Elysian Nursery.

The results of home gardens are being noted as the result of school lessons.

Mr. Palmer, head of the department, suggests that schools needing flowers or ornamental plants, report their wants to his office in Olive street building at once.

Boys' Evening Orchestra.

The boys' orchestra organized by Mr. Arthur Pabst, a member of the music department, and a student at Manual Arts High, is extremely interesting. Practicing the music for an entertainment to be given late in the spring, when the Dramatics Club. The name of the orchestra is a secret at present, as the publicity press agent thinks it a good thing to give it out. Miss Ethel Bruce has assumed charge of the orchestra in the absence of Mrs. Pabst, and is getting most excellent results. Following are the names of the players: Violins, Albert Krug, Jr., Phillip A. Pabst, A. M. Neil Griffin, Edward Newfield, Ruth Hoffman, Madeline Milliert, Ralph Reinwald, Max Biell, Whitney Burnham, Benjamin Klimp, A. F. Lawrence Rebfield, Lulu Clara Hill; 'cello, Victor Bessie Rosen, Fred Wells; flute, Donald Deshey; trombone, Donald Tulloss; cornet, Elmo Reinwald, David Newton, Warren Sargent; trombone, Sadie Milliert; piano, Maurine Hanna, Marie Krug; drums, Leonard Timbs.

Custer-Avenue Intermediate.

"Custer's Last Stand" was the way in which some of the students apostrophied the ruins of the Custer Avenue Intermediate, which burned March 7. It looked that way then, but Phoenix-like, the new one is arising, hardly as a grand giant bird, but rather as a flock of prairie chickens. There are to be about twenty-two bungalows to take care of the 650 pupils who are now being housed so kindly by the Los Angeles High School. In the Blue and White, is told in graphic style the "Invasion of the Custerites." In the halls, on the roof, out of doors, and even in the old graveyard are these refugees found.

The pupils of Custer come from 11:20 until 5:15. After a week without books, the children attacked them with vigor, and considering everything are getting along better than could be expected.

Twenty-first Ave. Intermediate.

March 28 was a day of rejoicing at Twenty-first avenue. On Thursday afternoon the school took part in its first triangle debate. The question was, "Resolved, That the President of the United States should be elected for six years, and should be ineligible for re-election."

The negatives from Twenty-first-avenue went to Polytechnic; negatives from Polytechnic went to Long Beach; negatives from Long Beach came to Twenty-first-avenue. The affirmatives debated at home. At Twenty-first-avenue, Claire Eberhard and Samuel Steelman met Borden and Hulbert from the beach city. The judges were C. E. Bwor of U.S.C., and Mr. Rice of Manual Arts. The score was: Long Beach, 190½; Twenty-first-avenue, 206. At Polytechnic, George White and Florence Brady won the negative side of the question against Francis McLaren and Isadore Pelzer. The judges, Emory Ratcliffe of Santa Ana, Miss Heath of Sentous and Miss Morton of Fourteenth street, gave Twenty-first-avenue the decision by a score of 207½ to 176 1-6. Long Beach won at home. The triangle system is growing in favor with Southern California High Schools.

The next debate will be a simultaneous one with Huntington Beach, to be held May 2. The question will be, "Resolved, That the Philippines should be given their independence at once." The affirmatives chosen in the try-out Thursday were Mabel Knisley and John Lehmer; negatives, Mildred Stewart and Floyd Darnell.

The field meet Tuesday, between Custer and Twenty-first-avenue was a walk-away for Twenty-first-avenue.

Vernon Avenue.

H. W. Frank, president of the Board of Education, was the guest of honor on Friday afternoon at Vernon-avenue School.

He was entertained with a baloptican picture show, depicting a trip to Europe. After the call, "All ashore who go ashore! Last call!" they were aboard one of the boats of the Cunard line, passing the Statue of Liberty—making stops at Gibraltar, Naples, Vesuvius, Rome, Florence, Venice, and other important cities in the south, each described by a pupil as the picture was thrown on the screen. There were series of cards showing life in nearly all the countries of Europe.

Mr. Frank, who is about to take a trip to Europe, promised the kiddies he would tell them of his travels upon his return. He was presented with a book, "My Trip Abroad," in which to take down notes. After songs, bon voyage was said, and again Mr. Frank was enjoined to remember a most cordial welcome awaits him on his return to the "land of the free and the home of the brave."

Loreto Parent-Teacher Association.

Loreto Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting April 1. Mrs. Noble of the federation gave an inspiring talk on "What the P. T. A. and the Federation Are Doing." She described the various steps through which the P.T.A. has progressed, from beginning, where little groups of mothers met in the halls of the school buildings and informally discussed their problems, to the organization of the federation.

Miss Myrtle Thayer,
Music teacher Custer-avenue intermediate.

Circle Holds Bazaar.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Twenty-fourth-street school held a bazaar, on Friday evening, selling candy and cakes, in order to raise money for the decoration of the school building. About $50 was realized. A musical programme was also given.

Hollywood High.

American democracy was the keynote of a speech made last Wednesday by Dr. Edward A. Steiner to the Hollywood student body. Dr. Steiner's speech produced a very deep impression. He dwelt on the relation of the educated American to the immigrant, and gave a strong argument for immigration by reminding the students that their grandparents were at some time or other immigrants; and that possibly some of these ancestors came over in the steerage, just as the poor Italian of the present does. He finished by urging upon the students the necessity of holding to the principle of American democracy and the principle, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

On the same day Mrs. Craig and Col. Steadman, of the Board of Education, visited the school and spoke to the students.

Hollywood High School subscribed $100 to the Ohio sufferer's benefit fund last week. A special meeting of the board of control was called and it was then decided to send a check for this amount.

Hollywood's ouput in track for 1913 proved themselves a bunch of stars, losing the big Southern California High School meet by only one point. Three first places were taken, Goodwin in the broad, Coultas in low hurdles, and the relay team. Gates took second in the high with a jump of 5ft. 11in. Because of the fine showing made by the fellows eight of them are going north to the California meet. Goodwin, Coultas, Candee, Henry, Forbes, Gates, Richardson and Earl are the representatives, and although they may not win the meet Hollywood will be remembered as having sent up well-trained, efficient men.

The sophomores defeated the seniors in baseball with a score of 4 to 3, winning the game and championship of the school.

Williams's Jubilee Singers were at the school on Friday afternoon giving a clever programme. In all their numbers, and they were many, they were well applauded. The High School auditorium was filled to the limit of its capacity, many outsiders being present.

Hollywood was represented at the Steiner lecture given at the Auditorium Tuesday afternoon by a crowd of 300 boys, which is nearly 100 per cent. of the total male enrollment of school. Because of the large representation Hollywood won the pennant given by the Student League.

Dr. Edwards, head of the nature study department in the schools, gave a most interesting lecture Monday on the subject of flies. It was accompanied with stereopticon views, illustrating the menace of the pest to the health of man and beast, especially in crowded cities.

Manual Arts High.

The Mimarians, the scholarship society, met April 1 in the library. One committee was appointed to help the students who are failing in their studies, and another to find ways and means of sending deserving students to college.

The botany classes are planting gardens. The seeds are furnished by the school. The agriculturists expect to furnish the cafeteria with fresh vegetables and still have some to sell.

Mrs. Noef, organizer of working girls' unions in California, talked to the Manual girls Wednesday, April 2. Mrs. Noel is very much interested in bettering the condition of working girls. She told of this work and what the women's trades unions were aiming to do.

The Stanford University Military Band gave a concert at Manual Monday, March 31. A band of about thirty instruments gave the students some of the best music they have had this year.

The first alumni dance was given in the girls' gym Friday evening in honor of the seniors, and a good time was enjoyed.

Blick Bangeter, one of Manual's long-distance men, has entered The Times Modified Marathon.

MRS. THOMAS RILEY MARSHALL.

Second Lady of the Land Has Displayed Most Wholesome and Charming Characteristics in Her Month's Resident of Washington.

BY MARGARET B. DOWNING.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—"I believe most sincerely in my husband and sympathize with every ideal he cherishes, and he in turn depends on me for happiness at home," is the quaint way in which the wife of the Vice-President expressed her opinion about the rights of women to rule in the realm political equally with man. A woman of gentle breeding, of conservative tastes and comprehensive knowledge of present day conditions, Mrs. Marshall will not express views hostile to the great national propaganda now progressing to secure the vote for women. It is significant that she has never joined any of the numerous societies which has as objective the ballot for the weaker vessel, though she belongs to many clubs and has already put the stamp of her approval on several since coming to Washington. Mrs. Marshall's philosophy all points towards the ideal of several generations past, that woman's noblest mission is to be a homekeeper, and though she has not formally expressed herself, she inclines to the belief that these extraneous interests might interfere with this service of love. She subscribes most heartily to the famous epigram of Frederick the Great, which adorns the great gate of Sans Souci Palace, "The end of all ambition is to be happy in your home."

After a month's residence in Washington, the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall have become like old friends to the public. Their every-day life resembles their first visit to the Capitol, where Mr. Marshall will after tomorrow occupy so conspicuous a post. It was the day after their arrival here and the Saturday before that celebrated Tuesday which ushered in the new administration. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall had been driving about the city in a rather desultory way, when they decided to take a peek at the big-domed building given over to national legislation. They entered quietly through a side basement door and were already in the marble halls without the Senate chamber before they were recognized. Then a cheer went up and all heads were bared. The Vice-President protested against those about him keeping off their hats and he said that he and Mrs. Marshall just wanted to take a quiet look about and without any ostentation. His wishes were obeyed, the crowd melted away, and a hoary-headed old messenger dispensed the honors, telling the history of each room and nook and corner in the venerable structure. However, when the Vice-President and his wife departed the Culver Institute Cadets were drawn up in line before the eastern entrance, gave them a salute and formed a guard of honor until the carriage rolled outside the Capitol park.

According to their friends the Marshalls have always appeared just as they do now, since their marriage nearly eighteen years ago. The courtship was what might be called a leisurely affair and extended over more than five years. Mrs. Marshall as Miss Lois Kimsey, daughter of Judge Kimsey of Columbia City, Ind., frequently aided her father and in this way she became acquainted with a rising young lawyer recently out of Wabash College, "Tom Marshall" to their friends. From knotty legal topics on which the young legal light conversed with the jurist, he came to talk books and law and general subjects with the stately daughter. Books led to their exchange of opinions and to joining the same clubs and to the usual intercourse of young people in the same social set. This friendship developed into the most beautiful love, that founded on congeniality of ideals and on the most exalted reverence and affection. So devoted is the vice-president, to his wife and so indispensable is she to his happiness that nothing appeals to him which does not include her also. When he was first elected Governor of Indiana, former President Taft invited him to join the party of Governors who accompanied him on that historic trip by boat down the Mississippi in the summer of 1911. The invitation did not include Mrs. Marshall and the Governor was desirous of going and it would have been a useful trip politically, it did not tempt him a minute. Mrs. Marshall last spring declined to read a paper or to be presented at the Dolly Madison breakfast here because she found, after first accepting, that her husband could not conveniently leave Indianapolis on that date. To accept an invitation without the other is not the Marshall idea of pleasure. As a witty friend of Mrs. Marshall's says she will set a wholesome example in fashionable society of never appearing in public except with her own spouse.

Mrs. Marshall has taken up the thread of social life here with a calm demeanor which argues well for a long race. It is already apparent that she will not be among the victims of nervous prostration nor will she set a pace of nervous energy which others might find difficult to follow. She has held her own receptions at the Shoreham every Wednesday and received hundreds of callers easily and without obvious fatigue. She has been present at many of the fetes given by Mrs. Wilson and her daughters at the White House and she has graciously accepted all the hospitality which her former friends from Indiana wished to extend. Her reception to the diplomatic corps given the second week after coming to Washington was a function of quiet elegance, enjoyable to all. Until next autumn, Mrs. Marshall does not intend to take up the problem of a home and it may be that she will continue to reside in a hotel, though this is manifestly not her idea of fulfilling her domestic obligations. Extra sessions of Congress, she has been advised, are of problematic duration. If this one, which is to deal solely with the revision of the tariff, ends in the early summer as now confidently predicted, she and the Vice-President will go to Indiana and get their home treasures out of captivity and set up an establishment of their own. If the session drags she will continue at the Shoreham until the Vice-President is also at leisure.

Mrs. Marshall will be a large factor toward restoring simplicity to our national mode of living. She is a well-gowned woman and gives all the time and money needed for that important consideration of what one must wear. But she is opposed to ostentation, to conspicuous attire, to the reckless expenditure of money for clothes, even when the income does not have to be considered. She is the type that dreads the vulgarity which lavishness involves and every detail of her life is ordered to eliminate display. The Vice-President inherited from his father, Dr. Daniel M. Marshall, a much-beloved physician of Columbia City, a fortune which was quite impressive in those days. So that Mr. Marshall took his bride to a home which was beautiful, important socially and equipped in all that makes for pleasure and comfort. Mrs. Marshall was a hostess of note from the very day of the marriage and as the fortunes of her husband went always upward her social importance correspondingly increased. Few hostesses have gained so much esteem and admiration in the Governor's mansion as Mrs. Marshall and it can already be definitely predicted that she will prove as entirely satisfactory and successful a Vice-Presidential hostess as the National Capitol has known. She will prove a target neither for the envious nor for the critical. Her ideas of hospitality are on the generous basis which marks the Middle West. She is a noted homekeeper, one who has mastered every detail in the culinary department and competent to take up any sort of service in an emergency.

Mrs. Marshall belonged to several clubs in Columbia City and in Indianapolis and she has joined the Washington Club since coming here. She has taken a keen interest in the civic work of women in her State and has herself aided in bringing about many reforms. There are two fields of endeavor in which she would like to see women achieve success before attempting to take on the larger responsibility involved in the ballot. One is the domestic service problem, at present more acute perhaps in the Middle West than along the Atlantic seaboard. Mrs. Marshall argues that women should first solve every problem relating to their home before they attempt the direction of others, that is she thinks that poor servants are nearly always the result of incompetent mistresses. Of course this view does not apply to the condition where no servant is obtainable either good, bad or indifferent, which is frequently reported. But she thinks that if women did not make such a tremendous ordeal of homekeeping that the loss of a servant would mean less. She believes in training servants. In aiding such societies as foster domestic science and above all to encourage the young growing girls to learn how to manage a home. Every large city in which women's clubs are established, she says, advocates the same theories and many have classes for young and inexperienced home keepers while others try to prepare girls for domestic service. Mrs. Marshall is inalterable in her belief that when a woman marries she fails in the highest obligation if she does not have every detail of the home perfect as her efforts can make it. A dainty table, well selected, well cooked food, and a home where the machinery moves quietly and with friction. She is herself a living example of how this may be combined with a most attractive personality. She is well read, thoroughly conversant with all that is transpiring politically, national and international policies alike. She is a conversationalist, has a fine sense of humor and a neat way of turning a phrase. Yet homekeeping is to her the greatest joy and the greatest accomplishment and that her husband looks to her for creature comforts for happiness and sympathy is far more to be esteemed than prominence socially or ambition to shine in a national sense.

Dress is another subject in which Mrs. Marshall thinks women could contribute a reform. Apart from condemnation of extravagance in dress, she deplores the fashions and methods which women have permitted modistes to fasten on them. She wishes that women would combine to make gowns less ultra and more practical. It may be her knowledge of the tradition of what these involved in fastening three ways in the back, hooking in a labyrinth way under the armpit mean to poor harassed women who cannot afford a maid which impels Mrs. Marshall to wish that these styles be swept out of existence. Every nine women out of ten deplore these silly fashions but few have the courage of Mrs. Marshall in combatting their adoption. Her gowns look the very latest mode but they are all fastened so that she can manage them alone. It is a matter to make domestic happiness, she alleges, but no one likes biscuits small and inedible. Yet both have caused many domestic catastrophes. When women have solved these two problems, then, says the wife of the Vice-President, we can look for new kingdoms to conquer when she gets the ballot.

Another charming characteristic of this Vice-Presidential lady is her kindness for young people. Though mother of her own she is a fairy godmother to the children of her friends. She will have several young guests during the spring, nearly all children of old friends, and some from Columbia City and Indianapolis. At her receptions numbers of young girls have been in evidence. She is making some stunning debutantes among the buds of a season to come as well as those who have been features in the social calendar for years. The Vice-President claims as a kinsman that giant of American statesprudence, John Marshall of Virginia. When the future chief justice was a student at William and Mary College he founded the first Greek letter society organized in the country, the Phi Beta Kappa. When young Tom Marshall went to Wabash College he promptly joined the chapter of this fraternity founded by his illustrious kinsman, and he has kept up his interest in social activities ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall have accepted an invitation for a Phi Beta Kappa and they will no doubt be among the chaperons at the many festivities proposed for next summer.

Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall,
Wife of the Vice-President.

THE BED ROOM

"Blessings on him who invented sleep."

When we realize the number of hours of our lives that we spend in sleep, we should study more to make the place of our so-doing attractive and congenial.

The bedroom is the most intimate and personal room in the house; in it should be gathered all our own little, individual belongings; and the character of the room should reflect that of its occupant.

As we all differ in age, tastes or requirements, so each room demands its special treatment; and we would do well to consider these essentials more carefully.

Avoid outre or bizarre effects, loud or contrasting colors, mixed furnishings.

Think out an appropriate harmonious "scheme" and carry it out consistently.

Consider the individual; make your daughter's room dainty, refined and charming; your son's room, simple, quiet and "mannish"; your own room, dignified, comfortable and restful; and, above all secure an artistic and harmonious sequence of coloring in adjacent rooms.

So shall your dreams be sweet, and your waking visions pleasant.

"In bed we laugh, in bed we cry:
And born in bed, in bed we die.
The near approach a bed may show
Of human bliss to human woe."

SUNDAY MORNING.

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Amelia Franze, a nursemaid employed by John Haggerty, a Williamsburg (N.Y.) lawyer saved his six-months-old child from being burned to death in a fire in his house, but may lose her own life in consequence.
In rescuing the child Miss Franze was seriously burned, and is at the hospital in a serious condition. The fire started while the family were at church. The infant was asleep on the second floor, where the fire started. The nurse was working in the basement and the flames had spread to the first floor when she noticed the smoke coming through the dumb waiter.

Remembering the child, she rushed up the burning stairs, picked the child from the crib, and after carefully wrapping it in blankets, she groped through fire and smoke and reached the street before the firemen arrived. There she fell unconscious.
Her hair had been burned from her head and her clothing was in flames.
Neighbors extinguished her blazing garments and took her and the child to a drug store to wait for an ambulance. The child was found to be uninjured.

The death at Surbiton, Eng., of Thomas Sutton, aged 84, removes a friend of the children of the neighborhood. For years Mr. Sutton had been an invalid, but had made thousands of children happy by converting discarded match boxes, cigar and cigarette boxes, cholocate boxes and fancy tins into attractive receptacles for sweets, and giving them out every Christmas to children of public institutions.

Last Christmas Mr. Sutton broke his previous best record for a year with over 8000 boxes. Since taking up his hobby he had covered and lined nearly 40,000 boxes all of which he had given away.

An honest mother's influence over her wayward son was responsible for the return to the owner of more than $2000 worth of jewelry that was stolen recently from the home of Mrs.
Irving Godron of Kansas City.

A young man called at Mrs. Godron's home and told her she could recover the jewels if she would agree not to prosecute him, would pay him the reward of $100 she had offered and would follow his directions. Five minutes later she was walking on Benton boulevard near her home, as the young man had directed.

Suddenly she was accosted by a well-dressed woman who said: "Don't ask any questions," as she handed Mrs. Godron a box containing the jewelry.

"Here's your diamonds," the woman added. "All but two rings.
I could not get them. My brother is not a thief. We are not people who wear diamonds. Brother came home drunk one morning wearing a diamond stud. Mother went through his clothes and found the rest of the things. It almost broke her heart."

Mrs. Godron then handed the woman the reward. The two missing diamonds were valued at $160. All the jewelry was worth $2200.

An almost ideal friendship that was formed in boyhood between Thomas Morris, Jr., and James J.
Lynch, both well known in Yonkers—a bond that became more firmly welded as the two matured—was severed a few years ago by the keen edge of business rivalry. The coolness between the two got to the point where it froze their lips. Both are members of the Yonkers Lodge of Elks, but despite their brotherly affiliations and the good offices of friends the men refused to be reconciled. In fact, the enmity became more bitter.

Morris became a victim of anaemia a few months ago. He grew steadily worse, and a week ago, it became known that he was dying. Lynch heard of it. A flood of boyhood recollections swept over him and when a friend told him that the only thing that could save Morris was transfusion of blood from a person in the best of health, he offered himself for the sacrifice. Lynch entered the sick room and greeted his old friend as though nothing ever had come between them. Morris was too weak to speak or even lift his arm, but his eyes became suffused with tears.

Lynch was placed beside his old friend, an artery was opened in the former man's arm and a vein in Morris's elbow. In an hour the patient showed signs of marked improvement and he looked his gratitude to his old friend through his half-closed eyes. Lynch also the following day said he felt "much better."

Efforts are being made by prominent residents of Edmonton to obtain medals of recognition for Johnny Rose, a newsboy who rescued four children, ranging from 8 to 2 years of age, from the residence of F.
Smith, in Strathcona, where an overturned lamp had ignited the bed clothes. The screams of the children, who were alone in the rooms, attracted the attention of the newsboy while he was making his rounds and running into the house, he carried them to places of safety. He was assisted by a woman, who name could not be learned. Meanwhile the brigade was summoned, the firemen extinguishing the blaze with chemicals.
The newsboy was not injured in the least, and he takes no special credit for his prompt action; in fact, he looks upon it in the most matter of fact way, saying he did nothing more than what he believed was the right thing to do under the circumstances.

One person in every seven in Chicago required the attention of some social service agency during 1912, according to the annual report of the Associated Charities. Nearly 74,000 families required the attention of the society in one way or another, making a total of 295,120 individuals.
Not all of these, however, were dependent. In comparison, the finances of the organization showed that only $1 in 200 gave support to the United Charities during the same period.

The Duke of Devonshire has decided to abandon racing and sell his racing horses and breeding stud. The decision was prompted by financial embarrassment, which has been made necessary owing to the burdens imposed upon him by Chancellor Lloyd George's finance act. The Duke is an extensive land owner, and is nominally supposed to have a big income, but the latter exists only in the popular imagination. He has to meet heavy charges in connection with Devonshire House in London and on his estates, while on the death of the late Duke the estate had to pay heavy death duties.

The Public Schools.

Saturday afternoon, the Manual girls' hocky team played its third game against Y.W.C.A. The girls playing on the team will be given a letter at the close of the season. The following will be the first girls to receive letters for athletics at Manual
Arts: Marie Allen, Ethyl Barnes, Violet Dunn, Emma Hill, Lyle Johnson, Gladys Lane, Gladys Oldershaw,
Frances Ray, Adele Spinner, Albra
Smart, Helen Snodgrass, Arista Staley, Sophia Weisbard and Beatrice Wien.

Polytechnic High.

The inter-class track meet held on the grounds of the University of Southern California, March 28 and 31, resulted in a decided victory for the twelfth grade. The ninth grade received 8½ points; the tenth grade, 1;
the eleventh grade, 40½ the twelfth grade, 58, and the post graduates, 9 points. It is a fact of interest that out of the fifty-eight points gained by the twelfth grade, 49 were made by the senior A's. Every event was close and the time and distance good. Don Cameron received first place in the high hurdles, and in the broad jump.
Karl Hasey won first place in the 100-yard dash, first in the low hurdles, second in the 220-yard dash, and third in the broad jump. Gerald Craig scored first in the 220-yard dash, first in the shot, second in the discus, and second in the 100-yard dash. Robert Lockwood scored highest in the one-mile run and in the 880-yard dash.

At noon Wednesday, Poly's old athletic spirit was reborn with the burning of the "Jinx" in effigy representing the past state of the school's lack of intertst and participation in in-terscholastic athletic sports. The great event took place on the school grounds and nearly every Polyite was there to witness it and cheer.

Last week the City League baseball season opened. The first game Poly played was with the Los Angeles High. Poly's team is a good one this year, with every prospect of making a successful round. Fred Hughes is manager and Ben Stoloff captain.
C. A. Faithful, a faculty member, is coach. The other members of the team are George Cross, Charles Beck, Belton Abel, Herbert Tripp, Ed Gordon, Albert Martin, Allan Hathaway and Roy Thompson.

Last Friday the German Club gave a comic programme with the end in view of acquainting the students with German humor. The club sang the well-known German ditty, "Oh du Lieber Augustin." Misses Edna Paar, Creta Nichols and Dorothy Merrill told German anecdotes. Wilhelm Busch was the subject of a talk given by Camilla Lewis; "The Sixth Fight," illustrated with cartoons, was explained by Paul Koehl, and the A10 class sang the "Students' Song," an original number. The story of the German play entitled "Der Bibliothe-kars," was told by Iwao Matzhura, and the first act was performed by the following people: Russel Broker,
Violet Norconk, Myron Silverstone,
Lester Righter, George Betz, John
Swancott, Nicholas Kessler, Gifford
Todd and Harold Christopher. Mr.
Buehner, head of the German department at the Manual Arts High, and the meeting's guest of honor, gave a short talk. A play has been planned for the next meeting of the club.

April 1, the senior A class had a meeting. It was decided that the class pictures are to be taken at Witz-el's Studio. The senior pins have been finished and distributed. A basketball game between the senior A's and the P.G.'s is being considered. It is the aim of the class that no member shall fail in any subject and thus be withheld from graduation; and too that end a scholarship committee is being formed. A committee for class pennants has been appointed and consists of the following: Samuel Smith,
Edith Olmstead and Ludovic Grant.

An April fool party and dance was held in the school gymnasium April 1.
Miss Bertha Sanborn and Miss Charlotte Smythe, two of the senior class teachers, were present.

The annual opera to be presented by the glee clubs has been selected.
"The Pennant" is the title, and it is a 1912 production. It will be ready for performance some time in May.

Los Angeles High.

The Stanford University band, a musical organization of which the Stanford undergraduates and alumni are justly proud, played to a crowded assembly Wednesday.

The college students, continuing the custom inaugurated by Mrs. Dorsey, had a real old-fashioned picnic
Wednesday afternoon. After a climb up Mt. Hollywood, which was approached from the Vermont-avenue trail, the party came down to the picnic grounds at the Western-avenue entrance. A big fire, hot coffee and plenty of fare wound up the afternoon under the trees. About fifty students made up the party. The faculty was represented by Miss Carr,
Miss Oliver, Miss Morrisey, Miss Yock,
Mr. Morris and Mr. Culver.

Los Angeles High, now leading the debating league, is to meet Anaheim for the championship. Los Angeles's representatives, Channing Follette and George Cohen, defeated the Anaheim debaters in a hard-fought contest last week. Under the rules of the league the same teams must meet again, as they are the league leaders.

To compensate for a rather poor track team, the school is rejoicing in a strong baseball team. So far this year it has nto lost a game, defeating such teams as U.S.C., San Diego High School and finally Polytechnic High.

The school responded generously to the call for aid for the eastern flood sufferers. Rabbi Myers helped the pupils in their plans for raising funds by devoting his services as an entertaining and brilliant lecturer. His subject was "Mark Twain and Artemus Ward."

Clio Bowes, the little swimming marvel, has gone north to represent the school in the swimming meet held at the State university. Clement Johnson, track captain and sprinter, will be the sole representative of the school in the Stanford interscholastic meet. Johnson intends to enter Stanford after graduating from Los Angeles.

Miss Sullivan, because of her new duties as vice-principal, has given up all her classes in English. She still conducts, however, her college class in psychology.

Dr. Edwards, head of the classical department, is the moving spirit in the formation of a classical club, to be made up of both teachers and pupils.

The life and work of the High School Teachers' Association, was strongly indorsed at a special faculty meeting held last week. It was felt that the High School teachers of Los Angeles need such an organization to call upon in case any emergency should arise and that its work in securing a salary increase as well as the sick leave relief amply justifies its continuation as a potential if not an always active force. The teachers elected Miss Harrow and Dr.
Edwards as their representatives on the Executive Committee.

Cosmos Charter Day.

The Cosmos Club celebrated charter day last Wednesday with an informal reception in the parlors of the Ebell Clubhouse, members and guests being received by the president, Mrs. William Reeve, and members of the board, and were later entertained delightfully by Misses Bertha and Katherine Fiske, the former giving an interpretative lecture on Kipling and her sister a violin recital from the compositions of Ovide Musin, the Belgian virtuoso whose pupil Miss Fiske was for a number of years.

The huge birthday cake was a feature of the refreshments, covered with candy cosmos blossoms and with the dates "1904-1913." To Mrs. David Huntor was given the honor of cutting the festive cake. Mrs. W. S. Bally was chairman of the hospitality committee, assisted by Mmes. J. H. Bean, J. G. Moodie, Maxey Ross, N. S. Brehl and the Misses Mary Caldwell, Genevieve Bogart and Ethel Sutor.

At the regular meeting of the club next Wednesday officers for the ensuing year will be nominated and no guests will be admitted. Mrs. A. J. Bartleft will give a talk on civics and a current events discussion will be led by Mrs. Charles Weinberg.

The annual luncheon, which usually comes the last meeting in May, will take place this year on April 23 at the Ebell Clubhouse. Mrs. H. Baer is in charge of the menu.

"Tex" Watson of Tonopah, Nev., had his hair cut the other day and the event was momentous enough for Senator Pittman to inform President Wilson and send him pictures of "Tex" before and after. Watson vowed in 1896 that he never would shave or get his hair cut until a Democratic President was elected."

movement." Mr. Drew is pretty thoughtful in this reply.

"What is the play you liked best of all the ones you have acted?"

SHAKESPEARE HIS FAVORITE.

"The Taming of the Shrew," is his reply, after a moment's consideration.

"And your chief ambition?"

"To play Shakespeare. I would very much like to put on 'Much Ado About Nothing.'"

The little clock on the dressing table has been ticking insistently all the while. Now Mr. Drew glances at it, tosses away the cigar and gets to his feet, just as the call boy puts his head in the door.

"How long have you been answering that call, Mr. Drew?"

"Thirty years" he laughed. And then over his shoulder: "Long enough to become a vintage."

And the next moment your charming host has become a man of many troubles, through which he walks with a running accompaniment of laughter.

A Good Thing to Know

The high diamond standards demanded and insisted upon by Feagans & Company have given this house a reputation among the great diamond cutters and brokers of Europe as the most critical gem buyers of this country.

The cutters and brokers know that—in stones of ¼ carat size and larger—we will not accept any but perfect specimens of the Wesselton, Jaeger—and Blue River diamonds.

Ours in the only house in Los Angeles that adheres to such a standard—an important fact to know when you contemplate the purchase of diamonds.

Unusual suggestions in gem gifts —for brides and bridesmaids.

BY A PRINCESS OF THE REALM.

LIFE IN THE SENSUOUS "LAND OF THE AFTERNOON."

Once again the cause of sweet charity has inspired society to compete in vaudeville and that immense auditorium was none too large to accomodate their patrons. "A night in Bohemia" was certainly a gay success and one was impressed with the very evident satisfaction with which the the elect kick up their heels in a good cause. Motives make all the difference, you know, and if a slight relaxation of our society manners means real dollars for the McKinley Home, well, we stand ready to relax, messieurs, and we rather flatter ourselves we can do it gracefully.

* * *

Time was when a bazaar offered about the only channel for this form of charity. We made the most of it certainly and we can recall frisky, dainty, naughty little society maidens —yes, and dames, too—pirouetting round the hall button-holing masculine victims with more than a soupcon of flirtatiousness. But it was hard to be bouyantly enchanting over a turkey-twill draped stall laden with pincushions and tidies, so some brilliant mind conceived the charity ball. Besides it was easier to decoy the male of the species to a ball—he began to show a sad indifference to crewelwork shoes and embroidered pipe racks.

Then came the fancy dress ball and from that it was an easy step to vaudeville and circus. There is genuine joy in shedding one's own personality and environments for an evening and being somebody else altogether—and a rather impudent somebody else into the bargain.

There are plenty of dreary old grouches to complain that if the money spent on the costumes and bouquets, on hiring the hall and the musicians were given intact to the charity it would be a much more efficient method of assisting; but human nature has to be considered and it is a fact that many a person will joyfully pay a dollar to see society maidens unbend where they would utterly ignore an appeal for a straight contribution. Besides, the vaudeville idea gives the particular charity in question a much better advertisement.

Of course, one does rather wonder how that sort of thing appeals to the beneficiaries themselves. They would probably appreciate things more if they were invited to see the fun. But alas, that would mean so many less seats for sale.

* * *

At all events, our "Night in Bohemia" thoroughly justified itself and it would be a real loss to have all that elect talent reserved for a home circle of intimate friends. If charity is the only method by which such accomplishments may be exhibited thoroughly comme il faut, then there is every excuse for exploiting charity.

* * *

Aren't we having an orgy of music just now? The musicale as a form of entertainment, with noted artistes to provide the majority of the programme, has positively leaped into popularity. Two of the smartest affairs this week have been musical at homes, and another—the Fusenot reception on the 8th at the Ebell club—promises to be a classic. Our tastes run to the great masters, too, and we seem bent upon justifying the selection of Los Angeles for the Musical Federation in 1915.

* * *

We have long since been unusual in our fine support of two symphony orchestras, and our recent generous patronage of grand opera stamped us as among the musically elect.

* * *

Still, this musical revival is becoming a shade too pronounced if we are really to follow the fearful suggestion put forward by the Society of Women Musicians. Whereas we formerly carried out color, period, nationality or special art schemes in the furnishing and decoration of our houses, we are now to favor the musical scheme. Our favorite composer or our favorite melody is to be symbolized in our wall paper, our furniture, our draperies and even our own clothes. For instance, a Grieg enthusiast can have Peer Gynt decorations, with eerie little gnomes all over everything, or a Tchaikowsky devotee can carry out Napoleonic "1812" ideas. Sullivan and Messager would be lighter, but the gods protect us from a Schonberg or a Strauss salon!

And what of those that favor ragtime? Fancy a ragtime wall paper and a ragtime carpet! The only thing worse would be the passionate love-song devotee's apartments. Fancy a suite carried a la "The Devout Lover" or "Oh, Promise Me!" Nay, nay, let us stick to the old mission style. A bamboo wot-not or an early Victorian settee become the essence of modern refinement by comparison.

So that amiable Pasadena bachelor considers California girls the most delightfully platonic in the world. Bless his dear heart! With sly insinuation of personal knowledge—what dogs these men do love us to think them—he dilates upon the difficulty of establishing a platonic footing whereon to base his intercourse with the women of other countries. In France, it would be too passionate, in England too stiff and practical, but in California there is just that delightful blending of the two that makes for perfect platonic intercourse. Dear me!

Of course we know we are the nicest things ever, but all the same we can't help wondering just what sort of experience our bachelor has had. What if it should be himself that has altered? Supposing, perchance, that he was a shade too passionate in France, a shade too stiff and practical in England, and just the right consistency here! He has probably grown up a little, too, since he was abroad—they tell me he has lived here for more than a decade. But our own experience is that, in a general way, the average woman will be responsive to the mood and attributes of the man she is with for the moment. If he demands gaiety he will get it. If he demands spirituelle uplift he will get that. If he yearns for culture and literary conversation, why, there it is. Or if his tastes run to sport, we can talk golf or baseball with equal impartiality. If he is flirtatious, never fear, she will respond flirtatiously. He has but to set the standard and she will obligingly comply, providing she likes him well enough to put up with him at all. For which reason the same woman that can be "my beautiful princess" to one man can just as readily be "dear old kiddo" to another—only they only know it. Very adaptable.

THE WEEK.

DINNERS, RECEPTIONS, DINNERS, WEDDINGS AND THE LIKE.

LILACS were used exclusively at the lovely tea party given yesterday by Mrs. Spencer H. Smith at her West Adams street home and this very decorative scheme was one of the most beautiful of the season. Both white and lavender blossoms were used and the pretty contrast was striking.

The hostess planned the affair for Miss Samuel Freeman of New York, who is a daughter of Mr. Smith, and Mr. Walter Brooks McCormick of Duluth, a grandchild, both of whom are guests at the Spencer H. Smith home.

From 4 to 6 were the receiving hours and the hostess was assisted in receiving the many guests by Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow, Mrs. L. N. Bennett, Mrs. J. B. Banning, Mrs. Henry Clark, Mrs. George A. Caswell, Mrs. J. J. Cowles, Mrs. Curtis Holman, Mrs. Kate Slauson Voegtlen, Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys, Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, Mrs. Gail B. Johnson, Mrs. Isaac Lankershim, Mrs. Henry O'Melveny, Mrs. Hancock Ross McFie, Mrs. George S. Patton, Mrs. William Richards, Mrs. Frank Solano, Mrs. Albert M. Stephens, Mrs. Le Moyne Wills, Miss Christine C. Ebbert, Miss Elisabeth Hutton, Miss Alice Elliott, Miss Elizabeth Fremont, Miss Anne Patton, Miss McConnell, Miss Annis Van Nuys, Miss Rita Van Nuys, Miss Katherine Hutton, Miss Ines Clark, Miss Lucile Clark and Miss Sarah Clark.

Dinner for Thirty-five.

Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Waddell entertained thirty-three guests to dinner at the Jonathan Club Thursday evening at the Jonathan Club and in honor of the occasion a handsome mound of beautiful spring flowers graced the table. Monogrammed cards bore names of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dillon, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Elsworth Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. James Calhoun Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Helm, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Brunswig, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra T. Gosper, Capt. and Mrs. Randolph Hughes Miner, Mrs. Mary Wilcox Hazeltine, Mrs. J. M. Sonni, Miss Alice Allen, Judge Graff, Ygnacio Sepulveda, Charles Henderson and Alfred Solano.

Musicale.

Three hundred guests have been invited to the musicale for which invitations were issued in the names of Mrs. J. Pummel and Mrs. George Fuller of No. 410 Westlake avenue, will entertain their friends Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Clubhouse on South Figueroa street. Rebecca Lowther, the English singer, will present the programme. The hostesses have asked to assist them Mrs. Reuben Shettler, Mrs. Theodore Lee Vickrey, Mrs. Gilbert Wright, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, Mrs. Frank Farve, Mrs. Germain Pellitier, Mrs. Antoine Roulet, Mrs. Hoyt Taft, Mrs. Hector Alliott, Mrs. V. Bush, Mrs. Earl Mueller, Mrs. Ben Ryder, Mrs. David H. Barnes, Miss Hazel Ball, Miss Josephine Hollister, Miss Ethelyn Carter and Miss Stella Caldwell.

From New York.

Mrs. Frank King of this city is in New York, visiting her daughters, the Misses Gertrude and Madeline King, who are attending art school there.

Mrs. Pomeroy Entertains.

Mrs. Walter V. Pomeroy of Menlo Park was hostess yesterday at a luncheon given at Hotel Alexandria, complimentary to the Yama Yama girls who took part in the Terpsichore ball. The table was pretty with its blossoms and the young people shared the hospitality were the Misses Harriette Mail, Jane Thompson, Marian Newburg, Mary Patterson, Evelyn Bache, Irene Teetsel and Helen Hammond.

Bon Voyage Courtesy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bowen, who, with their daughters, the Misses Edith and Wilda Louise, will leave for a six-months' trip abroad, issued invitations for a farewell dinner to be given at Christopher's Wednesday to friends Friday evening.

Will Go Abroad.

Mrs. John F. Francis of No. 905 South Bonnie Brae street, with Miss Mary Hoyt of No. 741 New Hampshire avenue, will leave this city Thursday, for a trip abroad. They will be away five months.

Dinner Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood Binz will entertain with a dinner dance party at Hotel Mt. Lowe next Wednesday, honoring Miss Florence Mitchell, whose engagement to William Van Culen was recently announced. The bride-elect, a popular among the younger set, is to be entertained extensively before her wedding.

Invitations have been extended to Miss I. Mitchell, Mrs. Edward G. Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Roy Friswell, Miss Florence Jones, Mrs. Roy Mrs. R. Palmer, Mrs. F. Miss Ruth Dehn, Miss Hammer, Miss Mattie Chick, Miss Brown, Miss Esther Miss Helen Stanford, Miss Gilchrist, Miss Eulalie Schiffman, Miss Mabel Mallis, Miss Edith Miss Lena Pierce, Miss Isabel Smith, Miss Florence James, Miss Cook and Miss Florence Mitchell.

Visitors.

Mrs. O. P. Lockhart, formerly of No. 1945 Bonsallo avenue, has announced in their new home, 1135 Magnolia avenue, where they will be pleased to see their friends.

Montecito News.

Santa Barbara and Montecito people are enjoying one of the gayest seasons in years, there being an unusual number of the social leaders of the eastern cities and all of them are vieing with each other in adding to the visitors entertainment. The management of the society events of production until August with disappointment, but there are insurmountable obstacles in the way. William Miller Graham, who is in the show, believes that by that time to prepare the various parts will be nearer a state of perfection and more of a success. Mrs. Jones, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo M. Potter, is working nearly every day with Miss Jones, a dancing number, a pretty society buds taking. Miss Jones has long been a student of Terpsichorean art and will give a pleasing exhibition. Those who will assist in her dancing number will be Miss Marian Newhall of San Francisco and Miss Marguerite Doe, formerly of San Francisco, who now lives with her mother in Montecito.

The dinner given Saturday evening in the Moorish room of the Potter Hotel was one of the charming events of the week, the host being Thornhill Brome. His guests were Mrs. William Miller Graham, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Baxley, Mr. and Mrs. Spoor, Mrs. O. D. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brackenridge, Mr. and Mrs. David Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Milo M. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Leadbetter, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Remington Fithian, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Carrington, Mrs. Julia Horne of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Kearney, Mrs. Kate Stowe Ealand, Mrs. Cully, Misses Marguerite Doe, Nina Jones, Spoor, Anna Bispham, Ynez Dibblee, Wetmore, and Messrs. Reginald Fernald, Ray Baker, Seymore, Barry, Jackson and Earl Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw-Safe of Santa Barbara on Friday gave a delightful luncheon at Le Chalet in Montecito in honor of Bishop Johnson of the Southern California diocese, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Underhill, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fearing, Mr. and Mrs. Joel R. Fithian, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dabney, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Cully and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson.

The beautiful home of Miss Florence Fernald in Santa Barbara was the scene of an enjoyable luncheon Thursday given in honor of Mrs. Horace Pillsbury and Mrs. Lawrence Scott of San Francisco. The guests were Mrs. Edward E. Carrington, Mrs. Birge, Mrs. Oliver D. Norton, Miss Anna Chetwood Bispham, Mrs. William Miller Graham and Mrs. Francis Wilson.

Mrs. Pillsbury and Mrs. Scott also were guests of honor at a luncheon given Saturday at the Santa Barbara Country Club by Mrs. Phillip Kearney. Those who met the charming San Francisco visitors were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fithian, Mrs. Erving, Mrs. Kate Stowe Ealand, Knox Maddox, Reginald Fernald and Ray Baker.

Mrs. Julia Horne was the hostess Monday evening at a delightfully-appointed dinner given at the Potter Hotel grill. The decorations were gorgeous. Mrs. Horne's guests were the Misses Spoor, Doe, Brackenridge, Nina Jones and the Messrs. Broome, Fernald, Graham, Ray, Chase and Brackenridge.

The leaving a few days ago of Elliott Rogers, son of the late Robert Cameron Rogers, for San Francisco, where he has engaged in the brokerage business, was a disappointment to his many friends in the local social set.

Luncheon and Auction.

Mrs. John de Lalttre was the charming hostess at a rose luncheon given at her home, No. 2807 Western avenue, Thursday afternoon. A mound of pink roses adorned the center of the table and rose baskets filled with bon-bons were used as favors. Hand-painted rose place and score cards were utilized. Tables were arranged for auction after luncheon and prizes were captured by Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Griffis. Those included were Mrs. C. E. Wenzell, Mrs. E. S. Griffis, Mrs. William B. Palmer, Miss Sallie Smith, Mrs. V. S. Anderson, Mrs. F. C. Delano, Mrs. W. L. White, Mrs. George W. Maxon, Mrs. Henry Starr, Mrs. L. L. Vogel, Mrs. Stanford D. Parker and Mrs. Mary Stifel.

Tea on the "Ning Po."

One of the most delightful as well as novel affairs of the current week was the high tea given yesterday afternoon aboard the old Chinese pirate junk, Ning Po, at Venice, by Mrs. William MacKenzie Milne, No. 1429 Milan avenue, South Pasadena, to which guests were included from this city, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Hollywood and Santa Monica. A special car took the guests from the Hill-street station and a launch met them at the Windward-avenue pier, conveying them to the Ning Po. Upon boarding the ship was noted an elaborate decoration carried out by unique Chinese flags.

All the appointments for the affair were in red and the tulip was the flower utilized. Tea was served in imported Chinese cups on which were alternate characters in green and red, denoting good luck and long life, and which, with the tea and ginger, were given as souvenirs to the guests.

The hostess, wearing a brilliant red mandarin gown, embroidered in butterflies, was assisted by Mrs. Henry J. Martin, Mrs. James W. Johnson, Mrs. Allan Aldrich, Mrs. F. R. Schanck, Mrs. Edwin Oridland, Miss Myrtle Nash, Miss Margaret Loomis and Miss Marguerite Baxter. Mrs. F. R. Schanck presided at the tea table.

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

(From American Home.)

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary mercolized wax is far better; it literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and tonight spread on enough to completely cover your face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared.

Rough, blotchy, pimpled skin, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful.

If bothered with wrinkles, after washing off the mercolized wax bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. This is the most effective and quickest-acting wrinkle treatment known.

SOCIETY.

857 West Fifty-sixth street, accompanied by Mrs. G. W. Saurret, left Thursday for a motor trip to San Francisco, stopping at interesting cities on the way along the Coast, and returning inland.

House Guest.

Mrs. Oscar G. Dornin of Berkeley will be the house guest of Mrs. E. M. Keller, No. 1121 West Twenty-eighth street, for the next fortnight.

Wedding Date Announced.

Honoring her daughter, Miss Delight Norton Stevens, whose engagement was recently announced to Paul Dodds, Mrs. William E. Stevens entertained with a card party at her home, No. 1079 West Thirty-ninth street, yesterday afternoon. Long ropes of honeysuckle were festooned from the corners of the room to the electroliers n the center, tied with fluffy yellow tulle bows, and the walls of the hallway were banked with the fragrant flower. Arranged in baskets and vases in the rooms given over to the affair were the California poppy and yellow roses. Hearts was the pleasure provided by the hostess for the afternoon, and the guests upon receiving their score cards, found the portraits of the honoree and her betrothed, announcing the date of the wedding, June 24, in a gold scroll.

Those enjoying the hospitality of the afternoon were Mrs. Helen G. Norton, Mrs. William T. Clarke, Mrs. Haskell Lapham, Mrs. Frank Greth, Mrs. Walter Pinkham, Mrs. Earl Fellows, Mrs. Harvey Trowbridge, Mrs. John Percival, Mrs. Harlow Potter, Mrs. Charles B. 1913's Greatest Values in $25.00 Suits and Dresses

—The illustrations show two exceptional $25 models drawn from values in this event. —Above, the new Balkan Blouse Suit.

—Suits—practically 300 of them. So far superior to the general run of $25 suits that they should be snapped up by women who come in with the intention of paying half as much again.

—In quality of cloths, in cleverness of designing, in carefulness of tailoring and in beauty of trimming they are by far the best we have been able to offer at $25.

—Stunning Balkan and French blouses, Norfolk and cutaway models, semi-Russian styles—many of them in "Combinations" as well as in suits of one cloth. Just about every weave suitable for spring wear. Some in quiet tones, some brilliant. Most of them trimmed in rich Balkan colors.

—The Wool Dresses at $25—Among the dozens of new models are the much-sought-for Balkan blouse effects, some of which have bright red hip girdles with sash ends; some with collars and cuffs of heavy net embroidered in gorgeous Bulgarian tones; some with collars of Nell rose and white linen; some trimmed around edges with black satin. Bound button holes and silk cord ornaments.

—Ratine Dresses at $25—Balkan and French blouse styles in solid colors and striking plaids. Double skirt and draped effects with Balkan red or black girdles. Some with white satin vests and cuffs and dainty lingerie or colored embroidery collars.

—Silk Dresses at $25—Crepe de chine, crepe meteor and silk poplins in every color now in vogue. Smartly trimmed, draped and simulated double skirts; vests, collars, cuffs and girdles in bright contrasting tones. Many of them embellished with lace or silk braids and tassels, tiny gold buttons, or heavy embroidery.

$25.00

—Bullock representatives must have waved a magic wand to win them. In every way the greatest values we have been able to announce. The materials, the styles, the wonderful varieties. Don't fail to see them. Monday, second floor—$25.

75 Pianos and Players

—Some used—some new—to be sold at

About Half Regular SELLING PRICES

Do you realize how much this statement means when made by the Birkel Company?

Do you appreciate the fact that we have weighed every word in this advertisement—that the House which is offering you such real bargains in worthy musical instruments is classed as the highest class musical House in this city—that our guarantee is as genuine and thoroughgoing as anybody could possibly ask?

This great stock of Pianos and Players is specially offered because of the immense business we do in Grands and Players. Many people "trade in" used instruments when purchasing new. We reconstruct them in our Workshops, putting them in such condition that we can safely guarantee them.

During the winter months also we rent to Tourists at Hotels and private homes in Los Angeles and Pasadena, many high-grade Grands and Uprights. These are now being returned to us—just as good as new.

The 75 instruments now offered on Special Sale include both classes mentioned, as well as a number of Pianos that have been used for short periods by such artists as Galston, Lhevinne, Nordica, Clara Butt, Rudolff Frimi, Riccardo Martin, Rudolph Ganz and others.

All are now offered at about half regular selling price.

Charity Ball a Success.

More than 200 young people were in attendance at the charity ball given by the members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Children's Hospital last Tuesday evening at Hotel Hollywood. A grand march led by the president of the auxiliary, Miss Jessie Male Parker, and Frank Parrett, took place at 9 o'clock. The marchers passed by Miss Viroque Baker and Ralph Herd, who presented the novel programmes to the ladies and gentlemen, respectively.

The ballroom and lobby were festively decorated for the gay affair. Immense baskets of sunflowers tied with large butterfly bows were placed about the ballroom. Here all the electric lights were shaded with yellow crepe sunflowers, casting a dainty glow over the happy dancers. Neat yellow booklets tied with green ribbond streamers served as programmes. Upon the front a Y.W.A. monogram was engraved in green, while on the inside were written the names of the patronesses. Splendid music was rendered by the Tennis Imes orchestra.

Twenty-two dances with repeated encores comprised the programme, and not until "Home, Sweet Home" had been played at midnight did the interest slacken or the pleasure diminish, the dancers filling their entire programmes and making the ballroom a scene of whirling beauty, grace and happiness until departing time. George S. Krom, manager of the hotel kindly donated the use of the hotel for the evening.

The proceeds of the ball will be used to furnish a room in the new children's hospital now being erected at the corner of Sunset boulevard and Vermont avenue. The young ladies are greatly interested in hospital work and will give affairs from time to time to increase the fund. The officers of the organization are: Miss Jessie Male Parker, president; Miss Isabel Long, secretary, and Miss Ethelyn Hunkins, treasurer.

Announcement Party.

A beautifully-appointed luncheon was given Wednesday by Mrs. E. O. Straub of No. 1215 East Twentieth street, to announce the engagement of her sister, Miss Jennie Louise Crecilat, to Ernest A. Miss Louise Roberts,
A charming visitor from Mexico.

Mrs. Cannon Hostess.

A handsome mound of violets resting on the center of a cluny-lace cloth characterized the luncheon given recently by Mrs. Edward Cannon at her home, No. 2951 Roxbury street. Lavender tulle festooned over the cloth was another pretty effect and this, together with hand-painted cards completed the hostess's idea. There were places held for Mrs. J. W. Urwick, Mrs. A. Hall, Mrs. Lila Anderson, Mrs. William Gribbon, Mrs. H. L. Gordon, Mrs. Ellen Grant, Mrs. W. F. Colburg, Mrs. Roy Rose, Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. A. Gardner, Miss Florence Cannon and Miss Dorothy Gribbon. An interesting musical programme was presented by Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Colburg, Mrs. Cannon and Miss Gribbon following the dainty repast.

Visit Ends.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Averill Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson of Flint, Mich., have just concluded a three months' sojourn in this city. While here they visited many interesting points and became so enchanted with the beautiful scenery that they will return in the fall to make Los Angeles their home. The return journey is being made by way of San Francisco, where they will pass a few days before going to Spokane, where Mrs. S. A. Wilson will visit her sister, Mrs. C. H. Van Brunt. She will then go to Washington, where she will be the house guest of her brother, Samuel Leelington.

Novel Norwegian Luncheon.

A Norwegian luncheon was given Tuesday noon in compliment to Dr. Soiland's mother, Mrs. O. M. Olsen of Weld avenue, whose pearl wedding anniversary occurred on that date. The table decorations were elaborate in every detail. In the center was a large white shoe filled with orange blossoms from which extended white tulle streamers to a white bell which hung from a beam in the ceiling, over the chair of the guest of honor. On either side of the centerpiece were vases containing cherry blossoms. There was American and Norwegian flags to carry out the pearl motif which were used to hold the name cards. The name cards were white and shaped, upon which were hosted brides.

The menu was delicious, and served in Norwegian style in the tique Norwegian dining-room. Mmes. C. Yergerson, T. Knud Sorenson, H. Stub, L. Gunder Tollaksen, Sophia Hansen, Doherty, Osman Olsen, S. O. Olsen, Norswing, F. Anderson, O. Peterson, Hendrickson, O. Egge, J. Jones, Hendrickson and the hostess. Mrs. Olsen was the recipient many beautiful presents, and the afternoon enjoyed several congratulatory telegrams.

Enjoyable Luncheon.

Mrs. T. A. O'Donnel of Hollywood and Canyon drive gave an enjoyable luncheon to the members of the Hollywood Foothill Club last Friday afternoon. The guests were seated at small tables which were placed in the dining-room, den and sun parlor, where a profusion of yellow flowers made effective decorations.

After the luncheon the guests were taken through the beautiful home of Mrs. O'Donnel, where they enjoyed seeing the flowers and foliage in bloom. Later bridge whist was indulged in.

OUT-OF-TOWN SOCIETY.

...Business.

...INVITATIONS were given by the ...unprecedented amount of social ...gaiety in Easter week that the ...Lenten season in Pasadena ...would be unusually gay, but the past ...week there have been few large functions ...of importance. Quite the largest was the garden party given Monday afternoon at Hotel Green, which ...was of special interest, being the first ...dance affair of the season. The United University band of thirty-...seven pieces furnished a musical program and the grounds were ...crowded between 3 and 5 with representative society folk of Pasadena. ...Under many tents tables were spread ...and congenial groups partook of tea ...and light refreshments. Misses Emma ...Wood and Ethel Barroll presided ...over the samovar in one of the most ...attractive resting places and the guests ...were informally received by Mr. and ...Mrs. David B. Plummer. Mr. and ...Mrs. William E. Grattan also assisted in entertaining.

...Mrs. Caswell A. Sharpe and daughter, Miss Marion Sharpe, of South ...Orange Grove avenue, entertained ...informally Wednesday afternoon ...with a musical, which was arranged ...in honor of their house guest, Miss ...Palmer. Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe were ...assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. Moss ...and the programme was ...given by Miss Paloma Schramm at ...the piano, and Miss Mollie Moore, ...who gave several vocal solos. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was beautifully decorated with stock and Killarney roses. ...Miss Anne Peterson, Emily McBride ...and Miss J. Foster Rhodes, Jr., assisted about the rooms. There were ...forty-five present.

...April Fool's Day was appropriately ...celebrated by 100 members of the ...Altadena Country Club and their ...friends with a folly masquerade dance ...which was a gay affair Tuesday evening. Decorations and appointments ...were marvelous. Electric lights were ...veiled by grotesque masks, great ...heads of vegetables adorned tables ...and window embrasures, clowns and ...men and women in dunce caps ...and quantities of confetti and the ...supper which was served proved a ...series of surprises which afforded ...more amusement than nourishment. ...Costumes worn by those present ...were astonishing and in keeping with ...the "all fools" idea. Among those ...whose costumes attracted greatest attention were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. ...Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Vance ...Martin, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Garts, Mr. ...and Mrs. Lewis H. Music was furnished by Marie's orchestra and the ...prize for the best costume was won ...by Mrs. Shirley Vance Martin, who ...represented Mrs. Stevens Douglas Mott, appearing as Yama-Yama girls.

...One more elaborate function was ...given last week than the afternoon ...affair on Friday, when Mrs. William Stanley entertained at her home, "Grace ...Manor," in honor of Mr. Stanton's ...sister, Mrs. Oliver Picher of Joplin, ...Mo., and Miss Charlotte Thomas ...of Fort Wayne, Ind. Three ...hundred and fifty invitations were ...issued and between 4 and 6 a large ...portion of this number were received. Mrs. Stanton and her guests ...were received alone and the reception-room and hall were beautifully decorated with potted palms, bay ...trees and giant ferns. Daffodils and ...other spring blossoms added a touch ...of color, and in the dining-room, ...where refreshments were served, the ...table was ornamented with shell pink ...and red lilacs. Here Mrs. C. ...Mrs. Stella Noble of Altadena was ...hostess Tuesday at an unusually ...large gathering when the Plaudette Club with a number of ...guests was entertained with music. ...Selections were given from Tannhauser by Miss Drusilla Allen, Mrs. ...Ring reading the dramatic ...version of Starkweather gave "The Pilgrim's Chorus," and Mrs. F. C. Melton contributed a charming group of German songs. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was decorated with daffodils, and the living-room, where the music was enjoyed, was adorned with quantities of pink and white stock. Mmes. Alexander Duer, A. Scott Ormsby, H. M. Gragg, O. P. Gould, Mary W. Norris, F. C. Melton, Steinhauser, Miller, Milliken and Miss Jacobs were the guests and the usual club membership was present, including twenty-five German conversationalists.

Miss Gladys McLachlan of South Marengo avenue entertained with a luncheon Tuesday at Hotel Maryland, when covers were laid for Mrs. Helen Dawne, Mrs. DeWitt Lacey, Mrs. George Downs, Mrs. Anson Lusk, Misses Gladys Waterman, Jessie McCament, Mamie Nimmock, Grace Towne, Margaret Mears and Anita McLachlan. Daffodils were used in decorating the table, and all the dainty accessories were in pale yellow.

Miss Nettie A. Dewey of Congress place gave an elaborately-appointed dinner Tuesday evening complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Springer of New York. Lilies of the valley and white lilacs were combined in decoration and covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. J. B. Stubbs, who is spending the winter at Hotel Green, gave a small auction-bridge party Wednesday afternoon at the Rose Tree Tea House. Mrs. Stubbs was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Warner, and tables were provided for twenty-four players.

Mrs. H. R. Lacey and Mrs. Emma Rhan of Mar Vista and Erie street gave a bridge luncheon Thursday at the Altadena Country Club, when covers were laid for twelve guests. Jonquils and ferns formed the table decorations and tulle butterfly bows in yellow tints carried out the color scheme. Those present were Mmes. Orcella Hines, Henry Newby, Harry Pyle, Charles Monfort, H. E. Reiger, Stephen Vavra, W. W. Neuer, E. H. Larned, and Misses Hilda Maier and Louise Lacey.

Harry A. Fitzgerald of South El Molino avenue entertained Thursday evening at Annandale Country Club with a dance, which was enjoyed by sixty of his friends. The assembly-room was decorated with wild mustard, and music was furnished by an orchestra. During an intermission an elaborate collation was served in the sun parlor.

Miss Olivia Cobb, who is soon to marry John Cyril Bennett, was the guest of honor Wednesday at a tea given by Mrs. Charles W. Covell and Miss Florence Covell at their home on East Walnut street. A pleasant feature of the affair was a miscellaneous shower which was given the bride-elect. There were twenty present.

Friday evening the Tri-Sigma Sorority enjoyed a dinner-dance at Annandale Country Club, when the chaperones of the affair were Mmes. B. O. Kendall, W. T. Hook, J. W. Vaughn, E. W. Davis, J. H. Fairchild, Charles Howard and F. H. Leonard.

Mrs. David B. Van Slyck of South Orange Grove avenue will be the hostess Tuesday at a luncheon party given at Carter's Camp. The guests, including some sixteen society matrons, will make the trip in automobiles.

Announcements have been received in Pasadena of the marriage of Miss Mamie Young, formerly of this place, and Rev. James Oaster of Milwaukee, the wedding having occurred at Oak Park, Ill., March 29, at the home of the bride's aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. D. Banks of Monterey road entertained last evening with a small dinner party when covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. Hartwell Miller of North Raymond avenue entertained the Monday Afternoon Bridge Luncheon Club last week, when covers were laid for Mmes. R. E. Crocker, F. P. Brewer, W. D. Crocker, E. R. Billitt, E. J. Garvey, A. R. Fraser, A. C. Hills, J. H. Burnes, J. J. Burnett and Miss Bessie Crosby.

Miss Dorothy Marie Grosse of Buena Vista street gave a theater party Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Marjorie Churchill of Oak Knoll. The party was chaperoned by Mmes. Charles Grosse, E. P. Knowlton and J. M. Lenox. Tea followed at the Alexandria. Those entertained were Misses Katherine Hobbs, Frances Hogan, Loretta Kelley, Helen Staats, Celia McDonald, Helen Rothenburg, Marian Stewart, Doris Oestring, Frances Knowlton, Marian Lemingwell, Jean McNeil and Marjorie Churchill.

Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes, who is spending the winter at Hotel Green, gave a charming luncheon Thursday at the hotel, when covers were laid also for Mmes. Artemus Lamb, J. B. Stubbs, Richard Bishop, F. D. Rockefeller, Charles H. Warner, Frank H. Gilcrist, Warren Barnhart, William Grant Fitch, C. H. Higgins, LaFayette Lamb, A. B. Frame, B. N. McKeen, George B. FASCINATING HAIR FOR WOMEN

Is Easy to Have, Natural Colored and Beautiful

So many women have grey or faded hair; neglect it until it becomes thin, dry and lifeless, begins to fall out and makes them appear much older than they really are. If your hair is in this condition get a bottle of Hay's Hair Health today. Don't wait until some one says how much older you look. You'll be delighted at the results from even one or two applications. The grey hairs gradually disappear and your hair will become full of life and vitality. No one can tell that you are using it. It's not a dye but a nice, clean preparation that quickly and effectively keeps your grey hair dark, glossy and natural colored and that all druggists guarantee satisfactory or refund your money. Always ask for Hay's Hair Health. It never fails.

Free: Sign this adv. and take it to the following druggists and get a 50c. bottle of Hay's Hair Health and a 25c. cake of Harfina Soap, for 50c.; or $1.00 bottle of Hay's Hair Health and two 25c. cakes of Harfina Soap Free, for $1.

Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health, great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands and a wholesome fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage, and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally, according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robut constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

MELVIN BABLER.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills, as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Swelldom's

MONDAY SPECIAL

SALE

Of 200 Women's and Misses' TAILORED SUITS, at $25

Values $39.50 to $45.

¶ Distinctiveness is the paramount quality in this limited collection of women's and misses' tailored suits for Monday. The models are smart, not because they fall in line with the generality of tailored styles, but smart in some distinctive features which serve to save them from the reproach of being ordinary. They are undeniably, amazingly new, with some deft touch in each to set it apart from the tiresome average.

¶ In all, this offering is composed of some twenty models, that are clever variations on long waisted blouse, Empire cutaway, Russian and fancy tailored styles. The fabrics are wool eponge, poplin, Bedford cord, diagonal serges, men's-wear serges and check worsteds, in black and all colors. Garments that are beautiful in design, efficiently tailored and finished, and marked at a special Monday price which is extraordinarily reasonable for tailored suits of such superlative character.

Hotel Redondo

Queen of the Pacific

At the Safe Beach

Redondo Beach, California. Eighteen Miles from Los Angeles.

Forty-five minutes by inter-urban car, with the finest automobile roads in the world.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

For City or Country Property; Income or Vacant; Clear or Encumbered; or Will Exchange for Stock or Bonds at Actual Value; Will Take Property Anywhere in the United States

(Now Leased, Subject to Sale, on Basis of Percentage of Gross Receipts of Hotel, Cafe and Bar.)

The Redondo Hotel Property

consists of 2628 feet of ocean and street frontage, about equally divided. In the heart of Redondo Beach business center.

Located on the property is a beautiful, three-story (about 200-room) hotel, known over the United States as the Hotel Redondo. The hotel was entirely renovated, painted and papered about two years ago, with its separate ball-room, dining-room (capacity,500) bowling alleys, tennis courts and large parlors.

The grounds are laid off in walks and drives, and have the most beautiful trees, flowers, and tropical plants to be found in Southern California.

Spanish Garden

A Spanish garden, surrounded by a wall of vines and trees, with shady palms on the inside, with a spread of over fifty feet. This garden has been the scene of many banquets and is known all over Southern California.

Redondo Beach as a Port

Redondo Beach has sixty-five feet of water at the end of its wharves and piers. The largest ocean-going vessels can tie up to its wharves. The Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific Railroads are reported to have a joint agreement making Redondo their port, in opposition to the municipal wharf at San Pedro.

Huntington

Henry Huntington, the father and promoter of Redondo Beach, is principal owner of Clifton by the Sea. Mr. Huntington is reported as saying that the ocean frontage at Redondo is the finest residence property on the Pacific Coast, and for that reason withdrew the sale of property at Clifton by the Sea.

Tent City

The Tent City, adjoining the Hotel Redondo property, on the city side, is owned by the Huntington interests, and is held at $750 a front foot for Ocean and street frontage. The Tent City grounds are no better property than the Hotel Redondo.

Other Property

Property on the streets adjoining the Hotel Redondo property, is held at $500 a front foot. There cannot be five hundred feet of ocean frontage purchased within one mile of the Redondo Hotel and beyond it for $200 a front foot.

A Million Dollars will be spent on amusement improvements at Redondo Beach this year.

An average of 10,000 people a day go to Redondo Beach, every day of the year for its bathing facilities, at the safest beach on the coast and the largest salt water plunge and bath house in the world, its tent city, Redondo Beach Hotel and its other amusements.

Redondo Beach has the finest interurban car system in the country, and the best system of automobile roads from Los Angeles and the other beaches to Redondo of any system of paved roads in the country.

With these added amusements and facilities for travel, Redondo Beach will be a strong rival of Venice of America.

Hotel Men or Amusement Promoters can find no better property in America. The San Francisco-Panama Exposition and the San Diego Exposition in 1915 will bring 25,000 people a day through Los Angeles, and Redondo Beach will need added accommodations, and the Redondo Hotel should be enlarged to 1000 rooms to accommodate the public in the years 1914 and 1915.

This valuable hotel property and grounds is offered to the public for sale or exchange at a fair valuation.

The Value of the Hotel Redondo and grounds can be best ascertained by personal investigation of the property, its location, its possibilities, and Redondo Beach itself, in connection with Los Angeles, Southern California and the whole United States—but the views of others can be obtained, and as to the value, location, and means of obtaining value, the following are given as references from Los Angeles.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC RAILWAY CO.
D. W. Pontius, Mgr.
Los Angeles, California.

Dear Sir:

Concerning the Hotel Redondo property at Redondo Beach, the following is the information I could gather on this subject:

Property comprises about seven and one-half acres in one body, having a frontage on bluff overlooking the sea of 752 feet, and a frontage on Hotel Plaza and Ainesworth Court of 1932 feet, total of 2684 feet of realty worth at present time $350,000 to $400,000, valuation based on what surrounding property is held at; a range of $175 to $750 per front foot.

Hotel Redondo Building cost originally $125,000, subsequently added to until the original cost approximated $150,000. It is now worth $60,000 to $70,000, and it would require from $40,000 to $60,000 to place in first-class condition, but even when so repaired and furnished, would not at the present date fill requirements for a first-class hotel, plans being out of date and obsolete.

The grounds of the Hotel property and that of Mr. Huntington adjoining, possess a most luxuriant growth of shrubbery and palms, a growth of twenty years, which enhances the value far beyond that of surrounding blocks.

From its admirable location, the property is bound to advance in realty value with the further development of the city, and particularly the section in which it is located. Considered by the Board of Realty experts as a good buy at figures quoted above.

Yours truly, (Signed) D. W. PONTIUS.

ASSOCIATED BUILDING & INVESTMENT CO.

Dear Sir:

I have examined the Hotel Redondo property and find the land has a value of $675,000 and the buildings thereon have cost to construct between $165,000 and $175,000, and are in very good condition.

Landscape work and foliage would be very hard to estimate, as it would cost many thousands of dollars and much time to undertake to replace the tropical trees and flowers and work now on said grounds.

In estimating the value of this land, we have based our opinions on its location and the price of adjoining properties.

I think we are well under the real value of this property in quoting the above-named figures.

Trusting we may be of further service to you, we beg to remain, yours truly, (Signed) V. PATROSSO.

Dear Sirs: Upon request, I have made an examination of the Hotel Redondo property and find the ground has a value of $840,000, and have had the cost of the buildings estimated from $175,000 to $185,000.

This does not include any estimate of the value of putting the grounds in the condition they are.

We have made this examination from the standpoint of a Loan Company. If we can be of any further service to you, we will be pleased to do so.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. H. PLATTNER.

Dear Sir: Have been acquainted with the Redondo Hotel property and grounds for a long time, and have information from friends and acquaintances regarding the property, and would say that at a price of four hundred thousand dollars it is a big bargain and is a good buy if it can be bought for five hundred thousand dollars. Yours truly, (Signed) EPS RANDOLPH.

THE most important and largely-attended social function of the past week was the card party with which Mrs. Edward L. McCormack and Mrs. Ralph B. Clapp entertained at the Annandale Country Club. They were assisted by Mrs. Clarence Van Graham and Mrs. W. G. Peck. Ten tables of bridge and five hundred were played. After the games tea was served. The prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Mongin, Mrs. Sipprell and Miss Jane Roseboro, while Mrs. Fogwell, Mrs. Cadwallader and Mrs. Edward Jones were the winners at five hundred. Mrs. McCormack was beautifully gowned in pale blue satin with a large black hat, while Mrs. Clapp wore rose silk with a pink and black rose-trimmed hat. The invited guests were Mrs. Raymond H. Goodrich, Mrs. Carrie Goodrich, Mrs. Fred C. Nash, Mrs. E. Taylor Malaby, Mrs. Clinton F. Morgan, Mrs. W. C. Palmer, Mrs. William A. White, Mrs. A. W. Clapp, Pasadena, Mrs. H. B. The Fashionable Figure Correct Corsetry---

Would you, miladi, like your gowns to be exquisite symphonies of smart, graceful, natural lines—your every movement to be the embodiment of ease, freedom and buoyant pliancy? The secret lies in the choice of the right corset. Here is news of the latest models. Styles designed to meet every figure requirement and all in harmony with Fashion's decree—the last word in correct corsetry.

Royal Regent Corsets

The corsets that embody the utmost grace, comfort and smartness of style. In the new spring line there is a model for every figure. Made of durable coutil or batiste and boned with double wire that is absolutely rustproof, $1 to $5. Royal Regent Ventilo Front Lace Corsets are designed on health lines. They give plenty of breathing space; confine without restricting the muscles and gently mould the too abundant flesh into lines of grace and beauty, with no sacrifice of comfort. Priced, $3.50 to $15.00.

Royal Regent Model at $8.50

A style designed especially for the average figure. Has medium bust and long extension skirt. Boned with walohn and finished with six heavy supporters. Fit and workmanship guaranteed.

Madame Eraine Corsets

The lines of these famous corsets follow minutely those prescribed by Fashion, making them the ideal foundation for the newest gowns. Boned with unbreakable walohn they are delightfully soft and pliant, bending with every slightest motion. Madame Eraine models give the unconfined appearance—the figure of flowing, youthful lines and grace that comes only from perfect ease and freedom of movement. They adequately support and unfailingly shape the figure into lines of smartness and charm. Models for all figures, at $5.00, $6.50, $8.00, $10.50.

Madame Eraine Model at $7.50

Particularly well adapted to the requirements of the average figure. Medium low bust and extreme long skirt with band of elastic in front to give freedom when sitting. Made of imported coutil.

La Vida Corsets

They represent the acme of style and comfort in corsetry. Each individual model is the exquisite creation of an artist—designed to accomplish some special purpose. Every line, gore and seam is the concrete expression of a definite aim. Because Queen Fashion decrees that skirt lines must be long, the hips subdued and modish slenderness of outline attained, La Vida corset designers respond with the models that present all these requisites in a pleasing combination of style, fit and workmanship. Prices, $5.00, $6.00, $8.50, $10.00.

Stylish La Vida Model at $8.50

A style for the medium figure. Made of high-grade broche; has low bust and long skirt. Pliably boned with best quality walohn and finished with six thoroughly dependable supporters.

The Famous Nemo

The corsets American women of fashion have stamped with unqualified approval. Especial favor is accorded the Nemo model with Self-Reducing Front which reduces and supports the abdomen. A broad band of Lastikops webbing at the bottom of the long skirt produces the slender hip effect and prevents the corset outline showing through the gown. There is a Nemo corset for every figure requirement and every detail of design, material and workmanship is such as to give the fullest satisfaction. Prices, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $7.50.

Self-Reducing Nemo at $5.00

These Incurve Back Self-Reducing Corsets are for the full figure. Have medium low bust, long skirt with elastic extension to prevent corset edges from showing through the close-fitting garment. Lastikops supporters.

NEWEST BRASSIERES

Our stock of these all-important adjuncts to the perfect-fitting corset includes practically all the well-known makes. They need no recommendation. The well-dressed woman fully appreciates their value—the increased trimness and smoothness of line they impart to the costume. Have just the right brassiere fitted over your new corset. Prices 50c to $2.00.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets—guaranteed to mould correctly, fit comfortably and not to rust, break or tear. Models for every figure priced from $1.00 to $3.50.

JURIES SCORED BY THE POLICE.

Too Many Acquittals, Plaint of Authorities.

Difficult to Protect Public, Says Commissioner.

Verdicts Lack Consistency, His Conclusion.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Albert Legood, aged 25, a motor omnibus driver, charged with causing the death of Constable John Smith while the latter was on point duty in Lurgate Circus, was discharged at the Mansion House.

This result was arrived at after a statement by Mr. Muir, on behalf of the Commission of Police, in which he referred to the decision of the Coroner's jury. They returned a verdict of accidental death, and added a rider expressing the opinion that drivers should be more experienced than the defendant appeared to have been.

Mr. Muir, addressing the Lord Mayor, said that in the circumstances the Commissioner of Police for the city had had to consider with his advisers what was the proper course for him to take with regard to this prosecution, and the decision of that question was a very difficult one, because there were called before the Coroner's jury some twenty-six witnesses and the defendant himself in addition. The evidence was not at all consistent, and it was found there was a large body of testimony which would, if placed before his worship, have certainly justified him in committing the defendant for trial.

INCONSISTENCY OF JURY.

It was, to say the least of it, doubtful whether the rider of the jury was not inconsistent with their verdict. Moreover, the defendant, who was licensed as a driver on December 17, on December 31 injured a postman in the course of his driving, in respect of which proceedings against him were now pending, and on January 20 he ran into and killed Constable Smith.

In these circumstances it was no easy matter for the Commissioner of Police to decide what course to take in this case, and it was rendered all the more difficult when he had placed before him, as he had, the experience of the Commissioner of Police for the metropolis with regard to prosecutions of motor car drivers. That experience presented a most remarkable state of things.

TOO MANY ACQUITTALS.

"In a period of just over six years the Commissioner of Police has prosecuted in some twenty cases. Knowing, as I do," added Mr. Muir, "that no case is proceeded with on behalf of the commissioner unless and until his advisers are satisfied that there is a case upon which it is reasonable to suppose a jury ought to convict, you will be astounded when you hear that there was 85 per cent. of acquittals in those twenty cases. When the advisers of the Commissioner of Police thought it reasonable that a jury ought to convict, juries convicted in only three. In no other class of case prosecuted by the Commissioner of Police is the percentage approaching anything like 85 per cent. of acquittals. Indeed, I do not think I am overstating the figures when I say, speaking from my experience, that the percentage is as high as 90 per cent. of convictions of cases undertaken by the Commissioner of Police on the advice of his legal advisers.

"It is little wonder if the public think that they are not being properly protected, so far as prosecutions are concerned, against the danger of the streets which arises from the increasing use of motor vehicles, and the difficulty which the City Commissioner had in this case was a two-fold difficulty."

PROTECTION FROM JURIES.

Mr. Muir went on to contend that the Coroner's jury's verdict was not in accordance with the trend of the Coroner's summing-up. It was not lack of protection from the Commissioners of Police from which the public suffered, but lack of protection from juries. This particular case was not to be looked upon as a precedent in the least likely to be followed in future cases in the city of London; but the commissioner had decided to follow the verdict of the Coroner's jury and to ask the Lord Mayor to say he would be justified in allowing the prosecution to stop at this stage.

H. Brandon (for Legood) said it was the first he had heard of the postman incident.

Mr. Muir: It was mentioned at the Coroner's inquest, and there is a summons out against him now.

Mr. Brandon also said the Coroner's jury had been asked specifically whether Legood was driving his omnibus with reasonable care considering all the circumstances of the case. The jury answered "Yes." There were fifteen jurymen, and he believed they were unanimous about it.

The Lord Mayor discharged the defendant.

PARCEL POST IN CANADA.

Dominion Government Likely to Inaugurate System Similar to That in United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 2.—A parcel post planned on the "zone" system similar to that in the United States, is proposed for Canada. Postmaster-General Pelletier has announced that he would introduce the necessary legislation in Parliament soon.

Since the inauguration of the system in the United States, the Canadian Postoffice Department has handled great quantities of incoming parcel post matter without receiving any benefit in return. The officials here have watched the operation of the system closely and have asked the Washington Postoffice Department for a report on it. By this means they hope to avoid, in the formulation of the Canadian system, any mistakes the United States may have made.

DAUGHTER OF GUN MAKER SHIES AT TAX ASSESSORS.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Bertha Krupp von Boden, probably the richest woman in the world, who inherited the vast fortune of her father, as well as his controlling interest in the great Krupp Gun Works, will be one of the worst losers by the recent edict of the Kaiser levying a tax on all private fortunes to meet the expenses of increased armaments in the German empire. The tax is to be regulated according to the size of each individual fortune; all those rated as being worth $50,000 or less will be taxed $1.25 on every $500, and so on up the scale to those owning fortunes of $25,000,000 or more will be taxed $20 on every $500. It is estimated that the heiress to the Krupp fortune will be compelled to contribute the enormous sum of $1,800,000 into the Kaiser's war chest.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Two men hold in the hollow of their palms the question of peace and war in Europe. Upon the ability of Count Berchtold, Austrian Chancellor, and M. Sazanoff, the arbiter of the foreign policy of Russia, to see eye to eye on the remaking of the map of the Near East depends the future of the two great empires, the lives of thousands, the welfare and tranquility of Europe itself.

Both are masterful men, aristocrats of energy and incidentally ambitious. They seek to monopolize the place which has never been filled in the world of politics of Europe since Kaiser Wilhelm dismissed Prince Bismarck and obtruded his own influence in international diplomacy. Both have many scalps adorning their belts as it is and both are at the same time embittered by unforeseen checks in developing the power of their relative empires. Von Berchtold, it was, who bluffed the redoubtable Marshal Von Birberstein and added Bosnia and Herzegovina to the dominions of Franz Josef. But the rupture in the Balkans intervened just when the San Jak of Novi Bazar was to follow these "stolen provinces." And since then all the cards have come up the wrong way from his viewpoint.

The question is being asked here: "Do both of these daring and dangerous masters of diplomacy see a way out of the seeming cul-de-sacs which will advance the particular aims of each and from the present crisis, snatch a peace victory which will give one or the other palm of political premiership?" Vienna clings to the belief that craft of Von Berchtold will prove more than a match for the admitted skill of Sazanoff.

London Standard Says It Is Evident Our Entire Diplomatic Service Needs Revision.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—The Standard, discussing the delay at Washington in filling the post of Ambassador to Great Britain, which it adds "is now satisfactorily solved by the appointment of Walter H. Page," argues that the whole diplomatic service of the United States needs revision.

"Though the republic is singularly fortunate in its appointments to the European capitals and the principal results of the system are happier than could be expected," continues the paper, "there is little to be said for the system itself, as it limits the supply of available talent, gives too much importance to mere wealth and quite unnecessarily slights the pretentions of those abilities which are not expressed in terms of money."

Lord Lonsdale Declares It One of Highest Art that Teaches Men to Keep Their Temper.

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a letter intimating his inability to attend the Midland Amateur Boxing Championships at Birmingham, Lord Lonsdale says that to his mind there is no sport so conducive to the well-being of any young man as boxing. From a health point of view it was most excellent exercise, and only those who understood and carried it out scientifically really valued it as one of the highest arts. Moreover, it was conducive to the encouragement of keeping one's temper, and, above all, gave presence of mind, which, whether in sport or daily life, was the most valued of assets.

Police of French Capital Say Trick Is Common.

Easy Marks Are Plenty and Harvest Is Rich One.

PARIS, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another has to be added to the already long list of foolishly-confiding newcomers to Paris who have been victimized and robbed by so-called guides. A young Canadian has just recounted to the police his first, and what will probably be his last, adventure in the Gay City. On arriving in Paris he was accosted in the Gare St. Lazare by an individual who professed to be a compatriot and offered to show him around the city. Glad to meet a fellow-Canadian, he agreed. They went to various parts of the city in a taxi, and at last the stranger said he would like to see some Apaches.

He was taken to a low cafe, and there was evidently made to drink some soporific, for when some hours after he awoke it was to find himself seated in the Church of the Madeleine. All his money was gone, amounting to £40, and the receipt for his luggage. When inquiry was made at the station it was found that the baggage had been claimed.

It cannot be too strongly impressed upon visitors that it is in the last degree imprudent to engage an unknown and unaccredited guide, whom you may meet on the street or in a station. There are no doubt honest men among these peripatetic guides, but the business is mostly in the hands of unscrupulous offscourings of all the races, who find they can make a fat living by pandering to the weakness and curiosity of strangers, and who know well that even should their clients find themselves duped they will not make a complaint.

One trick which is often worked is this. When you are seated at a cafe you will find that the chair next to you is taken by a well-dressed man who gets into conversation with you. His usual tale is that he is a rich American, over to spend his money, but new to the city. He asks you what he should see and do. Up then comes a "guide" (that is, a confederate,) and the American, after questioning him, asks you if you feel inclined to "get around a bit." Very likely you agree. How you get out of the affair will depend upon your common-sense.

If you want a guide, get him from Cook's, or from the manager of your hotel.

SEA MYSTERY IN WILL CASE.

Date of Loss of Waratah Is in Dispute.

Legatee Disappeared With Ill-fated Ship.

Heirs Are Now Fighting for Money Bequest.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The will of a lady of 90, who left property worth £26,000, was the subject of an action begun in the Probate Court yesterday. One of the questions at issue turned on the date of the loss of the steamship Waratah as affecting one of the legacies—to a relative named Mrs. Starke.

The case is that of Starke vs. Clark and others, and it concerned the estate of the late Miss Maria Mattingley of Addison Road, W., who died in July, 1909.

The plaintiffs assert revocation of probate granted of a will of April 13, 1908, with a codicil of January 4, 1909, and ask that the will alone should be pronounced for. They allege that the codicil was not duly executed, Miss Mattingley being at the time of unsound mind, and that it had been obtained by the undue influence of Dr. Frederick Bryan (her grand-nephew,) who is a Harley-street specialist. The allegations are denied.

Montague Shearman, K.C., for the defendants, said that Miss Mattingley lived for many years with her brother, and when he died she lived alone with one servant. Nearly all her relations were in the Antipodes. When Dr. Bryan came to England to study medicine he called on Miss Mattingley. On one occasion she and her brother offered him £25 when he mentioned that he was going on a holiday, which he accepted.

Afterward, however, he had a letter from the brother asking for the money to be paid back. Not liking the suggestion that he had borrowed money, Dr. Bryan returned the amount, and never saw Miss Mattingley again until 1908.

Then, in consequence of a letter from his mother, he called on the testatrix. He found her living alone with an old servant who was given to drink, and who, said counsel, had, he believed, on one occasion assaulted her mistress.

SERVANT REMOVED.

Miss Mattingley was also suffering from cancer and was not being medically attended. As a matter of duty Dr. Bryan thought he ought to look after her. The servant was removed and a doctor consulted about Miss Mattingley. A nurse was also called in.

In December, 1908, Miss Mattingley appeared to have been offended, for some reason, with her own solicitor, and spoke to Dr. Bryan, with the result that Mr. Godwin was called in, and he drew up the codicil now in question. She had property worth about £26,000, and under the codicil legacies were left to various relations. Mrs. Starke and Dr. Bryan received £5000 each and the residue (valued at £16,000) was divided equally between them.

If either of the residuary legatees died before the testatrix, then the one surviving was to get the whole of the residue. It happened that Mrs. Starke was one of the passengers lost in the Waratah, which, as far as could be ascertained, counsel stated, was lost on the very day the testatrix died, so that if Mrs. Starke did not die on that day her children would be entitled to the £5000. If she did, then the money went to Dr. Bryan. But for that clause, probably this action would not have been heard of. Counsel contended that there had been no undue influence on the part of Dr. Bryan.

SPECIALIST TESTIFIES.

Dr. Bryan gave evidence and said he was now a Harley-street brain specialist. He bore out counsel's statement on Tuesday as to his reasons for not going to revisit his aunt for nearly twenty years. However, they had corresponded, and she gave him very expensive presents.

Mr. Shearman: In what condition did you find the house at Addison Road in 1908?

Dr. Bryan: I found the poor old lady in a very squalid condition. My aunt appeared extremely glad to see me, and rather to my astonishment she told me she had been suffering from cancer for many years.

Mr. Shearman: Did you find any food in the house?

Dr. Bryan: No, none that I could put my hands on. My aunt was very hungry, and so I went out and bought some food at Barker's, in Kensington, and took it home and cooked it.

Mr. Shearman: How did you find her mentally?

Dr. Bryan: Quite sane in every possible way.

Mr. Shearman: Is it true you made the suggestion to her about the solicitor?

Dr. Bryan: No.

The witness also denied that he had anything to do with the making of the codicil or exercised any undue influence.

DEVELOPED DELUSIONS.

Afterward there were lunacy proceedings. About the middle of May, 1909, the mental condition of his aunt began to get bad. She ultimately developed a delusion about her brother who was dead.

Mr. Shearman: What was her delusion?

Dr. Bryan: That I had killed my uncle. It took various forms from day to day.

Mr. Shearman: What was her general character—was she of a yielding disposition?

Dr. Bryan: On the contrary, she was a most dominating person.

Cross-examined by Hume Williams, for the executors, the witness said his aunt had been suffering from cancer for eight or ten years when he first saw her in 1908.

Mr. Williams: Did you believe that Mr. Cummings was going to throw your aunt's affairs into Chancery?

Dr. Bryan: I did.

Mr. Williams: Did it not strike you as being a delusion?

Dr. Bryan: No.

Mr. Williams: Have you now ascertained there was no truth in it?

Dr. Bryan: Mr. Cummings says so, but I do not believe him.

Mr. Williams: When your aunt told you she wanted to alter her will did she say she wanted it altered in your favor?

Dr. Bryan: Not in those words, but she gave me that impression. I thought my aunt was going to benefit me through my mother.

Members of English Union Tell Investigating Committee That Traffic Commission Should Be Formed to Deal With Question of Speed and Rules of the Road.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Drivers of taxicabs and motor-'buses gave evidence before the Traffic Committee at its recent meeting.

Mr. Lawrence Russell, who testified on behalf of the London Cabdrivers' Trade Union, said the union now had a new title, the London and Provincial Union of Licensed Vehicle Workers. He had been a licensed driver for twenty-eight years. He advocated a traffic committee composed of police officers, representatives of the County Council, and drivers nominated from the Vehicle Workers' Society.

"I believe if we had a traffic committee composed on those lines," the witness added, "we should get a more uniform system of dealing with traffic, and you would have the benefit of the practical experience of men driving on the road."

Another suggestion made by the witness was that drivers of cabs and motor-'buses should have three years' experience of driving before granted a license. The experience could be gained in the country. He also advocated subways with moving platforms.

CAREFUL MARRIED MEN.

Replying to a further question, the witness said he was not in favor of the unfortunate drivers being more heavily fined than at present, but he was in favor of pedestrians being prosecuted. He caused some amusement by remarking that he thought there were more accidents among single men than married ones. "It is human nature for the married man to be more careful," he added.

R. E. Cross, president of the National Society of Motor-'Bus Drivers, who was next called, alluded to a regulation stating that motor-'buses should be geared so that their highest speed was twelve miles an hour, and said the authorities who had the administration of the regulation had from the beginning neglected to enforce it. So long as the public-carriage authorities neglected to enforce the observance of the act the danger of accidents from high speed would continue. He urged that the mechanical arrangement of 'buses should be such that their speed could not be beyond a certain limit, whatever that limit happened to be fixed at.

The material from which motor-'bus drivers were selected, witness said, was in many cases not of the right sort. Sometimes men came down from Yarmouth off fishing-smacks; and a man with a collar and tie had a preference over the man with only a scarf.

Questioned regarding speed, witness said a driver did not know the speed at which he was going; his attention was fixed on dodging people in the road. He confessed to going from twenty to twenty-five miles an hour on one occasion. It was the average thing, he declared, for motor-'buses to go at sixteen miles an hour.

DEFENDS HIGHER CRITICISM.

Archdeacon Sinclair Scouts Accusation that Old Testament Has Been Undermined by Irreverent Scholars.

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An address on "Methods of Biblical Criticism" was given by Archdeacon Sinclair, formerly Archdeacon of London and Dean of St. Paul's, at the Victoria Institute, Adelphia.

The attitude of the higher criticism, said Archdeacon Sinclair, had been so widely promulgated in England, especially at the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, that an uncomfortable feeling had grown up in the minds of many that the Old Testament had been undermined and rendered generally unworthy of the supreme place which it had held as the records of God's revelations to man and the preparation for the divine mission of His Son.

There were two schools of the higher critics, some were reverent and devout, who did not speak of possibilities as certainties, who were modest as to their own achievements, and who had no preconceived hostility to the possibility of miracles, prophecy and revelation. The others gave up the latter and treated the Old Testament as a dead collection.

It was time that Christian people were reminded of the real trustworthiness and reasonableness of the more reverent and cautious school. There was absolutely nothing to fear from the more rash and destructive school of the higher critics, and from the devout, serious, and reasonable school there was everything to learn.

ENLARGE GWRYCH CASTLE.

Picturesque Welsh Pile Renowned in History Is Being Modernized by Its Owner.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARDIFF (Wales) April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gwrych Castle, Abergele, the Welsh seat of the Earl of Dundonald and one of the grandest and most picturesque places in the principality, is being considerably enlarged. The castle, which has been excavated out of the solid rock behind, already possesses a frontage of over a quarter of a mile, broken at intervals by eighteen turrets, and is bounded on each side by a noble terrace over 400 yards long.

In the castle grounds and overlooking the Irish Sea, is a cavern with an entrance like that of a great Gothic cathedral. The sides and roof are studded with beautiful pendant stalactites many feet in length, and the floor is strewn with immense quantities of stalagmites of a deep orange color and of the most grotesque and varied forms.

Over the principal entrance are carved tablets commemorating encounters between the Welsh and the Saxons and Normans in the pass commanded by the castle. The ravine has been termed the "Thermopylae of Wales." Battles took place here between Gruffydd Ap Llewelyn, Prince of North Wales, and Harold of Wessex, who was afterwards slain at Hastings; as also between King Henry II, and Prince Owain Gwynedd. Here, too, Richard II, whom Percy, Earl of Northumberland, under a promise of an amiable interview with Henry Bolingbroke, had inveigled from Conway Castle, was on his return from Ireland surrounded and treacherously betrayed by the Earl into the power of the usurper.

MAGNATE'S FALL DUE TO DANCER.

PARISIAN SAYS SIREN WANTED TO SWIM IN PEARLS.

Nestor Wilmart, Noted Newspaper Owner, Arrested After Sacrificing Fortune and Money of Others to Whims of Young Woman Who Bewitched Him.

BY PAUL VILLIERS.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

PARIS, April 5.—From the beginning of the world to the present day, the fall of man is ever ascribed to the fell influence of some woman. Nestor Wilmart, whose case is now the one topic between Brussels, Paris and Rome, says he might be a respected and prosperous mercantile magnate today if fate had not crossed his path in Mlle. Claire de Vigny, a dainty little dancer with the tiniest of tootsie-wootsies, the most bewitching eyes and also an expert's judgment in the matter of pink pearls.

"I met Claire," he says, "one night after she had danced before the court. She smiled, upon me. That smile has cost me my liberty. We saw a great deal of each other. I made her an allowance. I could not marry her, of course. My wife is a shrew and she would never consent. Soon, she let me know her penchant for pink pearls. I ravaged the market to satisfy her craving. Also that woman wanted to swim in pearls. So I was undone."

ARRESTED IN RHEIMS.

Wilmart was arrested at Rheims recently after successfully evading the world's police since October last. Managing director of the Ghent-Termenzen Railway, it was discovered at that time that large blocks of forged shares of the company had been placed on the market and Wilmart, after explaining indignantly to the authorities that any irregularities in the company's affairs could only be due to clerical errors, fled the country. Investigations showed that frauds on a very large scale had been perpetrated. Within ten years forged shares to the amount of $5,000,000 had been negotiated by large banks, among which were the National Bank, the Union de Credit, the Banque de Bruxelles and the Caisse d'Epargne. The individual looses sustained ranged from $80,000 to $200,000. The prominent part played in Belgian society by Nestor Wilmart added to the sensation caused by the discovery of the frauds and the news of his flight. Wilmart kept a large racing stable and a famous stud. He owned several chateaux, a theater, a newspaper and shortly before his flight entertained some leaders of Belgian society at a shooting party.

HUE AND CRY RAISED.

The hue and cry after Nestor Wilmart led to reports of his presence in many distant parts of the world, and it was generally supposed that he was hiding in Mexico, which appears to be a favorable resort of absconding financiers at the moment. After wandering about for several weeks, Wilmart settled down quietly under the name of Dubois at Laon, in the department of Aisne, a few miles from the Belgian frontier. The police by the merest chance discovered the identity of the new arrival in this comparatively small town—Laon has some 15,000 inhabitants—and the local magistrate requested him to call at the police station. Wilmart fled to Rheims, where he was arrested. Only a few dollars were found upon him. Wilmart's fondness for the society of ladies of the ballet was what finally led to his discovery.

RECALLS BYRON'S SWEETHEART.

Descendant of Heiress of Annesley Will Be Led to the Marriage Altar This Week.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Memories of the naughty, but most interesting, Lord Byron, are recalled by the engagement of Miss Margareta Chaworth-Musters to J. J. Baldwin Young of Kingerby Hall, Lincolnshire, whose wedding takes place on April 10, at Nottingham. The bride-to-be is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chaworth-Musters, of Annesley, Park, Notts, and a descendant of "Mary Chaworth," the heiress of Annesley, perhaps the only real sweetheart Byron ever had, and of whom he wrote:

"Herself the solitary scion left of a time-honored race."

Mary Chaworth, being older than Byron, refused to take him seriously, and married a neighbor, John Musters, of Colwick Hall, a descendant of Sir John Musters, knighted at Whitehall in 1663, who bought property from the Byron family. Mr. Chaworth-Musters is the great-grandson of John Musters, and the last of the Chaworths.

Berlin.

KAISER TO PAY A HEAVY TAX

Estate Is Valued at Thirty-seven Millions.

Comes Fifth in Wealth of German Empire.

Spectral Airship Causes Scare in Berlin.

BY MALCOLM CLARK.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

BERLIN, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The announcement that the Kaiser in order to show a good example to the people, rich and poor of the Fatherland to which he is paying the piper for the present crazy race for huge armaments the Kaiser will personally pay tax on his personal estate, estimated at $37,000,000, has brought to the surface some interesting figures as to the wealth of German princes and "barons of business."

The Emperor William only comes fifth on the list of the owners of great estates which will be laid under contribution, but he tops the rolls of the millionaire reigning German sovereigns. Next among the latter comes the Duke of Saxe-Altenburg, with property worth $15,000,000.

The richest of the German plutocrats is Frau Krupp, with $70,750,000. Then comes Prince Henckel-Donnersmarck, with the modest estate of $60,000,000; Baron Goldschmidt-Rothschild of Frankfort, with $40,000,000, and the Duke of Ujest with $35,000,000.

HOMAGE TO THE KAISER.

Some amusement is expressed here over the suggestion made in all seriousness by the German Imperial committee for the Olympic games that the opening of the great stadium, which is fixed for June 2, 1916, the jubilee of the accession of Kaiser Wilhelm, should be dommenced with "an act of homage by the representatives of all athletic clubs."

The proposal draws forth imaginary pictures of the popular James E. Sullivan, Mel Shepherd, Kelly of California and other well-known American athletes bending the knee before the great Teuton gladiator, extolling him as the champion of all champions of all track and field sports.

SPECTRAL AIRSHIPS.

Spectral airships have now begun to appear in Germany. Recently a reward was offered for information that would lead to the arrest of aerial visitors who had been seen cruising about over one of the eastern provinces, and elaborate official apparatus was set in motion quite close to Berlin by a story just as well authenticated, and apparently even more baseless, than those who recently attracted so much attention in England.

It was shortly after nightfall that two women returned from work in the fields to Caputh, a large village some miles to the west of Potsdam, with a tale that they had seen an airship catch fire and blow up over a vast forest that covers the greater part of that district. As they both have a high reputation for intelligence and veracity, and as they described what they had seen with complete unanimity, no one seems to have thought of doubting their word. The circumstantiality of their narrative was also very convincing. They said the exploded airship was very similar to the Hansa, which has for some time been stationed in Potsdam, and which they had repeatedly seen.

The vessel, they stated, had two cars, and while they were watching a black cloud of smoke suddenly rose from one of these. Then flames appeared, and quickly enveloped the hull of the airship, which began to fall rapidly towards the earth. Just before it reached the tree-tops one of the cars became detached, and the vessel, thus lightened, soared rapidly upwards.

FIRE BRIGADE ALARMED.

It was particularly this last detail which convinced the local authorities that the tale was true, and induced them to communicate with the military headquarters at Potsdam and the fire brigades of the surrounding villages. Soon a couple of fire engines, a company of Jagers mounted on bicycles, and a motor ambulance arrived at Caputh, and under the guidance of the two women who had seen the vision, proceeded to search the wood for the debris and the victims.

The quest was carried out most methodically. What was taken to be the probable area within which the doomed airship had descended was mapped out and systematically beaten by lines of men, who kept in touch with one another by means of vocal signals. The hunt was maintained until between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, without yielding any positive result, and it was resumed at a later hour, and carried on for some hours with no more success.

Meanwhile telephonic and telegraphic inquiries had shown that all the airships in Germany were lying safely in their sheds, and that the women must have been either the victims of an illusion or the authors of a hoax. The former view seems to be generally taken, and there is a good deal of speculation as to what was the burning object which it is believed they actually did see.

"CAD," SAYS LLOYD GEORGE.

English Chancellor of Exchequer Resents Charges Made in Connection With Marconi Deal.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] "Dirty snob" and "cad" were some of the epithets bandied in the House of Commons during the week in a discussion of the deals in Marconi shares by Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George.

Mr. Kebty-Fletcher, Unionist member, asked the Chancellor if any documents were attached to the Chancellorship besides his salary of $25,000 a year. Mr. Lloyd George answered "No." Whereupon Mr. Kebty-Fletcher said: "Is not that sufficient to prevent the right honorable gentleman from wrongfully and improperly gambling?"

This caused a great uproar and the Speaker informed Mr. Kebty-Fletcher that he must put questions of that sort on the notice paper.

Mr. Kebty-Fletcher said he would do so and would make charges against Lloyd George when he had an opportunity to do so.

Mr. Lloyd George immediately ripped out that he would meet these charges as he had met others. He was intensely nettled and was heard to exclaim vigorously "cad" toward Mr. Kebty-Fletcher.

New Romanoff Prince Badly Needed in Russia.

Schism in Orthodox Church Alarms Prelates.

Army Is Now Pressing on Into Mongolia.

BY GEORGE FRASER.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The Czarina of Russia will not be present at any court functions for some months to come. Her Imperial Majesty is in a delicate condition and her physicians are uneasy owing to complications which threaten to throw a gloom over the happy expectations engendered for more than a month. Owing to the hopeless disability which afflicts the Czarevitch, the birth of a second Romanoff prince is longingly looked for both by the imperial family, the ministry and the Russian people.

NEW CHURCH IS FEARED.

A recent incident in St. Petersburg has revived religious intolerance among the "ultra-orthodox" element. The facts will doubtless seem unbelievable to Americans, used as they are to complete religious freedom.

Acting upon a report which he received from a subordinate, the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg ordered Bishop Nicouder to investigate a new church called "the Orthodox Catholic House of Prayer." The orthodox bishop entered the church last Sunday and he seems to have "remained to curse," reversing the scriptural saying. He makes a long statement denouncing the new church as a case of "Jesuitical propaganda," which he believes as undermining the established religion of Russia.

The truth is that since the issuance of the imperial decree of tolerance, a considerable movement towards Catholicism and Protestantism is observable in the upper ranks of Russian society. The priest of the church in question declares that he does not belong to the Uniates, that his service is entirely Russian orthodox in form and language, with one or two ommissions only, and that it constitutes a new departure in Roman Catholic methods to meet the wants of Russians, who, in voluntarily going over to Roman Catholicism, wish to avoid Polonisation. Hitherto, Russian converts to the Roman Catholic Church have come under the political as well as the religious influence of the Polish priesthood.

ADVANCE ON MONGOLIA.

Russia's advance on Mongolia is now being pressed openly and with decision. Mongolian agents are reported to be taking a delivery of arms and ammunition at Kiakta, on the Siberian-Mongolian frontier, and are transporting them to Urga, where they are distributing them to representatives of Mongolian tribes. Russian rifles are so abundant at Ruga that weapons of a certain type can be bought for a dollar each.

The Russian Buriat Djorjeiff, who has long been a power in Tibet, was accompanied by Tibetan representatives on his recent mission to Ruga, where he announced the independence of Tibet. The main object of these representatives was to buy arms for the Tibetans. Large quantities of modern Russian rifles are now in the hands of the Tibetans. It is worthy to note that in the Western Chinese province of Szechuen the Tibetans who are fighting the Chinese are armed with Russian rifles.

English Society Takes Up Religion as a Fad and Noted Aristocrats Renounce the World.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] English society is "taking up" religion. It is the thing, now, to be devoutly interested in hereafter—which is doubtless a very good thing for a part of the smart set—and everybody finds it necessary to have a liberal sprinkling of the "cloth" in any affair worth while.

RETIREMENT OF VICEROY PUTS IRELAND ON QUI VIVE.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

DUBLIN, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The one topic of discussion here is the coming retirement of the Earl of Aberdeen from Dublin Castle. As viceroy Lord Aberdeen has been most successful, despite the fact that he had to face the open hostility of the Ulster Unionists, many of whom lost no opportunity of hampering his administration and particularly his efforts to harmonize discordant racial and religious intents. That Lord Aberdeen will not retain office after the passing into law of home rule, is believed to be due to the continued ill health of his countess. Lady Aberdeen was greatly benefited by her trip to the United States, but since her return home she has again lost health and color. She has done wonderful work among the Irish peasant girls and will be sadly missed when she leaves the post of vicerene which won new popularity through her grace and tact.

TO BE A FARMER KING LATEST FAD OF GEORGE V.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] King George is determined to be really England's "farmer King," and the young Prince of Wales, not to be behind the times, is preparing to challenge his father for the honors to be worn in the great cattle shows.

The King is adding every acre he can buy to his large Dandringham estate. He lately purchased a large property which extends the frontage of his land along the Wash, and it will be scientifically farmed. He is acting under the advice of his neighbor, the Earl of Leicester, whose vast farms, brought to perfection by the late Earl, produce a big income for a large family.

"UTTERLY OUT OF PLACE IN A SALOON YOU KNOW."

BY LADY MANWARING.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Special Dispatch.] There is a new crisis in high party politics—women's policies. While Premier Asquith and Chancellor David Lloyd George are outwardly the best of bosom friends in their heart of hearts there is bitter warfare. The cause is said to be jealousy between the wives of the two Liberal leaders, one the Premier de facto and the other Premier presumptive.

It is whispered that recently Mrs. Asquith went out of her way to snub Mrs. Lloyd George, deliberately omitting her name from a list of invitations sent out to the reception to mark the opening of the new session. Not content with this slight, Mrs. Asquith is said to have deferred to the wife of her husband's colleague as a 'dear little colorless woman,' but so utterly out of place, you know, in a modern salon."

Lloyd George voted that his wife and the incident may prove larger than the row over reform.

Another Extraordinary Economy Event
Women's Smart Tailored Suits $14.95

Patent Leather Belts, 19c

The new styles in belts for wear with the spring suits; made of an excellent patent leather, in white, black and red—just a hundred in this lot at 19c each.

Rhinestone Hair Bands, 49c

—So very chic and pretty that every woman who takes pride in becoming hair dress will want one for everyday wear—they're fine enough for dress. Silvered chains set with rhinestones; let us show them to you tomorrow—worth double.

Outsize Gauze Vests, 5c each

Just think of the price—5c—less than the material alone would cost, and they're the famous Richelieu ribbed vests, too. Slightly imperfect in weave, and some of them have been mended where hurt by the machine. Low neck, sleeveless, in outsizes 7, 8 and 9. One thousand to sell at 5c each.

White Birdseye at 5c a yard

—24 inches wide, an excellent quality—every mother will be anxious to share in this notable economy.

—A special purchase just in—we had barely time to get the news to you in this announcement.

We've had some wonderful suit values in the Underprice Basement, but never such an opportunity as this—a hundred handsome tailored suits, in three of the smartest styles for spring, to sell at $14.95—every one easily worth a third more. We have pictured two models and below we describe three of them, but only by trying them on can you appreciate the excellence of their fit, finish, style and quality, the work of high-class manufacturing tailors.

A CHIC CUTAWAY MODEL—A cleverly designed back with V-shaped tailored cut at center and button-trimmed panel flaps stitched down on either side. The button-trimmed two-piece skirt is gracefully draped at the knee, with high waist line and fastening on the side.

A NOTABLY SMART STYLE.—The coat is cut with rounded corner front and the back has a semi-belt fastened with bone buttons. From the belt downward is a one-inch plait outlined with bone buttons. High-waist-line skirt with side panel in back and front.

A BULGARIAN BLOUSE MODEL—Black-and-white check material, with collar of Bulgarian silk, long revers and banded belt of self material. The back is shirred at the belt. Trimmed with pearl buttons.

SUITS OF IMPORTED FANCY OTTOMAN—The popular navy blue; cutaway coat with collar in Bulgarian shades. The back is cut in V-shape, outlined with Bulgarian colors to match the collar.

Cool, New Lingerie Dresses, $4.95

—Another merchandising triumph for our Underprice Basement—a most extraordinary purchase of women's and misses' cool summer Lingerie Frocks to sell at $4.95 —You'll want two or three for summer wear.

—A wonderfully low price that hardly covers the cost of the material, say nothing of the pretty ways of fashioning and the excellence of the dressmaking. We show you two of the cleverest models of the season, designed in the latest styles for summer, cool and dainty—and below we give you brief pen pictures of the beauty of the designs and the effective trimming touches of laces and embroideries—

ONE MODEL is of English eyelet embroidery, effectively combined with cluny bands. The yoke and simulated gridle, also of cluny, give a charming touch of distinction to this dainty frock.

ANOTHER MODEL is of voile with just a touch of the Bulgarian tones to give a delightfully piquant finish. The low, square-cut neck is edged with cluny. The front of bodice has panel of Bulgarian colored embroidery, banded on either side with Bohemian lace. The skirt is trimmed with Bohemian lace, and a semi-belt of Dresden ribbon is finished with crochet buttons.

A DAINTY FROCK OF VOILE, has V-shaped yoke of Oriental net, with inset lace insertion, and outlined, with tiny pin tucks. Wide lace bands, embroidery and pin tucks are lavishly used in the embellishment of this clever style.

LINOLEUM
39c a Square Yard

—Among the first shipments of the new linoleums to arrive was this special lot of extra-heavy printed linoleums for the Underprice Basement. Another economy opportunity for our customers who will have need of new linoleum for the spring housecleaning. Limited in quantity, so be early tomorrow. A yard wide, 39c a square yard.

Men's Cambric Pajamas, 98c

—A day of interest to men tomorrow—another lot of sleeping garments underprice. Pajamas of cambric, cut full and roomy, made with pockets and trimmed with silk frogs.

Fancy Madras, 5c a yard —Mill-end pieces, ranging in lengths from waist patterns and children's dress patterns to lengths suitable for women's summer dresses—a great variety of them. Some have slightly frayed edges, but hurts that will not interfere with economical cutting. In blue, tan, white and gray—5c a yard.

Storm-Proof Auto Coats at $4.95

The woman who drives an auto or who spends leisure hours in the tonneau will be interested in this remarkable lot of storm-proof coats—

—Loose-fitting Auto Coats of gabardine or rubberized material, with a collar that buttons well up around the throat, thus keeping out the dust and affording a protection from the wind or weather. Coats that will slip on over suit or costume with ease and fit comfortably—worth twice the price we've marked them for tomorrow—$4.95.

OPTIMISTS FORM LEAGUE.

First Thing They Propose to Do Is to Stop Waste of Time in the British Empire.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An atmosphere of optimism will in future pervade commercial life if the aims of a little society which has just been formed are carried out.

This society is known as the Optimists, and has its headquarters at Lennox House, Norfolk street. Their first principle is to carry into everyday life these admirable precepts which, they state, are now merely discussed at dinners.

Meetings will be held, and when after discussion a common course of action has been decided upon as desirable, they will, with the help of provincial banches, at once put it into execution. The original London optimists will help provincial optimists by constituting a clearinghouse for ideas and experience.

The first thing the Optimists propose to do, according to the preliminary leaflet, is to inaugurate a national movement for the saving of time in business. As evidence of the urgent need of such a movement, it is pointed out that among a few ways time is wasted:

By irrelevance at public meetings.
By unpunctuality at appointments.
By keeping expensive travelers waiting.
By travelers who refuse to put their story concisely.
By inefficient railway service.
By the failure to grapple with the traffic problems of the streets.
In Parliament by obsolete and childish rules.
In the courts for want of more judges.
By shopmen in showing articles that people do not want to buy.
In shops because customers do not state the price they mean to pay when they come in.
In most business houses by hidebound insisteice on red-tape methods.
By the insufficiency of the telephone service.
By the lengthy delays in government departments.

Prince Frederick Sigismund of Prussia is the inventor and builder of a successful aeroplane, but by command of his father and the Emperor, the latter his cousin, is not permitted to go up in the airship.

IMPERIALISM UNDER FIRE.

Opponent of Gen. Botha in South Africa Sidesteps Pointed Question as to His Attitude.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JOHANNESBURG, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In connection with the Botha-Hertzog controversy, Fred Bell has put the following questions to Gen. Hertzog:

(1.) Do you desire the development of South Africa as an integral part of the empire and under the British flag, and do you intend to work politically in accordance with this view?

(2.) Do you hold, as might be implied from your Dewildt speech, that the British connection may be looked upon as a thing only to be regarded or acknowledged when it may be made to serve selfish interests?

(3.) Do you not hold that the integrity of the empire is a paramount necessity for the well-being of all its parts, and that, while each part, on arriving at a capacity for self-government, is accorded the right of managing its own internal affairs, there still remains a clear duty incumbent upon each part to unite with the others in any policy and action calculated to cement and preserve the whole?

"To the first question I say unphatically 'Yes'; to the second as unphatically 'No.'" He added that nothing like the proposition embodied in the second question could be implied from his Dewildt speech or any other of his speeches.

"To the third," he continued, "I am not prepared to make such a positive answer as you seem to think is logically required."

Gen. Hertzog proceeds to reply to the third question as "two lines of question and five of argument." He says the real question is: "Do you not hold that the integrity of the empire is a paramount necessity for the well-being of all its parts, and is one which no person, even the most enthusiastic Imperialist, could answer in the affirmative as holding good unconditionally and without some definition of the terms used and due recognition of time and circumstance?"

THE programme given at the regular afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club was one of unusual interest Wednesday. Mrs. E. E. Barnes of Highland spoke on "Art in Indian Baskets," and some beautiful baskets were on exhibit, the work of the Indians at the settlement at Highland. "California Missions" was the subject of a very interesting paper prepared and read by Mrs. J. D. McGregor. Mrs. Lee Rice and Miss Elizabeth Johnson furnished excellent piano and violin music. The last hour of the meeting was occupied by Mrs. Homer Lash, who gave her illustrated lecture on "Conservation and Protection." Beside the large number of club members present, Mrs. Lash spoke also to the pupils of the grammar and intermediate grades, who were the guests of the club. The hostesses, Mmes. W. E. Elliott, H. A. Schumer, J. B. Kester, served delicious punch and wafers. The hall was adorned with huge bouquets of California poppies and purple lilacs.

Ray Canady was assisted in celebrating his birthday anniversary by twenty of his friends, who successfully carried out their plans for a jolly surprise party Saturday evening. Games and music entertained the merry company until a late hour, when delicious refreshments were served.

A PRETTY wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Hoffman at No. 408 North Gertruda avenue, when Miss Florence Cozad of this city and Merle Richard Criddle of San Pedro were married. Rev. J. K. Jennings of Santa Monica performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by about fifty relatives and friends. The rooms were charmingly decorated with pink carnations, apple blossoms and plumosus fern, with which bows of pale pink tulle were mingled. Miss Etta Hoffman played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal couple took their places, and sang "O Promise Me" during the ceremony. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Criddle left for San Diego and will be at home to their friends in San Pedro after May 1.

Miss Evangeline Smith of San Bernardino and Guy Phellis, who has spent the past year here, were married last Thursday at noon at San Bernardino. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bachelor were the attendants and a wedding dinner was served after the ceremony at Colton. Mr. and Mrs. Phellis left Tuesday for Mechanicsburg, O., where they expect to remain indefinitely.

Mrs. L. F. Wells delightfully entertained the Wednesday Club at luncheon Wednesday at her home on Francisca avenue. Mrs. M. A. Colburn and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Mrs. Doris Cissel of Los Angeles and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of South Haven, Mich., were guests of the club.

C. F. Baets of Long Beach was here Thursday, the guest of friends.

They were accompanied on their journey home by Dr. Maupin's cousin, Mrs. S. X. Heer of Springfield, Mo., who will be a guest in the Maupin household during the spring.

Miss Hazel Fisher is down from Stanford for the spring vacation with her mother, Mrs. Fred Fisher.

Mrs. Milton Dearing was the hostess at the Wednesday afternoon Card Club at her home on Fresno street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pierce are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. S. S. Parsons, and the little granddaughters, Edna and Edith Parsons of Pacific Grove.

Miss Marjorie Boynes returned to her home in San Francisco Wednesday after a delightful visit of a week or two as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Borland. Miss Boynes was an attractive guest at the Cotillion Club party last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Craycroft were the hostesses at a dinner Tuesday evening given in honor of Miss Lucy Shismanian, whose marriage to John Carposian is an event of the week. Miss Shismanian sang several songs and several fine violin selections were given by William Haynes, who has just returned from Europe after seven years' study there. Mrs. Bissett gave several piano selections.

Inglewood.

THE Inglewood Woman's Club a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Stevens of Redondo avenue.

Jones T. Eager, who has just returned from a three years' tour of the globe, is the guest of his brother, Charles H. Eager. Mr. and Mrs. Eager also had as over-Sunday guests Miss Harriet Mercer, Miss Dorothy Muir, Miss Helen Louise Kimball, Mrs. Katherine Kimball-Forrest, Mrs. A. A. Lewis, all of Los Angeles, and Mrs. C. M. Caldwell and daughter, Miss Stella, who have lately returned from a tour of Europe and the Orient and who will leave in a few weeks for Egypt.

A wedding of more than usual interest to the people of Inglewood was that of Wednesday evening when Miss Inez Ida Puls, one of Inglewood's most lovable and charming young ladies, became the bride of Edward Harrison Leonard. The ceremony occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oestreich, uncle and aunt of the bride. The spacious living-room, where the ceremony was held, was a veritable bower of ferns, palms, smilax and white bridal wreath, while the dining-room was beautiful in pink and white, the table presenting a charming picture with its decorations of pink and white tulle and baskets of pink carnations. The Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony. The happy young couple left for a honeymoon trip immediately. Upon their return Mr. Leonard will take his bride to his handsome new bungalow on Kelso street, where they will be at home to their friends after June 1.

Colton.

PINK was the dainty color note chosen for the prettily appointed luncheon with which Mrs. R. H. Summers and Mrs. C. F. Whitmer feted the members of the executive board of the Colton Woman's Club on Wednesday last at the Summers bungalow. The luncheon hour was 1 o'clock and the guests surrounded a table sparkling with cut glass and dishes in pink rose design. Enchantress carnations and fern in a tall crystal vase formed the centerpiece, place cards were adorned with rose sprays and favors were tiny pink baskets of salted nuts from which floated a pink pennant bearing the initials C.W.C. and 1913. An elaborate repast wherein the color scheme was furthered was served, those to enjoy it being Mrs. D. W. Willets, the club president; Mrs. M. A. Baush, Mrs. A. E. Copeland, Mrs. M. A. Hebberd, Mrs. L. C. Newcomer, Mrs. Charles Wondries and the two hostesses. The business session concluded the afternoon.

During the coming week of spring school vacation a group of the girl friends of Miss Margaret Wilcox are to be her house guests at the Los Angeles home of the family. The happy coterie will leave this afternoon, Sunday, and will remain until next Saturday during which time there will be one round of pleasure enjoyed. Those included in the house party invitation are the Misses Mildred Bonnell, Thelma Riley, Helen Garner, Edna Gorall, Gertruda Zempleberg and Bertha Hartley.

At a gay little celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of her small daughter, Emily, Mrs. L. Howeth en-

That Corn Is a Sure 'Goner,' Now

"GETS-IT," the New-Plan Corn Cure, Gets Any Corn Surely, Quickly.

You'll say, "It does beat all how quick 'GETS-IT' got rid of that corn. It's almost magic!" "GETS-IT" gets every corn, "Never Could Do This Before. 'GETS-IT' Made Every Corn Vanish Like Magic."

every time, as sure as the sun rises. It takes about two seconds to apply it. Corn pains stop, you forget the corn, the corn shrivels up, and its gone! Ever try anything like that? You never did. There's no more fussing with plasters that press on the corn, no more salves that take off the surrounding flesh, no more bandages. No more knives, files or razors that make corns grow, and cause danger of blood poison. "GETS-IT" is equally harmless to healthy or irritated flesh. It "gets" every corn, wart, callus and bunion you've got.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Sold in Los Angeles by The Owl Drug Company.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filed at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Anxious M."—Give your children for bedwetting 10 to 15 drops in water before meals, the following: Tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic, 2 drams; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix well. This should be given about one hour before meals in water.

* * *

Doctor: "I have a very severe case of catarrh of the head and throat. My blood is bad and my stomach and bowels are affected. I would like a cure as I suffer greatly."

R. F.—I would advise the following local treatment: Obtain 2 ozs. antiseptic vilane powder, to a half teaspoonful add one pint of warm water and from the palm of the hand snuff the water through the nostrils several times a day. Mix a level teaspoonful of the Vilane powder to one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply this balm to the nostrils as far up as possible. For internal treatment use the following: Obtain the following ingredients at any well stocked drug store, mix by shaking well: Syrup Sarsaparilla Comp. 4 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., fluid ext. buchu 1 oz. Take one teaspoonful four times a day.

* * *

"X. Y. Z." writes: "My hair is harsh and dead looking and my scalp is covered with dandruff. Can you help me?"

Answer: Get a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol and use it regularly and your hair will become soft and fluffy and it will bring back the intense natural color to the hair; your dandruff will be cured and you will be rewarded with a healthy growth of hair.

* * *

"Mrs. D." writes: "I want something to increase my weight about 15 or 20 pounds. My blood is thin, watery and I have a pale complexion. Doctors say I am anemic."

Answer: Probably your assimilative functions are impaired and anemia is the result. I would advise that you begin taking three grain hypo-nuclane tablets at once and continue until your blood is re-vitalized with red and white corpuscles. These tablets aid digestion and cause the body to assimilate the fatty elements in food, thus giving color, weight and strength to the abnormally thin.

* * *

"Tom K." writes: "I have been unable to work for some weeks on account of rheumatism. What would you advise?"

Answer: Take the following and I am sure you will soon be back at your work again: Mix the following at home and take a teaspoonful at meal times and at bedtime: Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ ounce; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 5 ounces.

* * *

"Clara" writes: "I have had a cough for about a year and fear I shall never be rid of it, as it gets worse with every fresh cold I contract. Could you give me a remedy?"

Answer: I can give you a remedy that I am sure will cure you and one that is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Make a syrup with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, put on the fire and let it come to a boil, then cool and add the contents of a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentho-laxene, which you can purchase at any drug store, and you will have a pint of the finest cough syrup on the market today. It is about eight times cheaper than ordinary, labeled cough medicines and will last much longer.

"Mary" says: "I would like something for indigestion. I cannot eat and am cross and irritable all the time. I fear it will cause appendicitis."

Answer: Ask your druggist for tablets triopeptine and take according to the directions. These are pink, white and blue tablets and are to be taken morning, noon and night respectively. This will cure your indigestion and prevent appendicitis.

* * *

"Nervous Dorothy" writes: "I have no appetite whatever. I cannot sleep at nights and my nerves are in a terrible condition. Can you tell what would help me?"

Answer: The following has helped thousands who suffer as you do. Get 5 ozs. syrup of hypophosphites comp. and 1 oz. of tincture cadomene (not cardamon) and take a teaspoonful before meals. This tonic will restore your nervous system and you will be strong and well within a very short time.

* * *

Ellen J. asks: "I am only 23 years old and weigh 196 pounds. I am short, fat and uncomfortable. I dislike to go in company, as I feel embarrassed. Can you advise a safe reducing remedy?"

Answer: Anyone who is too fleshy can safely take 5-grain arbolene tablets. They are sold by well-stocked druggists in sealed tubes with full directions for use. A pound a day, if used regularly, can be taken off.

* * *

"Q. R." writes: "Please advise something to take that will cure chronic constipation. I have suffered for years and have used many kinds of pills, but they do not cure."

Answer: I think most of the illness is caused by chronic constipation. If the following tablets are taken regularly they will gradually effect a cure as they stimulate the liver and bowels into healthy action. They are packed in sealed tubes and are called three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets) with full directions for taking. They will also purify the blood and tone up the entire system. If you are dyspeptic, take tablets triopeptine. These two medicines you will find in any up-to-date drug store.—[Advertisement.

SOCIETY.

tertained a happy crowd of little folks Tuesday afternoon. Romps and a general frolic and a hunt after candies hidden in the yard sped the hours until trooping into the dining-room the youthful guests found a joyful birthday feast awaiting them. Bluebells were used for floral adornment and there was a big birthday cake glittering with five tiny blue candles while little blue "April Fool's" caps were at each plate. Enjoying the party with the birthday maid were Hattie Pierce, Lucella Weaver, Marjorie Reeves, Mary Podd, Lawrence Weaver and Van Howeth.

Dr. Katherine Mable, who has spent a part of her year's leave of absence from missionary work along the Congo in Africa with Colton relatives, left Friday for New Orleans. After studying the methods used in teaching the colored classes there she will go on to New York and sail for England, from thence going to Zurich, Switzerland, and then on to Africa.

Mrs. M. A. Shumate and daughter, Mrs. Chance Hoag, spent several days of the past week visiting with the W. W. Wilcox family in Los Angeles.

San Bernardino.

FOUR generations were represented at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keller, which was celebrated Sunday at their East Fourth-street home. The aged and highly respected couple have made their home in this city practically all of their wedded life and have a host of friends, especially among the old residents and members of the Pioneer Society. Their marriage occurred beneath a live oak tree in San Luis Obispo county, where the bride was residing in those early pioneer days of the State. Soon afterward they returned to San Bernardino, then but a frontier post, and this valley has since been their home. A family dinner was served Sunday, and during the afternoon a large number of the old pioneers and friends called at the home to extend their congratulations and good wishes.

A large company of friends were entertained Tuesday evening at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Gish at their beautiful home at Seventh and D streets, in honor of the birthday anniversary of the latter. The table decorations were a combination of Kansas suggestions and California flowers, the birthplace of Mrs. Gish having been Kansas.

East Newport.

W. S. DERBY and E. M. Skinner and Miss Skinner, were here from Los Angeles one day this week, to spend the day on Bay Island.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Woodill and James Brown have returned to their home in Riverside after a short stay in the Woodill home on Surf avenue.

Miss Louise Carter of Los Angeles was here on Thursday of the week making arrangements for a house party of Stanford girls in the early summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ricker and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carter returned Sunday evening from a hike to Laguna Beach. The party started Saturday afternoon, and also walked from Laguna to Arch Beach.

Huntington Beach.

HADLEY PRYOR and Miss Vida Damron of this city, who were married at Santa Ana on Wednesday, will reside here in a cottage on Ninth street. They are enjoying a honeymoon trip to Catalina Island.

W. C. O'Connor and wife returned Monday evening from a visit of several days at San Diego. Mr. O'Connor's mother returned with them and left here Tuesday for her home in Los Angeles.

Miss Vera Alvarez, Mrs. W. Hunter and George Peck of Los Angeles spent the week-end in Huntington Beach as guests at the home of W. R. Higgins on Fifth street.

Miss Bernice Stone, a member of the school faculty at Ontario, visited friends in this city Sunday.

George McPhee and family of Santa Ana were dinner guests here Sunday at the home of William T. Newland.

Richard Drew of Los Angeles enjoyed the week-end here at the home of his son, Richard Drew, Jr., on Ninth street.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor of Ontario is here for a short stay in her cottage on Second street.

Paul Leebrick returned Tuesday evening from Berkeley, where he visited his brother, Karl, a member of the faculty of the University of California.

Long Beach.

AT THE HOME of the bride's sister, Monday evening, Miss Stella Van Court was united in marriage to E. J. McDonald, Dean McCormick of Los Angeles officiating. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will make their home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. R. J. Booth was hostess Tuesday evening for the Merry Wives Club and their husbands, entertaining at cards at her home on East Fourth street.

Mrs. A. B. Austin entertained the Fortnightly Bridge Club Wednesday at her home on Chestnut avenue.

The younger married set have formed a dancing club which will hereafter enjoy fortnightly hops at the Virginia Club.

Mrs. J. E. Carter, Jr., entertained Tuesday afternoon at her home on Park boulevard, complimentary to Mrs. J. G. Munholland and Mrs. C. B. Bellows.

Members of the Stitch and Chatter Club were guests Wednesday of Mrs. W. C. Chamberlain of Pacific avenue.

San Dimas.

A UNIQUE PARTY was given by the Wednesday Afternoon Club this week at the home of Mrs. F. A. Hickman, Mrs. Hickman and Mrs. J. E. Calkins being hostesses. The members impersonated Mother Goose characters. Little Miss Muffit actually sat on a tuffett and ate curds and whey. The house was attractively decorated in fruit blossoms of the season and dainty refreshments were served. The meeting was one of the most original and enjoyable affairs of the year.

Mrs. Clinton DeWitt and two sons are spending the week at Hermosa Beach.

The Five Hundred Club picnicked in San Dimas Canyon on Saturday. Autos conveyed the members to and from the canyon and an elaborate feast was provided.

Mesdames Lucien S. Taylor, C. E. Boyle and M. W. Bennett were guests of Mrs. A. C. Abbott of Pomona on Friday afternoon, when she entertained the Auction Bridge Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Aarnes and Mrs. Anna Vickerman, who have been wintering in Southern California, left for their home in Lanesboro, Minn., on Wednesday.

Ontario.

THE early date of Easter this year brought a unique event to Miss Edith Hanson and Miss Margaret Swan, in that their eighteenth birthdays occurred out of the Lenten season and in celebration of the unusual circumstance they entertained about forty of their friends with a masque dinner dance Saturday evening. The guests first assembled at the home of Miss Swan, No. 515 North Vine avenue, where dinner was served at 7 o'clock. Red and white were the colors chosen for the decoration and during the course of the dinner, limericks, composed by the hostesses, and playing upon the names or peculiarities of the guests, were read and produced much merriment. At the close of the dinner, the guests went by automobiles to the home of Miss Hanson in North Euclid avenue, where dancing was indulged in till close to the mid-night hour.

Among the most enjoyable parties of the week was that of Saturday evening at which Miss Ala Ballou was hostess at her home. Hanging baskets of white bridal wreath and pink flowering almond, made an effective decoration. Bridge was the order of the evening and the prizes were captured by Miss Frieda Graettinger and Leonard J. Frankish. The tournament was followed by a collation. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ray Kennedy, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Monroe Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyman Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harris Frankish, Mr. and Mrs. William Starbuck Fenton, Miss Helen Fitzgerald, Miss Ruth Holmes, Miss Mary Goss, Miss Frieda Graettinger, Miss Katheryn Salter, Dr. Charles H. Ford, H. T. Hutchinson, Darwin G. Graettinger, Rupert F. Graettinger, Albert Reynolds and Leonard J. Frankish.

Claremont.

A CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR social was held Friday evening. For the entertainment of those present a track meet was carried out. There were four schools represented, Spadra, Chino, Watts and Lemon, and amusing contests were held between them, such as the broad grin, doughnut race, shot put and high jump for the girls and many other things. Later the company adjourned to the church, where there was music after which refreshments of brick ice cream and wafers were served.

Miss Margaret McCarthy gave a very interesting lecture on the Yellowstone Park, in the High School auditorium Saturday night.

Mrs. J. H. Culver and her daughter, Miss Beulah Culver, are spending a few days at Long Beach as the guests of Miss Bixby.

Dr. C. S. Sumner is entertaining his sister-in-law, Mrs. Dozier of San Diego, and her daughter, Miss Nina Dexter, a few days.

The Mountaineers' Club held a monthly party in Bungalow in March 24, with Mesdames G. D. Tully and Philip Mesny as hostesses. The early part of the evening was devoted to cards and prizes were won by Mrs. Ann Nabors and Mrs. F. L. Peabody and Dr. D. M. Small and F. M. Pease, while Mrs. E. B. Ballard and [illegible] Matthews were given the consolation favors. President E. T. Eldridge then called a business meeting and the committee appointed to consider a clubhouse reported the Mountaineers' Club, having a membership of about 100, has joined with the Laurel Canyon Woman's Club.

Casa Verdugo.

THE Fairview-avenue Card Club was entertained by Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Thomas L. Bill on Friday evening. The seucceeding contest for the prize was Mrs. John Paine Green. After the game, a [illegible] luncheon was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Paine Green, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick [illegible] Hall, the Misses Porter, Miss Mabel R. Land, Miss Isabelle Smith of Los Angeles, Seymour Thompson, Van [illegible] Eddings, and Miss Gara Van Loenen of Los Angeles. The next regular meeting of the club will be at the home of the Misses Porter.

The engagement of Van Vechten to Miss Gara Van Loenen of Los Angeles is announced. [illegible] surprise to his many friends in Casa Verdugo. Mr. Eddings will [illegible] from the Bible Institute in [illegible] is prominent in the [illegible] E. Church. He is also Sunday-school superintendent and very highly esteemed by all who know him. Miss Van Loenen is a young lady of [illegible] and charming personality. The wedding will take place in the early [illegible] and the young couple will make their home in South America, where Mr. Eddings goes as a missionary. The heartiest congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends are extended to these popular young people.

Hemet.

A WEDDING beautiful by its simplicity was solemnized on Monday night, when Miss [illegible] Weston was united in marriage to [illegible] Gardner of Virginia, Miss. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Weston. Though the [illegible] family have been residents of Hemet for only a short time, their charm has made them many friends, a number of whom were present. The beautiful ring service was used and was read by the Rev. J. M. Moody of the First Baptist Church. The bride wore a gown of white embroidered [illegible] nese crepe with overdress of [illegible] chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of Narcissus. Miss Anna Clarke played the wedding march and just before the service Miss [illegible] Weston, younger sister of the bride, sweetly sang "O Promise Me." After the wedding luncheon that followed the bride and groom left for Los Angeles, from which place they will tour the points of beauty and interest in Southern California, thence to Yosemite, San Diego and the Grand Canyon, after which they will return to Hemet before leaving for their home in Virginia, the first of April.

Pomona.

MRS. GEORGE S. PHILLIPS was hostess to the members of the local Shakespeare Club on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith entertained the No-Name Club at their home on East Holt avenue on the same day evening.

Better Than Medicine

Breathe Hyomei and Be Rid of Catarrh—Clears Stopped-up Head.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh and troubles of the breathing organs, a treatment that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomei which medicates the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

Breathing Hyomei you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the natural remedy, for it gives a curative bath to the air passages. It has a powerful healing and antiseptic effect similar to the air in the mountains where the forests give off the fragrant and healing balsams.

Hyomei has benefited so many sufferers of the worst cases of catarrh, with offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, droppings in the throat and spasmodic coughing that it is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. If the treatment does not help you, there will not be a penny's expense, while if it cures the cost is nominal. A complete Hyomei Outfit sells for only $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed 50 cents.

Druggists everywhere.

PERSONAL— PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE,

NOTED ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST OF NATIONAL FAME AND REPUTATION.

STUDIO PARLORS, 139½ S. BROADWAY. A RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES 2 YEARS.

PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The horoscope shows the powerful influence of the planets in all affairs of life. It shows diseases, deaths, love and marriage, financial affairs, talents, environments, about children, relatives, when and where to travel, what to seek or avoid, when in danger of losses, troubles, etc., etc.; also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES of these events for the FUTURE.

PROF. ALTHOUSE read E. H. Sothern, Nat Goodwin, Schumann-Heink, Gadski, Admiral Schley, David Starr Jordan, ex-Gov. Pardee, ex-Senator Clark, Senator Smoot, Baron Rothschild, Gen. Chaffee, Edison, Sodia, Modjeska, Sembrich, Julia Marlowe, Anna Held, Jefferson, Capt. Hobson, Lillian Russell, Calve, Admiral Evans, H. E. Huntington, De Wolf Hopper, Maxine Elliott, Ethel Barrymore, etc.

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S SKILLED work must not be classed with other readers. Therefore do not waste your money on the idiotic advice and warning of HUMBUG astrologers, palmists, psychics—those doing dishonest work.

PROF. ALTHOUSE gives expert PALM readings with each astrological reading.

DR. J. A. LARSEN writes: "I want to say that your reading was the most satisfactory thing I have ever had in my life. I know a great deal about these sciences, and I consider your work as the most THOROUGH and reliable of any reader in the United States."

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting of HOROSCOPES and in HAND reading has brought him a LARGE AND SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances. Personal attention given. STRICT PRIVACY. HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK that skill and many years of experience can produce. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE solicited. Daily and evenings: Sunday, 10 to 2. STUDIO PARLORS, 139½ S. BROADWAY.

PERSONAL— HENLEY. HENLEY. LOS ANGELES, NOTED SUCCESSFUL SEER.

HIS ADVICE HELPED TO MAKE LOS ANGELES WHAT IT IS TODAY.

THE OLDEST PSYCHIC IN THE CITY, TWENTY-FOUR YEARS.

317 W. THIRD, NEAR HILL.

Before you go into anything of importance or undertake anything serious—in business or love, or marriage, or before you make any change—you should consult the master mind of psychics.

DON'T FORGET. If you contemplate consulting a psychic, several things should be taekn into consideration—ABILITY, the HONESTY of methods, the FAIRNESS of dealings, the HIGHEST degree of work, the ACCURACY of each prediction, the COMMON SENSE used with it, the INTEREST taken in each case, the RESPECT shown to each caller, the fact of SECRECY in consultation, the FEE charged for services. LARGE PATRONAGE. A satisfied patron is his best advertisement. HENLEY. 317 W. Third, near Hill.

PERSONAL— MRS. MASSON, the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 323 S. SPRING ST by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY. The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigations along psychological lines that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., WHICH SHE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT information. PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life. Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, and ways and means of climbing out of a rut of ill luck into wide paths of success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL. MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

PERSONAL— The Independent Theatrical Exchange, Pantages Theater Bldg., will pay one hundred dollars for the best motion picture play-plot turned into their office, before noon, August 15, 1913. It is a well-known fact that California is the greatest motion picture producing field in America. Why not have these stories originated here, can't we with our magnificent surroundings produce the best of plot-plots. Windthrop Aimes has offered ten thousand dollars for the best American play for the purpose of keeping out foreign productions, our proposition is the same, only on smaller scale. It is not necessarily highly educated people who have the best ideas. We can supply the demand of every producer in United States. We want the co-operation of every local American for the uplifting of the motion picture world. All manuscripts must be in before noon of August 15; must be accompanied by stamped envelope for returning. Absolutely must be regulation scenario form, and type written, pens others accepted. The only proper form can be secured from our Scenario Editor.

I am looking for a man with $5000 to $10,000 to join me in subdividing one of the best tracts of land on Washington blvd. I have the land and $42,000 subscribed to finance this deal. This is to be a closed corporation with no promotion stock and no stock will be issued for less than what I offer it to you. This one deal will make a net profit of 50 per cent., and I have other excellent ones to follow. I have surrounded myself with the best brains and ability to be obtained. There will be other openings for men of good business or clerical ability. If you want a good position with a high-class investment, investigate this proposition at once. Address K, box 67, TIMES OFFICE.

WANTED—

GROUND FLOOR OPPORTUNUITY.

Mr. Investor, Speculator, Tourist, business man or wage earner.

We are syndicating 500 acres of choice land right on the Redondo Inglewood car line, with all the advantages of metropolitan life.

The first unit of 160 acres can be secured at $800 per acre, with a payment of $150 cash per acre, and the balance very easy. Everybody shares exactly the same. You can't buy another piece on the car line at anywhere near this price. We know it is a snap, and we are going to subscribe.

Now, we are in the business of subdividing, and we are willing to sign up and guarantee at least a clear profit of $200 per acre on this 160 acres within one year, or before you would be called upon for another payment, which means a clear profit of over 100 per cent. on your money.

It is the most generous and straight businesslike proposition you ever had put up to you. We know the business, and Mr. Fitzsimmons, our acreage specialist, has done even better than this for investors. His judgment is ripe and conservative. The last syndicate promoted by Mr. Fitzsimmons was entirely subscribed in a few days, and was very successful, and has already paid a handsome profit.

We will accept subscriptions of $100 or more. All money handled by Guarantee & Trust Co. If money not all subscribed within given length of time, to be refunded.

Don't waste any time if you wish to get in on this proposition. The investors in this first unit of 160 acres will be given the preference on the other 480 acres.

Automobiles to show property.

For Sale, Exchange or Wanted.

FOR SALE—5000 THOROUGHBRED BABY CHICKS, MONDAY AT 10 A.M. Barred Rocks, White Minorcas, Black Minorcas, White Rocks, White Wyandottes, White Leghorns, Brown and Buff Leghorns, Buff Orpingtons, R. I. Reds, Light Brahmas and Baby Turkeys. We will have all of the above ready Monday forenoon. Act quick and get the very best ones. Wednesday we will have White Orpingtons, Cecilian Butter Cups, Silver Brackles, and only on that day.
We sell thoroughbred chicks at lower prices than you can buy them anywhere, the stock is absolutely thoroughbred as many of the breeders that we secure eggs from have bred the same varieties for years. We know and guarantee the stock, many times you will pay more for the eggs alone than you will for the chicks already hatched here. Now is the time to get them and you can easily raise them in the 50, 100 or the 150-chick FIRELESS brooder. These we sell at very low prices when you get the chicks here. Some breeders holding 50 chicks as low as $1. Hatching eggs of every kind on hand fresh every day. Laying Hens, Cocks, Cockerels, etc., always on hand. Visit us. The largest and most up-to-date poultry yard in Los Angeles. We also have the largest stock of Belgian Hares and New Zealand Rabbits, all ages and sizes.
THE PIONEER HATCHERY CO,
The World's Largest Baby Chick Dealers.
Established in 1907. Both Phones.

FOR SALE—WE SELL MORE EGGS THAN all other dealers combined for the reason we have all varieties fresh most every day, and can sell to you at half what most breeders ask. We buy on contracts of thousands of eggs and can undersell any one. We can supply hatching eggs of most all standard varieties in lots of one dozen or one thousand.
We guarantee them—and you know we will be here to make good.
PIONEER HATCHERY, 112 E. 8th.

Mountain Resort FOR SALE

I have for sale one of the Best Resorts in Southern California—paying better than 10 per cent. net each year on the price. Abundance of hot sulphur water on the place already developed; also a large stream of fresh water runs through the center of this property; plenty of good fishing and hunting close by; the ocean only 3½ miles away, where surf bathing and fishing can be enjoyed all the year; macadamized roads within 1½ miles of the park. This resort has all the combined features that go to make it a grand success—to my knowledge, there is not another place its equal in California, and no place that has greater future possibilities.

If you are in the market for a property of this value and character you will be pleased beyond your expectation when you see this—the most beautiful, accessible and accommodating mountain, seaside and mineral springs resort in California—convenient to Los Angeles and other coast towns by auto as well as by rail.

This property will be sold very soon, for it is decidedly one of the biggest bargains on the market today and it would not be for sale only for the fact that it has outgrown the strength of its management, who must sell for health's sake. Now that the season will soon open, I urge you to investigate this proposition at once and if you buy it you will have an assured, permanent income right from the start, which will increase rapidly, for the business is already established and the place is widely known and patronized by the wealthy people and the auto trade in general and from now on the real Big Money will be made. As California becomes settled up, resort properties become more valuable, and with the opening of the Panama Canal and the oncoming Exposition, this place will pay for itself in the next few years and in the same time double in value. Remember, there is not another resort like it, or its equal, in California, and it is worth your while to see it.

I have the exclusive authority to sell and convey this property and shall be pleased to talk to you about it. This is your opportunity. Don't overlook it.

BIG MOMENTS IN A NEW CONGRESSMAN'S LIFE.

BY GENEVIEVE CHAMP CLARK.

THE falling of the gavel which tomorrow will call to order in special session the Sixty-third Congress, will be a big moment in the lives of the hundred and ninety-seven new members of the House. But I suppose the big moment in the life of each new Congressman is that thrilling second in which he learns beyond any shadow of doubt that the people of his district have chosen him for their standard bearer under the white dome of the national Capitol—the mill where Uncle Sam grinds out his laws sometimes slowly, but always surely.

Neither Napoleon nor Cæsar at the moments of their greatest victories had anything on Mr. New Congressman. The world is his with no more Rubicons to cross. And he is quite right. Kingdoms may rise and fall, Presidents come and go, policies be born and die, but the people of his district will take but an abstracted view of these world happenings. They know their Congressman at first hand and his doings are more important than any of these. The new member comes into the world of national politics with a ready-made audience—the folks back home. True, this audience may be an untiring one—it may believe in continuous performances, but nevertheless the new member is the star.

WHEN THE GAVEL FALLS.

When my distinguished relative, Speaker Champ Clark, brings down his gavel in a resounding fashion on April 7 and remarks, "The House will be in order," or words to that effect, a hundred and ninety-seven new members will feel the second big moment of their Congressional lives, their first session of the House. I am happy to be able to say that Democracy has a stalwart contingent in the new membership, which makes the party of Jefferson and Jackson an overwhelming majority in the lower house. Miss Democracy will be there in the mothers, wives, sisters and shall I say sweethearts—there are a number of bachelors among the new members.

There is an added joy in the second big moment because of the presence of admiring femininity in the galleries. Might I say in passing that lions of the House sink to insignificance beside the majesty of the new member in the rose-colored glasses of his womanking. In vain a kindly guide may point out the mighty chairmen of history-making committees. The one question will remain firmly in their minds, "Do you happen to know where Jack is sitting?" And when he is discovered as embarrassed as a boy in a new school with a hundred calculating eyes upon him, the excitement is terrific. It seems as if everyone in the gallery must be looking at that member. By and by, Mr. New Member stops looking at a fly on the wall or regarding the polish on his boots in an intent, statesmanlike absorption and lets his glance travel over the crowded galleries for the faces he knows glow for him.

THE FACE IN THE GALLERY.

The god of luck stays with him and he singles out amid the fuss and feathers and spring millinery the ones or perhaps the one. Then the pride he has anticipated, but until now has singularly failed to feel, grows in him. For one long moment his beaming eye holds the eye of the one in the gallery—I think after all it is the one—and he knows that somebody knows he is there and that he is it.

So when he goes forward with that group which this time is not to be so small to the Speaker's rostrum to take the oath of office, he feels almost as much exaltation and elation as a President facing the Chief Justice at that breathless moment when Presidents come and go. His voice that he thought he had lost comes back to him full and strong and as he accepts the congratulations of his colleagues "Richard is himself again."

A big moment of former Congresses has departed this year in the change in the seating arrangements of the big assembly. The marvelous growth of the country and the reapportioning of districts is responsible for the abolition of the individual desk system. Formerly it was a big moment when the new member opened his desk in full sight of his fellow men and established there his lares and penates as a sign that he was in the residence. Now, alas, the best Uncle Sam can do for him is a magnificent office in the House office building or, if he is a very unfortunate new member and arrives late on the scene, in the Annex that shelters the "Cubs of Congress," an eighth of a mile away from the Capitol and the House office building. But when he takes possession of that office is another big moment and we must not anticipate.

SITS ON A BENCH.

But to return to the seating arrangements. The House membership now is on benches literally. The plan is adopted from that of the British House of Commons and makes for close communion if nothing more. Perhaps the nation's schoolboys will enjoy the freedom of the benches after awhile. Just now the new member hears a murmur of discontent now and then from some old member, who misses his comfortable swivel chair and handy desk. But the new member is thankful for the bench, and misses not the joys he never knew.

The next big moment of the new member is when he decided he would like to take a run over to the House office building and take a look around "at his office." Going out of the House chamber he looks for an elevator in which to descend to the Subway. There are three elevators, one marked "For Members Only," the others, "Public." He starts to get into the public one when, with a rush, recollection returns to him. He is a Congressman and can ride in the other one. Trying to look careless he walks over to the members' elevator and gets in. He fancies the elevator man eyes him a trifle suspiciously, but the elevator man is too wise to voice his suspicions. He knows a new Congressman sometimes has few points of resemblance to the older members, so he takes a chance.

RIDES IN "MEMBERS" ELEVATOR

The new member soon discovers however, that his privilege of private elevators does not extend to members of his family—not even to the chosen one. I found that out myself shortly after father promulgated the new rule that only members and members of the press can ride in the private elevators. The day after the rule went into effect I cheerfully started up as usual in the private elevator. I was reminded of father's rule by an embarrassed operator.

I had the laugh on father a little latter, though. The next time we started on an elevator in the House wing, Father strode on the private one and beckoned me to come with him. With a dutiful air, I shook my head and said, "Sire, I am not eligible, being neither a member or enjoying the privileges of the press gallery." He laughed and walked down with me and I have made walking down so attractive to him that when I go for him afternoons he walks down with me instead of riding in solitary state in the private elevator.

Speaking of members' exclusive privileges one of the funniest sights is when the new member attempts to use the private 'phones in the House office building corridors. A page will step up and not recognizing him will say, "Private 'phone, sir." He drops it in a hurry, never realizing that he has the right. Then the next time he sees a fellow member using the sacred telephone he says, "How are you using that, that is private." Then the old member, says, with scarce concealed scorn, "Because I am a member."

Then another big moment dawns and the new member loses no time in impressing on the blase page that he, too, is a member and has a right to use the most private 'phone.

CHOOSES HIS OFFICE.

But to follow the new member chronologically. Arriving in the subway he finds that house members are supposed to be more democratic than the luxurious Senators and do not possess the funny little subway train like the Senators enjoy. He has to walk across through the tunnel. If he had been in the upper house he could have gotten aboard one of the cars which hold ten passengers and be whisked in comfort and expedition to the Senate office building. Being a Democratic member of a Democratic lower house he is obliged to resort to the most ancient and inexpensive mode of locomotion—walking.

The trip to the House office building occupies exactly two minutes and is made through a tunnel lined with white brick, arched overhead and brightly illuminated by great numbers of electric lights. The tunnel is artificially heated in winter as well as ventilated, so there is small danger that the distinguished passengers will catch cold. The distance traveled is short, just about one-seventh of a mile or 750 feet.

The House office building reached the new member has another big moment. Well he might by the sight of this three-million-dollar palace, covering more ground space than any other office building in the world. This edifice has upwards of 500 rooms in it and is nothing more or less than a gigantic annex to the historic white-domed pile, being linked to it by every known form of electrical communication and connected besides by a subway. It is only by taking a walk of one-third of a mile around this marble pile that the average individual comes to a realization of its magnitude. The building occupies a full city square. From the back door view of it it has five stories. This building is planned in the form of a hollow square, the open part in the center being a court of a diameter of nearly 300 feet. The offices are arranged around the four sides of this court in a double row, separated by a corridor twelve feet, six inches in width. A real estate agent would delight in handling this building for every room is an outside one.

INSPECTS HIS FURNITURE.

The new member now comes to his own office. He may be pardoned a gasp as the full glory of his new possession bursts upon him. Uncle Sam has done away with any possible discontent by making these offices identical in size and furnishings save for the individual tastes of the occupants. Each is twenty-five feet deep and sixteen feet wide. The only variety in furnishings is in the matter of rugs. These may be green, red or blue, just as the new member's artistic inclinations direct. Otherwise all the apartments are as alike as two peas.

The new member finds the following conveniences installed:

A sufficiency of solid mahogany furniture, a combination wardrobe, bookcase and file cabinet in which several suits of clothing could be kept besides coats and hats; a library of several hundred volumes and all a Congressman's correspondence and other documents. For his correspondence, Uncle Sam with sympathy towards his epistolary habits, has provided fourteen upright files, twelve drawers and five card index compartments.

The working equipment includes a roll-top desk for the legislator, a typewriter desk for his secretary, a mahogany table five feet in length, desk chairs, leather back and leather seat chairs, and last but by no means least, an easy chair upholstered in leather in which many a maximum amount of rest may be enjoyed. Ice water is on tap in every office and in each is a telephone with local and long-distance connections and an electrically regulated clock. By an ingenious device the new member is able to keep in touch with what is transpiring in the House chamber by turning on the new autophone device.

FRANKS FIRST LETTER.

His secretary who has preceded the new member to his office has been having some thrills of his own, but nevertheless he is the cause of the next big moment in the new member's career. He places before his chief some official correspondence with a constituent whose wisdom has led him to beat the new member to Washington with a letter. The member reads it carefully, more than he can every letter in the future busy days, signs it, and then—

The secretary hands him the envelope, neatly addressed and waits. The new member looks the envelope over carefully, wonders what the joke is and waits, too. Finally the secretary says, "Will you please frank it, Mr. Blank?"

Frank it! Just to think that the new member's name can waive all postal regulations and act as a postage stamp. This is power indeed, and as Mr. New Member signs he wishes his old school boy rival could be looking on. Sam Brown has a real value as a name at last. It may not be quite as fancy as Percival Redfern, but look what it can do. So carefully, and with his best flourishes and painfully-dotted i's and crossed t's, Mr. New Member writes his first frank.

After a bit the novelty of writing franks wears off and the new member will resort to a stamp or prepared franked envelope as his colleagues do. Just now he yearns for something to frank. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1912, the postal service handled 61,377,000 pieces of franked mail, so it can be readily seen that a Congressman would have to spend all his time franking mail if he did not resort to some aids.

CALLS AT WHITE HOUSE.

A big social moment for the new member comes when he pays his first social duty and calls on the President at the White House. If it is a social call he goes in at one of the wings of the White House designed by the late Stanford White during the Roosevelt administration. Here, after due ceremony, the line of callers is admitted to the President's private office. This differs slightly from the old regime when the Presidential offices were upstairs and the President entered from his private office and passed around, speaking to each of his callers in turn.

President Wilson now sees his callers in the big room of the Executive offices. The new member greets his Chief, receives congratulations on his advent and goes out happy that he is a Congressman, after a genial chat of five minutes with President Wilson.

A big moment of his actual House service comes when, for the first time, the new member hears the roll call with his name standing out among those in his letter. The roll call is not monotonous to him then, no matter how much so it may become in future years. He listens with deep attention to the long list of names. Finally the reading clerk gets into his letter. Nearer and nearer he comes down the list until the buzzing ears of the new member hear miles away it seems, "Mr. Blank." His own voice sounds faint and indistinct to him as he responds "aye" or "nay" as his judgment dictates on the question at issue. Later, roll calls in the midst of an exciting filibuster become the bugbear of his Congressional life from which he seeks refuge in a convenient cloakroom. But the thrill of that first roll call remains one of the pleasurable memories of his services in the National House of Representatives.

MAKES FIRST SPEECH.

But a big moment never to be forgotten is that in which the new member rises to his feet to make his maiden speech. My father says his knees knocked together, he was certain he heard his teeth rattle, although they are very sound, and his tongue clove to the roof of his mouth and the words refused to come when he essayed his maiden speech on the floor of the House. But to break the ice he told an anecdote and found by the laughter of his colleagues watching the agonies of the maiden speech that the members of the House were mere mortals. From that day to this he says it has been as easy to talk on the floor of the House as in his own home.

Sometimes a maiden speech makes a man famous. For instance in the case of Lafe Pence, of Colorado, in Congress in 1914 there was no more bored set of legislators than the representative from Centre County. Pence was to speak for a page, ordered that he should have a book. What was his surprise to find Pence's chagrin the next day to find that the supposed page rise to his feet and make a free silver speech at the same time making himself a national figure.

Apropos of this same page, the most laughable incident of a similar nature occurred between Congressman Murray of Massachusetts and Representative Murray's first day in Congress. Mr. Fisher ordered the page and sent him for a book. Mr. Murray brought it to him, but when he handed him in the usual way, he said, "Thank you," but the next time it is 'Mr. Fisher, Massachusetts.'

FIRST RECEIVES A CONGRESSMAN.

The visit of the first constituent is another big moment. It is a day when two constituents, both of the same party, the young man having voted conscientiously for the new member in the campaign, thinks he will run over to Washington and look in on the bride and groom are more than usually timid, blushing and confused. The new member of his new district can afford a refreshing sight in the advent of the bride and groom to make a gala day.

The new member passes them through with ceremony, asks for news from back home and then says, "What can I do for you?" This gives the visitor to know that he shows them the sights of the National Capital from the Capitol dome to the top of the Washington Monument. It may be a little trouble to the busy member, but it is a novel experience, and for the first time in the news on the two young people from home they come out from under the shadow of the President makes the new member happy as well and he hastens to add to the bids them good-by that is to be the last two friends in his district they will see for all the changes and chances of a busy and political life will be in the end.

A new member finds the social life has its recreations as well as its duties. The big moment of playtime of Congressmen is when the neophyte when he falls in with one of the Congressional baseball teams. If he is a star player he discovers that the two ball teams. If he is a star player he discovers that he can take half the red tape to get on the two teams as it does to get on a congressional committee.

Through baseball comes a big moment. Though he is a mere ordinary fan, he feels enthusiasm when in the exciting moment a three-base hit the score for a home run and a waiting cab whirls him to the House, where behind barred doors, a committee awaiting a quorum.

FIRST GETS ARRESTED.

Sometimes the wives of the new members understand the sergeant-at-arms when he comes to arrest a member and recall him to his duties. One night, four months after the new member went home during the session, some night session, went to bed according to custom, put the cat outside his door.

The sergeant-at-arms, after gathering up a quorum, came and knocked at the door.

His wife opened it. The sergeant-at-arms said:

"Madam, I have a warrant for the arrest of your husband."

"He is not here," said the astonished woman.

"But I know he is," insisted the House official.

"No, he is not," insisted the Congressman.

"Very well, Madam," said the sergeant, "I shall report to the House this fact. But just the same I am wondering why he did not put his shoes before he went out."

The new member, I think, had a big moment when, amid a deathlike silence, he heard in a plain voice the regret of the House that one of its members has left it forever. As the new member sat with bowed head, his eyes fixed on the old seat of the departed member. There, in mute testimony to the tributes and the affectionate regard which he was held, lay a wreath of beautiful flowers. I think the new member is not ashamed to shed a tear that steals down his cheek as he prays and resolves to win a name in the House hall of fame when that moment comes for the new member he, too, will be honored with pride and regret.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Declaring that the government's case against Senator C. Frost and four others charged with Alaskan coal land frauds was based entirely on circumstantial evidence and that the five defendants should be discharged, Assistant District Attorney Robert Fisk concluded the government's argument for the defense in the Federal Judge Landis's court today. He was followed by Attorney Darrow, who urged the jury to return a verdict of guilty in the case of each of the five defendants. It is expected that the case will be given to the jury early next week.

mortals. From that day to this says it has been as easy for him talk on the floor of the House as his own home.

Sometimes a maiden speech a man famous. For instance, the case of Lafe Pence, who Congress in 1894 from Colorado, was so boyish-looking that sentative Burke Cochran, him for a page, ordered him to him a book. What was Mr. ran's chagrin the next day to supposed page rise to his feet make a free silver speech, at same time making himself a figure.

Apropos of this same spirited laughable incident of much the nature occurred between Gov. New York and Representative Murray of Massachusetts. On resentative Murray's first day in gress Mr. Sulzer mistook him page and sent him for a bulletin. Murray brought it to him, but him in the eye said, "All right, but the next time it is 'Mr. Murray Massachusetts.'"

FIRST RECEIVES A CONSTITUENT.

The visit of the first constituent another big moment. It is two constituents, bride and the young man having worked ously for the new member in his campaign, thinks he will run down Washington and look in on him. bride and groom are generally timid, blushing and conscious new member of his new dignities afford a refreshing sight. In the advent of the bride and make a gala day.

The new member receives with ceremony, asks for the back home and then says, "What I do for you?" This generally that he shows them the sights of National Capital from Mt. Vernon the top of the Washington monument. It may be a little trouble as well a novel experience, but the happiness on the two young faces they come out from greeting President makes the new happy as well and he knows bids them good-by that he has two friends in his district that all the changes and chances of and political life will be for him the end.

A new member finds the sional life has its recreations as its duties. The big moment of playtime of Congressmen comes the neophyte when he finds one of the Congressional players the two ball teams. If he is a player he discovers that it does take half the red tape to get us teams as it does to get on a big gressional committee.

Through baseball comes big moment. Though he is ordinary fan, he feels extraordinary when in the exciting moment of three-base hit the sergeant-at-arms of the House comes with for a home run and a waiting cab whirls him to the House, behind barred doors, a committee awaiting a quorum.

FIRST GETS ARRESTED.

Sometimes the wives of the members understand the sergeant-at-arms when he comes to serve member and recall him to his duties. One night, four years ago, new member went home during some night session, went to bed according to custom, put his outside his door.

The sergeant-at-arms, intent on gathering up a quorum, came knocked at the door.

His wife opened it. The sergeant-at-arms said:

"Madam, I have a warrant for the arrest of your husband."

"He is not here," said the frightened woman.

"But I know he is," insisted the House official.

"No, he is not," insisted Mrs. Cox, greasman.

"Very well, Madam," said the sergeant, "I shall report to the Speaker this fact. But just the same, I am wondering why he did not put on his shoes before he went out."

The new member, I think, took big moment when, amid a hush deathlike silence, he hears the clear, plain voice the regret of the House that one of its members has left them forever. As the new member bows with bowed head, his eye travels to the old seat of the departed member. There, in mute testimony to his duties and the affectionate regard in which he was held, is a wreath of beautiful flowers. I think the new member is not ashamed then of the tear that steals down his cheek as he prays and resolves to so write his name in the House hall of fame that when that moment comes for another new member he, too, will be remembered with pride and regret.

THEY WOULDN'T BUTT IN.

They Saw the Yeggmen Drill a Safe, but the Hotel Lodgers It Wasn't Their Funeral.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, April 5.—Lodgers in a hotel located across the street from the Bank of Alvarado admitted tonight that they had watched the efforts to rob the bank early this morning when a quintette of crackmen exploded seven charges of dynamite against the bank vault.

One spectator explained the passivity of the watchers, saying: "It wasn't any of our affair; we couldn't butt in without guns."

The robbers abandoned the automobile in which they escaped, and separated, outwitting pursuers.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—Declaring that the government's case against Alfred C. Frost and four others charged with Alaskan coal land frauds was based entirely on circumstantial evidence and that the five defendants should be discharged, Attorney Albert Fink concluded the opening argument for the defense to the jury in Federal Judge Landis's court today. He was followed by counsel for the government, who urged the jury to return a verdict of guilty against each of the five defendants. It is expected that the case will be given to the jury early next week.

SACRAMENTO VOTES BOND.

City Decides Eight to One to Purchase Two Blocks of Land for Capitol Addition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) April 5.—By a vote of more than eight to one Sacramento decided in a special election today to bond the city for $700,000, with which to purchase two blocks of land adjoining the State Capitol grounds on the west, and donate the tract to the State for additional Capitol buildings.

Verdict in Napa.

mittee of the Legislature had decided to submit to the people of the State a proposition to issue $1,000,000 worth of bonds for the construction of these buildings, provided the city of Sacramento donated the

FACT AND COMMENT.

To all that The Times has said and done to make clear its standards, there are a few men in Los Angeles who persist in taking for granted that the news columns of this paper can be bought for advertising purposes. One of these, during the past week, addressed the following insinuating letter to the editor of the real estate and development sections:

"Real Estate Manager, Los Angeles Times:

"Los Angeles, Cal., Dear Sir: We are enclosing a copy of the publicity to the Los Angeles Daily Times of next Sunday to be in the real estate section, and would say that we have not been given a fair deal, as regards publicity has been given to other advertisers exactly of the same character as what you have cut out of ours or not printed at all. We are not asking you to publish the publicity as we are sending it to you, but we are asking you to give us some consideration and the same treatment that you are giving to others and give us the same amount of publicity, and if you do not like what we furnish you, you can rewrite it or we will give you other publicity that may suit you better, but we do insist on being treated the same as others and be given the same publicity, that is, if you want to get our advertising. We believe we have given you more advertising than any other real estate or investment company in the same length of time, although we have cut down your advertising from one to two thousand dollars because you have not treated us fairly on publicity. We told you down last week two days less that the Examiner and Tribune and we are going to cut down your advertising about three-fourths if you do not take to treating us the same as others are treated. Our relations with The Times, both on publicity and other matters, has not been as pleasant as with the Examiner and Tribune. Publicity is a part of the advertising we are paying for and which for example, the publicity about Ocean Park should directly interest more of your subscribers than the Fontana Development Company. The publicity we are now enclosing is almost exactly the same as you gave the Fontana Company . . . hoping that we will receive fair treatment from The Times from this on, I am, truly yours.

"Gibraltar Investment and Home Building Company.

"ISAIAH MARTIN,
"President."

The portions of Mr. Martin's effort that have been omitted have to do, for the most part, with a discussion of his right to "publicity" as compared with those of the Fontana Development Company, a big, substantial concern whose success in accomplishing things (which The Times considers worth reporting as news) appears to distress him greatly. Mr. Martin encloses with his communication a carbon copy sheet of what he likely enough conceives to be proper "publicity" to accompany his week's ad in the different papers. This sheet, plainly labeled "publicity for the Los Angeles Times," relates Mr. Martin's own opinion of the financial returns that may be expected from the interplanting of apricots with olive trees on a tract of land being handled by his company.

The Times, Mr. Martin, is conducted as a newspaper and not as an exalted handbill. It must absolutely refuse, therefore, to turn over its news space to its advertisers for purely advertising purposes. The successful advertisers of the city, the merchants and real estate men who are doing things in the world of business and commerce, appreciate these facts, and regardless of their personal feelings toward the paper and its management, honor The Times for its independence and its high editorial standards. Having built their own prestige on public confidence, such men realize, as no tyro or upstart in the field of business can, the tremendous value of an advertising medium which really enjoys the fullest confidence of those who consult it. The paper which prostitutes its news and editorial columns for advertising purposes, cannot in reason long demand confidence and respect. People look for clean, reliable advertising in the paper which prints clean, reliable news, uncolored and unprejudiced through the influence of the advertiser.

When you affirm, Mr. Martin, that "publicity" is a part of the advertising you are paying for, you are seeking to dominate the news and editorial activities of this newspaper. And, like the publisher who will submit to such domination, you are only betraying your shortsightedness. It is evident, in fact, that you have a most lamentable conception of the mentality of your fellowmen and quite apparent that you are convinced of the cravenness of the average modern newspaper.

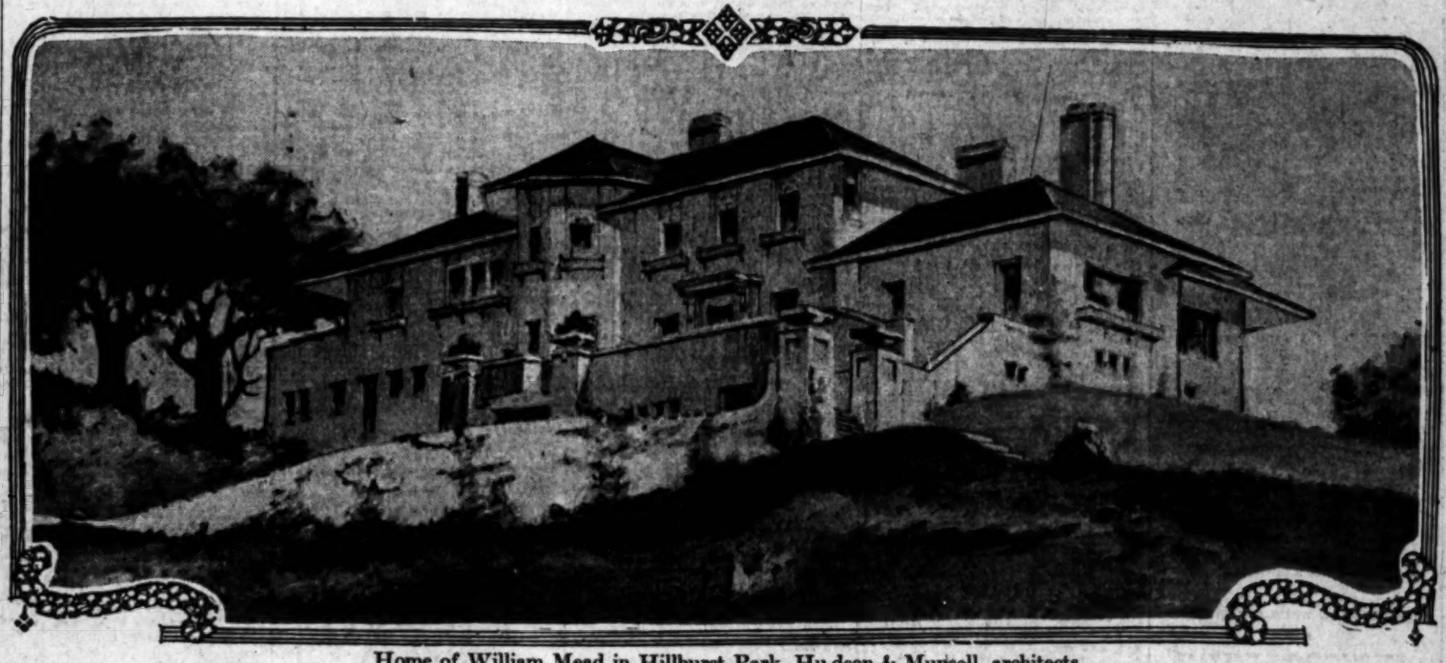

You must be given credit, Mr. Martin, for the graciousness with which you concede the right of The Times to revise the copy you send in for publication. That The Times, however, in this process of revision should choose to omit any of your ideas bodily, when you are such a good advertiser, apparently, passes your understanding. You believe that you have bought and paid for Times news space and your ultimatum is that The Times must either prostitute its news columns before you or lose the revenue heretofore derived from your advertising. That, at least, is the impression one would get from your rather tangled remarks. Not a very pretty idea, this, to get before the reading, buying public.

PALATIAL HOMES NEAR COMPLETION

NEW RESIDENCE SHOW PLACES FOR HOLLYWOOD.

Realty Man and Wife Design Own Dwelling—Stately Hillhurst Park Place Set in Scene of Great Natural Beauty Near Griffith Park.

Two notable residences now being completed in the Hollywood district are those of William Mead, owner of the Hillhurst Park subdivision, and of W. H. Hay, subdivider of Crescent Heights.

The Hay home is being constructed at the corner of Sunset boulevard and Hayvenhurst drive, West Hollywood, at a given cost of $30,000. It was designed by Hay and his wife and has been erected by day labor under their supervision.

The house contains twelve rooms and four bathrooms. The interior has been finished in various rare woods bought by Mr. and Mrs. Hay on a trip to the Philippines last summer. The logs were shipped to San Pedro and manufactured into lumber by the Southern California Hardwood Company. All the interior walls are being covered with canvas and handpainted.

A garage for two automobiles and with rooms for the help on its second floor is also being constructed. The two-and-a-half-acre lot on which the residence stands is being planted with shrubbery and trees.

The Mead place faces south down Vermont avenue, where it curves around the hills into Griffith Park. The site includes eight acres with a frontage of 500 feet on Glendower street. A remarkable feature of the place will be a canyon near the house with a small waterfall and lake.

The house is of reinforced concrete and tile, the walls being white and the roof green. The rooms on the first floor are furnished in solid mahogany and oak, those on the second floor in white enamel. Hudson & Munsell are the architects.

Hillhurst Park comprises close to 400 acres lying along the north side of Los Feliz avenue and extending from a point east of Vermont avenue to a point just west of Western avenue. The northern edge of the property lies far up on the sides of the hills that constitute the southern boundary of Griffith Park. Mead has made of the holding one of the show subdivisions of the city, having pended a large sum in improvements. In addition to Mead's own mansion, two other stately residences are now being completed in the tract. Others of like character are projected for the near future.

ARCHITECTS TO MEET.

Members of Southern California and San Francisco Chapters Will Discuss Changes in Laws.

A joint meeting of the Southern California and the San Francisco chapters of the American Institute of Architects will be held Tuesday evening in San Francisco. The meeting of the State Board of Architecture will be held the same day.

The campaign of the two chapters for the legislative reforms for the benefit of their profession will be the chief subject of discussion. These questions will also be taken up on April 15, at the postponed regular monthly meeting and banquet of the local chapter. At this meeting H. B. McMaster will deliver a lecture on "Fireproof Partitions."

ORANGE LAND SALES.

M. S. Robertson and E. M. Sheridan report the following sales for the Orosi Orange Land Company for the month of March: M. McCreary, sixty acres, $10,500; G. W. Sifford, thirteen acres, $1950; B. S. Cole, twenty acres, $3500; G. W. Cole, forty acres, $7000; E. M. Sheridan, twenty acres, $3500; M. S. Robertson, forty acres, $7000; Mrs. Addie Bryden, forty acres, $5000; O. R. Barber, twenty acres, $4000; S. M. Peet, twenty acres, $4000; B. Brown, twenty acres, $3500; John Grover, twenty acres, $3500; Mrs. Anna Taylor, forty acres, $8000; Henry Cheek, twenty acres, $3750; F. J. Geiser, twenty acres, $3500; Lewis Kreckel, twenty acres, $3000; L. F. J. Boyce, twenty acres, $3500; Richard Wabbel, twenty acres, $3500; John Young, twenty acres, $3000; C. A. & Leroy Cummings, forty-two acres, $6245.

IMPERIAL VALLEY SALE.

RIVERSIDE, April 5.—J. A. King of this city reports the sale of his 640-acre stock ranch in the Imperial Valley to Thomas Hester, a stock man of Iona, Colo., for a given consideration of $100,000. The property is fenced into forty-acre fields for hog-raising. King has also sold to the Whittier Land and Development Company the Samuel D. Ayers thirty-acre alfalfa ranch on Polk street, for $15,000.

Picturesque Tract.

CHICAGOANS BUY ARROYO HOLDINGS

TO IMPROVE LARGE ACREAGE NEAR FAMOUS RAVINE.

Lands Held by Pasadena Pioneer for More Than Quarter Century Acquired by Syndicate of Windy City Capitalists—Purchasers to Beautify Holding.

The David Blankenhorn Company, of Pasadena, reports the sale of the Charles B. Scoville property on the west bank of the Arroyo Seco, adjoining the new high bridge and the County Highway on the north.

The property consists of sixty-five acres and includes all the land lying between the Annadale Country Club on the west, the Arroyo drive on the east and the estate of N. Cochrane Armour on the north. The purchase is made by a group of Chicago men, headed by William S. Mason, of Evanston.

Under the supervision of Myron Hunt, the property will be highly improved, graded and planted with many varieties of ornamental trees and shrubs, with a main drive leading in from the highway along the west line of the property. The improvements will be commenced at once.

The property has a frontage of over 1900 feet along a high ridge, affording a view in all directions. It has been held intact by Scoville for over twenty-five years. There are many old trees on the property and improvements that were made by Scoville years ago.

The new owners purchased the property under the name of the Assets Realization Company and will develop it for their own use. The consideration is not given.

SOUTH LEADS IN BUILDING.

Los Angeles Ahead of San Francisco in Permits and Valuation for the Month of March.

Los Angeles has a large lead over San Francisco in the number of building permits issued for March. In the northern city the permits numbered 571 and were valued at $1,599,987, while in Los Angeles there were 1671 permits with a total valuation of $3,034,213. This means 1100 more permits and $1,434,246 more valuation for the southern city.

The San Francisco statistics were less than those of last year when the March valuations equaled $2,592,780. The Los Angeles figures show a great increase over 1912, when the March valuations amounted to $1,627,780.

The growth of Los Angeles as a home city is indicated by the fact that the bulk of the permits, 711 in all, were for one to two-story frame buildings, their total valuation being $1,605,468, or more than the San Francisco total for all classes of buildings.

From January 1 to March 31, there were issued in this city 4271 permits with a valuation of $6,806,531, an increase over the same period in 1912 of 787 permits and $508,916 valuation.

PLAN FINE APARTMENTS.

Long-term Lessees of Site at Twelfth and Los Angeles Streets to Erect Costly Improvement.

The northeast corner of Twelfth and Los Angeles streets, comprising a lot 44x150 feet in size, has been leased by V. H. Theobold to Edward E. McClanahan and George F. Blakeslee for a period of ninety-nine years. The total rental consideration is reported at $200,000. W. B. Merwin acted as agent for both lessor and lessees.

McClanahan and Blakeslee announce their intention of improving the site with an apartment building containing 100 or more rooms and of the most modern type of construction. The date upon which this improvement will be started has not as yet been determined.

PORTER RANCH SOLD.

Tract in Historic Neighborhood Bought by Syndicate—Will Be Subdivided and Sold in Small Farms.

The Porter ranch in Beaumont Valley has been sold to a syndicate composed of Judge Edward Cahill, A. A. Piatt and F. B. Piatt of Lansing, Mich., Dr. M. E. Blanchard of Marseilles, Ill., and F. M. LeGrange, George E. Burrall, William C. Franklin, F. W. Stith and George H. Royce of Los Angeles. It was purchased under an option secured by Royce at a price said to have been in excess of $150,000. The property consists of about 1500 acres and is to be subdivided for sale as deciduous fruit land.

The holding adjoins the town of Beaumont and has been left unimproved, though much of the land in its vicinity has been highly developed. The first historical mention of this valley was made by Padre Kino, who visited it in 1771. A few years later Don Azusa settled there. It was later a stage station between Los Angeles and Yuma.

MAY BUILD BIG BLOCK.

A fireproof building of ten or more stories in height is in contemplation by the management of the Fifth Street Store. The details of the project are not made public by the officers of the big concern, who beyond admitting that a new structure of metropolitan proportions is "in the wind" have little to say. Preliminary sketches for the proposed building have been made by Morgan, Walls & Morgan.

PALMDALE IRRIGATION.

Interests identified with the development of orchard lands at Palmdale have organized the Palmdale Water Company and have bought the Palmdale irrigation system. The Snowball-Sullivan Company is marketing the lands involved. The land company controls 4000 acres of orchard lands in the district, part of which has now been subdivided into five-acre orchard farms, on which 1000 pear trees are now being set out.

OUR idea of a home is one both PRACTICAL and ARTISTIC. By careful thought we manage to instill certain INDIVIDUALITY into each home.

It quite frequently happens that the PROSPECTIVE BUILDER'S IDEAS and PURSE do not correspond. In such cases our PRACTICAL knowledge comes to the rescue, and often where others have hopelessly FAILED, WE SUCCEED.

We build homes from the modern five-room cottage, at $600, to the most elaborate dwelling. It rests with the INDIVIDUAL, entirely, what his home will cost. By concentrating our PURCHASING POWER, combined with our PRACTICAL knowledge, and being in a position to DISCOUNT our BILLS, we can, for a given quality of work, discount our competitors' prices.

We build either by contracts on a fixed fee of 10 per cent. of estimated cost of work, or on our own lots in Los Angeles, Redondo and San Pedro, on easy terms.

We make no additional charge for our Architectural services, if we build, or if we fail to satisfy you both as to price and design.

$12,000.

A 9-room house that is a leader in its class. We urge seeing this after seeing other houses up to $15,000. Five thousand dollars more couldn't buy a better-built, better-planned or better-located home. It is in the heart of the Wilshire district. The arrangement of the parlor, dining-room, den or music-room, breakfast-room, great central reception hall, with kitchen and pass kitchen, could not be improved upon. In addition, on the first floor are servant's room and bath, an extra lavatory and toilet. Parisa Costa mahogany is used extensively on the first floor. The wall decorations are in oil on canvas. The woodwork throughout is of the highest character, hand finished like fine furniture. The lighting fixtures are artistic to the nth degree. Built-in features include a notably beautiful buffet, desk, bookcases, etc. A huge open fireplace lends distinction. The upper story includes four large bedrooms, two fine baths with pedestal washstands and two of attractive features, and two sleeping porches, connected with bedrooms. Panelled doors, ample closets and mirrored effects are details of the second floor. The lot is 60x140. Garage, furnace, automatic heater, fine ceiling and great stone porch.

5-ROOM BUNGALOW

PRICE $2750.

Terms $100 cash, balance $28.50 per month, including interest. Here is a bargain. Here is a house that ordinarily sells for $3200 cash, but I must move it this week. It's the last 5-room bungalow that can be bought in the section in which it is located for the price. Everybody else is asking more for theirs, but I have secured something that is worth looking into. It has oak floors; all kinds of built-in features; fine papering; elegant decorations; beautiful electric light fixtures, and everything that goes to make a modern and up-to-date home. Don't forget also, the street is built up solid with pretty houses. It's a good location; it's near the car line, and it has gas and electricity. The house is all ready to move into. If you have $100 and want to make a good investment, you had better think this over. The amount you pay monthly is equal to or more than rent. You can hold this property for a year and then sell it and get your money back and make $300 on the investment. Come out to 1255 West 54th street, or telephone me at VERMONT 56, and I can prove it.

FOR SALE—

BEAUTIFUL
ONEONTA PARK HOME, SITUATED
NORTHWEST CORNER SPRUCE AND MILAN AVE.
(1725 Milan.)

Just a few minutes necessary to read this brief description will give you a partial idea of the beauty and completeness of this magnificent home of 12 large rooms. Its surroundings are magnificent, in a most aristocratic section of the Oneonta Park district. The beauty of its architecture and its very substantial construction. Large lot, 85x300, and elevated; grounds have been beautifully terraced on front, and in rear the grounds are highly improved with shrubs, flowers and ornamental plants. The front of the house and trimmings are of handsome gray stone, upper of timbered plaster, made very hard and durable with two coats of oil. The first thing that will attract you about this splendid house is the spacious porch, running across entire front and on one side—an immense outdoor living-room; throughout the vestibule of tiled entrance, you step into the beautiful reception hall, rich in Tobasco mahogany, that reaches above the doors, the den at the left of this hall is most inviting, and the circle bay window papered high in oak. The living-room is magnificent, panelled six feet high in Tobasco mahogany, with imported velour above, beamed ceilings. Gruby tile mantel, six casement windows and large French door, lighting fixtures unusually fine with cut-glass spangles, then the dining-room—simply ideal. One entire end is a circle bay with five large windows, a French door leads to pergola, room panelled high in oak with blue velour above, buffet is stately and massive, breakfast-room is flooded with sunshine coming through circle bay window. French door leads to pergola, room finished in white enamel with mahogany buffet. The white enamel kitchen is a model for convenience and completeness. Then there is the servants' room and bath downstairs, screen porch, cement basement, furnace, two-story garage, large enough for two machines. Upstairs exquisitely finished in white enamel and French papers, large bedrooms, windows two sides and large sleeping porch, bedrooms have seven or eight windows in each, doors of mahogany, dressing cases with full length mirror, lavatory connecting two bedrooms, three luxurious baths, tile floor and sides, dressing table, three large mirrors, large billiard-room on third floor, hardwood floors throughout and all hardwood paneling on first floor is polished until it is wonderfully beautiful. A most exceptional house at a most exceptional price, $28,500. Will exchange for Los Angeles property, south of Fourth st. and west of Main. Usual courtesy to agents. Located in the very choicest of the West Adams district.

Surroundings in perfect keeping with the high character of the house and section.

Style—White Mission with tiled roof.

Grounds—Landscaped garden—the choicest of trees and shrubs, the house and grounds forming a beautiful and harmonious picture.

14 rooms, four baths, and shower; lot 74x179; fine garage for two or more cars; man's room in second story.

Beautiful exterior; first floor arrangement perfect, a most pleasing ensemble, with the workmanship, finish and decorations of the entire house artistic, harmoniously and perfectly balanced.

The drawing room, living room and reception hall are finished in Peruvian mahogany, handcarved; decorations of imported silk tapestry.

The dining room is in fumed oak. A beautiful buffet, with beveled plate glass doors, glass handles and touches of art glass are features of the dining room.

The music room is finished with Juana Costa mahogany and old gold silk tapestry. Massive bookcases, desk and other built-in conveniences are other features.

A French door opens out upon a charming pergola.

Old ivory with hand decorations is among the distinguishing features of a beautiful breakfast room.

The bedrooms are large and well lighted, connected and so placed as to have each chamber in conjunction with bath. The decorations are remarkably beautiful and of a high order. Large open fireplaces are in each room.

A private telephone system connects all rooms on second floor.

The bathrooms have tiled floors and walls, pedestal washstands and large wide-rimmed tubs, all of finest manufacture.

A large upstairs living room, a sun parlor, large closets with mirrored, one-panneled doors are details of the second floor.

The fixtures throughout have been selected with extremely good taste and practically regardless of cost.

A well-appointed butler's pantry is a feature.

From the great stone front and side porch and the porches to afforded a magnificent view of the mountains.

FOR SALE—

THE CONSERVATIVE MAN.

We can cite to you many instances when the wise and far-sighted tourist invested in a bungalow, lived in it 6 or 9 months, and when he got ready to return to his eastern home, sold it for all it cost him. What's the answer? He not only saved his house rent, while sojourning among us, but enjoyed that real home comfort that money cannot buy, even in our high-class apartments. Our Swiss chalet type of bungalow, built as they are, with all the latest built-in devices known to modern architecture (and we claim to employ the very best,) are surely very attractive at the prices and terms we are selling them for. For instance, note this one:

4 ROOMS.

FOR SALE—IN DELIGHTFUL HIGHLAND PARK—
Healthiest location in Los Angeles. Unique, strange and fascinating three-story, nine-room bungalow built for comfort, utility and beauty, with the quaint and elegant lines of Japanese architecture, on a hillside lot overlooking the Arroyo Seco, especially selected that the place could be picturesquely located, flooded with eternal sunshine by day and made radiant with electricity by night, and have a far-reaching view of surrounding mountain and valley scenery. This artistic effect is greatly heightened by an approach from the top of the hill by means of romantic cobblestone steps, and a double-arched bridge; from below by a flat cobblestone walk and steps. The hill is solidly held by heavy rock wall. House is thoroughly well built with all modern conveniences. It is gardened to please the eye, and satisfy the taste of the most exacting. It is newly and tastefully furnished. You are cordially invited to inspect it. Price $7500 unfurnished and $8500 with furniture. Usual courtesy to agents. See house, 6542 Marmion Way, near Pasadena avenue. MATTHEWS & MATTHEWS, 329 Douglas Bldg.

"A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION IS BETTER THAN A STITCH IN TIME."

One saves dollars the other cents. One produces lasting benefits, the other fleeting ones. Consider this just a minute and you will agree.

WHY NOT TAKE THAT STEP NOW?

If you profit from what you see after taking this step, in the right direction, it will mean dollars of profit for you. Others have taken it and have profited largely.

It will be in the direction of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TERRACE.

The tract that has all its street improvements in and paid for, where there are already 100 families living, and where you can get a 60-foot lot for $550.
TERMS $25 DOWN—$10 PER MONTH.

Or, if you care to have a large lot, you can get a 50-foot lot for $625 on the same terms. At these prices the opportunities for profit are better than any other place in the city. In a well built neighborhood, with Washington street car service, one of the best in the city. Go out today and see for yourself, that's the best way of sizing up the proposition. Take Washington (Rimpau) car to our office at Rimpau avenue, or come up and we will take you out.

MONTROSE.
"The Suburb Beautiful."

On the foothill boulevard, just north of Glendale, 12 miles from the center of Los Angeles, and on the most attractive drive out of Los Angeles.

Do you want to get up high where there are no fogs? Montrose overlooks Los Angeles, having an elevation of about 1400 feet. The lots are very large averaging 100x200 feet. The opening prices are low, compared with the class of improvements going in, $600 and up.

The new electric line will be in operation to Montrose in a few days. Montrose lots will interest you, either for a home or an investment. Phone for appointment to see this beautiful property.

FOR SALE—
WESTVIEW HEIGHTS.
You want to live where you can have a magnificent view of the mountains and valleys. You have it here. For your own sake do not buy anywhere until you have seen these lots.
Take a Washington street (RIMPAU) car to Rimpau st. Agent there every day. All improvements are now in. Gas, water electricity, telephones, cement walks and curbs, paved streets, all paid for. Ornamental shade trees planted in parkways and cared for, for one year. Restrictions guarantee you protection and advance in value. For a short time I can offer you inducements which will assist you in building a home. Come and see.

GOOD CHANCE FOR BUILDERS.
Here is a rare opportunity for some house builders to get some good lots cheap. Need the money and will sell right. Oneonta Park district only twenty minutes out, eight car lines, excellent neighborhood. Only one block from a new tourist hotel, and in a location that is building up wonderfully. Street work done, gas and electricity, restrictions $1500. Small bungalows would sell readily. These lots are worth $850 each. Sold one yesterday for that. Want to close out the balance in a hurry, and will make price so that a good profit can readily be realized. Better see me.

LOS ANGELES TO VENICE.
LOS ANGELES TO VENICE.
We control two 36-acre tracts fronting on WASHINGTON BOULEVARD.
These properties are offered for sale to the public through the real estate agents of Los Angeles—one price to everybody.
Last week a tract of land was sold adjoining one of our tracts at $500 or $600 an acre more than we are offering this particular tract for. Perhaps it is only because there is only a regular commission to the agents in this land.
Ask your agent to show you Holabird's property on Washington Blvd. next time you go out, or call on us and we will take you down in our automobile.
DOUBLE YOUR MONEY.

EL SEGUNDO, BUSINESS LOTS, ONLY $400 EACH.
AND EL SEGUNDO IS THE STANDARD OIL PAYROLL CITY, WHERE MILLIONS AND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE BEING SPENT BY THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY IN BUILDING THE BIGGEST REFINERY IN THE WORLD.
These lots at $400 each are THE BIGGEST BARGAINS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA TODAY.
They are only one to two blocks from the depot site of the new EL SEGUNDO-HAWTHORNE line of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.
They are within one block of the block reserved by the company for hotel sites.
They are within one to two blocks of the property reserved for the ourahouse site.
AND THIS LOW PRICE INCLUDES CEMENT CURBS AND SIDEWALKS, OILED STREETS, SHADE TREES, WATER PIPED TO EVERY LOT. AN NO TAXES TO PAY UNTIL AUGUST, 1914.
$400 LOTS SOLD FOR $4000 EACH.
That is the way property increased in value in Richmond, and it was the building of the Standard Oil Company's refinery there that brought these big profits to those who were FARSIGHTED ENOUGH TO BUY WHEN PRICES WERE LOW.
Bigger profits will undoubtedly be made in El Segundo because EL SEGUNDO will have a bigger refinery than Richmond and has already grown EIGHT TIMES as fast as Richmond in the same length of time.
BILLIONS OF DOLLARS PROFIT. will be made in EL SEGUNDO property. You can get your share of these millions of dollars' profit by buying now.
Go down with us to EL SEGUNDO and investigate this unparalleled opportunity and you will agree with us that you will be able to make enormous profits from an investment in EL SEGUNDO property NOW.

SHERMAN WAY ACRES.
One of the most ideal, picturesque and princely bargains ever offered is the 40 acres with a quarter-mile frontage on the Sherman Way, the famous "Half Million Dollar Boulevard," and at the famous new city of Owensmouth.
We are offering this elegant property for the owner, who has 80 acres, and who is now in the East closing out his interests there, expecting soon to return and build a $7500 home and to plant out to walnuts and fruit and otherwise improve the other 40 acres.
We are permitted to offer this 40 now, before his return, at $425 per acre, which we find is $175 per acre less than adjacent property has been sold for fronting on Sherman Way.
To see this tract is equivalent to buying the most beautiful acreage and building sites in the Van Nuys, Owensmouth and Lankershim Tract.

FOR SALE—HAVE YOU VISITED CLIFTON-BY-THE-SEA?
Ideal spot for a residence. Situated on a cliff, Pacific Ocean on one side, mountains on the other, making it one of the most attractive places on the coast of Southern California to have a home. Combined all the features of beauty, health, comforts and conveniences. This townsite of Clifton has beautiful lots 100 feet wide and planted with palms, shrubs and vines. We do not promise that you can buy these lots that we are offering now for the same price in three months' time, as we expect this property to advance 25 per cent. in value in the next three months, so do not miss this golden opportunity, but come and see it at once. Take the Redondo Beach car and get off at Clifton-by-the-Sea and you will find our office there and some one to take pleasure in showing you. We will sell you a lot and build you a home and promise to save you money, as we do all our own building; nothing too large for us. Terms to please purchaser.

I am going to conduct a cheap rate
EXCURSION
To one of the finest tracts of land in the State of California, leaving here
WEDNESDAY EVENING.

We have small tracts of the finest land in California. This land is situated near the rapidly growing town of Orosi, Tulare county, adjoining the famous Lindsay-Porterville district, and is to be sold in tracts of 10, 20, 40 ACRES.

Or more, with an abundance of water guaranteed in every contract.

We ask only a reasonable amount, cash first payment as evidence of good faith.

Every acre of this land is fine soil and lies in a protected cove, where citrus nursery stock and young trees were unhurt by the recent freeze.

There are thousands of acres of deciduous fruits, grapes, alfalfa and vegetables grown in this section. Many acres of adjoining lands are already in a high state of cultivation. You do not have to guess at what can be done or take a long chance. We'll show you the evidence of success—right on these lands. You can talk with men who live there—men who know the country.

We are selling this land at a price way under that asked for any other good land in this entire district. It is only one and a half miles from the town of Orosi, where there are good stores, schools, churches, etc.

If you want to get into a new section that is developing rapidly, where every natural condition makes for success, and where every honest, intelligent effort is bountifully rewarded.

This is your opportunity.

Call at my office at once and arrange to join the excursion party Wednesday evening.

The trip will be worth many times its cost to you, whether you buy or not.

FOR SALE — DAIRYMEN, STOCKMEN, ALFALFA GROWERS, ATTENTION.

The demand for milk, cream and butter is increasing with our population. Our Los Angeles market is the best in the United States. The demand for alfalfa hay is increasing and the production is decreasing by reason of high-priced land adjacent to Los Angeles. The result is the price of alfalfa hay is soaring. For these reasons dairymen, stockmen, alfalfa growers and investors are invited to join me in the purchase of a tract of the best alfalfa land in California for the purpose of raising alfalfa. I want you to come with me and make a personal investigation of this land. You can then make comparisons of adjoining alfalfa lands and be in position to take advantage of this opportunity. This tract has the soil, with water system complete, and is located on the Southern Pacific Railroad. Write for full information as to prices and details of the land.

FOR SALE—

RICHFIELD. $1750. $1750.
A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

IS awaiting those who purchase now in the proven fruiting belt. Come in at once and let us show you how you can double your idle money in less than six months.

ONE of our 5 or 10-acre tracts at RICHFIELD, which is less than one hour's ride by electric cars, will make you a small fortune in a short time. OUR price is $175 less than others are asking for inferior land.

JUST think of it; 5 acres with all the water that you can use for ONLY $1750 on any terms that you desire; a small payment down and as long a time as you may desire will give you an opportunity to use your money to improve this land for either alfalfa or fruit.

RIGHT now, if you desire, we can plant the trees for you, either in oranges or lemons, and you can raise vegetables or alfalfa between the rows of trees, and thereby make a good income in addition to enhancing the value of your property. Don't delay, but come in at once and see us. Ask for ROSAMER.

FOR SALE—
In the Heart of the Foothills.
"THE OAKS."
Located about 1300 feet elevation, in a section where climatic conditions are nearly perfect. This beautiful property is in a natural park where fine oak trees and a stream of pure mountain water make it an ideal home suite. A half-mile away and within easy walking distance is a prosperous town of 2500 people. There are about 4 acres of very rich land, slightly rolling, and all can be irrigated by gravity water at cheap cost. This section produces fruit, berries and garden truck in abundance, and $400 an acre annually has been cleared in the immediate neighborhood. There is an electric power house close by, and the city is rapidly growing in this direction. This property was selected by the owner, a former commercial traveler, after considerable search for an ideal home place. Owing to business reasons he is compelled to live in Los Angeles, and will sell for cash or exchange this fine property for an equity in good, modern bungalow or lot here. Price $3000.

FOR EXCHANGE—ALTHOUGH ADMITTING ...
...that almost anyone will sell anything provided the right price is secured, which accounts for the old saying, "Everything is for sale," therefore, we seldom waste our time unless the property has been thoroughly investigated by us and found to be reasonably priced.

Now, we offer you 35 acres in the San Gabriel Valley, fairly convenient to railroad station and electric line, abundance of water, underground cement pipe lines with standpipes; heavy loam soil, exceptionally highly cultivated; 30 of this 35 is in walnuts, 25 in alfalfa; houses, barns and corrals. The choice piece of the San Gabriel Valley, within 25 to 40 minutes' ride of Los Angeles. Hear all this in mind. Please also bear in mind the price is only $700.

(Only short distance away, not as good land, not any better located, you would not trade acre for acre were you the owner of this; still for this, they are asking $2000 per acre.)

Remember, we are only asking $700 for this 35; 30 acres in walnuts, fine looking trees; balance in alfalfa, easily seven cuttings yearly; abundance of water; one of the rare bargains. The opportunity is yours of securing this at above value, either for cash or clear city property.

Downey, a suburb of Los Angeles, 40 acres, all farmed; 30 h.p. pumping plant; sandy loam; small house and barn; only $14,000.

Riverside county; 160 acres, good flowing well, 5 acres in dates, 50 acres in garden vegetables, etc.; only $80 per acre.

Riverside, near Alessandro station, 160 acres, $75 per acre. Well and windmill, abundance of water; at present in grain; 5-room good house, chicken corrals, etc. Good trade.

Arcadia, Santa Anita ave., 16 acres, $20,000, fully improved, private pumping plant, abundance of water, modern house, six rooms, chicken corrals, etc. Want city and country. Will assume.

Orange county, 25 acres, electric power for irrigation, good soil, all soft-shell walnuts; 9-room house, barn, etc.; value $25,000.

Tulare county, 480 acres, $20,000. Porterville section; good orange land, frostless. Want Los Angeles income.

Pianada section, near Los Angeles Investment Company's land, 80 acres at $150; good decomposed granite soil, all in grain. Want residence, assume.

H. C. LUNDEEN COMPANY,
200 to 224 Central Bldg., Sixth and Main sts.

FOR EXCHANGE—40 ACRES OF FINELY ...
...improved land in the famous Orosi district, 7½ acres Muscat grapes, 7½ acres peaches, 7½ acres Malaga grapes, 7½ acres Muscat grapes, 7 acres alfalfa, 2½ acres figs, and a fine family orchard of all kinds of fruit, everything in full bearing and producing a fine income, located in a fine irrigation system besides having a fine pumping plant all equipped, good buildings, all the stock including four mules and one cow and farming implements, wagons; in fact, everything on the place goes; half a mile from railroad station, and a good town.

This place is in the pink of condition and is one of the best producers in the district and will stand the most careful investigation which we cheerfully invite.

Owner wishes to retire and will take residence in Los Angeles to $6000 or apartment up to $10,000, very little cash required and on a good income property none at all. The price of this ranch is $32,000.

A REAL MONEY-MAKER!
More money is made in the producing of motion picture "feature" films than in any other branch of the motion-picture business. A local corporation is just completing arrangements for the production of a novelty "feature" film of such striking character that its reception is already assured. We offer investment for a small amount of additional capital and can show absolute proof of not less than 300 per cent. profit within six months, from American and Canadian rights alone. Fullest investigation accorded bona-fide investors, but we have no time for triflers. If you actually mean business and are prepared to make an immediate investment of a few hundred dollars where the returns are unusually large and quick, address R, box 400, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE, or call F7247.

CONSOLIDATED— REALTY COMPANY—
During the past eighteen months over 2000 shares of consolidated Realty Company stock were sold through my office. 1000 shares were treasury stock and the remainder resales for stockholders. I feel this stock to be worth fully (we hope dollars ($200.) a share, and on account of sincerity I have loaned $200 a share more thereon and never lost a cent. All the companies I represent and have ever bought shares through my office on my recommendation, have turned out about the largest investments they had ever made them as well as to all stockholders. I hold your stock and buy every share you can, because inside of one year our stock will be scarce at $200 a share if I am going to continue to get the results I have in the past.
CONSOLIDATED SECURITIES CO.
This company owns and controls, in addition to valuable real estate, over 90 per cent of Consolidated Realty Company stock, the advance stated above will make a large profit. Therefore, its the aim of the Consolidated Securities Company that its shares will be raised from $1.5 to $2 per share.
More particulars as to best of all our stocks may be had at my office.
GEO. S. BATTY.
627 South Hill street.

THE SUCCESSFUL DEMONSTRATION of our submarine and the rapid development of this company are causing a steady increase in the market value of our stock. Our price for stock is $1.00 per share, but we expect to get the limit before considering a sale of your stock. Don't let somebody else reap the profits that rightfully belong to you.

Fact and Comment.

Mr. Martin, the word "publicity," as you use it, is merely a gilded euphemism, a pretty word with a sordid meaning. What you want, what you demand, in fact, with your regular advertising, is a lot of free advertising. What is more, you are demanding a kind of advertising that no self-respecting publisher will give you. You are trying to work The Times for what would be equivalent to an editorial indorsement of your schemes. You want The Times to print your eulogistic opinions of your own enterprises just as though The Times itself were back of you and your plans. You know that you can say what you please in the space set aside for advertising purposes, that you can, over your own business signature, exalt to high heaven the propositions you have to offer. Why then, if your stock-selling operations will bear investigation, should you not be willing to stand on your own feet?

The advertising space in The Times, furthermore, is worth every cent you pay for it, thanks principally to the fact that its readers believe what they read in its news columns, and it is presumptuous of you to demand any kind of a bonus.

There is absolutely no objection, Mr. Martin, to your submitting for publication anything you choose. Fresh, reliable information relating to development, real estate and building activity in Southern California is eagerly welcomed by the editor of this department of The Times. What you submit to The Times must be offered as news, however, and not as "publicity," if you expect to get any consideration. It is the business of the editor, who receives your copy, to adjudge its news qualities.

If what you offer contains news information to which a reader who wants to keep abreast of the Southland's material progress is entitled as a subscriber your item will be thankfully accepted. It will be used, if used, because it is news and not because you happen to be an advertiser. If what you submit contains no fresh, live information, if it is only so much advertising thinly disguised as a news item, it will find its way into the waste basket. No difference how much advertising you may be doing. And finally, be it known to you that if it should ever transpire that you were not conducting your business along honest, legitimate lines, The Times would instantly expose you without fear or favor and without consulting its advertising accounts to see whether you were a big advertiser.

You complain that another firm has been getting "publicity." The firm you name has been carrying on a development work that is of live news interest to every man who owns an acre of agricultural or horticultural land in Southern California. Everything that has been printed concerning its operations is of legitimate news interest, being a record of something accomplished, of lands sold to settlers, of improvements begun. Such news, regardless of its source, is never rejected by The Times, which prints more fresh, live information of the real estate and development fields than any other paper in Los Angeles. The firm you mention, Mr. Martin, has had mention in The Times, not because it advertised, but because it has been accomplishing something worth reporting as news.

Harmful Practice.

The papers that constantly publish prejudiced news of the kind that is cooked up in an advertising agency, flavored with boost and garnished with gush, are doing Southern California almost irreparable harm. Visitors to the city, seeing the unmistakable marks of free advertising puffery in every real estate and development item they read in such a paper, come to believe eventually that the whole fabric of the Southland's progress is one grand sell. They lose confidence in what they read, in the news and in the advertising. They come to the conclusion that the newspapers and the realty men are in "cahoots" to fool the public. Reading newspaper puffs on everything advertised, the good, the bad and the indifferent propositions alike, they get the idea that all Southern California property is being boomed and unloaded through a journalistic conspiracy.

As for the journal that deliberately prostitutes its news columns for advertising purposes, such a newspaper either has no standing as an advertising medium to start with or is fast losing its hold on those who patronize its advertising columns. Such a paper isn't delivering the goods, its very methods being of the nature of an admission of that fact. It isn't submitting to outside domination of its news and editorial departments because it wants the kind of stuff it prints from week to week as news or because it believes that its readers want prejudiced, cooked-up news. It is only taking desperate measure to keep its advertisers in line.

And what is the result? The Times, which enforces the absolute separation of its news from its advertising, which spurns the outside dictation that other newspapers endure and even invite and which respects its readers and itself sufficiently to defy those who would assault its standards, prints regularly more advertising than any other paper in the United States and has gained in its average daily circulation nearly 25 per cent. in the past twelve months alone.

The Best Way.

The leading real estate men, the builders and developers who are making Southern California what it is today, are with The Times in its news and editorial policy as respects the conduct of its real estate and development departments. That these are the men who are most often represented in the news stories concerned with the phenomenal advance of all portions of the Southland goes without saying, because such men do the things that make news.

The Times way, furthermore, is the best way for the small advertiser, for the man with a little capital and a lot of grit and faith who is just starting out to build up a business for himself. Such men, when they stop to think, see the advantage of advertising in a newspaper that is fair to all, its readers and advertisers alike. In the newspaper that is dominated by the advertiser, the amount of news space that is accorded to a real estate or development item is governed by the amount of income derived or derivable from the man who offers something for publication. On such a newspaper the big advertiser gets all the pickings and is never allowed to forget the fact that the size of his advertising contract is what secures the news or editorial space allotted to him. Thus it is not only the reader but the small advertiser who is imposed upon by the journalistic prostitute.

Isaiah Martin, president of the Gibraltar Investment & Home Building Company, a stock selling concern operating at No. 142 South Spring street, has been one of the big advertisers in The Times and the other Los Angeles dailies for the past year. That he has been unable to dominate the news columns of The Times on this account, his own letter to the editor of this department will certify, even as the above comments will attest that he is not now able to dictate to this newspaper.

NEW SUBDIVISION.

Stewart & Tinklepaugh have just taken the sales agency for Stephenson avenue heights, adjoining the Y. M. C. A. athletic field on the west and facing on the Stephenson avenue car line. The tract comprises sixty-nine lots. The firm has purchased from the Y. M. C. A. the four acres lying just south of the athletic field and Seventh street and are subdividing it into twenty-seven lots. This tract is to be well improved. The firm reports the following sales: Mrs. Sprague to Mr. Viera, house on Fifteenth street near Magnolia; residence for Mrs. Hill on Chestnut avenue, Long Beach, to Mr. Wells, in exchange for ten acres of alfalfa in Newmark; five acres in La Crescenta for Mr. Somes to Mr. Gilmore; five acres in Tropico for Mr. Walker to Mrs. Clark in exchange for residence in Glendale; ten-acre orange grove in Rialto from Mr. Mullaly to Mr. Ordway, in exchange for residence on Gramercy place.

NEW COMPANY.

Henry C. Jensen and R. W. Dromgold, business and realty men of this city, have incorporated the California Investment Company of Los Angeles with offices at No. 1017-19 Van Nuys building. The company owns property in various parts of the city. Its principal residence subdivision is the Westmoreland Park tract, adjoining the new State Normal School site. The concern is a stock company, and capitalized for $1,000,000.

NOTABLE BEACH DEALS.

Large Sales Reported at Redondo Beach—Many Improvements Under Way.

REDONNDO BEACH, April 5.—A number of large real estate deals have been made here recently, some of the most valuable property in the city having changed hands. Among these was the sale of the Redondo carnation gardens, one of the beauty spots of Redondo Beach, and the property of the Redondo Improvement Company to Dr. A. T. Hembree, M. Mayer and H. J. McNally for $40,000, through the agency of Harry Brolaski. The company which purchased the tract will plat it at once and erect artistic bungalows to sell for homes.

The H. B. Ainsworth home, one of the beautiful dwellings of the city was recently sold for $25,000 to Mrs. Robert Fulton, of Los Angeles, and the Armstrong home, a handsome residence on the Esplanade, has been sold for $20,000 to R. Frick of Pasadena.

Work was begun this week on a two-story brick building at the corner of Diamond street and Broadway, which is being built by Mrs. Louella Buckingham and Harry Meecham. The structure will contain four store-rooms on the first floor and apartments above. Mrs. Mary Murphy is building a $16,000 rooming-house on Commercial street. Among residences now being completed is a $4000 bungalow for Dr. A. T. Hembree on Catalina avenue; an apartment-house for J. A. Vail on Catalina avenue; a $4000 residence for George Hibbard and a bungalow for Dr. F. J. White on Helberta avenue.

The Christian Science Church now being built on Broadway will be completed in about a month. The edifice is of plastered interior and will have a seating capacity of about 300. Plans for the building were drawn by L. B. Pemberton of Los Angeles, who also designed the recently completed church of the local Christian denomination.

TRANSFER BROADWAY LEASE.

The store at No. 617 South Broadway, now occupied by J. R. Remick and Company, "the Song Shop," has been leased to Max A. Miller, at a reported consideration of $115,000 for a term of six and one-half years. This store was leased only a few months ago to Skillen and Skillen, of Pasadena, who contemplated opening up a candy shop on October 1, but on being offered a profit over their rental have relinquished their lease to Miller. Miller has been in the millinery business in Los Angeles nearly twenty years, starting in at No. 121 South Spring street. He still maintains that store, and for the last five years has conducted another millinery store at No. 735 South Broadway. These last quarters he was forced to give up on March 1, to make way for the new Isaacs building. The front of his new store will be entirely remodeled, and the latest show windows installed. Kadletz and Olsen, manager of the leasing department of W. I. Hollingsworth and Company, conducted the negotiations for both lessor and lessee.

AT EAGLE ROCK.

The Edwards & Wildey Company report the following sales in Eagle Rock: To Clara Hoffman, bungalow at No. 162 East Ellenwood drive, lot 50x132 feet, $2750; for J. W. Utter to L. C. Kirke, 50x175 feet on Acacia street, near Las Flores drive, $800; for Charles G. Stewart, to C. E. Slaght, 50x140 feet on Rowland avenue, $750; to Matilda L. Pfaffman, 50x130 feet on Central avenue, near Colorado, $1200; to C. W. Sanders, 100x120 feet, northeast corner Glen Eyrie and Sycamore avenues, $1250; to Ferdinand Kaeger, 60x118 feet on Eddy avenue near Hill, $800; for William Parsons of St. Louis to Edwards & and Wildey Company, 50x150 feet on Central avenue near Park, $800; to Henry N. Gilbert, 50x120 feet on Glen Eyrie avenue near Sycamore, $500; to C. O. Esterly, one acre on Oak trail, near Campus road, $2000. The Edwards & Wildey Company has purchased 110x135 feet on Virginia avenue near Colorado boulevard and has commenced the erection of two six-room bungalows.
